

PLIGHT OF NATION IS BIG ISSUE NOW

Everything Else Forgotten
By Speakers During Closing Weeks of Political Campaigns.

By BYRON FINCH

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The overshadowing nature of the country's economic plight—how it came about and how good times can be fully restored—looms larger and larger over the political scene as the campaign attains the full fury of its concluding weeks.

To the economic issue, with its many ramifications, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt now are devoting almost exclusive attention. Only a very small percentage of any of their speeches takes notice of anything else.

When they or their principal followers have mentioned the tariff, they have catalogued it in its relation to depression, recovery, relief or labor, or the budget, or currency, or the soldier bonus, or even prohibition, they have put all of these things against the background of the one central question of economic restoration.

This theme has been the burden of Mr. Roosevelt's speeches on his present midwestern and southern swing. He spoke of beer as a revenue source. He repeated his previous statement on the bonus—during a discussion of budget balancing. The administration's course with respect to the depression will be the burden of Mr. Hoover's speech tomorrow night at Detroit.

It will be the burden of his shorter talks tomorrow as he crosses West Virginia and Ohio.

The same Subject

A host of other speakers, including many of the most distinguished men in the country, now are debating the same subject from coast to coast.

During the short time remaining almost every precinct will hear this issue discussed with an intensity seldom witnessed in American history.

Alfred E. Smith, Newton D. Baker and Albert C. Ritchie are among those who have come forward for Roosevelt. Henry Ford has spoken for Hoover; Calvin Coolidge has been asked to speak again for him.

Another notable respect the campaign has again concerned early expectations. It has been characterized by an unending Democratic appeal for the support of the western Republican Independents and by open participation by some of their leaders in the effort to put Mr. Roosevelt into the White House. The last week has seen Senator Norris of Nebraska take the stump for Roosevelt; Senator La Follette of Wisconsin declare for Roosevelt; and Senator Cutting of New Mexico joins hands with the Democrats in state politics.

Except for the continuing efforts of local political leaders, the territory west of the Mississippi now appears to have passed into the background.

The final episode will take place in the east. Both candidates and some of their principal supporters will be heard during the first week of November in New York and New England.

TRADE MAINTAINS ITS HIGHER LEVEL

Despite Political Uncertainties Business Improves, Reviews State.

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The season's higher level of activity in wholesale and retail trade and certain light manufacturing lines has been maintained in the face of "political uncertainties," the weekly mercantile reviews said today.

"An encouraging amount of optimism," asserted Bradstreet's, "continues in the reports from fifty-five leading cities. This sentiment appears to over-balance the natural uncertainty arising from the pending presidential election. But while this uncertainty is undoubtedly in the air, a definitely beneficial effect on the general morale and the recent seasonal gains in business continues to show itself. The reports show retailers making the best sales in men's and women's clothing. Millinery and shoes have also been largely featured, dry good wholesalers have been kept busy in many cases with all-in orders."

Duns reported that trade progresses during the week "was seemed slow and expansion less extended, although previous gains have been held in most instances." Current reports, continued the review, lack some of the hopeful exuberance of a month ago, many are tinged with hesitation because of the election, while others give evidence of some difficulty in gauging the outlook in view of the recent recession in commodity prices.

ECONOMIC PUZZLE TOO BIG PROBLEM

Head of Bank of England Confesses It Is Too Much For Him.

London, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, has confessed that solving the economic depression is too big a problem for him.

"The difficulties are so vast," he said last night in one of his rare speeches before a group of bankers, "the forces so unlimited and so novel, and the precedents so lacking that I approach the whole subject not only in ignorance but in humility. It is too great for me."

If all the nations would act together things might be different, he said, "but that we seem unable to do. I am driven to the conclusion that for the moment we must take the short view, but we can plan for the long. I believe in the old motto: United we stand, divided we fall."

"I must admit that for the moment the way is not clear. We have not yet emerged from the difficulties through which we have been passing."

This Shoulder of Lamb Is Equipped With Lights

Madison, Wis., Oct. 21.—(AP)—A shoulder of butchered lamb, which apparently contains some kind of phosphorescent bacteria around the bones and shines in the dark like an illuminated skeleton, has been turned over to the State dairy and food division for inspection.

The man who bought the meat took it to his home, rubbed a bit of salt into it for preservation and put it in a dark room off the kitchen.

When his wife went into the room to get it, the mutton glowed with a yellowish light and the bones were outlined as in an X-ray picture.

Frightened, she called her husband. He examined the meat in the sunlight and found it looked just like any ordinary shoulder of lamb.

An examination now being made in the University of Wisconsin bacteriological department has revealed a type of bacteria in the shoulder meat around the bones believed to contain phosphorescent properties.

In 25 years as a chemist for the State Department Harry Kipster said, this was the first case of its kind brought to his attention.

"The meat is perfectly harmless and could have been eaten," he said.

REDUCE SCHOOL BUDGET BY $500

Education Board Awaits Legal Opinion Before Putting Decreases Into Effect.

Two petitions were received last night. One came from 39 residents of the Fifth District requesting a hearing before the board concerning the intended closing of the Keene street school which the signers oppose. Monday night was set for the date when the hearing will be held at the high school building. The other petition was from 168 school teachers and 14 janitors asking that the Board of Education request the Board of Selectmen to call a special town meeting so that the voters might have a chance to rescind the action of the recent town meeting. The Board decided that it was not ready to request a special meeting until it had time to further discuss the situation.

The only change in the plan of reduction was an informal agreement to reduce the salaries of all teachers receiving $1,020 or under by 2 1/2 per cent. There are 20 teachers receiving an even $1,000. Nine of them are local residents. Their cut, if put into effect, would mean a reduction of $25 each for the year. The board felt that it would be unfair to reduce the salaries of some and leave those of others untouched.

Graduated Reductions

The reduction is to be worked out on a graduated scale. Those receiving $1,020 or under will be cut 2 1/2 per cent; those from $1,020 to $2,000 will lose 5 per cent and those receiving over $2,000 will have a 7 1/2 per cent reduction. The estimate as prepared by Supl. F. A. Verplanck at the board's request did not call for any reduction in the salaries of teachers in the $1,000 class and the board's decision to cut this group 2 1/2 per cent means a further reduction of $500.

The Board plans to eliminate 11 teachers and one janitor; to drop mechanical drawing from the high school.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in a campaign address before a near capacity crowd at the big Springfield Arsenal today advanced a three-point program for agricultural relief.

"The three great steps which we must take," he said, "are, first, the Federal government owes it to agriculture to see that it gets a fair price for its products. That means that the price of farm products must be raised above the present ruinously low levels to which they have fallen.

A properly adjusted tariff can do much in this direction, but the present tariff policies of the Republican administration have done precisely the opposite. Pending the relief that will be afforded by properly adjusted tariff policy, measures must be taken to give the farmer immediate relief. This means in substance a practicable plan agreed to by agricultural leaders which will provide for the farmer a higher price for certain of his crops. I set forth the principles which such a plan must embody in my Topeka speech, and these principles have been widely accepted as a basic plan of action in formulating the necessary legislative relief.

Lessen Tax Burden

"Second, there must be lifted from the backs of every farmer the heavy load of taxation which today weighs upon him. This load is made up of three parts, the local, the State and National units. At Pittsburgh I outlined the position of the Democratic Party, and my position on the question of the honest balancing of the Federal budget and the imperative need of immediate economy in National expenditures. I also retaine how my promise to ease all available burdens in the necessary legislative relief.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The newspaper La Prensa, in an editorial headed "The Monroe Doctrine Doesn't Interest Us," commented today on a speech this week by Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director of the Institute of International Affairs at Williamsburg, Va.

Mr. Rowe advocated a Pan-American system based upon the principle of non-aggression and recognition of the principle that there shall be no future territorial acquisition by means of war. The Monroe Doctrine is essentially negative, he said, but such a system as he advocated must be based upon positive constructive principles.

Time Has Passed

"The only value of the Monroe Doctrine," said La Prensa, "was for a time which has passed. There is nothing to recommend that Latin-American countries attempt any formulation of its principles for themselves.

"In maintaining the Monroe Doctrine through many interpretations, the United States has not, always respected the sovereignty of Latin-American nations. This continent is free from European dangers, but not from intervention which in the name of Monroe's thesis is practiced continually in some Central American republics.

"The devices invoked to maintain the appearance of an international American life ruled or influenced by the Monroe Doctrine have changed from something merely unacceptable to something surfeit and intolerable to Latin-American countries."

Boston, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Guy Emerson, vice president of the Emerson Trust Company of New York, today urged upon the third New England Bank Management conference "a more sympathetic cooperation between bankers and business men on the one hand and our lawmakers on the other."

MONROE DOCTRINE IS CALLED PASSE

South American Newspaper Declares It Does Not Interest Public Any More.

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A rebellious flea put Dr. R. E. Dyer in bed with typhus fever, but failed to stop his experiments for controlling the disease.

Haggard and weak, but convalescing, Dr. Dyer now gives instructions for continuing typhus tests to assistants who come to his bedside in the Navy hospital from laboratories of the National Institute of Health next door.

Unable as yet to sit up, Dr. Dyer nevertheless is gaining strength.

"We've been calling the type of typhus we have in this country 'mild'," he said today to a public health physician. "Where do we get that word 'mild'?"

His fellow doctors told he had suffered an unusually violent case, which had considerably advanced science since Dr. Dyer had insisted on his "excellent rash" being photographed. His case also ran up a rather remarkable record in that standard typhus test, public health physicians said.

TURKEYS ALL YEAR 'ROUND And a Big Drop in Price

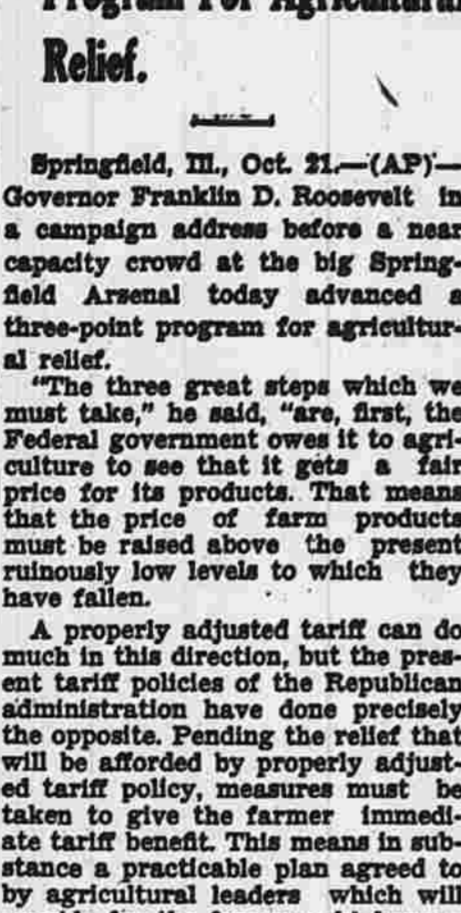

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The few years we shall see turkeys sold the year around. They can be produced profitably at a farm delivery price possibly lower than chickens for meat.

Two years ago it was a different story. At that time a malady attacked the flocks all over the country. But since then specialists developed new methods of handling the birds, and persons who abandoned the business are back at work. As a result heavy production increases in the northwestern and Rocky mountain states and in New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, Texas and New England, are reported.

"It is quite likely," said Paul Mandeville of the Institute of American Poultry Industries, "that within a Financial Expert Urges More Sympathetic Cooperation. Bankers Should Also Seek Aid of the Lawmakers.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Denying Germany has any desire to rearm, Chancellor Franz von Papen today issued a quick response to Adolf Hitler's attack yesterday on the government's foreign policy.

The National Socialist leader's open letter, as published in Munich, made untrue statements calculated to seriously harm Germany's interests," Herr von Papen stated.

HOOVER LEAVES FOR MICHIGAN THIS EVENING

To Make 14 Stops On His Way To Detroit Where He Speaks Tomorrow Night; May Talk On Bonus.

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Last hour efforts to complete his Detroit address occupied President Hoover today, as he prepares to leave the capital tonight on his third westward campaign trip.

White House aides said the President was anxious to finish this speech in order to leave a crowded Saturday, with 14 stops of his special train scheduled in West Virginia and Ohio, as free as possible. They indicated also that the President may choose this address in Detroit tomorrow night to talk about the soldier bonus, a subject just discussed in Pittsburgh by his Democratic opponent.

No Details of Talk

But no definite statement on details of the speech was forthcoming. Last night Mr. Hoover worked late in the Lincoln study of the White House, assisted by Walter H. Hope, a New York banker and former assistant secretary of the Treasury and French Strother, of the presidential secretariat staff.

Hope and Strother did not leave the executive mansion until one o'clock this morning. A newspaper writer, also a close friend of the President, was with them.

Secretary Mills was another with whom Mr. Hoover discussed his speech yesterday. He said Governor Roosevelt's Pittsburgh address also was mentioned in his conference with the Chief Executive. Mills plans to answer it next Tuesday in Cincinnati.

Republican leaders in New York said arrangements were being made for a speech by Mr. Hoover in Madison Square Garden either October 31 or November 1.

