KAHN DID NOT PAY TAXES IN 3 YEARS

Senior Partner of Kuhn, Loeb Co. Failed to Pay on Income in 1930, '31 and '32, Pecora Brings Out.

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—Ferdinand Pecora, counsel of the Senate banking committee, said today his evidence showed Otto H. Kuhn, senior partner of the Kuhn, Loeb and Co., paid no income tax in 1930, 1931 or 1932.

Pecora told newspapermen he also expected to submit evidence that the total income tax payments of the firm's other partners in those years was "negligible."

The disclosures were expected by investigators to give further impetus to the drive for changes in the tax laws.

Evidence recently was received that partner of J. P. Morgan and Co., paid no income taxes in 1931 or 1932 and only $48,000 in 1930.

PRICES OF WHEAT DROP, THEN GO UP

Break as Much as 6 1-2 Cents a Bushel Recorded, But Losses Recovered.

Chicago, June 28.—(AP)—Wheat broke sharply from its newly acquired dollar price at the opening of the board of trade, and snapped back to prices close to yesterday's high top within a few minutes. The break ran as high as 6 1/2 cents a bushel in July. Various reasons were ascribed for the violent and confused trading, but as the bulls got control after a large number of stop loss orders had been raised had caused the collapse.

Much Confusion
On the recovery, May rallied more than 4 cents to $1.04. All the coarser grades, which had dropped around 5 cents a bushel with wheat, also recovered most of their losses. The confusion in the pits was maniacal. The records on the blackboard were in a jumble as thousands of bushels of grain were sold at rapidly receding prices and then were bought up on rocketing figures.

Before the first half hour had elapsed, prices receded a couple cents a bushel again and the trading was violent at rapidly changing figures and trends. July wheat was then selling at 87 cents, off 3 3/4 from yesterday's close, September was 94 1/2, off 3, while December was 97 1/2, off 3 1/4.

BOARD FAVORS BUYING WATER; SPLIT ON PRICE

Selectmen Unanimous On Cheney Utility Purchase, But Bowers and Cook Think Cost Is Too High.

After nearly a year of study of all phases of the proposal to buy the Cheney Brothers utility companies, the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District, the Board of Selectmen yesterday afternoon voted unanimously to recommend to the voters of Manchester the purchase—at a price.

A second vote, taken when it developed that there was opposition on the board to the purchase, was five to two in favor of purchasing at $1,150,000, the final figure of the Cheney firm.

Chairman Wells A. Strickland read to the full board a review of the proposal from Cheney Brothers, giving in synopsis form the progress made and the stand of the silk firm with respect to the proposal for sale. The final report of the special committee of the board, consisting of Chairman Strickland, Bowers, Cook and Keith, was equally divided on the purchase at the quoted price. The committee was unanimous on question of purchase. Chairman Strickland and Selectman George E. Keith favored the purchase at the quoted price and Selectmen Bowers and Cook, while in favor of acquiring the utilities, believed that the price was too high.

BIG CROWD HEARS OPENING CONCERT

Salvation Army Band Pleases Gathering—Full Program Played.

The first band concert of the season was treated by a crowd equally as large as on previous years, and judging by the applause the gathering was well pleased with the offerings of the Salvation Army band. The program was given just as published and little time was lost between numbers. No intermission was allowed, but the playing refreshment were served by Michael Orfell.

The harmony was true and the volume, especially in the lower section was strong and ponderous. Adjutant George Williams was noticed playing baritone like a master. Russell Crough had to fill the bill for two trombone players, which he did creditably. The bandmaster made his debut as euphonium soloist in "I Love Him Better." This list in "I Love Him Better" the band can render as they prefer. To save the good to the last.

STATE TAXI DRIVERS BARRED IN NEW YORK

Not Allowed to Carry Passengers for Hire—Must Have New York License.

Port Chester, N. Y., June 28.—(AP)—New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau today asked for the "earnest cooperation" of Westchester county authorities in an effort to stop taxicabs bearing Connecticut licenses from carrying passengers for hire in this state.

The request was made in a communication sent to police throughout the county and signed by Carroll E. Mealey, a deputy commissioner of motor vehicles.

It took cognizance of the fact that a New York state taxicab driver was arrested in Greenwich, Conn., last week for hauling a passenger across the Connecticut line and instructed officials to turn back all such vehicles from the neighboring state whose drivers could not show New York licenses.

Officials here pointed out that observance of the order would work an inconvenience on many commuters both to and from New York City who live in the vicinity of the boundary line between the two states.

The Selectmen that both the South Manchester Water Company and the South Manchester Sanitary and Sewer District were for sale. A meeting of the Board with directors of Cheney Brothers confirmed the report, and a committee was selected to investigate. After a preliminary survey using the basic figures of an earlier appraisal, it was agreed by the Selectmen to engage the firm of Bennett and Terry, appraisers, to conduct a complete survey of the properties to secure an up-to-date picture of the values of the company properties. After several months the report was given the Selectmen by the appraisers, forming the basis for the comprehensive study made by the committee during the past six months.

According to a statement made by Ward Cheney, president of the town officials—the assumption of certain sewage rights of the Rogers Paper Company—are excluded from the latest proposal. Cheney Brothers now agree to assume all liability for the purification of the sewage of the Rogers Paper Company.

Under the provisions of the sale as given the Board of Selectmen last month, one feature of the proposal considered a stumbling block by the town officials—the assumption of certain sewage rights of the Rogers Paper Company—are excluded from the latest proposal. Cheney Brothers now agree to assume all liability for the purification of the sewage of the Rogers Paper Company.

Then came the appraisal by Bennett & Terry from which it was learned that the properties involved were well engineered and constructed, and in excellent condition and of a capacity considerably in excess of the present requirements of the town. The reproduction value of the two properties placed by Bennett & Terry was $1,450,000 and that a proper price for the town to pay for the utilities in order to insure its being self-supporting, would be $1,200,000.

The negotiations and a study of the Bennett & Terry appraisal, Cheney Brothers reduced their price to $1,150,000 cash, the town to assume the $500,000 outstanding bonds, and to pay Cheney Brothers $350,000 cash.

When the latter offer was made, the town and Nation was in the midst of a National banking holiday, halting plans for further consideration of the proposal. In addition the town was faced with the immediate necessity of raising a $300,000 bond issue to fund its extraordinary indebtedness, incurred through charity and unemployment excesses and delinquency of tax payments. The Board of Selectmen notified the Cheney Brothers directors that the prevailing situation then prevented further consideration of the issue.

Offer Renewed

Then followed the sale of the town's bonds at a satisfactory price and payment of the property tax and general upturn in conditions, both local and nation-wide. It was then that Cheney Brothers renewed their offer, asking for prompt action on the long deferred matter.

In a statement from Cheney Brothers, given three weeks ago, the reasons for the sale of the properties were given. A statement that the company said that the sale of the utilities, converted into liquid assets and working capital, would benefit the manufacturing concern. During the entire four years of depressed conditions in the manufacturing line, the report stated, Cheney Brothers never were limited for working capital, but the low activity in the trade as a whole, affected local manufacturing and diminished sales opportunities. In the event of sale of the properties, Ward Cheney warned that the acquisition of liquid working capital would not immediately result in increased plant capacity, based on that fact alone, but that the firm believed that additional working capital would enhance the opportunity to increase the volume of manufacturing by taking advantage of the opportunities to extend the market barriers.

In the Cheney firm's statement, it was borne out that the price asked for the companies was materially lower than the reproduction cost of all estimates. At the present time the properties yield, the report states, an actual cash income. Although small, it would be comparable to the interest on the bonds to be issued if the sale was consummated.

Will Take Bonds

Will Take Bonds

The report further states that the Cheney Brothers firm would accept the town's bonds at a 1-2 per cent interest rate, if no better price was obtainable in the event of a sale. In accepting the town's bonds, the silk firm agreed that cash would be more acceptable. However, the acquisition of the bonds at this time would be more beneficial to the company and would relieve the town of anticipated difficulty trying to sell them in the open market under present conditions. By accepting the bonds, Cheney Brothers could, they stated, dispose of them later under different market conditions and in the meantime they would represent a more liquid form of capital than the other properties.

It is Cheney Brothers' contention that the price offered has been determined by an estimate as to the point at which the properties would surely carry themselves, eliminating the need of extra burden on the taxpayers. Receipts and operating expenses have been prepared and checked by the appraisers and Cheney Brothers company and, on this point seem to be absolutely conclusive. A report of operating costs for the first quarter of 1933, representing possibly the most unfavorable conditions upon which an estimate could be made, shows positively that upon the price offered, the properties would carry themselves with some margin to spare for amortization of the bonds and for further development of the physical properties.

KAHN DID NOT PAY TAXES IN 3 YEARS

500 loan to the bank, the witness added, was four times the value of the loan.

"We placed the greatest reliance on the government guarantee," he said.

Asked whether the guarantee of the security was the "principal factor" in his firm's decision to make the loan, the witness replied: "It is impossible to differentiate between the two."

Questioned closely by Pecora, Butteneiser said before underwriting the bonds his firm studied Chile's trade statistics and indebtedness.

He said the figures showed Chile had a "substantially favorable trade balance" every year but three from 1900 to 1924.

"I don't see how anyone in 1925 could see the world cataclysm that came later," Butteneiser added. "Naturally the fall of prices affected the trade balances of Chile."

Pecora pointed out the chief exports of Chile were nitrates and copper. He asked if Kuhn, Loeb had studied the nitrate situation in Chile, part of which was nitrate.

"We made no specific study of the nitrate situation,"

Pecora said Kuhn had testified the American investing public relied on the reputation of an issuing house, and added he was trying to find out how much of a study the firm had made.

Asked by Chairman Fletcher if the firm had made any study of the political situation in Chile, Butteneiser replied his legal advisor in the country had advised that the government guarantee was valid.

Fletcher asked if a revolution was not impending at the time of the first loan.

"It was a liberal movement rather than a revolution," Butteneiser said.

A memorandum from Kuhn, Loeb files then was read by Pecora saying a military council which had seized control of Chile in September, 1924, was overthrown in January 1925, by another council which arranged for an election the following July of 1925 to draw up a new Constitution.

Saying the loan was made in June before the election, Pecora asked if there was any way of determining the loan would be recognized by the new government.

Butteneiser said Kuhn, Loeb's Chilean counsel advised the firm that under principles of international law such a loan would be recognized by the subsequent government.

He added the loan was recognized and principal and interest payments were made until the default six years later.

"Doesn't it appear," Pecora asked, "that you advised like the lawyer advised the man in jail, that the government could not put him there, but he said, 'Here I am in jail.'"

"I do not see the analogy," Butteneiser said.

STRICKLAND TO OPEN STOCKBRIDGE SEASON

Manchester Man, Well Known Stage Director, in Charge of Playhouse Again.

