State News Roundup

Tax on Sales Nippier Today

Hartford, July 1 (AP)—Life became a little bit more expensive for just about everybody in Connecticut today as many state taxes were adjusted upward.

Businessmen are being hit by a number of the tax hikes, but the consumer comes in for his share too.

If you went shopping today, you probably noticed the sales tax was a little nippier than usual. That's because it is now 3 1/2 per cent. It used to be a flat 3 per cent.

If you're trying to give up smoking, you may find a little easier. The tax went up from three cents a pack to five cents—a difference of 20 cents per carton. Beer, wine, and hard liquor are also a little more costly. The excise taxes on the alcoholic beverages has doubled.

On liquor, for instance, the excise tax on a gallon used to be $1, but now it will be $2. This means a fifth of liquor will probably be at least 30 cents more than before, counting both the higher excise tax and sales tax.

All of the taxes that have gone up were raised by the 1961 General Assembly to meet Gov. John N. Dempsey's request for additional revenue in the fiscal biennium that started today.

Ah, Sweet June

Windsor Locks, July 1 (AP)—A right, gladtime last June was the chart-watchers at the Weather Bureau are understandably proud of her.

In 30 tries she gave you a balmy portion of sunshine and the crabgrass less than its customary ration of rain.

For those who must have it spelled out in drier figures, the sun was out 85 per cent of the time, a high for the month here during the month. The rainfall was about 2.75 inches as against the usual 3.62 inches for the month.

The temperature mean ranged from 65 to 69 around the state—pleasantly normal.

Headmaster Fined

Hartford, July 1 (AP)—The headmaster of St. James School in East Hartford has been fined $50 after pleading guilty to the charge of cruelty to persons in Superior Court.

Leonard W. Francis, 42, was charged specifically with mistreating one of the pupils at this private school for boys, into a gas clothes dryer on Feb. 5, 1959, and turning on the gas for a few seconds.

Fellow students helped help out of the dryer, State's Attorney John D. LaBelle told the court.

Judge Thomas E. Troland said this action by the defendant was a "serious error of judgment."

Francis drew a suspended indefinite sentence on another charge of cruelty to persons for allegedly having beaten a pupil with a switch for forgetting to wear his rubbers.

It was complaints from parents that Francis was too severe in his discipline that caused St. James Police to begin investigating the headmaster's methods. However, several days after he was arrested earlier this year, parents of other pupils said they were not satisfied their sons were being treated properly at the school.

Bankruptcy Seen Near For NHRR

Washington, July 1 (AP)—High government officials today expressed the view that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. may founder soon unless some new form of federal financial aid develops.

An Interstate Commerce Commission source said a bankruptcy proceeding for the New England line might conceivably be only "days away."

During the last two years, the New Haven has been leaning on the ICC's authority to grant government repayment guarantees on private railroad borrowing, and has obtained such guarantees on more than $23 million worth of loans.

But more and more strongly in recent months, the ICC has taken the position that state and local authorities in the line's service area have the first responsibility for providing tax relief and other forms of assistance.

Last month, the New Haven turned to the Treasury Department in an attempt to get $5.5 million as a first installment on a projected $12.5 million disaster loan.

This action was based on a series of setbacks experienced by the New Haven last winter when severe weather and a maritime strike in New York City virtually disrupted its freight business over a long period.

But opposition to such a loan was raised by Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Senate-House committee on defense production. That group has jurisdiction over funds handled under the Defense Production Act.

Robertson criticized the loan guarantees already given the railroad under other legislation and added in a June 22 letter to director Frank Ellis of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization: "Certainly the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization and the Secretary of the Treasury have no authority whatever to make such loans under the Defense Production Act."

NEA Supports Order Against Bias in Class

Atlantic City, N.J., July 1 (AP)—For the first time in six stormy years, the National Education Association yesterday passed a resolution in support of the Supreme Court's desegregation order of May 1954.

In the last hectic day of a hectic week, the NEA yesterday adopted its strongest-ever policy statement on the issue which since 1955 has split northern and southern affiliates into bitterly warring camps.

It took two hours and nine minutes of debate before the NEA's representative assembly could agree on a resolution which pledged "continued support of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on school desegregation."

In comparison to previous conventions, however, harmony reigned supreme. In the end, the resolution was passed by a large majority, although the white affiliates in the southern states were almost solidly against it.

In other sections winding up its 90th annual convention, the NEA also:

Approved a resolution urging a broad program of federal support for education; although President Kennedy's 3-year, $2.5 billion program to build classrooms and raise teachers' salaries was not specifically mentioned in the resolution.

Hobos Stage Gala Convention Dance

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 1 (AP)—Nearly 500 hobos closed their national convention with a gala dance last night at a hobo camp today, some leaving by the traditional "slide-door Pullman and the sunburnt thumb," but most by bus.