SEEKING TO SAVE A MILLION, CROSS TO PLAN A SURVEY

Smith But To Appear On Train Platform On His Way To Providence.

Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith's appearances in Connecticut during the campaign will be limited to three platform greetings, Democratic headquarters said today on receipt of definite word he cannot deliver any addresses in this State.

After announcement last night that Smith will make brief stops at Bridgeport, New Haven and New London on his way to Providence, R. I., next Thursday, party officials still hope he could speak in Connecticut on his return trip.

They learned, however, the 1928 nominee will go directly from Boston to Buffalo, N. Y., without coming into this State. The condition of his throat, they were informed, will make additional speeches impossible.

Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Asserting that Connecticut municipalities annually were spending more than $1,000,000 in interest on tax anticipation notes, Governor Wilbur L. Cross made known today his intention of appointing an expert to survey municipal charters with a view to eliminating this expenditure, which he termed "unnecessary."

"The survey which I have had made of the unemployment and fiscal situation in the municipalities of Connecticut clearly shows that, in the aggregate more than $1,000,000 is now being paid out by them in interest on tax anticipation notes," said the governor in a statement.

Unnecessary Burden

"This unnecessary burden upon the taxpayers is caused by the fact that the first payment on taxes is usually several months after the beginning of the fiscal year. An obvious remedy will be to take the first payment on or near the beginning of the fiscal year.

"There are other bad features of the fiscal systems in most cities of the state. The time has come for a careful study of the charters of all our municipalities with a view to drastic revisions in the interest of more economical government and the relief of the public from all expenditures that may be eliminated.

No Criticism

"I am not making this statement in criticism of the officials of any municipality but in criticism of the charters under which they are acting.

"The first aim in revision must be to eliminate $1,000,000 or more now being paid on notes issued in anticipation of taxes.

"Preliminary to any action of the General Assembly it is imperative that a careful study be made of the charters of each municipality of the state.

"This can best be accomplished by the appointment of an expert in collaboration with the mayors and other officials.

"The appointment of such an expert I intend to take up immediately with the Board of Finance and Control."

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—For the first time in a decade standard steel rails are selling at a reduced price.

Leading steel producers of the nation announced in statements published today that prices have been cut from $43 to $40 a ton in the hope of inducing railroads to place long deferred orders.

The potential buying demands of the railroads in excess of several hundreds of millions of dollars, steel men said, and they expect the lower price for rails undoubtedly will encourage a more active market.

The first announcement of the reduction came from the Carnegie Steel Company, one of the principal subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, and was followed by similar announcements from other large producers.

No General Cut

In making it clear that there is no intention of putting into effect a general reduction in all steel prices, it was said that rails are not surrounded with the same competitive conditions that apply to other steel products.

It was said, however, that a great deal of steel besides rails is needed by the carriers and it was believed there will be "a sharp expansion" in steel operations, as well as an enlargement of shop operations by the railroads themselves.

The announcement of the reduction was preceded by a meeting of Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, with executives of nine large eastern railroads.

The new rate of $40 for rails represents the first cut in prices since 1922. Prior to that time the price varied from a low of $33 a ton to a high of $65 in excess of years ago. All prices of rails have been investigated by government agencies.

HOOVER LEAVES FOR MICHIGAN THIS EVENING

To Make 14 Stops On His Way To Detroit Where He Speaks Tomorrow Night; May Talk On Bonus.

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Last hour efforts to complete his Detroit address occupied President Hoover today, as he prepares to leave the capital tonight on his third westward campaign trip.

White House aides said the President was anxious to finish this speech in order to leave a crowded Saturday, with 14 stops of his special train scheduled in West Virginia and Ohio, as free as possible. They indicated also that the President may choose this address in Detroit tomorrow night to talk about the soldier bonus, a subject just discussed in Pittsburgh by his Democratic opponent.

No Details of Talk

But no definite statement on details of the speech was forthcoming. Last night Mr. Hoover worked late in the Lincoln study of the White House, assisted by Walter H. Hope, a New York banker and former assistant secretary of the Treasury and French Strother, of the presidential secretariat staff.

Hope and Strother did not leave the executive mansion until one o'clock this morning. A newspaper writer, also a close friend of the President, was with them.

Secretary Mills was another with whom Mr. Hoover discussed his speech yesterday. He said Governor Roosevelt's Pittsburgh address also was mentioned in his conference with the Chief Executive. Mills plans to answer it next Tuesday in Cincinnati.

Republican leaders in New York said arrangements were being made for a speech by Mr. Hoover in Madison Square Garden either October 31 or November 1.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS IN HOSPITAL BETTER

Two Leave Against Doctor's Wishes—Funeral of Mrs. Case Tomorrow.

Two persons remain as patients in the Manchester Memorial hospital today, Carlos Ruggles of Springfield, Mass., and Mrs. Margaret Smith, the latter's housekeeper, both injured in a crash of automobiles on the Willimantic state highway in North Coventry yesterday afternoon in which Mrs. Emma J. Case of North Coventry lost her life.

Mrs. Dwight Gillette and infant daughter and her son, Warren I. Gillette, of Silver street, North Coventry, driver of one of the cars involved left the hospital last night against the attending physician's wishes. Those at the hospital are improving rapidly.

Carlos Ruggles of 28 Sherman street, Springfield, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Martha Smith, received lacerations, contusions and shock when the Gillette car, out of control on the slippery pavement, skidded completely around and struck the heavier car on the left side of the body. Mrs. Case was pinned in the rear seat when the lighter car body was crushed.

How It Happened According to the story given State Policemen Thomas Hunt, John M. Smith and Thomas A. Abbott of the Stafford Springs barracks, by Otto M. Schenk, driver of the Massachusetts car, Gillette had apparently tried to pass a car ahead of him, thought better of it when he saw the east bound car coming down the hill, and when he applied his brakes his car skidded to the right and then the left, striking the Ruggles car which crashed into two large trees beside the road in an effort to avoid an accident. The name of the spare tire was imprinted on the side of the Ruggles sedan, so forceful was the impact.

With Gillette in the roadster besides Mrs. Case was Mrs. Dwight Gillette, mother of the driver, and another child. Neither of the three were seriously injured, although suffering from shock. They left the hospital last night. Otto Schenk, chauffeur of the Ruggles car, remained at the scene of the accident and was given first aid treatment by the state police officers, later reporting at the Manchester Memorial hospital.

No arrests were made by the State Police pending an inquest to be conducted by Coroner John H. Yeomans.

Mrs. Case's Funeral Funeral services for Mrs. Case will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Holloran, funeral rooms on Center street. Burial will be in West Sunfield. Rev. Tourtelotte of East Hartford will officiate.

Mrs. Case who had been a resident of North Coventry the past 10 years, was champion quiltmaker of the state for the past five years. Many of the products of her nimble fingers were exhibited at various fairs. She was 71 years of age and leaves two children, Mrs. Dwight Gillette, of Silver street, North Coventry, with whom she lived, and Warren I. Case, of Pittsfield, Mass., and five grandchildren.

U. S. NAVAL HOLIDAY EXTENDED TO MARCH 1

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The United States has agreed to an extension until March 1, 1933, of the naval holiday agreement which was due to expire November 1.

Formal notification of this agreement to the extension will be sent without delay to Geneva. The State Department will issue an explanation of its reasons for the extension.

This agreement to cessation in naval building did not apply to ships which were already laid down when the holiday went into effect the first of last November, but forbade the construction of any ships not already in progress. It did not prevent the replacement of existing ships.

It was explained in official quarters this afternoon that the extension until March 1 was for the purpose of giving the disarmament conference, which will resume its sessions at Geneva in February, an opportunity to reach a settlement of naval reductions.

NURSES EXAMINED Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The State Board of Examination for Nurses conducted tests at the State Capitol today for those seeking certificates of registry in Connecticut, a total of 203 reported.

MARY C. KEENEY TENT'S ANNUAL INSPECTION

Meeting Held in State Armory Last Night—Many Out of Town Guests Present.

Mary C. Keeney Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, observed annual inspection at its meeting in the State Armory last night. Guests were present from Norwich, Middletown, Willimantic and Hartford. Among them were the department president, Mrs. Helena Church of Norwich, and the department inspector, Mrs. Minnie Mathieu of Willimantic.

Every officer of Mary C. Keeney tent was present and a large percentage of the members. Supper was served at 8:30 in the banquet hall under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Armstrong. It consisted of creamed chicken and biscuits, peas, potato chips, rolls, coffee, jelly with whipped cream, and cookies. An interesting feature was the presentation of a birthday cake, decorated in red, white and blue and surrounded by ten papers. This was the gift of the president, Miss Beatrice Dart.

Two of the other members presented gifts of kitchen equipment in observance of the recent tenth anniversary of the founding of the tent in Manchester. Mrs. Maude Shearer, past department president, in behalf of the local tent, presented to Mrs. Church and Mrs. Mathieu suitable gifts. During the evening Miss Emma Strickland gave a recitation.

CHILE IS RECOGNIZED

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The United States and Great Britain today extended recognition to the government of Chile for the first time since the overthrow of Juan Esteban Montero on June 4.

The American and British ambassadors delivered the notes of their respective governments at noon. It was understood that recognition by the United States government is based on the assurances of acting President Abraham Oyandiel that an election will be held on Oct. 30 and that foreign interests will be given every protection. Both countries indicated complete confidence in Senator Oyandiel's program to hold the election and turn over the power to a constitutional regime.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Carlos Ruggles and Mrs. Margaret Smith of 28 Sherman street, Springfield, Mass., Warren I. Gillette, Mrs. Dwight Gillette and daughter of Silver street, South Coventry, and Otto M. Schenk of 37 Sherman street, Springfield, were given emergency treatment at the hospital for injuries received in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon in North Coventry.

Clifford McKinney, 12, of 14 Arch street, was admitted to the hospital at 6 o'clock last night and was treated for a fracture of the bone over his eye, received when the boy rode into an automobile on Pine street while riding home on his bicycle.

Thomas Tedford of 76 Bigelow street was admitted today. All hospital clinic cases were discharged this morning.

LEGAL ACTION BROUGHT AGAINST STATE BOARD

Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Assistant Attorney General Raymond A. Johnson today accepted service in an action brought by Henry Foster of Bristol against Charles L. Ames and Ernest W. Butterfield of Hartford, Howard P. Dunham of Wethersfield, George J. Bassett of New Haven and Harold E. Chittenden of Naugatuck, members of the Teachers' Retirement Board of the State in which the plaintiff seeks a declaratory judgment that his contractual salary as a teacher remains fixed, for the purposes of assessment payable to the teachers' retirement board and any deduction made by way of contributions have no effect on his salary.

The case is returnable in the Hartford county Superior Court on the first Tuesday of November.

PRESIDENT'S SCHEDULES

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—President Hoover today decided to enlarge his tomorrow's itinerary to Detroit from 13 to 14 stops as route—adding Monroe, Mich., to his list. The new stop will not be reached until after dark, shortly before the presidential special train arrives in Detroit, which will be only a brief time before Mr. Hoover speaks at 8:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. Leaving the capital tonight, the President will make his first stop tomorrow in Charleston, W. Va.

OBITUARY

DEATHS

Mrs. Johanna Schultz Mrs. Johanna Schultz, 66, died of heart disease at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Silvert, 82 Ridge street. The deceased has been a resident of Manchester for the past 45 years since coming to this country from Germany. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

CALL OUT TROOPS FOR PRISON RIOTS

Over 200 Are Barricaded In Corridors In Canadian Penitentiary Today.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 21.—(AP)—More than 200 mutinous prisoners besieged in two corridors of the Portmouth Penitentiary yelled curses at the guards today as good conduct inmates were marched from cell tiers in the main building to the new women's penitentiary not far off and inside the prison walls.

The mutineers threw the prison into a turmoil last night when they broke from the dormitories where they were confined and liberated other prisoners from two cell blocks. Troops were called out and there was some shooting but the men barricaded themselves in the corridors and the shooting stopped.

This afternoon the prison officials moved the good conduct men and prepared to round up the rioters and place them in cells.

It was understood that the officials blamed overcrowding for the trouble. The penitentiary has accommodations for only 700 men, but 906 prisoners are there.

The mutineers have lost none of their defiance this afternoon, but they have had no food for 24 hours. Prison officials said there was no intention to starve them into submission but it has been impossible for them to distribute food among the men who have wrecked furniture, battered down the doors and have made a bedlam of the prison.

It was said some time this evening there would be a definite move to restore order. Soldiers and guards will make their way into the corridors, marshal the mutineers into order and march them back to their cells.

NOVEL AIRPLANE IS GIVEN TESTS

Theoretically It Will Travel At 1,000 Miles An Hour Through Stratosphere.

Pasadena, Calif., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Theories of General Crocco, Italian aviator leader, for the development of airplanes to race through the stratosphere at a thousand miles an hour will be tested in miniature here by professors of the Guggenheim Aerodynamic Laboratory and mechanical engineering division of the California Institute of Technology.