Manchester friends of F. G. Strickland will know producer of plays, received notices today announcing the opening of the Berkshire Playhouse at Stockbridge, Mass., Monday, July 3. This will be Mr. Strickland's sixth consecutive season as director-manager. One of his Stockbridge successes last year, "Just Out," by Edouard Bourdet, straggled the Shuberts who engaged him to produce it on Broadway under the title "Best Sellers." George Coulouris, who was one of the 1932 acting company at Stockbridge, was in the New York cast, together with Peggy Wood, Ernest Truax and other artists of note.

As in past seasons, Mr. Strickland will put on a new play at the Berkshire Playhouse each week. Monday and Wednesday matinees proved well worth while and many local people took advantage of the pleasant drive through the Berkshires, the opportunity of seeing excellent plays with nation-wide celebrities in the stellar roles and strong supporting casts.

Three of the Stockbridge favorites of last season were reproduced in town this winter by the Community Players, "Broken Dishes," in which Donald Mark roles were given successfully by the Community Players at the Whiton Memorial hall, for the benefit of Ever Ready Circle Kings Daughters. Leonard Johnson played the role in which Meek delighted audiences on Broadway and Chicago for months in succession. "The Queen's Husband," presented by the Community Players on Friday evening at High school hall—alumni night—to the benefit of the Verplanck Foundation, which has been given by a group of the Players and produced locally. The same was true of "The Enchanted April," also given by the Players this spring for the work of Ever Ready Circle.

Mr. Strickland who was referred to by one metropolitan dramatic critic as an "actors' director," has secured for the 1933 Stockbridge season, the following stage stars: Helen Menken, Claude Rains, Rose Hobart, Donald Meek (starred this season in the Chicago company in "Of This I Sing," and now in Hollywood), June Walker, Geoffrey Kerr, Suzanne Caubays, Audrey Ridgeway, Peggy Hovendon, Katherine Stewart, Margaret Love, Jonatha Peacor, Charles Francis, Robert Wallsten.

The play for next week is "The First Mrs. Fraser" by St. John Ervine and the leads will be played by Audrey Ridgeway, Charles Francis, Walter Kingsford, Peggy Hovendon, Gabe Clark and Robert Wallsten.

When Mr. Strickland assumed direction of the plays at Stockbridge he was assisted in the management of the theater by Alexander Kirkland, who is now in Hollywood and played opposite Dorothy Jordan in "Bondage," shown here recently and in Hartford. Katherine Hepburn, Hartford girl, and well known screen star, was formerly a member of Mr. Strickland's acting company.

Charles Leishnake of West Center street, will leave Saturday for the Chicago Exposition on a sight-seeing tour. Norman Leishnake was graduated from Manchester High school last week and Roland returned in September for his junior year.

GRAYSON'S BROTHER FACES INDICTMENT

Kim of Rear Admiral Is Charged With Conspiracy to Commit Larceny.

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—John Cooke Grayson, brother of Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, was one of four men indicted today by a District of Columbia Grand Jury in connection with a shortage in the funds of the Park Savings Bank of Washington, now closed.

A charge against Grayson, former clerk in the chief National bank examiner's office of the Treasury Department, is that he informed the late Robert S. Stuns, former vice president of the bank, of pending visits to the institution by Federal bank examiners.

In return, it was charged that Stuns accepted overdrafts from Grayson and credited the latter's account with approximately $4,000 he never deposited.

Stuns killed himself last March. He left a note taking the blame for a shortage in the Park bank's funds estimated at $1,700,000.

The other three indicted today were David P. Smith, a nephew of Stuns, Alexander M. McNeil, a depositor, and his son, Benedict M. McNeil, assistant cashier of the bank.

The specific charge against the four is conspiracy to commit embezzlement and larceny.

Members of Grayson's family reported that he is seriously ill at Charlottesville, Va.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, June 28.—(AP)—The Stock Market forged ahead today to the accompaniment of another sharp slump of the dollar in foreign exchange markets and erratic movements of gains.

The British pound sterling spurted around 10 cents to another post-peak standard peak and French francs got up above the 96-cent level. Wheat lost most of its spectacular gains of yesterday in early trading, but retrieved a large part of the loss after the first realizing rush. Corn, oats and rye followed wheat. Cotton was somewhat uneasy at times, but it, too, showed reviving tendencies. Bonds were a trifle irregular.

The so-called "wet" shares were again the feature of stock transactions as sentiment for prohibition repeal apparently was strong. Owens-Illinois Glas. led the group with a gain of some 10 points. U. S. Industrial Alcohol was up about 6 and advanced to around 5 cents recorded by National Distillers. Crown Cork, American Chemical, Alcohol and Liquid Carbonic. Strength was shown by most of the rails, gainers in this division of 1 to 2 or more including Lackawanna, Delaware & Hudson, New York Central and Pennsylvania. Traffic last week was the best since 1931. Car loadings of Norfolk & Western in the same week exceeded those of the 1932 week by some 7,000.

With prospects for increased purchasing power of the farmer the brightest in several years, various merchantile organizations are anticipating a continued upward movement in trade. It is estimated that the rise in wheat prices since last March has added some $250,000,000 to the value of wheat still held on the farms.

NO RIFLE PRACTICE

Niantic, June 28.—(AP)—Residents in the vicinity of Camp Cross who have protested in the past against the constant rattle of rifle fire will enjoy comparative quiet this summer during the occupation by the Connecticut National Guard. As an economy measure, all rifle and gunnery practice will be discontinued except for firing by machine gunners on the one thousand foot range within the borders of the camp.

NEW FEDERAL TAX LAWS EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

State Chamber Director Prepares Summary of Sections of Industrial Recovery Act Relative to Taxation Levies.

Hartford, June 23.—The Industrial Recovery Act, recently enacted into law, contains many changes relative to the Federal taxation law which become effective immediately. For the information of its directors and members the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce has had prepared by Charles F. Coates, C. 2, a member of the firm of Hadfield, Rothwell, Soule and Coates of Hartford and the director on the Board of the State Chamber representing the Connecticut society of certified public accountants, a summary of these provisions and has sent it to their entire membership.

Capital Stock Tax
Included in the provisions of this law is a capital stock tax on corporations for each year ending June 30th at the rate of $1.00 for each $1,000 of the adjusted declared value of capital stock. The first returns in accordance with this section are to be filed and the tax paid on or before July 31, 1933, unless an extension of time is granted by the commissioner with approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Several changes are made in the Revenue Act of 1932 on such items as net losses, losses from sales of securities and a broadening of the provisions of Section 104 with respect to evasion of taxes by accumulation of surplus.

The recent increase of one-half cent per gallon on the gasoline tax is one of the stipulations of this law.

The Summary
The summary, as prepared by Mr. Coates, follows:

"The National Industrial Recovery Act, which was signed by the President and became law on June 16, 1933, is of outstanding importance to American business and contains many changes applicable to the Federal tax laws, which become operative immediately. These changes are briefly summarized as follows:

"1.—Tax of 5 per cent on dividends paid to any person, other than a domestic corporation; such tax to be deducted and withheld from such dividends by the payor corporation and imposed on dividends declared on and subsequent to June 16, 1933.

"2.—Capital Stock Tax on Corporations for each year ending June 30th at the rate of $1.00 for each $1,000 of the adjusted declared value of capital stock; first returns to be filed and tax paid on or before July 31, 1933, unless an extension of time is granted by the Commissioner with approval of Secretary of Treasury. Exempt corporations stated herein after.

"3.—Excess Profits Tax on Corporations at the rate of 5 per cent on net income in excess of 1-2 per cent of the adjusted declared capital stock value for each income tax taxable year ending after the close of the first year in respect to which it is taxable upon its capital stock.

"4.—Net Losses: Effective as of January 1, 1933, net losses may not be carried forward, not even for one year as provided for in the Revenue Act of 1932.

"5.—Losses from Sales of Securities: Effective as of January 1, 1933, losses from sales of securities held for two years or less are not deductible from gains from similar sales in the next year.

"6.—Additional Tax Rat. for Consolidated Returns: For the taxable years of 1934 and 1935, a rate of 1 per cent, instead of three-quarters of 1 per cent as applicable to the taxable years 1933 and 1932, shall be added to the regular corporation income tax rate of 13 3/4 per cent in determination of taxes based on consolidated return.

"7.—Partners' Deductions for Partnership Disallowed Stock Losses: Effective as of January 1, 1933, no part of any loss disallowed to a partnership shall be allowed as a deduction to a member of such partnership in computing individual net income.

"8.—Elimination of Private Banks of Exemption from Stock Loss Limitation: Effective as of January 1, 1933, private banks are no longer exempt from the stock loss limitation.

"9.—Broadening of the Provisions of Section 104 of the Revenue Act of 1932 with respect to evasion of taxes by accumulation of surplus.

"10.—Excise Facilities and Increased Stamp Taxes, as provided by titles IV and V of the Revenue Act of 1932, are extended another year, thus changing the ending of the effective period from the year 1934 to the year 1935.

"11.—Federal Gasoline Tax effective beginning June 17, 1933 increases this tax from 1c to 1 1/2c per gallon.

When No Longer Effective
The foregoing changes in tax laws are effective until the President shall proclaim the date of.

"1.—The close of the first fiscal year ending June 30th of any year after the year 1933, during which the total receipts of the United States (excluding public-debt receipts) exceed its total expenditures (including public-debt expenditures other than those chargeable against such receipts), or

"2.—The repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, whichever is the earlier.

"(a) Effective as of the 1st day of the calendar year following the date so proclaimed section 617

(a) of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, is amended by striking out '1 1/2 cents' and inserting in lieu thereof '1 cent.'

"(b) The tax on dividends imposed by section 213 shall not apply to any dividends declared on or after the 1st day of July following the date so proclaimed.

"(c) The capital-stock tax imposed by section 215 shall not apply to any taxpayer in respect of any year beginning on or after the 1st day of July following the date so proclaimed.

"(d) The excess-profits tax imposed by section 216 shall not apply to any taxpayer in respect of any taxable year after its taxable year during which the date so proclaimed occurs."

"The following comments are offered with respect to certain of the above noted changes:

"Tax on Dividends: This tax is imposed on the receipt of dividends (required to be included in the gross income of the recipient under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1932) by any person other than a domestic corporation.

"Payor corporations may find difficulty in determining, to their satisfaction, who are domestic corporation stockholders, since many certificates owned by domestic corporations are issued in the name of a nominee, trustee or other fiduciary. Likewise, certificates are issued in the name of a company or trade title, which may appear to be, in fact, are not domestic corporations. Payor corporations will probably require corporate stock owners, irrespective of form of registration of such ownership, to furnish them with satisfactory proof of corporate ownership and an agreement to indemnify the payor corporation against all liability, which may occur by reason of not withholding the tax upon dividends.

"The taxes imposed by this section of the act do not apply to dividends of any corporation enumerated in Section 108 of the Revenue Act of 1932, which are corporations exempt from income taxation.