During yesterday's business sessions of the "Knights of the Road," organization of a "Colored Knights of the Road" was unanimously approved by the executive committee.

Jeff Davis, "King of the Hobos," named Matthew K. Martin, 411 Mitchell Pl., Kalamazoo, Mich., "King of the Colored Knights of the Road." Davis, who had proposed the group, said: "I recognize that a colored man (Continued on Page Three)

Anti-French Outburst Moslems Battling Police in Algiers

Algiers, July 1 (AP)—Hundreds of Moslems swarmed into the streets of Algiers today and fought police in an anti-French outburst. The French News Agency said three Moslems were shot dead and two wounded. One policeman and a French Army lieutenant were reported wounded.

The fighting broke out when the Moslems waving rebel flags and chanting nationalist slogans massed in the workers' quarter of the city.

Traffic was largely tied up and the huge dock area crippled as Moslems responded to a strike call by the rebel FLN (Front-Liberation Nationale).

One report from the predominantly Arab town of Blida, southwest of Algiers, said Moslems were on the march and that five had been wounded in fights with police. Moslem shopkeepers rolled down their steel shutters in several sections of the city.

By mid-morning little more than half of the big city buses were operating, these manned by Europeans, and at the big Algiers port area Moslem dockers were on strike.

Authorities said it was still too soon to estimate how effective the strike was. In administration buildings, many Moslems failed to report for work.

Not $28 Million or $28 Tractors Group Refuses Reparations for Castro

Key West, Fla., July 1 (AP)—Fidel Castro has been served notice that it is incompatible with the national interest of the United States to pay him an indemnity for damages caused by the April 17 invasion of Cuba.

Castro's insistence on reparations dashed all hopes of a negotiated release of 1,197 invasion prisoners.

John Hooker Jr., executive secretary of the disbanded Tractors for Freedom Committee told 10 of Castro's prisoners here that "in the name of honor the committee feels it cannot send Dr. Castro tractors, money or credits for indemnity. Not $28 million or $28 million."

The Cuban prince minister offered on May 17 to exchange the prisoners for 500 heavy bulldozers. Later he said he would accept 500 light tractors as an indemnity for invasion damages, provided their value was $28 million.

It was his insistence on indemnity that wrecked all hopes for a solution.

In declining to reconstitute itself in the wake of Castro's rejection of its final offer of 500 light tractors, the committee said through Hooker that:

"By thus changing the course of the negotiations by injecting the concept of indemnity, Dr. Castro sought to give the impression that the humanitarian intent of private citizens was proof of guilt. (Continued on Page Two)

Iraq Denies Forces Massing on Border

Damascus, Syria, July 1 (AP)—Iraq today denied massing troops on its southern border with Kuwait or in any part of Iraq, Baghdad radio said.

The denial came in a statement by the state-owned Iraq News Agency. It also denied reports Iraqi vessels fired on Iranian boats trying to move food to Kuwait.

Tunis, July 1 (AP)—Tunisia today expressed its "total support" for the independence of the Persian Gulf sheikhdom of Kuwait.

Nairobi, Kenya, July 1 (AP)—The 24th infantry brigade is sending 200 British soldiers from this East African colony to Kuwait. A squadron of Hunter jet fighters flew to Kuwait from Nairobi.

By COLIN FROST

Kuwait, July 1 (AP)—A British aircraft carrier landed Marines and tanks in Kuwait today and a dozen Hunter jet fighters flew in to help guard this oil-rich sheikhdom against a threatened invasion from Iraq.

The government radio announced Saudi Arabia also is sending troops to bolster Kuwait against the annexation claim that Iraq premier Abdel Karim Kassem advanced a week ago.

Accompanied by two British frigates, the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier Bulwark put ashore a detachment of 320 Centurion tanks and about 750 men. These were about 600 Marine commandos and a 150-man squadron of the Dragon Guards.

The frigate Loch Alvie sent officers ashore by helicopter to confer with British and Kuwaiti authorities in this former British protectorate.

Rifle-bearing sheikhs swarmed in from the desert by limousine, swearing to help the 66-year-old ruler, sheik Sir Abdullah As-Sabah, defend the sovereignty of Kuwait against Iraqi troops and armor reported massing across the border.

Minister of State Bader Abdullah announced the sheikhdom, just south of Iraq on the Persian Gulf's northwest coast, has requested an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council "to investigate threats from Iraq likely to endanger the security and independence of Kuwait."

Kuwait is a candidate for U.N. membership. It also wants to join the 10-nation Arab League, a Middle East organization in which Iraq, the United Arab Republic and Saudi Arabia are the most powerful members.