The plane would be powered by a new type of jet propulsion engine, being a combination of principles of rockets and internal combustion engines. Analytical studies by J. M. Nordquist, aerodynamic research worker, describe this type of motive power as necessary to propel an airplane at speeds greater than sound travels.

These studies show the present type of aviation engine is valueless for flying ten miles above the earth at speeds which would outdistance the sound of one's voice. Necessary supercharging would use all the engine power of present types at such altitudes.

General Crocco's proposed engine would be a hollow cylinder running lengthwise through the center of the plane, looking something like a fish with its mouth open.

A funnel-shaped intake, with the wide end out, would permit air to enter at the rate of a thousand miles an hour. Theoretically this would compress the air, which would generate a heat of 900 degrees centigrade, the heat igniting fuel which would be fed continuously through jets.

The pressure of the air in the narrow part of the cylinder would furnish the combustion chamber, where heat would be about 1,500 degrees centigrade. The exhaust would be a widening funnel.

No cooling system would be used, the walls being insulated and constructed of fibrefrick or similar material. Two operators would sit in air tight compartments. The take-off would be by rockets or catapult.

Prof. Robert T. Knapp, mechanical research engineer, doubts whether the air pressure would be sufficient—a great deal of it being lost in heat—to furnish the necessary motive power.

ABOUT TOWN

Miss June Storms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Storms, of 179 Main street, observed her ninth birthday yesterday with a party for her several playmates. Games were played and refreshments were served. Miss Storms was the recipient of many gifts.

Miss Betty Crooks, of Apple Place, employed in the Lily Beauty Parlor, is spending a few days in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crowell of Highland Park are in Boston, Mass., for a short stay.

Miss Florence M. Seelert of 129 West Center street left today to spend the week-end with friends in New York City.

Selectmen Wells A. Strickland, George E. Keith and Sherwood G. Bowers and Clerk of the Board, George H. Waddell held a meeting this afternoon in the town treasurer's office with Charles J. Bennett and Albert H. Terry of Hartford, expert appraisers who have the contract to conduct the independent appraisal of the South Manchester water and service utilities in anticipation of a sale to the Town of Manchester.

Tax Collector George H. Howe is confined to his home with an attack of the grip.

Due to the long period of inclement weather, tax listings in the Assessor's office have fallen far below the average of other years for the period. The sessions of the Board of Assessors close Nov. 1. After that date a penalty of 10 per cent will be added to all lists not filed.

Frank D'Amico, veteran Manchester swimmer, will return to Florida this winter as usual, he said today. He plans to leave late in December for Ormond Beach where he will be engaged in the same work as he has for many years. During the summer D'Amico comes back to his home here for a time and then works at the Madison Yacht Club until the local summer season is at an end.

LATEST STOCKS. New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Stock Market ran into one of those unaccountable squalls of selling in the earlier hours of trading today, which sent many issues down 2 to 5 points. It was the sharpest setback in nearly a fortnight, but the flurry was soon over, with prices steadying in extremely quiet trading during the middle of the day, when several issues recovered a point or so. The decline embraced virtually all groups. Issues off 3 to 5 points included U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can, Consolidated Gas, United Aircraft, Eastman, Liggett and Myers "B", Case, Corn Products, Allied Chemical, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, and Santa Fe. Losses of 1 to 2 points appeared throughout the list, embracing oils, coppers, motors, electric equipments and others. The market was still largely a professional trading affair. Brokers reported considerable bearish activity. While steel quarters were inclined to look upon the out in steel rail prices as a constructive move, it was apparently used as bearish ammunition in the market. Bearishly inclined traders also mentioned the remarks of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, who in an address in London last night said frankly that he could not clearly see a way to economic recovery. Increases of one cent a gallon in gasoline prices in the eastern states again attracted attention to the oil situation. Inasmuch as Standards of New Jersey and Indiana had refused to follow other companies in boosting crude prices 12 cents a barrel in the mid-continent fields, it was felt in some quarters that the former gasoline prices might pave the way for general acceptance of the increased crude schedules, although quarters close to Standard said the higher gasoline prices had no connection with the crude price situation. The morning slump in the market took many quarters in Wall Street by surprise, inasmuch as the recent action of the general list in resisting the downward tendency in the tobacco had been accepted as a sign of underlying strength. Optimistically inclined brokers, however, had been recommending buying only on reactions. FEET HURT? Delmar D. REV. DR. LITTELL DEAD

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. John E. Littell, rector of St. Peter's R. C. church, Lowell, Mass., died today in a hospital here.

Dr. Littell, a son of the late Rev. T. Gardner Littell, who was rector of St. John's P. E. church, Wilmington, was graduated from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and later from the General Theological Seminary, New York. He studied in Oxford, England, for a year, and then was stationed at St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo. Later he became rector of St. Luke's church, Brockport, N. Y., and subsequently rector of St. James' church, Keene, N. Y. He was the author of religious books. His wife and six children survive.

CHENEY COUNCIL

ELECTS MCGUIRE

First Chairman of Employees' Group Continues For Another Year.

Dennis F. McGuire, of 74 Starkweather street, weaver in the velvet mill of Cheney Brothers, was yesterday afternoon re-elected chairman of the employees' representation in the Works Council of that firm. This will be his sixth year in that position. Mr. McGuire was chairman the first four years the Works Council was in operation. He then retired for a period of years only to be re-elected to the same position a year ago.

Chairman McGuire is of the opinion that the Works Council has done much good work in the nine years it has been organized and said today that he always found Cheney Brothers willing to do whatever was advisable in the interest of the workers when various matters are brought up for discussion at the annual meetings. Leroy Norris was re-elected vice chairman at yesterday's meeting and Kerwin Elliott was named to succeed Harry Larder as secretary.

The following members of the workers' representation were appointed to serve on the planning committee: Leroy Norris, Miss Martha Foppie, William Dillon, Joseph McCaughey and James Finnegan. The safety and sanitary committee includes Joseph Little and Miss Elizabeth Johnson. They will operate with representatives appointed by the management in their work.

The next full meeting of the Works Council will be held on November 21, preceding the previous Monday by a meeting of the workers' representation. One matter being considered is a change in the Benefit Association system, the details of which have not been worked out yet.

DRIVERS KIDNAPED;

THEIR LOAD STOLEN

North Branford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Two men were held up here last night and kept prisoner for three hours while the bandits drive their truck away, removed its load of drugstore supplies and brought it back empty.

The victims, George C. Ekstrom of Forestville, a driver for a Bristol trucking company and his brother, Herman, reported the crime to police early today.

Two men, both armed, leaped to the running board while their truck was proceeding slowly up a hill, and forced them to stop, they said. While those two kept them covered, a third, appeared and drove off with the truck in the direction of New Haven.

After the truck was returned, all three escaped in a car. Ekstrom was on his way to Middletown to deliver part of his load to a branch of a drug store chain there. Later he said he was to make deliveries in Bristol and Meriden. They had come from New York.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL

BRIDGEPORT, OCT. 21.—(AP)—

Accidental death is found by Coroner John J. Phelan today in the death of John Paterson, 55, of 85 Hildale avenue, Fort Chester, who was killed on the Boston Post road, near the Indian Field road, at Gos Cob at 8:45 p. m. on October 15. Mr. Paterson was struck down by an eastbound car driven by August Timakos of 351 Fifty-seventh street, New York. The coroner finds that at the time of the accident there was heavy traffic on the road; that Mr. Timakos saw Mr. Paterson standing at the curb waiting for an opportunity to cross. Just as the car got abreast of him he stepped out.

ELECTION FRAUDS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., OCT. 21.—(AP)—

Attorney General Benjamin M. McLyman today ordered the Grand Jury to convene next Wednesday to investigate alleged frauds in Democratic ward caucuses held here October 6. He declared to Judge Jeremiah O'Connell in Superior Court he deemed it his duty to lay certain evidence before the jury. His action follows that of the Providence board of canvassers which after investigation this week, declared null and void, because of irregularities the caucuses held by the Democrats in three wards.

Some Little Sidelights On Big Political Push

HELP FOR MINERS, ROOSEVELT TOPIC

Candidates Also Take Up Legalized Beer in His In- diana Speeches.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Charges of Republican "intimidation" promises of aid for the coal mining industry and farmer, new pledges to seek added revenue by legalizing beer—these were campaign weapons of Governor Roosevelt today as he pushed on toward the West and South.

Speaking out of Indiana, which he hailed as "not even in the doubtful class," he expressed confidence, if elected, to undertake stabilization of the coal industry by "common sense" methods.

To the crowds swarming about the observation platform of his special train at Terre Haute last night, he said he felt "very strongly" that a new administration this country will bring back the level of farm prices and can do much to aid the coal industry.

"I'm not going to appoint a lot of commissions when I go to Washington," he said. "But I'm going to undertake to get the coal industry stabilized and not just have a lot of talk."

Entering Illinois he said at Mattoon that the only question in his mind was whether he would even up the larger majority in that state or in his own native New York.

Big Crowd
Before a huge open air throng estimated by police at between 50,000 and 75,000, the New York governor at Indianapolis a few hours earlier referred to the "propaganda of fear" which "dangles the old ghost of panic before our eyes."

In a second address at Indianapolis—before party workers assembled at the Claypool Hotel—he asserted that "telling the nation the country is going to the bow-wows unless the Republican administration is re-elected is a kind of intimidation."

"The country has not gone to the dogs when it had a Democratic administration," he added raising his voice, "and it is not going to the dogs when we take office on the fourth of March."

Tax on Beer
On that occasion too, he asserted that the Democratic Party "wants to acquire through a sound Federal policy of Federal taxation on beer, some of the countless wealth now going into the pockets of racketeers and bootleggers."

At a shout of "beer" from some one in the crowd at Terre Haute, Governor Roosevelt chuckled and said: "I see somebody here is interested in something else besides coal, he wants to hear about beer."

"When the law allows the manufacture and sale of beer, the Federal government from these sales will be able to collect taxes running into several hundred million dollars, thus balancing the budget and not raising your taxes or mine."

Pressing on to Springfield, Governor Roosevelt gave thought to the farm problem as well as the ill of the coal industry and other topics which he has touched in recent speeches.

Before his address scheduled at the Arsenal in Springfield at 11 a. m., C. B. T. he planned a visit to the tomb of Abraham Lincoln.

THEATERS

AT THE STATE

Richard Barthelmess in "Cabin in the Cotton," and Jackie Cooper and Lewis Stone in "Divorce in the Family" make the excellent double feature program that will be shown at the State tonight and Saturday.

Not since the "Birth of a Nation" has an epic of the South such as "The Cabin in the Cotton" come out of Hollywood. Rich in historical values, vivid drama with light-hearted comedy, stark tragedy with the gaiety and song of the Southland. The story of an awakening South—the South of today, the planter, the shrewd cropper, the negro, working out their individual destinies in a land big enough to hold all of them, great-hearted enough to allow each to develop in his own individual fashion—this is the story told in "The Cabin in the Cotton." In it, Richard Barthelmess gives one of the greatest performances of his remarkable career—for this surely compares favorably with his work in the immortal "Tolable David" and "Way Down East," and others. Bette Davis is seen as a southern belle, the sweetheart of Barthelmess, and she, too, shows to excellent advantage. Others in the strong supporting cast are Dorothy Jordan, Henry B. Walthal, Edmund Breese and David Landau.

Any who want to see the aspects of divorce from the viewpoint of a child affected by it will find Jackie Cooper's new picture "Divorce in the Family" a revelation. Aside from that, with its comedy, its thrills, its drama and its human interest, it is one of the most delectable entertainments in many a moon. Jackie never appeared to better advantage, and he is ably supported by a cast which includes Lewis Stone, Lois Wilson and Conrad Nagle. Another chapter of the interesting and thrilling chapter play, "Heroes of the West" will be shown on Saturday only.

The management of the State takes great pleasure in presenting for three days starting Sunday night, Norman Shearer in "Smilin' Through." This picture has captured the heart of the world.

BOY BICYCLIST HURT IN ACCIDENT SERIES

Clifford McKimney, 12, Hit At Center and Pine Streets—One Skid Crash and Bus Accident.

Clifford McKimney, 12, of 14 Arch street, was struck and injured at 5:40 p. m. yesterday when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car driven by John T. Sinnamon, of 186 Highland street at the intersection of Center and Pine streets. Sinnamon said he did not see the boy until the crash as the boy was riding without a light down Pine street. The mudguard struck the McKimney boy over his eye, fracturing the bone. He was taken to the hospital by Harlan G. Richardson. Part of Sinnamon's windshield was broken.

A car driven by James McVeigh of 287 Spruce street skidded on the wet pavement on Hartford Road yesterday afternoon, striking a car driven by Mrs. Letitia H. Scheiner of 90 Bridge street. McVeigh, going east, applied his brakes sharply when a car in front stopped to take on a passenger, his car skidding into the side of Mrs. Scheiner's automobile, damaging doors and mudguards on the left side. McVeigh agreed to settle for the damage.