Capital Stock Tax
"This tax is imposed upon every domestic corporation and upon every foreign corporation carrying on doing business in the United States based on the adjusted declared value of its capital stock or the adjusted declared value of capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States, respectively. The act does not state how the original value of its capital stock or capital as declared by the corporation in its first return shall be determined, but such original declaration of value cannot be amended. The act provides for adjustments resulting from transactions subsequent to the first return. The excess profits tax, however, imposes a tax of 5 per cent upon the portion of net income of every corporation, for each income tax taxable year ending after the close of the first year in respect of which it is taxable upon its capital stock, as in excess of 1 1/2 per cent of the adjusted declared value of its capital stock (or in the case of a foreign corporation the adjusted declared value of capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States). If, therefore, seems prudent to estimate earnings for one or two years in advance and capitalize such estimates at the rate of 12 1/2 per cent to determine the declared value of capital stock for the purpose of arriving at a sufficiently high value for capital stock to eliminate possibility of the excess profits tax being later imposed.

"The following corporations are exempt from the capital stock tax:

"(a). Any corporation enumerated in Section 103 of the Revenue Act of 1932, which are corporations exempt from income taxation, including labor, agricultural or horticultural organizations, mutual savings banks not having a capital stock represented by shares, business leagues, charitable organizations, clubs, co-operative associations, etc.

"(b) Any insurance company subject to the tax imposed by Section 201 or 204 of the Revenue Act of 1932.

"(c) Any domestic or foreign corporation in respect of the year ending June 30, 1933, if it did not carry on or do business during a part of the period from June 16, 1933 to June 30, 1933, both dates inclusive.

"Net Losses and Losses From Sales of Securities: Any benefit resultant from carrying forward losses to the subsequent year as provided for in the Revenue Act of 1932 is eliminated under the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act."

Personal service by which each member would counsel, advise and help some unfortunate child was termed one of the most important phases of child welfare. The supplying of food, clothing, medical attention and moral guidance were listed as other forms of service for children.

The committee selected to promote this work in the New England district included Dr. Raymond D. Fear of Stamford, Conn.

Citizenship activity for the coming year would include traffic safety campaigns, citizenship and character training for youth, naturalization work, night schools for illiterates, and education for citizens in social problems of the present era.

The public affairs committee has two Connecticut members, John C. Tracy of New Haven and the Rev. Ernest F. McGregor of Norwalk.

DETRIES COMMON DRINKING GLASS

Although the dangers of common towels and common drinking cups have long been recognized and State laws and regulations prohibit their use, unfortunately they are both found today, and since health authorities cannot investigate every place where they might be used, the public should cooperate in bringing about their complete elimination. It was stated by the State Department of Health in its weekly bulletin today.

The common towel is a rather unusual sight now-a-days, individual paper towels being provided in most public places. Occasionally one finds them, however, and the proprietor of such an establishment should be immediately warned or prosecuted. The common drinking cup, not usually in public places but in some industrial plants, on public and private golf courses and a variety of other places.

Towels and cups used by two or more persons without washing and sterilizing can transmit various types of communicable diseases, including diphtheria, scarlet fever, common colds, and the like. Infective discharges from the mouth and skin are readily deposited on the surface of a cup or towel and passed on to the person next using it. Rinsing cups and glasses with cold water is not adequate protection. If hot water or steam are not available, individual service cups or sanitary drinking fountains of proper construction should be used.

SAFETY FIRST RECORD SET BY TIDE WATER

Bayonne, N. J., June 23.—Not an accident in a month—this perfect safety record by the employees of the Tide Water Railway, at Bayonne, N. J., represents the third month during 1933, in which not a single man-hour of work was lost due to accidents from any cause, according to Noel Robinson, vice-president and general manager. Mr. Robinson said that Tide Water was out to better all previous railway safety records, and that there was good reason to hope for success this year.

The Bayonne railway, under Triple X Tyrol, and Vandal, manufactured, has a remarkable safety record for the first five months of 1933.

Six departments have come through the five months without a single accident. These include the mechanical shops, the railway shops, and the cranking outfit, of which the shops alone represent 268,853 man-hours of work.

"The men have taken a keener interest than ever before in safety prevention," said Mr. Robinson, "and today the entire personnel practically constitutes a giant safety committee."

"Lilly Turner"
Ruth Chatterton is said to make "Frisco Jenny" turn pale in her latest picture "Lilly Turner" which is on view at the State tonight and Thursday. Added attractions on the current program are Ruth Etting in "Along Came Ruth"; the Taxi Boys in "Hot Spot" and a dactoon, "Forty Thieves." On Friday comes a giant double feature show including William Powell in "Private Detective 62" and Wheeler and Woolsey in "Diplomancers." On Sunday Matrons will see "International House" and then comes "Gold Diggers of 1933" for five glorious days.

Ruth Chatterton couldn't do a boochi coochi dance one day, because she had hurt her hand. So her movie director had her become a mother instead, using the pain from the injured hand to create added realism in the scene. Not that the dance required any particular action of the hands. BOMB IS EXPLODED NEAR ENVOY'S HOME

No Damage, However, Is Reported — Peace Negotiations in Cuba Continued.

Havana, Cuba, June 28.—(AP)—The explosion of a bomb before the residence of Dr. Cosme de la Torre, one time Cuban ambassador to Washington, broke a peaceful period today in which negotiations to arbitrate political differences progressed.

No damage resulted, but significance was attached to the occurrence because Dr. de la Torre is a leader in the project to mediate between the government and its opponents.

Members of the A. B. C. secret opposition society, meanwhile, conducted a protracted conference to consider whether they should terminate the truce they declared several weeks ago when American Ambassador Sumner Welles began trying to settle the political trouble.

The question of their participation arose as a result of the arrest of Dr. Agustin Castellanos and the seizure of arms he reportedly was holding for the A. B. C.

It was understood this week-end would see the opening of the peace conversations led by Mr. Welles. All important opposition elements, except Havana University students and former President Mario G. Menéndez, exiled in Miami, have accepted Mr. Welles' good offices.

LUTHERANS DISCUSS HOME MISSIONARIES

Nearly 250 Clergymen and Lay Delegates Attend District Convention at Danbury.

Danbury, June 28.—(AP)—Home Missionary policies as outlined by the Rev. Louis Henz of Bay Side, L. I., executive secretary of the district were discussed at yesterday's sessions of the convention of the Atlantic district of the Lutheran churches in this city. Nearly 250 clergymen and lay delegates are taking part in the convention. The committee on home missions has requested the convention to set maximum salary for missionaries in the home field. The unprecedented crisis in the church at large, which has brought about a decrease in the gifts for benevolence and missions, was declared to be not a result of the depression. "Our people have means even today to supply the needs of the church," it was declared by one of the speakers.

It was pointed out that while efforts are being made to absorb young men who had completed the ministerial course by assigning them to the making of surveys for the proper placing of missions when economic conditions improve, it was often desirable to offer larger salaries to maintain a high standard in mission churches.

During the morning service the neighboring St. James Episcopal church greeted the delegates to the Lutheran convention by playing up on its chimes "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." The convention was deeply impressed by this greeting.

Sunday was the final day for the receiving of bids from construction companies for this year's work on the Jones Street road. Within the week the contract for the work will probably be placed. GOV. GORE TO TRY OUT COLONIZATION SCHEME

New Puerto Rico Executive to Place Native Farmers in Florida Areas.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., June 28.—(AP)—An experiment in establishing colonies of Puerto Rican farmers in Florida areas is planned by Robert H. Gore who will fly from Miami tomorrow for San Juan to assume the governorship of the island. Legumes are useful in crop rotation because of their nitrogen-fixing qualities.

monial dinner given in his honor last night, and said another objective of his administration would be better understanding between Puerto Rico and the mainland of the United States, through educational advantages for Puerto Rican youth. Under the farm colonization plan, Governor Gore said, a family will be selected, subject to approval by the Department of Labor, to come to a tract near here to try its hand at farming. If successful, Governor Gore said its example would be used to colonize other worthy Puerto Ricans in this state.

Sawtelle parked a headlight on the car of W. W. Wright's auto. He left a note in Wright's car giving his name and address.

Then, he went to the court house and obtained Wright's name through the license plate. Later he found the dealer who had sold the car to Wright.

From the dealer, Sawtelle purchased a headlight lens and went to home after asking the dealer to call Wright and install the new lens.

The dealer completed the job. Chicago—Among the things Mrs. Helen Warak told a judge her husband did was to take her for a boat ride just so he could test his wedding ring in the water in her presence.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES GUARD LIBBY HOLMAN

Widow of Smith Reynolds Stopping at Watch Hill Estate With Her Infant Son.

Westerly, R. I., June 28.—(AP)—Chief of Police George H. Champlin said today two private detectives are on guard at the Watch Hill estate occupied by Libby Holman Reynolds, but no police guard has been assigned.

The chief denied reports heavily armed police guard had been placed about "Rim Rock", palatial 25 room house overlooking the Atlantic, to which Libby came recently with her infant son.

The two detectives came to him to inquire about permits to carry firearms, Chief Champlin said, but he was unable to issue them because the men were not residents of the state. He said the detectives came from Delaware.

One policeman patrols a regular beat on Watch Hill, Chief Champlin said, but he had not been instructed to give special protection to the "Rim Rock" estate.

REPEAL IMPENDS.
 Returns from West Virginia, for many years a dry state and according to Dr. McBride the hope of the anti-repealists in their efforts to obstruct the removal of prohibition from the Constitution, at this writing indicate so complete an overturn of sentiment in a stronghold of the drys as to leave very little doubt that ratification of repeal will be completed this year.
 Satisfaction over that outlook is somewhat qualified in Connecticut by realization that for a year or more, unless measures should be taken to anticipate such a condition, this state will have to deal with a legalized liquor traffic under the wretched liquor control act adopted by the General Assembly in its recent highly inefficient session. It is, to be sure, unthinkable that the people of this state will tolerate Dr. Cross' booby system for any longer than the next regular session. But even a year's experience of it is likely to prove far too much.
 The new law, patched together hastily and patently animated largely by a purpose to create a statewide political machine susceptible of personal domination, is bad enough where the only legal alcoholic liquor to be dealt with is beer. How much worse it is likely to prove, when suddenly it becomes the vehicle of control for the entire liquor business now being done by the racketeers and bootleggers, one may imagine.
 The present law combines the quality of cheap and petty tyranny with that of utter weakness and inadequacy to the control of the major evils of the old saloon system. It is a shabby fake. When the Eighteenth amendment goes out of the Constitution and the new law has to assume the full measure of responsibility for the orderly control of liquor its phony character is certain to disclose itself. We shall then be in for a brief period during which a good many people who voted for repeal will probably suspect themselves, unjustly, of having made a mistake.
 Then, of course, we shall get to work and adopt a system of liquor control that is honest and responsible and calculated to reduce the evils of the alcohol trade to a minimum.
 There is, however, a better way. If the people of this state who are earnestly seeking the best possible solution of the liquor question would get together and agree on an effectual, intelligent and workable system of control, and then demand that an extra session of the Legislature be called to adopt it, we might get somewhere and be really ready for the end of the experiment of federal prohibition.
WAR-MADNESS.
 Dr. Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology sees war as fast becoming impossible since, as he says, there can be no "survival value" to it because of its enormous destructiveness and cost under modern methods. In other words, it is Dr. Millikan's idea that nations will be deterred from going to war because there can be no possible profit even in victory.
 This, as the machinery of war becomes daily more and more terrifying in its efficiency, is a point of view impressing more and more people. In Italy, by any chance, ever going to bomb Paris knowing full well that France will bomb Rome? What good would the destruction of Paris do Italy in such an event?
 The only trouble with this line of reasoning is that it assumes that the making of war or the refraining from it would be at all times within the determination of rationally calculating human beings. Unfortunately there is not, as yet, any such assurance at all points.
 This Japanese adventure in continental Asia, for example. Not even yet has it become altogether clear to the Jap militarists that there is no "survival value" in the war she has forced upon Manchuria, Jehol and Northern China. Yet it is perfectly plain to reasonable people that for all she has spent in lives and effort and money she has gained nothing that she could sell anywhere, to anyone—probably even to the Chinese—for ten cents.