It was announced in Cairo that the Arab League Council will hold an extraordinary session Tuesday to consider Kuwait's application. Britain announced that its help was being sent at the urgent and formal request of sheik Abdullah under an agreement signed at the end of the protectorate last week. It is notifying U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold of the situation.

The British Foreign Office said (Continued on Page Three)

Sheik Sent Help Plea To London

London, July 1 (AP)—Britain staged its show of force in Kuwait today in the belief this might calm the Kuwaiti-Iraqi crisis without any need to go further.

"Her Majesty's government earnestly hopes that the necessity to make use of this force will not arise," the Foreign Office said. "It is intended that it should be withdrawn as soon as the ruler (sheik Sir Abdullah As-Sabah) considers that the threat to the independence of Kuwait is over."

The statement referred to the arrival of three warships, about 750 fighting men, 14 Centurion tanks and 12 Hunter jet fighters to bolster the sheik's 2,400-man army and armed Bedouin tribesmen against the threat of invasion by Kuwait's big neighbor to the north.

The Foreign Office said the action was taken at the request of the sheik and that U.N. Secretary-General Hammarskjold would be notified. (Continued on Page Three)

Bulletins

Culled from AP Wires

MACMILLAN ON IRAQ—Caine, England, July 1 (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan said tonight "I still trust that threats against Kuwait are no more than words and that the government of Iraq will refrain from any aggressive action." In a speech in this West English community, he added: "We must take no risk and in view of the language that is being used and indication of military build-up which may threaten Kuwait, we have thought it right to respond to the urgent and formal request which the sheik has made to us that we should give him some protectionary strength."

CLUB HOUSE DESTROYED—Southampton, July 1 (AP)—A private swimming and recreation club house was destroyed today in an early-morning fire of undetermined origin. The building was unoccupied at the time and there were no injuries. A woman who lives near the frame building discovered the fire at 3:05 a.m. and called police and firemen. Patrolman Albert Frascuore, first at the scene, said the Mountain Grove clubhouse was a mass of flames when he arrived. There was no immediate estimate of damages which Fire Chief Charles J. Link said might reach $35,000. Link said he would request the State Fire Marshal's office to investigate the cause of the fire.

TEAMSTERS STRIKE—New York, July 1 (AP)—A teamsters strike that threatens to tie up nearly a billion dollars in New York area construction began at 12:01 a.m. today with the expiration of contracts between Local 282 of the Teamsters and some 160 construction firms. City Deputy Labor Commissioner James J. McFadden said there were no prospects for immediate settlement and that some effects of the strike will be felt "within hours" at some building sites. Involved are 3,000 truck drivers who deliver materials to building sites. Of those, 1,200 deliver ready-mix sand and gravel, while the remaining 800 handle other materials. (Continued on Page Two)

Terror, Tragedy at Sea

Boy Says Two Men On Raft Went Crazy

San Diego, Calif., July 1 (AP)—A husky 14-year-old boy, who watched two men die as they drifted on a flimsy raft, was recovering in a hospital today after three days of terror and tragedy at sea.

Terry McClelland, a blond high school athlete from Huntington Beach, Calif., was rescued yesterday by a fishing boat 90 miles southwest of San Diego.

Transferred to a submarine, he arrived last night in San Diego. He was pronounced in fairly good condition at a hospital.

He told newsmen a rambling tale about three terrible days of shipwreck, thirst, delirium, death, hunger, heat and blinding glare of sun, sea and sky.

He and his companions—Russell Bradford, 84, of Huntington Beach, his mother's stepfather, and Alvin Hartman, 57, of nearby Santa Ana, Bradford's friend—got out for a month's fishing cruise of Mexico last Tuesday. Bradford was a plastering contractor, Hartman a hod carrier.

After sailing out from Newport Beach in their 38-foot boat, they encountered heavy swells. They tried riding at anchor that night.

"The sea anchor was pulling on the boat," the boy, mumbling and dazed from sedatives, told newsmen. "Two big swells picked up the boat and pulled the bottom out."

"Grandpa (Bradford) said to cut the raft loose."

The three fishermen got aboard a six-by-three-foot raft of balsam wood and cork. Its bottom consisted only of rope netting through which a few timbers were looped, and water sloshed through the bottom continually.

They tried to attract several passing vessels Wednesday, their first day on the raft. Although they waved flags and poles, no one stopped.

They had no food or water, only a few packs of cigarettes that Hartman grabbed before leaving the boat.

After waiting in vain for rescuers under a blinding hot sun, Hartman "went crazy on the second day," Terry said.

"He started falling in the water (Continued on Page Two)

But One Statistic Stands Out

Amateur Drivers Factor In Holiday Road Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—American motorists last night started rolling out on the highways in volume to enjoy the long July 4 holiday weekend.