At 6:10 last night a Silver Lane bus owned by Ferrate and Glenny and operated by Ernest A. Lanz of 287 Silver Lane, East Hartford, struck the rear end of an automobile driven by Lois B. Shew of 7 Megget Park, Wethersfield near the entrance to the farm of Wilbur T. Little on Spencer street. The bus was making the 5:35 trip to Manchester. Mrs. Shew was making a left turn into the Little driveway when the crash occurred. The driver of the bus told the police that the Shew car stopped quickly crossways in front of his bus. The rear end of the automobile was smashed.

Officer John Cavagnaro investigated all three of the accidents. No arrests were made.

Sven C. Erickson of 54 Chestnut street, whose car was parked on Chestnut street near Church last evening, found his battery low and cranked the engine by hand. The car started as soon as the motor did and Erickson saved himself from being run over by some quick side-stepping. The car proceeded down Chestnut street and across Church street with the owner in pursuit. There it ran into a tree and did itself considerable damage.

RITCHIE AND BAKER SCORE HOOVER RECORD

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—(AP)—President Hoover's record in the White House and his campaign speeches were recalled here last night in addresses by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war.

"I suppose President Hoover makes the best arguments he can for a bad case," said Ritchie, "but they are against him and no speech or set of speeches can change it."

Baker's speech, the first he has made in the present campaign, took issue with a statement he said was made last Saturday by the President, that "the Democrats have not learned that in the World War 10 million men lost their lives and 300 billion dollars worth of property was destroyed."

"If anyone in the United States," said Baker, "failed to appreciate the World War was a world disaster, then President Hoover's party is responsible for their forgetting." Gov. Ritchie said that in 1920, President Hoover, "instead of putting the government's house in order and warning the country, issued optimistic statements assuring us everything was all right. No remedial measures were taken until the late summer of 1921."

$50,000 BLAZE

Greenwich, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Damage estimated at $50,000 was done early today when fire destroyed the interior of the home of Ralph I. Perry, wealthy New York paper manufacturer.

Perry, Mrs. Perry and one son who were asleep in the building were aroused by a milkman who discovered the blaze and escaped safely. Firemen were able to save some of the furniture.

The fire was believed to have started from a defective fuse.

GOVERNOR AGAIN SCORES PROMOTERS

Cross Writes He Will Not Dis- cuss Plan To Fix Milk Price For Farmers.

Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Expressing "great concern" to see a group of promoters engaged in what seems to be an attempt to exploit the farmers of this state, Governor W. L. Cross, in a letter to E. A. Antis, secretary and treasurer of the Farmers National Association of Norwich, refuses to discuss further the efforts of the organization to fix the price of milk in Connecticut and neighboring states.

A copy of Governor Cross' letter to Mr. Antis is as follows: "Dear Sir: This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of October 10, 1932, in reply to my letter of October 4, to the President of the Farmers National Association, Inc.

I am not disposed to discuss further with you an impossible endeavor to fix the price of milk in Connecticut and neighboring states. It gives me great concern to see a group of promoters engaged in what seems to be an attempt to exploit the farmers of this State.

Yours most sincerely,
(Signed) W. L. CROSS,
Governor.

Governor Cross' letter is answer to one sent by Mr. Antis October 10 in which the decision of the governor, not to endorse the farmers national plan, is criticized. In the decision not to recognize the association Governor Cross said "As governor of the State of Connecticut I cannot endorse your plan and encourage you in promoting an organization which might result only in the collection of $50,000 or more in fees from the farmers of Connecticut."

WOULD PROTECT PRINCE

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Oct. 21.—(AP)—"Living walls" of 10,000 men to protect the Prince of Wales from possible disturbances along the three-mile route he will travel between the city hall and the new parliament building when he comes here on his projected visit were proposed today by the Belfast Grand Orange Lodge.

The Orangemen, according to the proposal, would wear distinctive badges and stand shoulder to shoulder along the route.

The belief was unofficially expressed, however, that the plan probably would not be accepted by the authorities in charge of the arrangements.

OBITUARY BUREAU
San Diego, Calif., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Francisco Ortiz Rubio, former president of Mexico was reported by physicians today to be recovering from a serious operation on his mouth to correct a condition caused by a bullet wound at his inauguration.

The operation was performed by Dr. George F. Har a week ago but it was not announced until the former Mexican president had regained sufficient strength to assume his recovery and return to his home from a hospital.

Specialists who sought the cause of Ortiz Rubio's breakdown said it was traced to a serious case of pyorrhea. The disease set in, physicians said, shortly after Rubio was shot in the face Feb. 5, 1928, by Daniel Florez, who later was sentenced to 15 years in prison.

CHECK WORKER TAKES IN SEVERAL FARMERS

Pees As Potato Buyer and Passes Worthless Paper On Victims in Ellington.

The State Police of the Stafford Barracks are looking for a man alleged to have passed bad checks on several Ellington farmers. The man would go to a farmer, purchase 100 bushels or more of potatoes and then give a check purporting to have been signed by a well known and reputable man. It is said that at least three farmers have been deceived in this manner but the names are being withheld by the police.

James Maher
James Maher, well known resident of Rockville, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Sheehan, on Thursday morning from a complication of diseases. He had not been in the best of health for two months, but was able to be about the house. He was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, and came to this country 60 years ago, locating in Putnam. A half century ago he came to Rockville. For many years Mr. Maher was employed by the Rock Manufacturing Company and later at the Talcott Brothers' Woolen Mill at Talcottville, retiring eight years ago.

Mr. Maher was a member of St. Bernard's Catholic church and the Holy Name Society connected with the church.

The funeral will be held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Sheehan at 109 High street on Saturday morning at 9 a. m. Rev. George T. Sinnott, pastor will officiate. Burial will be in St. Bernard's Hospital.

Masons to Celebrate
On next Tuesday night Fayette Lodge, A. F. and A. M. will observe the bi-centennial of the birth of George Washington an exercises to be held next Tuesday evening in Masonic Hall on Union street. It is most fitting that this lodge should observe the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington as he was a member of the Masonic lodge.

The Master Mason degree will be exemplified by the officers of Fayette Lodge, assisted by Worshipful Master Roy A. Warner of St. John's Lodge of Hartford and other officers from Windsor and this city.

The committee in charge of the observance includes Alexander McKenna, Paul Menge, John Kynoch, Kenneth H. Smith and Elbridge Leonard.

Selectmen's Appointments
The Board of Selectmen of the Town of Vernon, consisting of Francis J. Prichard, Orlando R. Ransom and Frederick J. Foley, have made the following appointments for the ensuing year: Town health officer, Dr. Thomas F. O'Loughlin; personal tax collector, Kerwin A. Elliott; personal tax enumerator, Franklin C. Harlow; town counsel, Attorney John B. Thomas; agent Grove Hill Cemetery, Edward E. Leonard; superintendent Almshouse and Town Farm, Delos Rich; janitor Memorial Building, John Burns; agent Elmwood Cemetery, Charles Dart; agent Old Cemetery, Charles W. Pitkin; tree warden, Roger J. Murphy; dog warden, John W. Boucher.

The George W. Hill Company store at 50 Vernon avenue was entered early Thursday morning when thieves robbed the place of about $300 worth of goods. The break was discovered by Morton E. Thompson, an employee, when he arrived at the store. Entrance was made through a small window in the rear of the building. Acting Captain Richard Shea and Officer Merrill Cedar investigated. Information as to the theft was not given out until late Thursday. According to officials of the company no money was missing. There are several clues. The thieves made a get-away by automobile it is believed. Roof coating, brushes, knives, etc., were taken. The office entered is near the railroad bridge on Vernon avenue.

Dislocated Shoulder
Thomas Byrnes, clerk at the Rockville post office, generally known as "Doc", injured his shoulder in a fall at the office on Wednesday. In the lobby he stepped on a wet leaf and fell. His shoulder was found to be dislocated. Although his arm is in a sling he is on duty.

Fractured Ankle
Mrs. Frank Heffron of 38 Prospect street injured her right ankle while walking through the East District school yard from Prospect street to School street. The walk was slippery due to the rain. She was treated by Dr. John E. Flaherty at the Rockville City Hospital, where she will be a patient for a few days. Mrs. Heffron was on her way to the fire on East Main street when the accident occurred.

Forms Auxiliary
The Tolland Truck Company of the Tolland Fire Department, organized a Ladies Auxiliary at a meeting at the home of Chief of the Company, Edward Wochomurka. There was a large number present. A constitution was adopted. Following are the officers: President, Mrs. Edward Wochomurka; vice-president, Mrs. Arthur E. Bushnell; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Franc; treasurer, Miss Bertha M. Place.

Model Club Formed
A model club has been formed at the Rockville High school. Kenneth W. Little of the faculty is in charge. The club will be devoted to building model airplanes, boats and stage coaches. Meetings will be held each Thursday afternoon, after school hours, from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Officers of the club are: President, Stanley Flower; vice-president, Edward Wochomurka; secretary-treasurer, Frederick Schutz.

Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Warren of Washington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Rev. Charles I. Kepner, Jr., pastor of the First Congregational church at Stafford Springs. The latter is well known here.

Kurt M. and Hazel B. Koschwitz, land and buildings on High street, valued at $4,000.
On Friday evening, October 28, the Hockanum Mill executives and office force will hold a Halloween party at the Ellington Town Hall. There will be entertainment, dancing and supper.
Next Wednesday night the Epworth League of the Rockville Methodist church will hold a card party at the parsonage on Union street. Mrs. C. E. Johnson will act as hostess.

Joseph Wilson Swan, an Englishman, took out the first patent for making artificial silk, in 1882, by squirting a pulp of wood and cotton through small holes.

HUNTERS OUT EARLY AS SEASON OPENS

Coon Season Opens Today—Expect a Lot of Coon Hunters To Be Out Tonight.

The hunting season on male pheasants, woodcock and grouse opened yesterday morning and a large number of local hunters were afield early. Ernest Smith and Fred Lewis and Harold and Maurice Jobert of Maple street were among the successful nimrods. Many hunting licenses were issued yesterday by the F. T. Blah Company. The law on rascopops will be lifted today and the many "coon" hunters living in this vicinity will be on the trail the first night.

Other quadrupeds and birds which are lawfully hunted at this time are gray squirrels, reds and galleinules (except scow) coot, wild ducks, geese and brant, wilson or jack snipe.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21.

ELECTION LAW CHANGES

One of the jobs that will present itself to the next General Assembly of Connecticut will be, undoubtedly, the amending of the election laws in the interest of flexibility, so that hereafter towns and cities shall not be so harassed by technical difficulties in arranging for the reception of the votes of the people. Solution of such problems as confronted Manchester in the recent primary election and by which Hartford is now confronted with relation to the election of November 8 ought to be possible by the exercise of powers legally vested in the secretary of the state, in an electoral commission or some other properly constituted authority.
 The conduct of an election should be an administrative function with the administrative authority endowed with sufficient freedom of action to meet emergencies in whatever way seemed expedient so long as the fundamental right of the elector to express his opinion was safeguarded.
 It would be well, for example, if there were some official or body which had the power to authorize the local election officials in the city of Hartford to group the Presidential electors of the various parties under one pointer for each group. The purpose of the election would not be in the least affected by such an arrangement and the problem of getting the various candidates onto the machines without a great deal of trouble and expense would have been avoided by the merest stroke of a pen.
 In this particular connection it might not be a bad idea to follow the example of New York and adopt a law such as they have in that state, whereby the Presidential electors' names do not appear on the ballot at all, but are represented by the name of the party's candidate. The New York voter will find on his ballot on November 8, the words, "For President of the United States, Herbert Hoover," or "Franklin D. Roosevelt," or "Norman Thomas," etc. Each vote cast for one of these names is legally a vote for the registered candidate of his party for Presidential electors, and is eventually so recorded, the name of the candidate being actually a mere symbol. But it saves 46 spaces on a machine or a paper ballot and the will of the voter is just as surely registered as if he had been put to the pains of voting for a small regiment of electors.
 While we are about the task of making our election laws less cumbersome and less rigid it might be wise to adopt this system of balloting in Presidential elections.

BURDEN OF DEBT

There is this decided benefit in the existence of minor political parties which have no hope of winning current elections, that their candidates can afford to deal with raw facts in an attitude of candor impossible to a candidate who is seriously trying to be elected.
 Norman Thomas' proposal of a capital levy on wealth, "for the purpose of lightening the load of debt which, like a millstone about a runner's neck, makes it impossible for us to win the race against economic disaster," would shock the country into violent panic if it were brought forward by either Mr. Hoover or Mr. Roosevelt. Coming from Mr. Thomas it of course disturbs no one. But it does serve a valuable purpose of enlightenment, inasmuch as Mr. Thomas has dug up some debt figures that are extremely interesting. It is a very useful thing for any citizen to know that the total of public and private debt of the people of the United States is 200 billion of dollars—it may be assumed that Thomas' figures are roughly and approximately correct—and that the annual interest and amortization charges are more than twenty billions.