 If the nations would only look on the subject of war with the same mathematical common sense as Dr. Millikan, of course there would be very little danger of any more wars. But they don't always—and they won't always. There are still a good many war-mad lunatics in the world, and a few of them are in positions to make trouble.
BOLDES AND MONSTERS.
 The scientist who has figured it out that the supposed earthquake that shook up lower Fairfield County, this state, part of Westchester County, New York, and areas on Long Island a couple of days ago was really the concussion of an exploding meteor has plenty of good argument on his side—and let's hear somebody prove him wrong!
 To be sure nobody saw a meteor over Long Island Sound at the time; but it was too foggy to see bolides even if there had been dozens of them around. And nobody has found any pieces—how could you when they would fall into the water in any event? That there wasn't any earthquake is pretty certain, else the Fordham or Yale seismographs would have recorded it; probably both of them. No tanker is missing and no yacht tank explosion would have raised such a ruckus. Yet the effect of the shocks on buildings throughout the area clearly indicates that the explosion waves did come from the direction of the Sound.
 So there you are. If Roy Andrews can reconstruct from one piece of bone a prehistoric creature big enough to eat antesters in the same way that antesters eat ants—and conclusively prove that that's how big he was and that that's how he looked, warts and all—what shouldn't another scientist create a bolide out of a noise?
 Anyhow, he did it; and a fine bolide it was, that probably any junk man would have given eighty cents for.
THE CHRONIC PROTESTER.
 It is probable that before the hearings on industrial codes at Washington are over the people of this country will realize that in the late Samuel Gompers, for so long a time head of the American Federation of Labor, the United States lost a most useful citizen. His successor, William Green, never measured up to the Gompers standard and that fact was never more evident than yesterday. It was inevitable that Mr. Green should protest the minimum wage provided by the cotton textile code though that wage is so far above the low levels heretofore existing that it is agreed it will eliminate child labor in the cotton mills even if no special provision against such labor is adopted. There isn't the slightest doubt that Green would have protested if the minimum established had been twice as high; he is like that.
 Mr. Green will probably be heard from at every hearing. Unless it shall occur to the sober sense of the membership of the American Federation of Labor that by these everlasting insistences on impossible wage standards he is doing his utmost to defeat business recovery and making himself a general nuisance—and to suppress him. Those who are familiar with the attitude of Gompers during the World War, the only crisis at all comparable to the present one, will be very sure that in an undertaking like the present he would have been a very considerable aid rather than a hindrance to the government and to the manufacturers who are striving with all their strength to put the people back into jobs that will be, in many ways, better than they ever were before.
BREAKERS AHEAD.
 France is contemplating a further reduction in the amount of foreign tobacco permitted to be imported for blending with the home grown article. Already the importation of tobacco has been cut down more than half by various devices for the promotion of the French leaf industry.
 This might even mark the beginning of the end of the present French republic. They are loyal folks, those Frenchmen and Frenchwomen, but they have shown on several occasions in the past that they are something like nitro-glycerine in that you can subject them to pressure up to a certain point without their giving any sign—and then all of a sudden they explode with a most tremendous bang.
 And they use a lot of tobacco. The only thing that makes it possible for them to use the domestic weed is the tobacco from America, Egypt, Macedonia and Turkey that they mix with it. With a fifty-odd per cent of diminution in the foreign content in their smokes they must be hovering around the irreducible minimum, for those who know most about the subject say that only one country in the world excels France in the perfectly horrific quality of its native tobacco. The one that raises the worst in the world is Germany.

 If all of a sudden we hear that there are barricades in the Paris streets again and a full fledged French revolution on foot it won't be necessary to ask what it's all about. It will be the proposed tobacco embargo, gone into effect.
A DISTRICT JUDGE.
 It appears that even the district court system, which was invented in heaven and is perfect—according to the belief of its Connecticut advocates—does not go so far as to guarantee the perfection of the judges selected under it. In Rhode Island, where they have it, they are trying to get out of a district court job Judge Samuel H. Davis. It is alleged that Judge Davis, while always cashing his pay checks, has not appeared in his court for weeks, that he has been removed as an executor of an estate after failing to show up at any of several hearings in Probate Court; that he has resigned from the trusteeship of the Seventh Day Baptist Missionary Society and that his accounts there are short some $22,000 aside from his having bought for the society $25,000 in securities which are now valueless.
 Aside from this Judge Davis appears to have been an ornament to the district court system just as the district court system is an ornament to the state of Rhode Island.

IN NEW YORK

By Paul Harrison.
 New York.—Bits about business:
 Not all spinning wheels are antiques nowadays. One entrepreneur is having a thousand of them made up to sell at about $12 each, his idea being that women who are taking up knitting again might like to spin their own yarn. Maybe he heard of the two socialites—Sally Tevis and June Blossom—who oiled up some heirloom wheels a few weeks ago and now are spinning and knitting for the unemployed.
 Reflecting Confidence
 So confident of repeal are the liquor manufacturers that one firm has placed an order here for thousands of costly mirrored signs advertising their products. Speaking of signs, here's one in Harlem apartment window: "Voice Lessons—Special Pains Given to Beginners."
 Another sign in a barber shop in the theatrical district promises a shave, haircut, shampoo, manicure and shoe-shine—all for 25 cents.
 Not far away, though, is a tansorial salon where a haircut alone costs $2. . . . And in the biggest hotels the barber shops have to pay up to $100,000 a year for their concessions to the same fire holds for cigarette stands and cleaning-and-pressing concerns. If you wanted to run the hat-check rooms in a hotel like the Waldorf-Astoria you'd have to pay at least $50,000 for the privilege; and something like $125,000 for the floor concessions.
Social Climbers
 Word comes that Elliott Roosevelt, who's rechartering his marital course and also managing a western clinic, likes aviation better than anything he ever tried. Lots of other socially prominent people in the business; Grover Looney, Long Island sportsman, designed the amphibian that bears his name, Charles Lawrence, whose deb-daughter is trying her fashion wings, designs airplanes motors. The blue-book Ludington brothers, Townsend, Wright and Nicholas, started the Ludington Lines. And Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney helped organize and finance Pan-American Airways.

Industrial Notes
 You've been hearing about how the pretzel business has turned the corner. Well, there's a boom in the sandwich industry too. With beer as an aid to the eat-it-and-beat-it counters around town, more than a quarter-million ready-made sandwiches are consumed every day. These are prepared the night before so they will be fresh each morning. Machines slice the bread of course, but the rest of the process is hand labor, organized for efficiency. Specialists in the craft include butchers, who slap on just a suggestion of lubricant; assemblers, who put on the jelly, cheese or meat; second-brad men, or trimmers, who put on the tops; and wrappers, who deftly flip the sandwiches into oiled paper.
 The man mainly responsible for all his was Mr. William Cantor, who owned a restaurant of Broadway about fifteen years ago. Business was so slack he was facing ruin, and one idle day he made up some sandwiches and offered them to a nearby drug store. They sold, and Cantor solicited more drug stores. Finally he had to get rid of his restaurant, hire a crew of salesmen, train sandwich makers, buy three trucks and establish a factory. Even then he couldn't handle all the business, so now there are about six other concerns.

OPEN FORUM
"DEPORTATION"
 Editor, The Herald:
 Sir, permit me through your column to repudiate a statement coming from the Charity department in The Herald of June 22 regarding Gerald McDonnell's "deportation." The corrections are as follows: First, Gerald McDonnell was a probationary citizen, having filed his intentions for citizenship in 1927, but due to financial embarrassment through unemployment, he was unable to present himself for his final papers at the specified time. Second, in using the word "deportation" the Department was promulgating a misleading statement regarding the departure of a prospective citizen, whereas it was a reciprocal agreement between an unemployed man (unwilling to accept charity or place himself upon an already heavily burdened State) and the State of Connecticut who willingly repatriated him and would welcome him again to her shore in normal times.
 In order to fulfill the obligations necessary for such a procedure he was the recipient of a one and only Alm-check from the Charity Department of Manchester.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington
 Variety of Measures Seek to Elevate General Purchasing Power
 By RODNEY DUTCHEE
 Washington, June 28.—Vast as is the scope of the administration's plan of industrial control, it is only a vital section of a large, integrated program which contains many other timbers designed as pillars and struts of economic reconstruction.
 The structure has been built piece by piece, but now appears in complete form, the complementary and supplementary parts dovetailing and interlocking in a legislated offensive ram the like of which has never before been seen in this world.
 There is a definite attack, from one or more angles, toward each of the objectives which have long been enumerated by America's "best minds" as essential to business recovery—increased purchasing power among all classes, immediate stimulation of activity, higher commodity prices, immediate and long run relief from the burden of debt, confidence on the part of business and the public, plus price stability for both industry and agriculture.
 Farms Must Be Helped
 The farm relief act, as drastic in its field as the recovery act for industry, is not only aimed at an improvement in the condition of the farmer but is also based on the fact that the rest of the country cannot enjoy sound prosperity while agriculture is in a slump. The economic well-being of the country as a whole is bound up in the government's attempt to restore a price balance between the products of agriculture and the products of industry.
 Several immediate stimulants to employment, purchasing power and production have been provided in addition to the provisions for shorter working hours and higher wages. Most important is the measure for $3,300,000,000 of public works—a great boon to the construction industry, to the producers of cement, steel and many other materials and to labor. The latest official estimates here are that a billion dollars of public works puts a million men to work. Their new purchasing power should give work to hundreds of thousands of others.
 Breweries Employ Many
 Then there's the restoration of beer which revives a billion-dollar industry besides furnishing new taxes, the employment of 275,000 men on reforestation work, most of whom would otherwise be a drain on relief funds, and the big Tennessee Valley development with its demand for men and materials.
 Various inflationary measures already in effect, apparently bound to raise prices and relieve the debt burden regardless of whether Roosevelt takes recourse to his powers to devalue the dollar by proclamation or issue billions of dollars in greenbacks, the machinery of credit inflation already is operating.
Measures of Inflation
 The $3,300,000,000 for public works and the $500,000,000 federal grant for unemployment relief are distinctly inflationary measures. So are the $4,000,000,000 programs for farm mortgage and home mortgage financing, which lighten debt burdens and release money for purchases.
 And it is conceded that the shorter hours-higher wages plan is sure to boost prices. Several other anti-deflationary devices are being administered.
 Rising prices at least partly indicate that business confidence in the future has been partially restored.

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE

 Questions in regard to Health and Diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be reached in care of this paper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, for reply.
ACNE TENDS TO INCREASE IN WARM WEATHER
 Acne usually grows worse during the warm summer months. This is due to the greater amount of perspiration secreted during heat and also to the stimulation of the oil glands of the skin. Acne is an inflammation of the skin which most often affects young people and gives rise to the pimples and blackheads on the face which make so many young people self-conscious. In a severe case the skin of the face is covered with pimples, blackheads, angry red pimples which may be topped with pus and small hard lumps or masses under the skin. There may be a brilliant red color or purplish tint to the skin around the inflammation which helps to draw the eye of the beholder. The skin, shoulders and arms may also carry the pimples. The common danger when such pimples are present, is to want to squeeze and "pick at" them, and this leads to further scarring and pitting of the skin. The disorder is generally of a chronic nature and may last for several years, leaving an extensive scarring. Girls, especially, are worried over these deep pits and holes which may mar the face to such an extent that one would almost believe small-pox had been present.
 In a frantic effort to clear up the face the sufferer usually makes the mistake of smearing on ointments and salves which make the trouble worse as they only block the pores. Although the name for the complaint is acne, I have received many letters in which it was called "agony" and I believe that this a good name for it since it causes such agony of mind.
 Acne is most often found among those having oily, coarse skins. Dandruff and extreme oiliness of the hair is frequently associated with it. The causes of acne are probably both inside and outside. In a chronic case, where the skin inflammation persists for years, the inside causes are the more important and there is undoubtedly present a continued intestinal poisoning, and these toxins are eliminated through the skin. Over-eating of sweets, use of rich food combinations, constipation, lack of sunshine and too little exercise are all factors which assist in producing the intestinal toxemia and a lowered resistance of the skin tissues. Certain drugs may also be eliminated from the body by means of the same type of skin inflammation.
 Some of the outside factors which aid in prolonging the disorder are the excessive oil thrown out by the sebaceous glands, this oil causing the skin to collect dirt easily, also the tendency to scratch and squeeze the pimples and blackheads which would serve to further irritate the skin. Lack of proper cleansing of the skin and misadvised treatment may also intensify the trouble.
 There is some evidence that in a patient who has followed wrong habits of living, that nature attempts to bring about a general cleansing of the body during the "teen" age, at a time when the sex glands are developing, and that acne is a part of this cleansing process. However, a person who has followed the correct habits of living is able to go through this age without these embarrassing pimples. I believe that when they appear they are a sign that the patient needs to change his poor health habits to better ones. The three changes which will do the most good are: 1—thorough cleansing of the bowels by means of enemas; 2—the adoption of a cleansing fast, followed by a wholesome, well-balanced diet; 3—the correct method of washing the affected areas, supplemented by local treatments, if needed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Bird's Nest Soup)
 Question: "Hard-to-believe" asks: "Is the expression, 'bird's nest soup' merely colloquial, or is there such a soup, and of what is it made?"
 Answer: It is a fact that there is a soup which is literally made from the nests of a species of swift called the Collocalia, found chiefly along the islands of the Indian Ocean and also certain parts of the Chinese coast. These birds construct little cuplike nests almost entirely from the secretion of their salivary glands, the results resembling isinglass in appearance. In their native lands these nests bring as much as $30.00 per pound for the selected grades. The Chinese believe they are exceptionally nutritious, but, in fact, their food value is no greater than gelatin.
 (Manipulation for Looped Colon)
 Question: Mr. Thomas McL. asks: "Can a loop in the colon be cured by dieting? What would you advise?"
 Answer: A loop in the colon can be corrected through proper manipulative treatment, supplemented in some cases by certain electrical treatments. If these treatments are not taken, we cannot expect diet to produce a cure, although one with a knicked or looped colon will certainly be in better health on a well-balanced diet than when eating haphazardly.
 (Is Junket Good Dessert?)
 Question: Mrs. Mollie S. inquires: "Does Junket with a quart of milk (which makes a custard of a real thick consistency) make a good food used as a dessert?"
 Answer: Junket is a good food and makes a good protein to be used in place of meat, fish or fowl. If used as a dessert, only a very small amount should be eaten.

more days
 of the Old, Low Prices

HISTORY has been in the making. The first five months of this year saw furniture prices reach the lowest point of the decade. Then things began to happen in Washington. Factory wheels began turning again in earnest. Workers were called back. Things were "on the up."
 Came June and prices began to rise, until today practically all our manufacturers have revised price lists. DURING THIS WHOLE MONTH WE HAVE NOT ADVANCED PRICES ON OUR PRESENT STOCKS TO MEET MARKET COSTS. We have offered our $125,000 stock of Watkins Quality Furniture AT THE OLD PRICES, and guaranteed them against decline for 6 months.
 There are still two more days in which to take advantage of these history-making low prices!

W. VIRGINIA, CALIFORNIA JOIN THE WET PARADE

New Jersey, Delaware, Nevada, Illinois and Massachusetts.

OVERWHELMINGLY WET San Francisco, June 28.—(AP)—

By an overwhelming vote California today joined 15 other states in voting to repeal the 18th Amendment. Return from 5,808 precincts of which 190 were incomplete, out of the state's 9,347 from yesterday's special election, showed 647,045 votes for repeal and 214,154 against it. The precincts reported represented the bulk of the vote in the populous centers.

UPSETS DRY HOPES

Charleston, W. Va., June 28.—Upsetting one of the remaining bulwarks of dry hopes, West Virginia today became one of the 16 states to vote repeal of prohibition. With nearly three-fourths of the vote tallied, the first of the Dixie states to take a stand on the 21st Amendment rolled up a lead of 88,868 for the wets before election officials closed their offices and went to bed.

With 1,710 out of 2,338 precincts reported, the last available count stood at 185,344 for repeal and 106,392 against it. An exceptionally light vote was recorded and apathy was apparent in the mountain counties and farm sections.

In the Pocahontas district of Kanawha county, election officials closed up at noon without registering a single vote.

The dries had pinned hopes on West Virginia because of its southern traditions and because of the handsome 92,000 majority for prohibition on the state amendment in 1912.

FARLEY'S COMMENT

Washington, June 28.—(AP)—The result of the vote in West Virginia, Postmaster General Farley said today, was "an indication of favorable results for a prohibition repeal vote in three other southern states voting next month, Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee, which states will vote in July."

AMERICAN ENVOYS SPURN GOLD BLOC'S PROPOSALS

senator, although there were some slight changes in phraseology. It provides for ultimate stabilization, return to the gold standard when feasible and withdrawal of gold from internal circulation. It also lowers the legal gold coverage of central banks to 25 per cent.

The agreement was reached this morning, only after strong opposition from the German delegate, Dr. Geheimrat Vocke. He objected to a clause which says that "under modern conditions monetary gold is required not for internal circulation but as a reserve against central bank liabilities and primarily to meet external demands for payments caused by some disequilibrium on foreign account."

The German delegate sought to introduce the word "temporary" before the word "disequilibrium." His point was that if a permanent disequilibrium existed it might put any country in an impossible position in the distant future. Germany might be compelled to ship out gold to her detriment.

Leon Fraser, American head of the Bank for International Settlements, explained that the resolution did not provide for legislation but merely for the laying down of principles. Dr. Vocke then accepted the proposal on the understanding that his objection would be brought before the monetary commission along with the resolution.

FRANCE GIVES UP HOPE

Paris, June 28.—(AP)—Financial experts said today that the battle of the franc is lost and it is only a question of time until France will be obliged to devalue.

Telephone conversations between Premier Deladier and Finance Minister Bonnet, who is at the London conference, are said to have revealed that hope has been abandoned of Great Britain's stabilizing with Europe.

Economic forces either will push France off gold or compel the cheapening of the franc, probably a fourth or a fifth to meet dollar competition, financial experts said. "It is wiser to act now," declared a source conversant with the views of the government, "but the public must be educated."

Nothing except the "miracle" of high dollar stabilization can save the franc, it was said, because diminution of foreign trade will henceforth be accelerated as tax receipts diminish and the budget deficit grows, compelling the government to inflate to get money as the treasury already is almost empty.

If Parliament and the people were awake to the danger, devaluation could be effected soon with less suffering, it was said, but the country is so thoroughly imbued with the idea of maintaining gold to make the franc safe that the government would be immediately overthrown if its value were changed now.

Marcel Regnier, reporter for the finance committee yesterday warned the Senate of the "gravity" of the French financial situation. Former Premier Joseph Caillaux predicted a "collapse of the public finances" if an additional burden were imposed through a too large aid to devaluation.

YOUNGSTERS GIVE CIRCUS FOR BENEFIT OF CAMP

Nancy Fike and Shirley McIntosh Put On Big Show, Lemonade and Everything.

Motivated by a desire to assist children less fortunate than themselves, Nancy Fike and Shirley McIntosh of Middle Turnpike East today presented a "circus" for the entertainment of residents in the neighborhood, the youngsters announcing previous to the performance at 9 o'clock that all proceeds over actual expenses would be donated to the Kiwanis Kiddies Camp at Hebron.

Nancy and Shirley, who are about ten years of age, have had the circus in mind for a long time and have been going about making plans for the event for weeks. Nancy was to garb herself as a clown and present jokes and songs, while Shirley has practiced diligently on acrobatic stunts to furnish the thrills that are a part of every circus.

The children have sold tickets throughout the neighborhood, the admission charge being a penny a person. They have also saved any money they have obtained and have purchased the necessary ingredients for lemonade and also cookies. Their mothers have provided food and all these will be placed on sale.

According to reports, a large crowd was scheduled to witness the premier performance this afternoon and the stage is set for a gala affair.

mum wage accorded for northern and southern mills.

Code's Provisions The code as drafted provides for minimum wages of $11 a week for southern mills, $10 a week for northern mills, and a 40 hour week with machinery operation restricted to two shifts daily.

Mckinnon was the first labor representative to appear, but labor interests already had gained two important points.

Yesterday the "stretch-out system" was injected into the discussion and Johnson named a committee to study the advisability of banning practice, and today T. M. Marchant, president of the American Association of Cotton Manufacturers, announced for the industry that it was willing to have elimination of child labor included in the code.

Under the "stretch out system," one worker may be required to attend a larger number of machines than labor thinks desirable.

FOG HOLDING UP ROOSEVELT CRUISE

and complete his cruise on scheduled time tonight.

Old Story for Him Being fogbound in this particular bay was an old story. To the President for 20 years ago he was caught for four days and nights.

Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American delegation to the Geneva arms conference, on his way here to report to Mr. Roosevelt, was still somewhere outside aboard the destroyer, Berardoni. No one had been advised of the Naval ship's exact position but it was believed to be creeping slowly along the coast, and was expected to put in here at the first opportunity.