 Two hundred billion dollars is something like two-thirds as much as the estimated national wealth. So that it may be said that the United States is carrying a sixty-five per cent mortgage—and right now is in the position of a good many individual mortgage carriers who, because of lack of income, are unable to meet their payments. Perfectly solvent but in a jam.
 We don't hear anything about this from the major party candidates, of course. Mr. Borah occasionally interjects into the campaign some caustic inquiry as to what, if anything, it is proposed to do about the burden of debt resulting from general inflation and made impossible to discharge or even to serve as the result of sudden deflation. But the topic simply cannot be discussed by candidates as conventionalized as those of the Republican and Democratic parties. Any plan that either might propose would scare the ordinary voter out of his boots. So if either Mr. Hoover or Mr. Roosevelt has in the back of his head any device for the relief of the apparently hopeless burden of indebtedness, which rests with peculiarly paralyzing force on agriculture and real estate, he is keeping it, as he must, very carefully packed away out of sight.
 Measured in commodities—the only possible fair yardstick—the 200 billions of public and private debt has grown enormously in the last three years. It probably represents twice as much of effort, labor, production, as it did three years ago.
 Mr. Borah proposes to meet this situation by a currency inflation that would restore the nominal money values of property, thus lifting a large part of the debt burden. Mr. Thomas frankly wants to confiscate enough of the wealth of the creditor class to relieve that burden. Doubtless there are many other theories as to how to bring about relief. Perhaps none of them is scientific or workable or just. But in the background, nevertheless, lies the persisting fact that the weight of the vast burden of debt has increased overpoweringly and that somehow some of it must be lifted before the country can really rise to its feet.
 After the election is over we shall probably find our government scrapping most of the issues over which the candidates and their boosters have been quarrelling for months and devoting itself to this major problem of unpayable debt. Because it will have to.

STEEL

From the beginning of the depression the steel industry has varied between shot and half shot. Steel mills running at 40 per cent of capacity have been regarded as almost booming. Production has varied from that point down to anywhere.
 Meantime on various occasions the steel magnates have gotten their heads together and attempted to stimulate "buying interest" by putting prices up. And have been quite flabbergasted when the scheme, instead of working, resulted in a sharp falling off in such demand as there had been.
 Apparently it has taken these giants of the industrial world three long years to discover the fact that the chances of selling steel would be better if the prices were put down instead of being put up—that even the steel industry isn't big enough to force water to run uphill. Now they are conferring with some of the big railroad heads to see if they can't get them to buy quantities of steel rails—at a shaded price.
 Inasmuch as the present price of steel rails is $43 a ton and the proposed reduction is said to be to $40 a ton, it is perhaps too much to expect that the steel mills will immediately boom when the further fact is considered that $40 a ton for rails is $7 a ton more than it was in that peculiarly blissful period for the American steel industry, 1916. Then Europe was up to its neck in war and was crying to this country for steel and steel and more steel. At that period steel rails sold for $33 a ton. When we got into the war the magnates jacked the price up to $55.
 The obstinate determination of certain great industries not to yield to the world wide trend of lower prices to the extent of doing business at a reasonable profit probably is more directly responsible for the slowness of our recovery than any other one cause, regardless of what all the politicians put together may say. The weird performances of the steel magnates have been so obstructive of business renewal as to be wicked.

NEW TYPE EDUCATOR

On Armistice day there is to be inaugurated an American college president of an entirely new type. Stanley King, who already has taken over the headship of Amherst and in a few weeks has impressed faculty and student body with the consciousness of a unique leadership, comes to his highly responsible position from a world seldom thought of as touching the scholastic realms at any point. Lawyer by education, he has been a manufacturer in practice. We can recall no previous instance of an industrial executive being called to the presidency of an important educational institution like Amherst.

 Mr. King—his doctorate is almost too new to use—is, to be sure, no ordinary manufacturer any more than he is an ordinary man. That he is indeed altogether extraordinary in any capacity is indicated not only by his rapid rise in the industrial world but by the fact that, called to Washington as one of the country's able civilian World War aides, he was presently made a special assistant to the secretary of war and became the private secretary of Secretary Baker, thus bearing directly many of the heaviest responsibilities of the country in those stupendous days.
 Already at Amherst President King has made a record. It is that of being probably the first head of a college or university in this country to come onto the job with a clear cut program for the carrying out of a very definite policy and not the slightest degree of hesitancy in letting both policy and program be known.
 Amherst is sure to become the focus of many educational eyes. Can a college be run, as an industry or a war ought to be run, by a president who does not say "We might do so and so" but says instead "We shall do so and so"? Many professorial minds will be wondering about that and closely observing Amherst.
 But those who best know Mr. King and who also know colleges are firmly convinced that he is going to make a tremendous success.

O'MALLEY

Frank Ward O'Malley, regrettably dead in France, was the one man whom every American newspaperman would write like if he could write like Frank Ward O'Malley. Ten thousand of them in the last thirty years, have tried it. Not one ever succeeded. It used to be the thing to attribute the distinction of the wonderful old New York Sun to the genius of Charles A. Dana. It is probably the cold truth that the anonymous reporter O'Malley carried more weight in popularizing that newspaper than Dana ever did, even though he did it subsequently. He even scooped the country on his own obituary. He has been writing it, piecemeal, for the last half dozen years, in the form of whimsical lamentations for the departed antebellum days.

IN NEW YORK

SUCH GOINGS-ON!

New York, Oct. 21.—Like the crimson-coated leaves of autumn, the Broadway crowds hurry about in colorful groupings these October nights. The premiers grow gay; the night spots grow more numerous. The competition for important people at relatively unimportant events becomes keener.
 It's possible to grow slightly dizzy pondering the many things that might be done. At the beginning of the week, eighteen invitations to rival night attractions—not including theater openings—lay piled upon this overburdened desk.
News Of New Shows
 So, sketchily, we'll try to tell you what's new in New York. Well—the opening of an Arthur Hopkins show and the opening of a Gordon Craig show, and the opening of an Elmer Rice show always bring out the Who's Who. It was once said that there was no opening like a Belasco opening. But the plump Mr. Hopkins, who hailed from Ohio, brings out many an exclusive silk hat. Time was when Hopkins and Rice joined hands on the Rice play, "On Trial," and both made fortunes. Hopkins has been producing for 20 years, for better or worse. Rice is in his second year on "his own." The success of "Street Scene" taught him what could be done.
A New Composer
 At Paul Whiteman's more aristocratic concert in Carnegie Hall appeared the work of the "feminine George Gershwin of Tin Pan Alley." Otherwise, a very talented youngster, Dana Suesse, who turns out tunes for a publishing house. Most of them best sellers, such as "My Silent Love" and "Ho Hum." And just a few years removed from Al-Barna. Now Paul Whiteman turns his attention to a "Jazz Nocturn," which will probably elevate this young woman to the big leagues.
Seeing Stars
 And another season of competition among the cream of the stage and screen stars about town. The Pierrette and the Mayfair, rivals of another season, now have a third organization of limelight notables, dancing weekly at the Central Park Casino.
 The Pierrette was first to open, with such personalities as Leonore Ulric, Peggy Ferra, Dorothy Jordan, Dorothy Hall, Fay Harbe, Jeanne Aubert, Arch Selwyn, Glenn Anders and "America's Sweetheart", who now refers to herself as Mary "ultra" Pickford.
 And is there keen rivalry this season? For the famous folk just "have to be seen," at the best places and, hence, will try to get to all three.

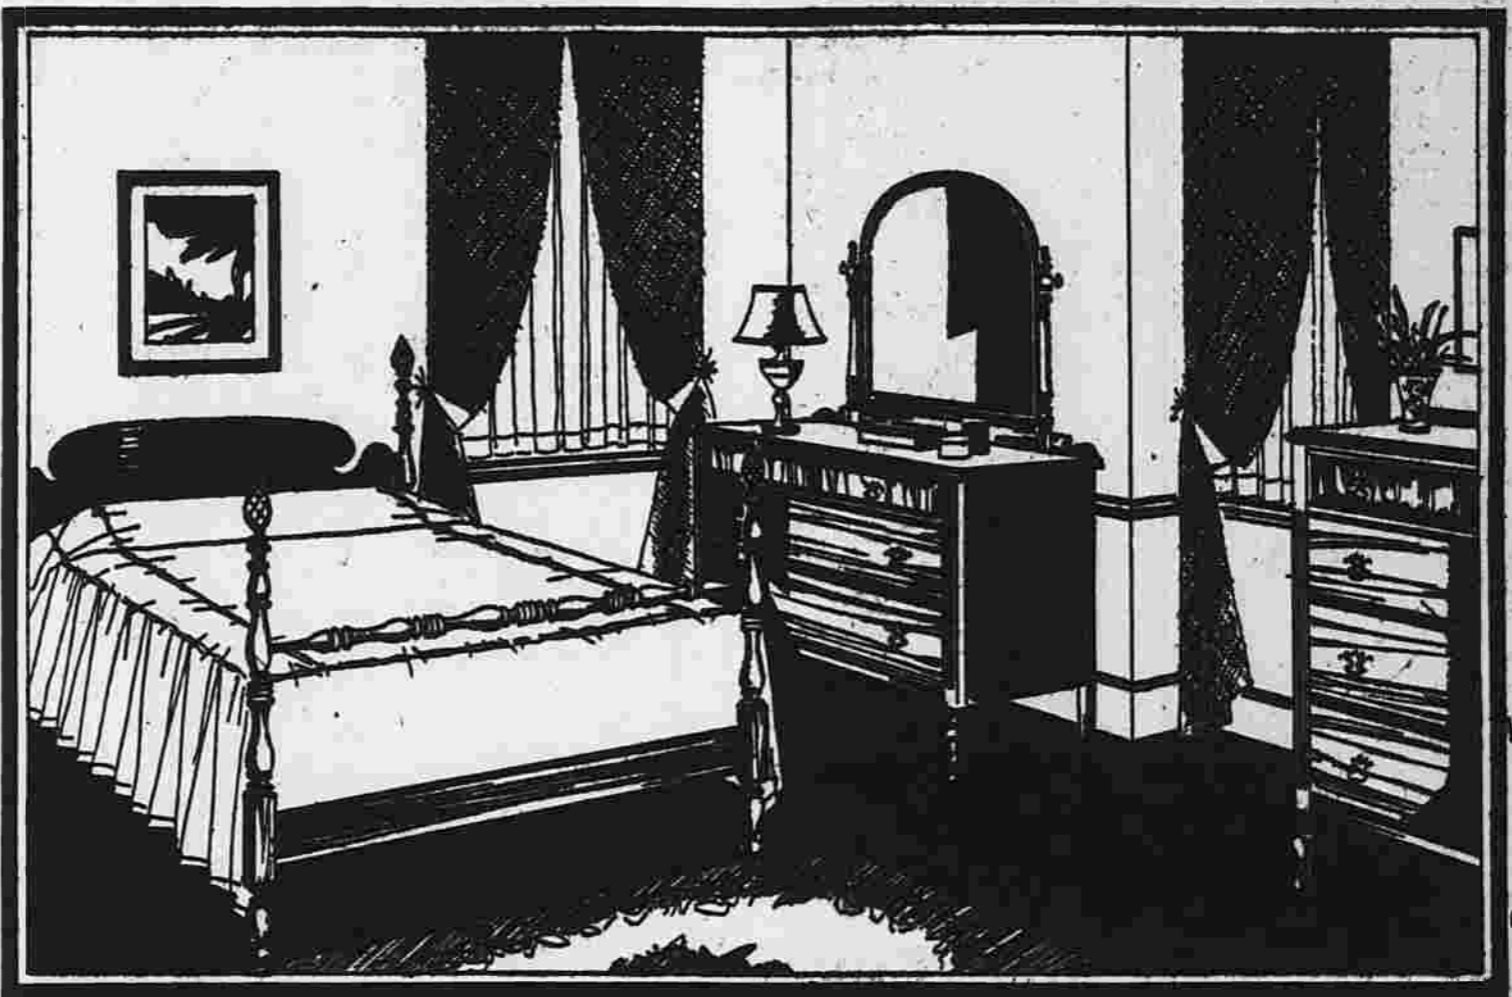

GILBERT SWAN.

REDUCE SCHOOL BUDGET BY $500

school curriculum, and to save $2,000 on building maintenance as well as close the Keene street school and transport the pupils to more centrally located schools.

Several other matters came to the Board's attention. At the request of G. H. Waddell, clerk of the Board of Selectmen, a representative was named to work with one member of the Board of Assessors in appraising school property for the purpose of laying an equalization tax.

A bill for interest totaling $187.50 for a Seventh District not due Travelers Insurance Company was referred to the town, the Board feeling that the matter did not come under its jurisdiction.

An account of $1,252.41 in the name of the Americanization Committee which was headed by the late E. L. G. Hohenthal may be turned over to the Vermont Scholarship Foundation if the Board finds it has the right to transfer the account.

The Board then discussed an estimate of means of reducing expenses as prepared by Supt. Verplanck. Several typewritten pages were included and copies were distributed to all members for discussion.

The figures were based on the remaining 28 weeks of the school year, ten having been completed by Nov. 15 when the new contracts will probably go into effect.

The Board also discussed an income item of $27,000 which represents outside tuition and State enumeration grants. There was some discussion relative to the elimination of kindergarten training which costs about $10,000 for the 307 children involved but no action was taken to this effect and the board seemed inclined not to favor such a move.