The Bay of Fundy trip, added to the itinerary when the President was able to get ahead of schedule during the early part of his coast-al cruise, would have pitted the Amberjack against the more than 20-foot tides that tear through the comparatively narrow channel.

As a youth Mr. Roosevelt battled with those tides at various times and again as assistant secretary of the Navy during the Wilson administration he went through aboard a naval vessel.

France plans to spend millions in propaganda to get Americans to believing once again that she is a small country, millions for the dense, but not a cent for creditors.

Chile, if placed on the west coast of North America, would reach from Sitka, Alaska, to a point opposite Mexico City; it is from 60 to 200 miles wide and 3600 miles long.

REV. DR. MICHAEL BARRY BECOMES A MONSIGNOR

Rector of St. Augustine's Church, Hartford Is Elevated Before a Large Congregation.

Hartford, June 28.—(AP)—St. Augustine's church on Campfield avenue, was filled this forenoon with a congregation to witness the ceremony of conferring the rank of monsignor on the rector of the parish, the Rev. Dr. Michael W. Barry. The ceremonies included a procession from the rectory to the church, the reading of the Pope's edict, the celebration of a mass, the investiture of the robes, a sermon and a special musical program.

The Rev. John Anderson of Devon, a former member of the faculty at St. Thomas seminary, preached the sermon. Investiture in the purple robes of a monsignor was conducted by Monsignor Michael May of St. Patrick's church, Norwich.

The Rev. Michael P. Barry of St. Paul's church, West Haven, a nephew of the monsignor, and who was assistant at St. Augustine's for ten years, was celebrant of the mass. The deacon was the Rev. Thomas Sullivan of New York; sub-deacon, the Rev. Austin Degan of Pittsburgh; pastor, the Rev. Francis Egan, curate of St. Augustine's; censor bearer, the Rev. Joseph Rice of Waterbury.

STUDENTS AT HIGH WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Truman Cowles and Wesley Gryk Are Honored—Toman and Britton Going to Clark.

Honors are coming to Manchester High School students from every direction. Today it was announced that Truman Cowles, son of Mrs. Ethel Cowles, 72 Hudson street, had received a $200 scholarship award at Northeastern University and has been accepted for admission there.

Cowles was an honor student in the class of 1932, graduating in the upper fifteen per cent of the class. He plans to study engineering at the Boston institution.

Wesley Gryk, son of Mrs. Sophia Gryk of 76 Wells street, was notified today that his essay on the value of temperance had won the State W. C. T. U. essay prize for students in the freshman or sophomore classes in Connecticut high schools. West had already won a prize of one dollar given by the local W. C. T. U. as the best essay from his division in the lower sophomore class. His essay was sent to the county contest where he won a prize of $5 for the best freshman-sophomore essay in the county. These prizes were delivered to him on class day last week.

It will be remembered that Leonard and Stella, two sisters, graduated from M. H. S. with honors. Another brother, Anthony, is a senior next year and has been on the honor roll ever since he entered high school.

It is understood that James Toman has definitely cast his lot with Clark University of Worcester. He was awarded a handsome scholarship at the Worcester college and also received a scholarship award at Trinity. James Britton also received a scholarship award for Clark. The record of Austin Johnson, scholarship holder at Clark from M. H. S. this year has attracted the attention of that college to the local school and accounts in part for the giving of two scholarships to entering freshmen from the high school. The two scholarships awarded to Mildred Sutherland and Lucy Barrera were won in competition as the result of taking competitive examinations given to seniors in the various high schools in the state.

CARNEY SWIMMING CAPTAIN AT H. S.

Young "Bob" Wins Position Through Ability in All Events—Brennan May Manage Baseball.

Robert Carney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Carney of 228 Center street, has been elected captain of the high school swimming team for the coming year. "Bob" as he is otherwise known has been a member of the swimming team for the past two years entering most of the events but he was outstanding in the 220 free style.

Carney's election will probably prevent him from running for manager of baseball. Brennan may manage baseball during the past school year and was slated together with William Brennan for the place of manager for next year. Since the results of the swimming election have been made public it is highly probable that Brennan will be chosen manager of baseball for next year as both Coach Kelley and Manager Sullivan recommended.

Giuseppe Conti, of 158 Temple street, Hartford, employed by the E. E. Hilliard Company, at Hilliardville caught his hand in a roller in the plant machinery at 10 o'clock this morning, crushing the fingers of his left hand. He was taken to the Manchester Memorial hospital for emergency treatment. The index and ring finger of Conti's left hand were badly lacerated and the rest of the hand was severely bruised. Conti remained as a patient after emergency treatment.

A Real Dressing The reason why so many people fail to make good French dressing is that they don't put enough ingredients into it. Just olive oil, vinegar and paprika are hardly enough. Try using pickle juice instead of plain vinegar. Two small slices of garlic, two whole cloves, a salt cup of sugar and plenty of salt and pepper to one cup of vinegar and one cup of olive oil give your French dressing a zest that it never had before.

ELKS GIVE AN OUTING TO 620 BOYS, GIRLS

1800 Persons Altogether Take Part in 'Children's Day' at Crystal Lake Beach.

Six hundred and twenty children were the guests of Rockville Lodge No. 1859, B. P. O. Elks, at the "Elks Children's Day" held yesterday afternoon. The children were part of 1,800 people who participated in the Children's Day event at Sandy Beach, Crystal Lake.

Eighty-two automobiles, loaned by Rockville business men and other residents, furnished transportation for the children. This group left Talbot Park shortly after 9:15 o'clock, the long string of cars headed by State Policeman Donald A. Crossman of the Stafford Barracks on a motorcycle. State Policeman James Buckley brought up the rear. The party were given the right of way over the road to Sandy Beach, arriving there shortly after 9:30 o'clock. The Rockville Boys Band accompanied the group to the resort and played a short concert after arrival. At Crystal Lake bathing was enjoyed. Life guards were on hand and a member of the Rockville Visiting Nurse Association.

At noon each child was given a box lunch and fruit and later ice cream. The party arrived home at 4:30 o'clock after a big day's outing with no one injured and no accident on the road.

High School Crowded The over-crowded condition of the Rockville High school has caused the school authorities to issue an order today barring the students from the towns of Somers and South Windsor for the school year of 1933-34.

The school is now fully 20 per cent overcrowded because of the large number of tuition pupils, numbering 325, over half of the school's enrollment.

The school authorities are very reluctant to refuse these towns the right to send their students to Rockville as the tuition fee helps to pay the general expense of the school.

The tuition this year amounted to $39,681.30 of which $30,292.67 was received for the first half year and $19,388.63 for the second half year. The tuition has materially increased during the past few years. It amounted to $36,910.38 in 1932; $34,123.75 in 1931 and $27,461.75 in 1930, while in 1929 it amounted to only $28,352.

The town of East Windsor pays $14,982.14 for this year's tuition; Ellington, $11,085.02; South Windsor, $8,429.84; Somers, $2,125 and Tolland $3,079.50.

Diets of Indigestion Joseph O'Brien, aged 52, of 12 McLean street, died suddenly at his home at 1:20 o'clock yesterday morning. Death was caused by acute indigestion according to the report of Dr. Thomas F. O'Leigh, who visited the O'Brien home shortly after 2 o'clock. Dr. E. Metcalf, who was called at 1:30 o'clock and arrived at 1:40 o'clock said that Mr. O'Brien had been dead at least twenty minutes.

Joseph O'Brien was born in Rockville, June 10, 1881, the son of James and the late Mary (Winkie) O'Brien. He lived in Rockville all his life and was employed by the Eockamun Mills Company, as a weaver. Mr. O'Brien had been working nights and quit the night before Saturday because of his health. He was a member of Rockville Lodge, No. 1859, B. P. O. Elks.

Besides his wife, Rose, he is survived by a step-son, Burton Monette; one granddaughter, Audrey Monette; four sisters, Mrs. George Houston of Plainville, Mrs. Mary Bonney of Hartford, Miss Agnes O'Brien and Mrs. George Coleman, of Rockville, and a brother, James, of Glastonbury.

The funeral will be held at the home on McLean street on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. George S. Brookes, pastor of the Union Congregational church, will officiate. Burial will be in Grove Hill cemetery.

Slick Berry Buyer Finds Farmers Here Jump Ahead

It's Currency That Counts With Local Growers; "Sharkey and Brother" Lose Out In Market Here.

"Sharkey and Brother," the New York produce adventurers who, with an equipment of one automobile, one checkbook and an expansive spirit, bid up the Charter Oak strawberry berry market to a new high on Monday, didn't get the hundred and thirty nine crates of berries with which they started for New York this afternoon. Neither did they get the money for them, nor any part of it. They and their namesake partner did, however, get a nice long ride and a free meal out of the expedition.

Buy Up To $100 "Sharkey," who looks like Bull Montana, but is "brother," and that "lumper" got quite a figure at the auction market on Monday. The leader of the trio bid liberally and had knocked down to him two truckloads of berries, one containing 108 crates, the other 61. The truckloads were made up from various lots grown by various growers. The total bill came to something over $700.

About the time the trip had finished loading their purchases onto two trucks belonging to Israel Beckman, a Hartford grocer, which "Sharkey" had engaged for the trip to New York, the original owners of the berries mentioned the matter of payment.

That was all right with "Sharkey" and he began making out checks. There was demur at this. "Sharkey and Brother" were newcomers to the market. Probably the checks were all right but those berry growers rather like the feel of real money or at least of checks that they know about. They didn't guess they would let their berries go that way.

Comp Along Then Bull Montana Sharkey pulled a good one. "These checks is good," he declared. "You don't want 'em, though, it's O. K. with me. Pick out some guy and let him cash right with us and collect the cash right off the arm in New York. I got these leads placed already."

The drivers of both trucks were Beckman's men and known to the growers, so that set-up didn't look so bad. Louis Varni of Glastonbury, former President of the Glastonbury Growers, said he'd go along. So did Beckman. And on that basis the crates start rolling. Varni rode one of the trucks, Beckman the other. "Sharkey and Brother" rode behind in their car, the "lumper" on one of the trucks.

aged 47, of Tolland, who died at the Hartford hospital on Sunday of chronic nephritis, will be held from the Tolland Federated church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. James A. Davidson, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in the North Yard cemetery, Tolland.

Mr. Brown had been in poor health for over a year and for several weeks underwent treatment in the Hartford hospital. He was born in Tolland, where he lived practically all his life.

For years Mr. Brown was the rural letter carrier for both the Rockville and Tolland post offices.

DESPONDENT YOUTH COMMITS SUICIDE Niantic, June 28.—(AP)—Francis V. No. 25 an attendant at the Western, R. I. hospital, drowned today after driving his automobile into the Niantic river.

At first it was believed that because of a fog Tice had mistaken an abandoned road which ends at the river for the Niantic-New London highway. State police expressed the opinion later, however, that Tice drove into the water with suicidal intent.

The youth, members of his family said, had been despondent since the death of a sister a year ago.

HEAT WAVE RUINS CROPS IN CANADA

Drought Enters Fourth Week in Some Districts — Gaping Cracks Appear in Soil.