The Board of Education, legally constituted for the purpose of providing a school program for the children of this town, went through all of the steps incident to preparing a school budget for the year 1932-33. That budget represented a cut of $92,000, or better than 20 per cent of the sum expended for school purposes in the town for 1931-32.

position as the President of the United States toward the reduction of all state and local taxes. "Third, we come to the vastly important principle concerning the burden which farm mortgages now bear on every agricultural community."

Recalling what he said on farm relief at Topeka at the start of his coast to coast campaign swing, the governor said he wanted to add a definite condition when advancing Federal credit, that wherever possible interest rates must be lowered for renewed or extended mortgages.

"Whenever the government of the United States," he continued, "exercises any control over the situation it is the duty of that government to demand every practicable and possible assistance to the farmer seeking credit to finance his crops, and his farm, to obtain for him the very lowest reasonable rate of interest."

The solution of this (farm) problem," Governor Roosevelt said, "is our first concern in National rehabilitation. My program is opposed to and aims to stop the ruthless foreclosure of farm mortgages."

Accusing the administration of being "derelict" in employing the $225,000,000 new capital of the Federal land banks to assist the struggling farmer debtor, Governor Roosevelt announced: "I shall recommend legislation to the Congress for the scaling down of amortization installments of Federal land bank borrowers when in the judgment of bank directors conditions justify such action, with provision for deferring such unpaid amounts to the end of such amortization periods."

Will Aid Farmers. This partial and temporary extension will help the farmers to save their farms until they can secure a better net income through the working out of the plans which I have discussed for the solution of the general farm program."

He charged that some of the land stock land banks "have pursued a policy of destructive selfishness contrary to the spirit and purpose of the farm loan act."

Saying President Hoover in his Des Moines address "took occasion to disclaim responsibility for the policies of these joint stock land banks," he asserted that "for this failure to enforce the law, the President and his administration are to blame."

"I propose," he said, "that these powers of the Federal Farm Board (to exercise general supervisory authority over the Federal land banks, National Farm Associations and joint stock land banks) shall be fully exercised to the end that this distressing situation shall be immediately remedied and to the end that the enlightened purposes of the Democratic created farm loan act shall be fully carried out."

President Hoover at Des Moines, he said, made "but a guiding and hastily improvised attempt to hang onto the coattails of the (farm mortgage) policy enunciated by the Democratic Party this year."

should, first, have taken enough time to study the principles involved, and, second, should go with the knowledge—that the leaders on the various committees with which they will talk are at least as well equipped as they, to discuss the measures in question."

Emerson believed there were "constructive possibilities" in a proposal to legalize the moratoria which many "moderate sized banks have had to declare for the protection of their depositors during the last two or three years."

Referring to proposals to separate commercial and investment banking, that are contained in the Glass banking bill, now on the Senate calendar, Emerson said: "The majority of thoughtful bankers feel that the purpose would better be accomplished by government control than by a radical move which would throw responsibility for the creation and sale of investment securities entirely into the hands of unorganized and unsupervised houses."

Baldwin discussed the efforts of the government to "cushion the blows of the depression and check the rigors of liquidation." "For the first time in our history," he said, "our nation has come to the comprehensive support of our economic machinery through the use of public credit."

Warded Off Disaster. That effort on the part of the government has cushioned the blows of the depression and checked the rigors of liquidation with its resulting distress; has warded off disaster, and has brought nearer the time of the resumption of normal business and employment.

"x x x" It was utterly impossible for the government to meet the financial requirements directly; this would involve an impossible administrative task and the supplanting of existing private agencies. The task of the government was to make the existing agencies function and the loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have substituted liquid assets pending revival of normal conditions."

Balkam said that "too long the bank has been looked upon with awe, as some distant, mighty power, superior to other business and supreme to all business."

"Until recently," he said, "banks have had little of the merchandising spirit in their organizations. New business work, with most banks, dates back only a few years. "Today the aggressive, up-to-date bank is alive with sales spirit, x x x This is bringing the bank down to the level of other business where it belongs."

PENNY SENTENCED New Haven, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Pleading guilty to charges growing out of the embezzlement of $6,832.97 from the New England Finance Corporation of which he was former treasurer, David Penny, 38, was sentenced to State prison for from 1 to 2 years today.

BRIDGEPORT DIVORCES

Bridgeport, Oct. 21.—(AP)—One of six uncontested divorce suits heard by Judge Ernest C. Simpson in the Superior Court today apparently should have been classed as contested as the husband appeared against his wife's plea for a divorce. However, he came out second.

The suit was that of Lillian Keeler Panapada of Stamford against Angelo Panapada of the same place. They were married July 21, 1920.

Judge Simpson held up the divorce suit of Nancy Favocia of 82 Gilmore street from Ernest Favocia of Enfield. They were married Feb. 12, 1920. The wife claims the defendant was convicted of a major crime and sent to State Prison December 6, 1929. Judge Simpson will check up on the nature of the crime to determine if it reaches the point of felony.

Eva Wohlforth James of Westport was granted a divorce from Roy C. James, a former member of the State police on the grounds of desertion. They were married October 11, 1928.

Cruelty was the basis on which Mrs. Mary Amundsen, of Norwalk, obtained a divorce from Edward J. Amundsen. They were married July 18, 1931.

DROPS TO SAFETY Somerset, Pa., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Catching fire over the Allegheny mountains today, the Pennsylvania Airlines, Washington to Pittsburgh, mail plane crashed on a farm. The pilot, Merle Estes, 27, of Cleveland, baled out and was unhurt.

The ship and almost all of the 200 pound cargo of mail were destroyed. Estes parachuted to earth about two miles from the wreck and was brought to the scene by farmers. The ship crashed seven miles southwest of Somerset. Estes said he tried to make a safe landing but was forced to go over the side, when flames lapped at his legs. He does not know the cause of the blaze.

WAS VICTIM OF BRAWL Waterbury, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Frank McEvoy, 31, of Cooke street, who was found unconscious at 3 o'clock this morning in a driveway on Scovill street, was the victim of a brawl in the opinion of detectives who today began a roundup of suspects.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN PLANS ARE STARTED

Committee Names Frank C. Busch Chairman, Robert Dougan, Secretary.

Plans got underway today for the sixth annual Thanksgiving Day five-mile cross country race, sponsored by the Recreation Centers, with an organization meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office of the committee in charge of this outstanding sports event.

High School Run, Too
As in former years, a high school race over a shorter course will precede the main event, and it is possible that the state cross country meet may be run here, as an invitation will be extended to officials in charge by Clarence P. Quimby, a member of the local committee.

It is expected that Joseph McCluskey, Manchester's Olympic hero, widely known as the "Fordham Flash," will enter the cross country race, which he won last year.

According to tentative plans made this morning, four silver loving cups will be awarded as prizes and also ten medals. Trophies will be awarded runners finishing first, second and third and the fourth cup will be given as a team prize.

Seek Awards
An appeal will be made to local civic organizations and patriotic bodies to donate the awards.

Another meeting of the committee, which consists of Mr. Busch, Mr. Dougan, E. J. McCabe, F. T. Blush, Jr., Charles Wigren, C. P. Quimby, G. H. Waddell, Wilbrod Messier, Erik Modan, Richard Martin and W. B. Rogers, will be called in the near future.

BRAHMS WORK FEATURES SUNDAY NIGHT MUSICAL

South Methodist Choir To Render "A Song of Destiny"—Organist Arranges Program.

The regular monthly musical at the South Methodist church will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The program as arranged by George Huntington Byles has as one of its features "A Song of Destiny" by Brahms, this being the first presentation of this work by this choir.

Other selections by the chorus will be "Evening Hymn" by Gardner; "Darest Thou Now, O Soul" by Williams, and a Chorale from Cantata 147 by Bach.

NOT IN DANGER

Orleans, Mass., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Coast Guards for the Monomoy Point station went out to the ship Bay State in the belief that it was aground on Bears Shoal today but found that the vessel was in no need of assistance.

The Bay State, formerly a tanker and now what is known in shipping circles as a sand sucker, is of exceptionally shallow draught. The vessel went so far in on the shoal that the Coast Guards assumed it was aground.

CHILDREN'S BODEO

Norwalk, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The kids are going to have a great time here tomorrow. They will stage a bodeo of pets in the Parish house of the Congregational church.

The star actors of the bodeo will be the cat with the loudest meow, the most intelligent mutt, the fastest turtle, the canary that sings the most, the "crowingest" rooster, the squirmiest lizard, the dog with the best sense of humor, the best performing dog, the most talkative parrot and the chuggingest hen.

"JOBS AT STAKE NOW" SAYS BULLARD LETTER

Bridgeport, Oct. 21.—Asserting the Bullard Company, machinery makers, had never attempted "political guidance," a letter was sent by it today to employes, stockholders and its dealers, stressing the importance of the campaign, and concluding with the statement "our jobs are at stake now."

The letter followed a meeting last night at the University Club attended by representatives of a number of industries at which E. F. Bullard, the company's president, made a plea for continuance of the economic policies of the National administration.

Colonel Leonard Horner, vice-president of the Bullard Company, presented Edgar Rickard of New York and New Canaan and Edward M. Carney, a vice-president of the League of American Business Men, who each spoke on industrial and commercial issues.

It was stated the meeting was called to discuss unemployment and the effect on business of present economic conditions.

The letter, which was signed by Bullard, said in closing: "At no time during the 52 years of its existence has the Bullard Company attempted to guide or direct its employes on political matters, and it does not intend to change that policy even under present serious conditions, but our jobs are at stake now."

CALL of the WEST

By R. G. MONTGOMERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

STAN BALL accuses ASPER DELO, timber king, of crooked practice and of ordering men shot who are sent to check up on his activities. Ball says he is making a check, DeLo says he will personally prevent it. Upon leaving DeLo's office Ball saves DONA, DeLo's daughter, from kidnappers. He tells her his name is STANLEY BLACK.

DUDDLEY WINTERS, in love with Dona, goes with her to Three Rivers to get DeLo to give up the fight with her. He wants to marry Dona and gets the certificate signed. DeLo is ambushed and wounded badly.

SWERGIN, DeLo's hard timber boss, blames Ball for the ambush and for the killing of his men. Dudley has taken to riding in the hills hunting Ball. Dona tells her father she has married Dudley and shows the certificate in an attempt to get him away.

Ball comes in for food and hears of the supposed marriage. He is surrounded by a posse. Dona rides out and sees him escaping. She shoots him and he takes a wound, capturing her. He takes her to his cave hideout. Swergin finds the cave while Ball is out and captures him upon his return. He takes Ball to a cabin and sends for men. Dona is sent on ahead while the men plan a lynch. The men get the rope ready while Ball stalls as best he can. Dona escapes from a man sent with her and returns. She frees Ball and they ride away.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIII

Stan Ball seated himself on the grass facing his prisoner. "Better sit down and rest a few minutes," he said.

Dona sat down and propped her chin in her hands to steady herself. She could not look Ball in the face. She did not regret for a moment saving him from the mob but she did hate to have to admit that she could not go through with her threat to exact the heaviest penalty of her. Her weakness of the past hour irritated her and made her determined to hate Stan more thoroughly than ever. She knew this would be impossible if she looked at him or let him make her talk.

Several minutes passed. Then Dona said in a low voice, "I am ready now."

Stan got up and whistled softly to the black mare. He helped Dona into the saddle and she willingly accepted this assistance. Leaping up behind her, Stan headed the mare around the steep slope for he would have to take a roundabout route to the timber camp. Only the foolhardy daring of his errand could save him. He was worried, too, for fear some excitable lumber man might see the black mare and take a shot at them, injuring the girl. For Stan had given himself up completely to the realization that he was utterly in love with Dona.

They cut back, dodging in and out for several miles. Every stride of the black mare carried them into territory that was deadly for Stan but he smiled grimly and urged the horse on. As they entered the cut-over grove with its scant cover he began to whistle a bit of a tune under his breath. Dona was silent but she let him hold her firmly when they crossed washes and fallen logs.

They were making a dash across an open space when a rifle cracked to their right and a spurt of dust rose almost under the flying hoofs of the mare. Stan spoke sharply and the little animal darted to the side and leaped into a thicket of alder and berry bushes. From this cover Stan sent her plunging into a dense growth of aspens. Dona had suddenly become very much alive.

"Please stop!" she begged.

Stan pulled up and slid to the ground. He jerked out his gun and stood ready to ward off an attack.

"I have been taking you in," the girl said slowly. "I intended to let them capture us." She met Stan's gaze for the first time. Suddenly she burst out angrily, "You'd ride right into camp with me!" Her lips trembled.

He shook his head negatively. "No, I aim to take you to the edge of the clearing and then make my get-away. I don't care to commit suicide now." His gray eyes held hers.

"You are going to leave me here! The fool that fired at us can take me in." Dona's eyes lowered and she flushed deeply.

"It will be worth the trouble to take you the rest of the way," Stan grinned. "The lady and I" he motioned to his horse "will enjoy a bit more excitement."