Toronto, June 28.—(AP)—Burning heat and high humidity continued in Ontario today and farmers at many points despaired of early maturing crops as no relief appeared in sight.

Rural residents of the Gormie district said they were about ready to abandon hope of saving their produce as a drought entered its fourth week. Gaping cracks appeared in the soil, strawberries ripened too fast and fall wheat began to head far in advance of the proper time.

Gushp reported prospect of serious crop damage in that area. At Bradford rain last Monday was said to have done more harm than good.

Further north and west, however, in the Sault Ste. Marie district, weak and rains apparently saved the situation.

CURLEY AT THE VATICAN Vatican City, June 28.—(AP)—Pope Pius gave a private audience today to Mayor James M. Curley of Boston and the mayor's four sons and one daughter. They were accompanied by Enrico Galeazzi, Rome representative of the Knights of Columbus.

The audience, which was most cordial, lasted half an hour. The Pope inquired in detail concerning conditions in America and asked particularly about President Roosevelt. He gave each member of the party a medal.

CALL TOBACCO GROWERS MEETING ON SATURDAY

Connecticut Valley Farmers to Gather at Lake Congamond, West Suffield, July 1.

A mass meeting of all tobacco growers in the Connecticut Valley has been called by the New England Tobacco Growers Association to discuss the new tobacco relief program Saturday, July 1st, at Babbs Grove, Lake Congamond, West Suffield, according to an announcement made by Andrew Steel, president of the association.

A speaking program has been arranged for the afternoon starting at 1:30 daylight time, when it is expected the new tobacco administrator will discuss details of the program and talks by Fred B. Griffin, prominent tobacco man, and H. B. Boyd, tobacco economist of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station.

Several tables will be placed around the grounds at 10 o'clock in the morning where men coached in the details of the plan will discuss with individual growers their particular problem and how the relief plan will apply to them.

"Hundreds of details of the new relief program with me during the last few days," stated, Charles D. Lewis, County Agricultural Agent of the Hartford County Farm Bureau, and practically every one of the growers had expressed satisfaction with the plan. "I believe it going to be a great benefit to the tobacco industry of the Connecticut Valley."

MARVELOUS MANHATTAN

New York.—The town has had an extraordinary visitor—a Hollywood producer who is making money and admits it.

No wonder that a lot of job-hungry Broadwayites beat a path to the door of a Times Square office as asked to see "Mr. Royer."

But they could have saved themselves some embarrassment by first consulting somebody who knew more about Hollywood, for Fanchon Boyer isn't any mister. She is the only woman in the picture industry whose whole concern is with production.

She's a trim, blue-eyed, brown-haired, well-groomed, woman with electric energy and intelligence that extends beyond the business of making money. She and her husband, Jack Gallagher, live on a farm 13 miles from the studio she leases in Hollywood. She is at the studio early and stays late, but has time for her home and attending to her four children just the same.

At 16 she went to Hollywood from Des Moines, Iowa. She acted for a year, edited a motion picture trade paper for three years, then became, in turn, press agent, artist representative and independent producer, surviving plenty of hard knocks.

Checking every penny, cutting out wasted seconds on the lot, she turned over money-making pictures to the distributor who handled her product.

Recently, while many of the major companies were in hysterics over financing, she came to New York to arrange her own distributing organization.

She knows what she wants and gets it, she told me, by being more hard boiled than any man she has to deal with.

A couple of dawns ago I dropped into a nearby cafe to ask for some hamburgers to carry home (all the other nearby places where food is sold are closed after 3 a. m.). This is one of those little "jerms" where taxi drivers warm themselves between their early morning calls.

The cabman, as usual, were in heated discussion, and their discussion was punctuated with magnificent profanity.

"Sh, pipe down," the counter man shushed me, but not shush enough to keep me from hearing him: "Swell customer up front!"

Perhaps I should feel flattered. But I felt more like growling that I might be able to teach those billing-gate boys a few new ones.

When the proprietor of a hotel on the south rim of Central Park suggested that all the boats on the lower park lake be painted bright, pleasing colors, many wondered why somebody hadn't thought of that before.

The hotel man's happy notion grew out of business acumen. It occurred to him that boats of brilliant color, stirring the water would provide a prettier view for his guests.

Undoubtedly, the boats will be painted — they are such a shabby sight now. And so the park will be a more cheery scene for thousands who will have no other place to go for a breath of air on the warm days to come.

OCCUPANTS OF AUTO DAZED BY GAS FUMES

Men Had Closed All Windows in Car—Driver Loses Control of Machine.

Norwalk, June 28.—(AP)—Three men, riding from Boston to New York, were almost overcome by monoxide gas here this morning and their automobile zig-zagged across Main street, into a cross street, and crashed into the home of Louis Jassil.

Policeman Frank Van of Westport noticed the erratic career of the car as it passed the roadway. Following the crash, the occupants of the automobile got out unharmed and staggered around the street.

Francis M. Doyle of Jamaica Plains, Mass., and the two other occupants were taken to police headquarters where they said that they closed all the windows of the machine because of the cold night air.

Neither the house nor the automobile was badly damaged and no charges were placed against the trio. They resumed their journey.

DIED AT CONVENTION. Grand Rapids, Mich., June 28.—(AP)—Miss Anne Cole, of Boston, attending the annual convention of the Advertising Federation of America, died today after being taken ill suddenly in her hotel room.

Friends said that Miss Cole, who is a saleswoman, had been suffering from the heat. She lived at 14 Humphrey street, Boston.

KILLED BY ENGINE. Hamden, June 28.—(AP)—Raymond Carl, 37, of New Haven was killed when the truck he was driving was struck by a New York, New Haven and Hartford freight train at the crossing on Hag street.

Engineer J. Sperry of West Haven, and Fireman W. E. Copeland of New Haven said the train bell was ringing as they approached the crossing. The medical examiner was notified.

CHERRY PARK RACES DISAPPOINT FANS

Track Condition Poor and Starting Isn't Up To Bay State Standard.

Trotters and pacers running in the Bay State circuit swung into Connecticut for the first time this season when a four day meeting opened at Cherry Park, Avon, Conn. who have followed the horses from that start at Goshen, N. Y., through Chatham, N. Y., and Sturbridge, Mass., were keenly disappointed yesterday at Avon. Their disappointment wasn't so much with the horses and the races that were run, but little had been done at the track to make the meet an enjoyable one. The track was in a deplorable condition, nothing at all to compare with beautiful Cedar Lake Park at Sturbridge or the fine clay tracks at Goshen and Chatham. There was no loud speaking system so that the paying customers could hear any of the announcements that came from the officials' stand and there wasn't even a megaphone for the officials' use.

Four scoring. But most disappointing of all was the work of the starter, Michael J. Delaney, owner of the park. Steve Phillips, who did the starting in the other Bay State meetings, was not at hand and he was sorely missed in several of yesterday's heats the favorites didn't have a chance to show their stuff when horses that were far down in scoring position were allowed to turn ahead of the field and get out to a start that was too big a handicap on a half mile track.

In the 2:13 pace Calumet Calling took the two first heats over Miss Volo and Rose Marie. Abe favored by the crowd, Cummings was especially poor in the second heat and Rodman didn't have a chance to get Rose Marie into a fair position. Calumet Calling a fourth choice was handily beaten by Lacey but developed himself as the second heat and was drawn Miss Volo showing up well in the third to win.

Lets Wrong Horse Go. With Calumet Desmond and Gay Hanover the favorites to win the 2:24 trot starter Delaney let Evaline Hanover scoring in ninth position get ahead of the field to go in the first heat and to win. Calumet Desmond had to content with second place in the first heat. Drinkwater piloting the first heat winner carefully in the last two heats to place first.

Charlie Mabrey drove Peter Ingomar to straight heat wins in the 2:27 pace but Cummings was the favorite into second place in the three heats. Ingomar won at Goshen but Mike Cummings has been coming strong and ruled the favorite yesterday. The fastest heat yesterday was run by Calumet Calling in the first of the 2:13 pace doing the mile in :08, the last quarter in 30 seconds.

The results follow: Calumet Calling, owned by W. H. Bird, of Revue, Mass., won the 2:13 pace as the fourth week of the Bay State Circuit opened at Cherry Park, Avon yesterday.

Evaline Hanover displayed the class she showed at Goshen and won the 2:24 trot in straight heats. The results follow: First Race—Pace $2,000—2:13 Pace Calumet Calling, b. g., by Peter the Brewer (Lacey), 1 1 dr Miss Volo, b. m., by Galtworth (Eppenshaw), 2 2 Mat D. b. g., by Joe Wilson (V. West Sides To Oppose Old Rivals, All-Rockville Tomorrow is Thursday, June 29. It is just that and nothing more to a lot of people, but to the baseball minded people of this town it is a revival of an old feud, namely Manchester vs. Rockville. Once a year All-Rockville treks down to this town from the hills and any friendship that existed before the trip starts, is quickly forgotten until the old ball game is over. A real fighting ball club has always been a well-known factor in Rockville's sporting activities, and the fact that All-Rockville has already handed the West Side A. C. their first setback of the year 1-0, shows that this year is no exception to the rule. Rockville fans who were fortunate in seeing that game were unanimous in declaring it the best played game they had witnessed in many a day. Big Jack Godak held the Rockville hitters in the palm of his hand for six innings yielding one hit, no walks and not a ball had been batted out of the infield, the lone hit having been of the infield variety. Fortunately there are no wagers placed on this series, inasmuch as Manchester still claims that there is at the present time, safely tucked away in a Rockville bank, money which was bet on a Rockville-Manchester ball game, but never paid. All Rockville fans claim is identical to Manchester excepting they insist the money rightfully belongs to them. The matter has been discarded of late years but the feeling still exists that everything didn't pan out as per agreement.

WEST SIDE RAMBLERS BOW TO FIRE EATERS

Hose Co. No. 3 defeated the West Side Ramblers last night, 4-1. Although the boys from headquarters were outlit 3-4, they took advantage of their opponents' miscues to secure an early lead.

"Bingo" Sturgeon pitched superb ball in the pinches and did not issue a base on balls. "Bill" Brennan showed he is still there with the bat collecting two hits. P. Strange and Quinn also hit well.

After knocking Jolley from the mound in the first inning the fire eaters could do nothing with Malcom's offerings. "Patsy" Vince, Hose Co. No. 3's scrappy catcher, made his first error in two seasons. Hose Co. No. 3

BASEBALL

LARRABEE'S BARBERS WIN. A home run by "Howie" Popoff with Serpilis on base won a slug-ging match for the newly organized Larrabee's Barbers over the North Ends, 13-11. An unusual play happened in the second inning when Clark hit a smashing grounder to Rob Johnson who fell on his knees to get the ball and the ball bounced up clipping him in the face, but Johnson got him at first.

"Chief" Balchunas pitched good ball until the fourth inning when a homer by Swilka and a single by Henry drove him off the mound. The Larrabee's Barbers wish to thank Mr. Larrabee who runs a barber shop on Fifth street for use of his name. Larrabee's Barber Shop would like a practice game with Bob Nell's team.