A thrashing in the brush warned them that several men were hot on their trail. Dona still sat in the saddle and Ball leaped up behind her. With a short laugh he sent the horse flying through the brush. Angry shouts floated down to them but no shots were fired.

The cover was beginning to thin. Suddenly a man rose from behind a boulder just ahead. He was balancing a rifle in the hollow of his arm and listening. It was evident that he had heard the galloping mare and was trying to locate them. Stan changed their course to the right and up the slope where they could keep to cover. Finally he pulled up and whistled softly.

"The woods are full of lumberjacks," he said grimly. "There's one just ahead in that patch of timber and there is another just above us."

Dona did not reply for a moment. "I'll get down and walk out into the open," she said firmly.

"I have something to say to you," Stan interrupted.

"Not now!" Dona was suddenly afraid of what he was about to tell her.

"I have to get it off my chest," he insisted.

"But you are literally surrounded and may be shot at any minute," Dona was on the verge of nervous collapse again.

"I'm used to tight pinches. This isn't half bad," Ball smiled evenly.

"Take the horse and make a break back up the trail," Dona almost pleaded.

"Not until I tell you." He held her in the saddle when she started to slide to the ground.

"Please go!" she begged. Visions of the last few hours, of Swergin's gang and the narrow escape this man had made from lynching were flaming before her eyes. She did not care what he was or what he had done, she wanted him to live. With an unreasoning urge Dona wanted him to escape unharmed.

"I couldn't get a 100 yards on horseback," Ball spoke calmly, looking up at her.

"Hurry! Tell me," she cried.

"I give you my promise on oath to leave this country and not to return," he said, holding her eyes.

"Then go!" she urged.

"I'll send you down to the camp on the mare but I'll have to have her to get away." He hesitated a second then hurried on. "I'll come down to the patch of timber behind the main building tonight at 9. Can you have the mare there?"

Dona met his questioning gaze squarely. "I can't take her. I will walk," she insisted.

"You must take her! It's my only chance. If we wait here much longer I won't need her."

"I'll meet you," Dona said simply.

Stan slapped the mare across her flank. "Hike, lady!" he called softly to the horse.

The black mare laid back her ears and whirled. Dona had to hang on to keep from being tossed off. Down through the timber and into the open they sped. Men appeared from hiding and watched her go. When they saw that she was alone they turned their attention to the cover she had just quitted and began to circle around it.

Dona pulled up and watched them hemming in the spot where she had left Stan Ball. With wildly beating heart she waited. At that moment she realized that had Ball asked her to ride away with him she would have gone.

A rider burst from the timber and galloped toward her. It was Dudley and he was disheveled and dusty, the first time she had seen him so since coming to Three Rivers.

"Dona!" he shouted.

The girl faced him mechanically and headed the black mare in his direction. At her side, Dudley leaped from his saddle.

"Are you hurt?" he cried.

She looked into his eyes and suddenly Dona became repentant. Dudley had suffered during her absence, that was certain.

"I'm all right. How is Dad?" She spoke rapidly.

"He's running around like a wild man. We'd better get right in before he burns down the camp." Dudley was beginning to regain his composure now that he saw she was not harmed.

"Has he been riding?" Dona asked contritely.

"All over the mountain! You'll never know how glad I am to see you. I could no more handle him than I could a wounded tiger!" Dudley was plainly relieved to have Asper off his hands.

"We'll gallop right in," Dona said. She cast a last glance up the slope where the posse was forming around the dense growth in which she had left Stan Ball. The circle had tightened and the men now were crawling forward with the greatest caution.

Dudley mopped his face with a silk handkerchief as he joined along at her side.

"Has Swergin been in with any news?" Dona asked.

"We haven't had a word about you. This is the first news," Dudley shouted to make her hear above the rattle of the horses' flying hoofs.

Don't lips pulled tight and her eyes flashed. She would have something to say to the big timber boss when they met and she realized also that she would have some explaining to do on her own account. Her father might not be easily convinced when she told him of her experience. Dona was sure there would be a scene when she explained the near lynching.

BUSINESS SUPPER IS WELL ATTENDED

About 150 Dine At South Methodist Church—Menu Prepared by Wesleyan Circle.

About 150 attended the supper served last night at the South Methodist church for the accommodation of the bank and business people, attendants of the church and friends of the young women who compose the Wesleyan Circle. This group was organized several years ago by the wife of the pastor, Mrs. R. A. Colpitts, and in various ways they have rendered a great service to the church, working on outside projects as well as at the church as in the case of the supper last night. One group has established quite a reputation for the delicious salted nuts the members prepare and sell among their relatives and friends; another group makes excellent dipped candy on order, and this finds a ready sale.

These suppers on Thursday evenings have been successful other seasons when managed by the Ladies Aid society. The Wesleyan Circle members believe they should share in the work and when it is known that one woman made 25 apple pies alone for yesterday's meal, an idea is gained of the immense amount of work involved. The banquet hall had been beautifully decorated by Mrs. Richard Springinton and Mrs. John Dowd. Autumn leaves in all their beautiful colors were arranged, vine-like, through the center of all the tables and napkins were in the same bright hues. The meal consisted of baked ham, scalloped potatoes, Harvard beets, cranberry sauce, rolls, coffee, apple pie and cheese, all at a reasonable price.

UNITED STORES LOSSES

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—A. C. Allen, vice president of the United Cigar Stores Corporation of America, testified before a referee in bankruptcy today that during the first eight months of this year the company operated at a loss of $4,511,855.

Allen told Irvin Kurtz, the referee, that the losses were divided $1,382,681 in sales losses and $3,129,174 in real estate losses. Of the eight months he said the smallest loss for any one month was in May when the total of sales and real estate losses was $194,084. The worst of the eight months, he said, was August, when the total of losses was $1,417,000.

ABOUT TOWN

The late Mrs. Marietta Stanley Case, author of the poem on the Glass Works ruins which appears elsewhere in today's issue, organized and was the first regent of Oxford Parish Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The regular monthly meeting of the Recreation Center committee will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the East Side Rec. Reports by Director Frank C. Busch and Associate Director Miss Gertrude E. Fenerty will be read.

The Manchester Green Community club will hold another setback dance in the present series tonight at 8:15 at the Manchester Green school hall. Six prizes will be awarded the winners and refreshments served. All players in and out of the district will be welcome.

Harley E. De Wolf has returned to his home on Summer street to convalesce after an operation for appendicitis at the Hartford hospital.

The Luther League of the Emanuel Lutheran church will hold a "Jal-low'en" party in the church vestry at 8 o'clock tonight. Miss Mildred Berggren and the flower committee will be in charge. An interesting program has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

A change has been made on the regular calendar at the Y. M. C. A., which has more to do with the activities carried on under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Crockett and which is of interest to women and the young children.

The Home Maker Group which is to meet each Tuesday at 2:30 will have speakers who will talk on interesting subjects concerning the Town of Manchester under the caption "Our Town." Last Tuesday E. LaMotte Russell was to have been the first in the series of speakers, but was unable to be present. On Tuesday afternoon of next week George Waddell will be the speaker and his subject will be "Our Government." All of the women of Manchester, regardless of their being members or not of the Y. M. C. A., are welcomed to the meeting. There will be tea served after the talk.

The Live Wire Group meeting is tonight. They will have the use of the gymnasium from 7:30 to 8:30 and the remainder of the evening is spent in the club room. Girls are bringing their own sewing to these meetings. Girls of high school age or over are invited to attend these meetings.

A fall rally and get-together of the men of the Center Congregational church will be held in the banquet hall tomorrow evening, and a low-priced supper will be served.

The managers of the various teams entered in the Juvenile Basketball League will hold a meeting at the School street Rec tomorrow afternoon at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing details of the schedule of games to be played.

Mrs. C. I. Balch will serve as chairman of the supper at the meeting of the Church Council of the North Methodist church Monday evening at 8:30. The business session to follow will include the annual church school election.

A Frojoly ice cream automobile truck that had been parked in front of the Manchester Plumbing and Supply Company store backed into an automobile owned and driven by Charles Lashinsky just before noon today. The window in the Lashinsky sedan was broken, but that was about the extent of the damages. The driver agreed to settle the cost of repairs.

TO SUPPORT REPUBLICAN

Austin, Tex., Oct. 21—(AP)—Governor R. E. Sterling, Democrat, displayed a "Bullington for Governor" button on his lapel today to herald his support of Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, Republican nominee for governor of Texas.

Further than that political gesture, he remained silent. The governor previously had announced he would not support Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, who defeated him for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the August primary. Sterling unsuccessfully contested Mrs. Ferguson's victory, alleging vote irregularities.

DONAHUE ESTATE

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—James Paul Donahue, son-in-law of F. W. Woolworth, chain store magnate, left a gross estate of $3,708,785, which was reduced, largely by debts, to a net of $1,734,497.

The transfer tax appraisal, showing these figures, was filed today. Donahue died after taking poison on April 23, 1931, two days after making a will in which he named his wife, Jessie Woolworth Donahue, and their two sons as sole beneficiaries.

NEWSPAPER REAPPEAR

Madrid, Oct. 21—(AP)—Reappearance of two newspapers suspended last summer was authorized today by the cabinet.

They were La Nacion, suspended during the Monarchist revolt in August, and the Imparcial, suspended two months previously because of its campaign against the statute which granted autonomy to Catalonia province.

BURGLAR SENTENCED

Bridgeport, Oct. 21—(AP)—Joseph Katunaka, 24, of Bridgeport, who was wounded by the proprietor of a store he allegedly attempted to burglarize June 7, was sentenced to from two to four years in State Prison today by Judge Simpson.

The lad, with a group of others, invaded the store of Joseph Kitlan, but fled when Kitlan, who was in the building, opened fire. Katunaka was arrested when he applied for medical treatment for his wounds.

TEACHER'S VIEWPOINT

Editor of The Herald:
Permit me to add a few remarks to those already written by "Interested" in last night's Herald.
I taught for six years during the "boom" period in the Manchester schools. They were happy ones, spent in pleasant surroundings and with pupils and teachers who showed a splendid school spirit. Having experienced previous years of frugal salary, I felt like many other teachers that financially we were just coming into our own. Yet these years were no snap. A teacher who did not work found no place in the system. The demands on our time and energy were often so great that our positions proved to be both vocations and avocations.
As to the financial limitations at present, I am sure that the teachers are aware of it and are willing to stand the strain in curtailment of salary till normal times return. But the inference that teaching is something to be lightly spoken of is unkind. So is the inference that school expenditures have been lavish. Take the matter of supplies. We had enough but could often have used more.
The nickels we teachers have spent for red ink, clips, magazines, hooks, stamps, crepe paper, etc., would net us a tidy sum to pursue a hobby.

FLORENCE STEVENSON,
So. Manchester, Conn.
October 21, 1933.

I WONDER

Editor, The Herald:
Lately I rarely pick up a daily newspaper but what somewhere I see something about "The Forgotten Man"—never a thing about "The Abused Woman." I wonder, is she really dead, or at least so ill that she really needs the services of a good doctor to bring her to the point where she will once more take up her cudgels in the defense of "The Abused Woman" and protect her from the wrath of "The Butcher, the Baker, the Candlestick Maker," and I wonder if the landlords should not be included in the ancient rhyme to complete the story. I will sign myself

One of Your Readers, Who Is Waiting for Better Times.

ASKS EARLY DATE

Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Governor W. L. Cross today asked Deputy Attorney General Ernest L. Averill to compute the earliest date permitted for a special election to choose a successor to Representative John Q. Tilson.

Rules of the major political parties indicate the election cannot be held before January 17, 1933. Tilson's resignation is to become effective Saturday, December 3. The governor therefore cannot issue an order for the election until December 5.

A week would be required for the State Central Committees to assemble and issue convention calls. Republican rules say 15 days must elapse between the call and the convention.

MRS. SAYRE TO SPEAK

Hartford, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Jessie Wilson Sayre, daughter of Woodrow Wilson was announced today as the speaker at a public Democratic rally in Bridgeport, November 1. The Connecticut Federation of Democratic Women's clubs is in charge.

QUOTATIONS

More than 10,000,000 people are alive today in Europe because of President Hoover's great work in administering the relief sent from this country during the World War. Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of Vice-President Charles Curtis.

We had more people at this arena's ball than you've got here tonight. —Fire Captain George Foster at New York City Democratic convention.

Things seem better in France than they do in the United States. I am full of hope for the future. —Paul Claudel, French ambassador to the United States.

Is it to ask me that question (to return to the United States) that you awake me in the middle of the night? —Martin J. Insull, indicted Chicago utilities magnate.

PROFESSOR FREUND DIES

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Ernest Freund, 68, professor of jurisprudence and public law at the University of Chicago, died in his sleep last night at a hospital where he had gone for treatment of a heart ailment.

Prof. Freund, who held doctorates from Berlin and Heidelberg universities, was considered an authority in his field and was retained on numerous occasions by State Legislatures and Congressional committees in an advisory capacity.