FIELD EVENTS TO FEATURE NATIONAL A. A. U. TRACK MEET

World Records Will Be in Danger Friday Night at Soldiers' Field in Chicago; Huge List of Entries.

Chicago, June 28.—(AP)—The field event performers, usually stuck off in some out of the way corner in track and field meets will be on full display in the National A. A. U. championships Friday night at Soldier Field, and with their records, will be well worth watching.

The shot-put, useful in rounding up points, has drawn a field unequalled in the 46 years history of the meet. Jack Torrance of Louisiana State University, and John Lyman who will compete for the Olympic club of San Francisco, each have bettered 52 feet.

Seek World Marks. Three high jumpers who have cleared more than six feet, 8 inches will shoot at a new world record. Walter Marty of Fresno, Cal., state college, Harold Osborn of the Illinois A. C., and George Spits, who will jump for the New York A. C., all have done "8-8."

The discus throw promises a rousing duel between John Anderson who won the event in the last Olympic games and Henri Laborde. In the hammer, Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan of Ireland, the Olympic champion, ranks as the favorite.

The Program Schedule. Pole vaulters who cannot approach 14 feet need not apply. Bill Miller of Stanford, Bill Gruber of Southern California, Keith Brown, former Yale star, and Matty Gordy of Louisiana, all have done 14 feet or higher.

The battle will open tomorrow with the junior championships. The women's title events will be decided Friday afternoon, with the seniors to go on display under the floodlights. The decathlon, relays and gymnastic championships will be held Saturday.

CLARE WINS TWICE IN STATE TOURNEY. Medalist Advances in Play for Golf Title; Other Favorites in Running.

Waterbury, June 28.—(AP)—Charley Clare of New Britain, medalist in the Connecticut championship tournament of the Connecticut Golf Association, faced George Davidson of Avon, as the second day of match play began this morning on the Waterbury course.

Clare won his two matches yesterday against John Palmieri of Meadow Brook and Andrew Pierson of Middletown, by the same scores, 7 and 6.

Meanwhile, Frank D. Ross, Wampscott, and twice holder of the crown, was meeting A. S. Clark of Fairfield, in the same division. Ross was hard pressed in his second match yesterday, emerging victor over Harry Mandy, Hartford school boy, one up.

R. M. Grant of Wethersfield, the defending champion also won and was paired against Dow Ahern of Willimantic who won his matches yesterday 3 and 2 and 6 and 4.

The semi-finals will begin in the afternoon and with three former title winners still in the running, fans expected to see some hard played matches before the 1933 championship is decided.

ANOTHER SENATE INQUIRY

The New York Yankees—world champions? Well, the Washington Senators are conducting an investigation into the reports and it looks as if they're unfounded. The Senators, with the Indians and White Sox, are disputing the leadership of the league with the Yanks, and the race is the hottest the American circuit has seen in many moons.

BOUITS CALLED OFF AS LIGHTS GO OUT. Fire in Power Plant Leaves Crystal Lake Stadium in Darkness Last Night.

One of the ten bouts arranged to be given at the Crystal Lake Stadium went before the small gathering there last night and the contestants of the second bout had just entered the ring when the lights went out. There were several minutes delay when the information was given that there had been a fire at the power station of the Rockville Willimantic Light Company, and that it would be several hours before lights would again be turned on.

To those who had reserved seats, it was announced, they would be honored at the next fight scheduled for July 11 and passes were given to the bleacher fans that will be good also, at the next fight. The first bout was stopped when Billy Taylor discovered that a bad cut under the eye of one of the contestants would not allow him to continue without danger.

LOCAL Y IS DRUBBED BY WAPPING, 6-3. The Manchester "Y" traveled to Wapping last night and were defeated 6 to 3. The "Y" went along nicely until the fifth inning when three hits together with three errors and a base on balls put Wapping in the lead. Ferguson pitched good ball for Manchester and delivered a better fate, but his teammates played loose ball in the field, making six errors when they bunched.

Smith also pitched a fine game for Wapping, striking out eight, giving but two bases on balls and allowing five hits. Smith and "Connie" Nickolson were the batting stars of the game, each getting two hits.

The "Y" has an open date Thursday, July 6 and would like to hear from the Baldwin Aces or teams of like caliber. The game may be arranged by calling 6556 between 6 and 6:30.

Cards Find Going Tough Against Tail End Clubs

Drop Three Out of Four to Phillies, Then Lose First Game to Braves to Drop Far Behind Giants; Yanks Cut Senators' Lead by Full Game.

Second division clubs of the major leagues have been dipping their thumbs into the pennant pie in the last week or so with results costly to two leading contenders.

First, it was the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns who tipped the Yankees loose from the American league lead and now the Boston Braves appear to have taken up where the last place Phillies left off on the job of knocking the Cardinals deeper into second place in the National.

Loss Mound Duel. Outgassed by the Phillies in three out of four games, the Cards went to Boston yesterday and ran into an unbeatable brand of pitching. Leo Mangum blanked them with six hits to beat Bill Walker in a brilliant mound duel 1 to 0. Walker granted only three hits and neither finger gave a pass.

The New York Giants doubleheader with Pittsburgh was halted by threatening weather. The Brooklyn Dodgers remained in a virtual tie for fifth place with the Braves by passing the Cincinnati Reds 11-2, while the Phillies and Chicago Cubs were rained out.

Yanks Out Lead. The Washington Senators lost half of their American league lead over the Yankees when the ninth inning witness of Bill McAfee and Jack Russell gave Cleveland two runs and a 7-2 decision, while the Yankees nosed out Detroit's Tigers 9-8.

The Chicago White Sox took advantage of Merritt Cain's wildness to beat the Athletics 8-2. The Boston Red Sox smacked Sam Geary and Ed Wells for four runs in the eighth and a 5 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

MARKET SWINGS UP AS NEW ERA DAWNS

Sales of Stocks Soar Above 5,000,000 Mark—Extra Stock Tickers Needed.

New York.—Four years after the feverish trading that marked the approaching end of the greatest bull market in history, the New York Stock Exchange is seething with speculative activity nearly as great as that of the boom days.

PROSPECTS ACTUALLY IMPROVED

Since then, actual business improvement has been phenomenal, and many observers argue that present day prices are fully justified by earnings and prospects.

THE PUBLIC HAS BEEN IN THE MARKET

Any way, the public is crowding the broker's board rooms. Big market operators are rarely seen in them. They have their own tickers and do all their business by telephone.

INFATION STARTED RISE

A year ago, whatever hopes speculators held had to feed on a record of delinquent prices and earnings, but the picture is different now. Stocks have proved that they can shake off inertia.

PROSPECTS ACTUALLY IMPROVED

Since then, actual business improvement has been phenomenal, and many observers argue that present day prices are fully justified by earnings and prospects.

THE PUBLIC HAS BEEN IN THE MARKET

Any way, the public is crowding the broker's board rooms. Big market operators are rarely seen in them. They have their own tickers and do all their business by telephone.

INFATION STARTED RISE

A year ago, whatever hopes speculators held had to feed on a record of delinquent prices and earnings, but the picture is different now. Stocks have proved that they can shake off inertia.

GAME ROCKS RIGHT ALONG

Every year the old wall goes up—the national pastime is dying of galloping consumption; the kids are learning to handle a masher-blick instead of a bat; the customers go to the movies instead of through the turnstiles.

ONE OF THE LITTLE SERPENT MEN

One of the little serpent men bowed low as then he bowed again. "We heard the magic flute call," he exclaimed. "That's why we're here."

AND THEN HE SAID

And then he shouted, "Come on, men! We're on our merry way again. Be sure and have your antebux ready. We may have to fight."

"DON'T GET SCATTERED"

"Don't get scattered," said the man, "but tell us, plainly as you can, just where we'll find your little friend. Then we'll know what to do."

SENSE and NONSENSE

Views of the Office Philosophers:
 Most men kick when footing the household bills.
 He who laughs last didn't get the joke in the first place.
 Success has a habit of coming around while you are busy.
 The person with a closed mind generally has an open mouth.
 A woman doesn't go to the beauty parlor expecting a plain deal.
 Reading maketh a full man; conference a wise man; writing an exact man.
 People will risk jail to get money as long as money will keep people out of jail.
 The only thing flatter than the new pancake hat for women is the pocketbook for men.
 The man born to trouble is one who has the notion it's possible to love more than one woman at a time.
 Happiness is one thing you don't have to go around looking for. If you are entitled to it it will come to you.

Teacher—If your mother is shopping and finds she has left her purse at home, she may ask the clerk to send the parcel C. O. D. What do these initials mean?
Bright Boy—Call On Daddy.

Son—Mother dear, are rosy cheeks a sign of good health?
Mother—Yes, son. I should say they are.

Son—Well, I saw a girl today who was a lot healthier on one side than the other.

Some men never could cut any grass if they did it like they start in at everything else. They'd insist on using such big long scythes, that about all they'd cut would be themselves.

A friend is the first person who comes in when the whole world goes out.

Hotel Guest—What's this, madam, a present?
Brushville Landlady—No, sir, we only lend you this umbrella in case it should rain while you are in bed.

California has a ready-made answer for her critics. The climate doesn't shake.

The old-fashioned girl who had very little taste in clothes, now has a daughter whose taste runs to very little clothes.

Edith—Are you going to get a divorce, dearie?
Myra—I don't see how we can. We haven't got our engagement paid for yet.

The human race is more or less like a gas engine. Any crank can start something.

The Colonel touring Europe on his leave of absence, did not forget the one he left behind. His son received a card from him at Sparta, saying: "This is the cliff from which the Spartans used to throw their defective children. Wish you were here."

Son—Dad, give me a dime, please.
Father—Son, don't you think you're getting pretty big to be asking for dimes continually?
Son—Well, I guess you're right, Dad; Give me a dollar.

In winter time it is lawful to put on enough clothing to keep warm, but it is unlawful to take off enough to keep cool in the summer time.

Park Worker—Would you mind getting up from that seat a minute, miss?
Flapper—Why?
Park Worker—I just want to hang up this "Wet Paint" sign.

The way to get ahead is to start now. If you start now, you will know a lot next year that you don't know now and that you would not have known next year if you had waited.

When someone was thinking up the tests of true love, why didn't they include seeing him in a lodge uniform?

Memorial Temple Pythian Sisters followed a brief business meeting last evening in Odd Fellows hall with a short program of entertainment, the first one in charge of the present social committee. Clarence Stone played two banjo numbers, Mrs. Edith Chapman sang twice during the program, Miss May Hooks read "His Hopkins and Her Son," and in response to an encore gave another humorous recitation. Another pleasing number was a sketch, "The Lover's Errand," by Mrs. Frances Chambers, Mrs. Marcy Feckham, Mrs. Mary Hills and Mrs. Harriet Skewes. Yesterday was the wedding anniversary of the excellent chief Mrs. Wallace Henry. Mr. Henry was present with other guests, and Mrs. Lena Kearnes, chairman of the social committee, in recognition of the event and in behalf of the temple, presented them with gifts.