He was born in New York. In 1890 he joined the faculty of Columbia University and remained there until 1894 when he came to the University of Chicago. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

WAPPING

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society held their Halloween Social last Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock with twenty present. Prizes were offered for the best and most amusing costumes, and Rev. and Mrs. David Carter were the judges. Miss Mabel Dewey and Stanley Billings were awarded the prizes and in the contest of "bobbing for apples" James Mijer received the prize. Games were played and a general good time enjoyed. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cookies, apples and grape juice were served. The church basement was prettily decorated with cornstalks and jack-o'-lanterns.

The Girls' Wagon Club held their Halloween social at the home of Miss Dorothy Stoddard, on Tuesday evening. A fine time was enjoyed playing games and stunts, and eating chocolates stuffed with cotton, paper and soap. There were fifteen members present.

The annual meeting of the South Windsor Gun Club was held Monday evening at the private clubrooms of Ralph Murray, Jr., nearly the entire land of the town of South Windsor and Wapping will be under the jurisdiction of the club, and 500 posters were issued to designate the hunting ground. The six local constables, being members of the club, will be in charge of all trespassers and game violators.

Arthur L. Young, the new superintendent of the South Windsor schools, addressed the Parent-Teachers Association at the Wood Street Library, Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served afterward.

Arlo Adams, son of Rev. and Mrs. Dwight W. Adams, a former pastor of the Wapping Methodist Church was killed in an automobile accident at St. Paul, Minn. recently. He was a professor in a college there. He leaves besides his mother who is 78 years old now makes her home in Cushman, Mass.

Mrs. Dorothy D. Donahue of New York, a visitor at the home of her parents here recently.

N. G. CONVENTION

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 21.—(AP)—More than 300 officers from every state in the union assembled here today for the second day of the National Guard Association convention to discuss curtailments in appropriations for National Guard activities.

Major General George E. Leach, chief of the militia bureau, laid the bureau's economy program before the officers at yesterday's opening session, but discussion of it was deferred until today.

Sharp reductions in operation costs are proposed in the report which provides for the reduction of caretakers for armories and equipment for each regiment.

Substantial reductions in the appropriations for replacement of horses, and provide for the replacement of horse-drawn artillery with motorized units at an estimated savings of $40,000 annually in maintenance.

POLAR PARTY ESTABLISHED

The Pas, Man., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Canada's "polar party" is well established at Chesterfield inlet, about 450 miles north of Churchill, according to a letter received here from Frank T. Davis, chief of the expedition who served with Commander Richard E. Byrd in the South Pole operations.

Valuable information on magnetic disturbances in the Sub-Arctic has already been obtained, according to the letter, which will be the last received for many months. The party will be isolated at Chesterfield until September, 1933.

The letter, dated Sept. 25, took a month to reach here, making part of the journey on the Catholic mission supply ship Theresia, which sank in Churchill harbor last Saturday.

NO CELEBRATION

The Pas, Man., Oct. 21.—(AP)—When 150 men arrived here on the "muskie" train on the annual movement from Churchill, local citizens were astonished when they failed to stage the usual riotous celebration after many months of isolation in the Far North. Evidently the old frontier spirit has disappeared, for they sought baths, haircuts and store clothes for the journey to southern cities.

Another train will arrive Sunday with work crews from along the Hudson Bay Line. Season construction will close at the end of this month.

TO SIGN NEW PACE

London, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Abrogation of the British trade agreement with Soviet Russia does not mean that Great Britain intends to sever trade relations, Stanley Baldwin told Parliament last night. On the contrary, a new agreement will be sought.

The Russian arrangement was cancelled because of provisions in the Ottawa trade agreement. Now, said Mr. Baldwin, negotiations will be started for a new arrangement which will give the United Kingdom a better share of the Russian trade than it had before.

ARCHDEACON DIES

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Venerable Archdeacon Thomas Fraser Draper, 60 years rector of St. Bartholomew's church of England at Louisburg, died here today.

BAKER ASKS CHANGE IN THE ADMINISTRATION

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Newton D. Baker, stepping into the presidential campaign for the first time last night with an address supporting Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, denounced the Republican policies of the last 12 years.

"I want a change," the former secretary of war said. "And I don't think it is possible for any Republican administration to make the change necessary before this country gets started right again."

Baker's general theme was that the United States' present economic situation was a direct result of a Republican policy of American isolation from world affairs.

"The President of the United States, when he was here Saturday, indulged in some sarcasm," Baker said. "He said the Democrats had not learned there was a World War in which 40,000,000 men lost their lives and 300 billions of property were destroyed. If I had been president, I could have told him of one Democrat who was aware of those facts. As a matter of fact, the figures he used were out of a book caused to be written."

"But if there is anyone who failed to appreciate that the World War was a world disaster, or who has forgotten the lessons which that war taught us, then President Hoover's party is responsible for his so forgetting."

UNIVERSITY DECORATES CLAUDEL AND BENNETT

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Ambassador Paul Claudel and France and Prime Minister Richard Bedford Bennett of Canada have been made honorary Doctors of Law by the University of the State of New York.

At ceremonies last night in Chancellor's Hall in the state education building, the purple and black hood of the university were bestowed upon the two foreign statesmen by the New York State Board of Regents, Dr. Frank P. Graves, commissioner of education and president of the university, conferred the degrees for the regents assembled in annual convocation.

Dr. Graves said the university recognized Mr. Claudel not only as the French ambassador but as "playwright, philosopher and public servant."

Prime Minister Bennett he greeted as the "distinguished citizen of Canada" and "foremost member of the bar."

Mr. Claudel, replying, said he was gratified to note, "wherever I go in the United States, such warm proofs of the everlasting friendship between your country and mine."

Mr. Bennett responded by praising George Washington's principles of government.

Queer Twists In Day's News

Baltimore—Fondness for physical culture, especially "chinning" himself, was blamed by police for the death of George W. Starkey, Jr. The 21 years old youth was found hanging by a belt from a kitchen lamp.

Camden, N. J.—A new harbinger of a hard winter sent cold chills up and down the spines of Camden traffic policemen today. As an economy measure electric heaters have been removed from the city's traffic booths.

Halloway, Ohio—Recognizing "the part of his missing car," Coelia Green gave chase to a friend's machine. Overtaking the thieves Green yanked out a tobacco can, pointing it like a revolver. One man fled and two others threw up their hands.

While Green wondered what he'd do next a third machine stopped, unable to pass. Green was overjoyed as the sheriff, Maurice Wooster, stepped out. The officer "did his stuff."

Corpus Christi, Texas—You have heard of rooses. The wild horse and cow kind. Now comes the tarpon roose. Fishermen from several states have gathered at Aransas Pass to snare the wily fish in the first Texas tarpon rodeo. Governor Sterling was expected to lead the field.

Coriscana, Texas—A bull yearling far two bushels of potatoes is a fair trade, think Sam B. Jordan and Henry Hall. Hall offered the potatoes at 35 cents a bushel, with no takers. Likewise Jordan found no offers for a calf he wanted to sell. Meeting in the courthouses, they swapped even.

Pontiac, Mich.—Miss Pearl Wilson was deep in a bridge problem when Miss Irene Burmeister entered the house and remarked "Anyone who plays cards is nerdy." Miss Wilson slapped her face. To a complaint charging assault and battery Miss Wilson pleaded guilty, but promised to use more pacific means of settling arguments hereafter, so sentence was suspended.

Baltimore, Md.—His automobile tagged for overtime parking, Forest J. Richardson explained in Traffic Court he was out looking for work. Without funds because he could find no work and had a wife and several children to support.

"I'll fine you $1 and pay it myself" Magistrate Edward M. Staylor said.

Grundy Center, Iowa—If he can't prevent Helen, his 16-years-old daughter from driving the family car, John Kluswet, her father, decided the law can. After she took the car from the street, according to Kluswet he gave up and fled charges of driving without a license. She is in jail awaiting trial.

Boone, Iowa—Farmer Carl Dorman accuses the possum of being a "kidnaper" he says he found one with its tail wrapped around a little pig, attempting to abduct the porker.

Dallas, Tex.—This city is well fortified for the winter battle against hunger. It has some 100 tons of sweet potatoes, from the municipal gardens, cultivated by unemployed, to provide food for the destitute, and all the crop is not yet harvested.

Not until the end of the 16th century did the cult of pillar saints disappear from the earth.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE HOLDS OPENING SESSION

Rome, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Farmers from 35 nations met here today in the opening session of the fourth International Congress of Agricultural Institutions, convened to find means for more wisely utilizing the benefits of scientific farming.

A thousand delegates attended the meeting, opened in the Palazzo Margherita in the presence of King Victor Emmanuel. By addition to government delegations there were hundreds of representatives of private agricultural institutions.

During the period of the Congress, which will last 11 days, many lectures will be given and devices displayed to show the progress modern agronomy has made to relieve the hardships of farm life. Exhibits of machinery and chemical fertilizers will be held in conjunction with the meetings.

The delegates will present and discuss plans for extension of educational facilities to reach the great mass of farmers still using antiquated implements and methods. Advancement of home economics instruction to make the farmer's moments of repose more refreshing also will be discussed.

Professor Giacomo Acerbo, minister of agriculture of Italy and president of the International Federation of Technical Agriculturists, presided over today's meeting.

Latin America is well represented in the Congress, which includes delegations from Argentina, Cuba, Venezuela, Mexico, Brazil, and Colombia.

CONOVER FOR A TRUCE ON THE DRY QUESTION

New Haven, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Republican altoner, Independent Rep. Miss Conover, U. S. Senator said he favored a "truce" on the prohibition question, opposed war debt cancellation, and was in favor of the World Court, in a letter today

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Do you send your shirts to the laundry?
No, I just wear them once and tear them up myself.

THERE WOULDN'T BE SO MANY CANDIDATES IF IT WERE POSSIBLE FOR VOTERS TO BUE THEM FOR BREACH OF CAMPAIGN PROMISES.

Jacob—Where did you get that black eye?
Alfred—I kissed the bride.
Jacob—But I thought that was customary?
Alfred—Well—not two months after the ceremony, it isn't.

THE PHONOGRAPHS AND RADIO HAVE SAVED PARENTS MANY A DOLLAR THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN WASTED ON PIANO LESSONS FOR GIRLS WHO HAD NO MUSICAL TALENT.

Waiter—Haven't you forgotten something, sir?
Professor—Why, I thought I gave you the customary tip?
Waiter—You did, sir, but you forgot to eat.

HOTNESS—Will you sit on my right hand during dinner?
MALE GUEST OF HONOR—Not with that big ring on your finger.

Mrs. Jones (to her neighbor)—You know I think my husband was drunk last night.
Mrs. Helms—How's that?
Mrs. Jones—Why, he came in and jumped in the bed.
Mrs. Helms—Well?
Mrs. Jones—The bed wasn't there.

A terrible thing happened to a Manchester woman the other day. She had her tonsils removed, and now her throat is so sore she can't talk about the operation.

Irate Passenger—Madam, what do you mean by letting your child snatch off my wig?
Mother (with a sigh of relief)—Oh, it's a wig, is it? I was scared for a minute that he's scalp't ye alive.

THE EASIEST JOB IN THE WORLD IS THE ONE MOST GRIEVOUSLY NEGLECTED—ATTENDING TO YOUR OWN BUSINESS.

The man who says, "I run things at home," usually refers to the lawn mower, washing machines, vacuum sweeper and errands.

Diner—I see that tips are forbidden here.
Waitress—So were apples in the Garden of Eden.

Phyllis—Daddy, John asked me to marry him, but I told him I couldn't leave mother.
Father (brightly)—That's all right, my dear. Take her with you.

THIS MAY BE A PROGRESSIVE AGE, BUT YOU HAVE DOUBTLESS OBSERVED THAT SOME THINGS ARE STILL RATED BY HORSE AND CANDLE POWER.

Employer—I want you to prove your power as a salesman. Just sell that gentleman some of those cigars.
Salesman—But I sold him some of them last week.

Employer—I know, but selling them to him again is where the real test of a salesman is going to come in.

WE MIGHT HAVE BETTER TIMES RIGHT AWAY IF PEOPLE WOULD STOP USING THEIR MONEY FOR EVERYTHING BUT PAYING DEBTS.

Doctor—When the symptoms first appeared did your teeth chatter?
Patient—I don't know, they were on the table.

First Lawyer—You're a cheat!
Second Lawyer—You're a liar!
Judge—Now that these parties have identified each other, we will proceed with the case.

Some of the most famous plays in football will be explained in this space during Freckles' play with the Shadyside team.

NOTRE DAME SHIFT

BEFORE SHIFTING

AFTER SHIFTING

A left is the late Knute Rockne's Notre Dame shift, which throws strength on one side of the line without weakening the other. The first sketch shows the line in orthodox position before the shift. As the signal for the shift is given, the players take up the position shown in second sketch. The quarterback moves over to the side of the center; the half on the side of the play is to go moves over and flanks the end; the fullback moves over to such a position as to take a pass direct from center, and the other half stands directly behind center. With this shift the quarterback can either take a pass from center and relay it to the man making the play, which can be either an end or an offensive thrust, or can signal for a direct pass to the intended runner.