For 450 to 480 of them it will be their last outing. The National Safety Council as yet has not calculated a definite estimate of the holiday highway toll but says its figure will fall somewhere within that range.

The council's traditional estimates and the attention that news media give to the accounting of holiday fatalities has come in for criticism of late. While some safety campaigners insist the warnings have a salutary effect, others maintain that extraordinary attention is given to death totals that would mount up whether or not a holiday were involved.

One statistic stands out. The Safety Council reports that the death rate over holidays has been decreasing steadily. It believes the attention given to holiday accident news by the press, radio and television has been a major, if not the major, factor in producing that decrease.

Figures collected over the years by the Safety Council support the council's position that holidays are greater killers than ordinary days. The death toll any day of the week, any month of the year is soaring; over a holiday, it is even more so.

To establish some yardstick whereby the public can gauge the holiday toll in relation to the normal toll, the Associated Press has been making surveys two weeks before each major holiday: New Year's Day, Memorial Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

These surveys cover the identical number of days and the same span of hours. Over the 102-hour period between 6 p.m. Friday, May 12, and midnight Tuesday, May 16, there were 341 deaths in traffic. Over the 102-hour holiday period two weeks later, between 6 p.m. Friday, May 26, and midnight Memorial Day, Tuesday, May 30, there were 462 deaths in traffic, a record high for this holiday.

Deaths during the holiday weekend increased 35 per cent above those of the non-holiday weekend two weeks earlier.

This 35 per cent increase exceeded the Safety Council's average for holidays. Its figure is 25 per cent.

Why are these samplings made two weeks prior to a holiday? To keep the figures as close to normal as humanly possible. Traffic volume is less likely to be normal a

Pal Joey Comes Back To Haunt Milwaukee

New York, July 1 (AP)—If the Milwaukee Braves figured they had their fill of Joe Jay when they swapped him to Cincinnati, they must be up to here with the big, young right-hander now. Joey had only a 2-24 record for seven years more than nine in any one season before he was traded to the Milwaukee Braves.

But the Reds' Pal Joey came back to haunt Milwaukee as a 10-game winner and beat Milwaukee's record for the longest hitting streak in the National League, winning eight 10-hits games in a row to town for a four-game series. But the first place Reds, after a 3-1 win over the Braves, had a 10-hits game in the first game of the series, a 10-hits game in the second game, and a 10-hits game in the third game.

Pal Joey's hitting streak was broken by the Cardinals' Dick Groat in the fourth game of the series. Groat hit for three consecutive days, and the Cardinals won the series 3-2.

Pal Joey's hitting streak was also broken by the Braves' Hank Aaron in the fifth game of the series. Aaron hit for three consecutive days, and the Braves won the series 3-2.

Pal Joey's hitting streak was also broken by the Braves' Hank Aaron in the sixth game of the series. Aaron hit for three consecutive days, and the Braves won the series 3-2.

Pal Joey's hitting streak was also broken by the Braves' Hank Aaron in the seventh game of the series. Aaron hit for three consecutive days, and the Braves won the series 3-2.

Pal Joey's hitting streak was also broken by the Braves' Hank Aaron in the eighth game of the series. Aaron hit for three consecutive days, and the Braves won the series 3-2.

Pal Joey's hitting streak was also broken by the Braves' Hank Aaron in the ninth game of the series. Aaron hit for three consecutive days, and the Braves won the series 3-2.

Yank Tennis Prestige Carried by Two Youths

Wimbledon, England, July 1 (AP)—Two American youngsters stepped on to Wimbledon's lush green courts today eager to prove to the world the state of tennis back home isn't as bad as most Europeans think.

Twenty-year-old Chuck McKinstry and 19-year-old Billie Jean King were the two American youngsters who stepped on to Wimbledon's lush green courts today.

'Sing Along with Mitch' Survives Cancellations

With the cancellation of so many TV series—new and old alike—westerns, private eyes, situation comedies, adventures and anthologies all included—it's interesting to note that a new TV show, "Sing Along With Mitch" will return to NBC-TV on a weekly basis beginning Sept. 28 from 10 to 11 p.m.

Mitch Miller's program of familiar, singable tunes was first presented as a single broadcast on "Ford Startime" in the Spring of 1960. Public response was overwhelmingly favorable and the network signed Miller and his "Sing Along Gang" for a series of seven additional programs, on alternate Friday nights, beginning in January, 1961.

After the premiere in January, NBC switchboards in New York, Philadelphia and Washington reported a deluge of favorable calls. During ensuing weeks the audience approval was further expressed by thousands of letters, postcards and telegrams.

Single out for praise from viewers were the 25 voices of the "Sing Along Gang," professional choral singers whose talents had been used for Mitch Miller's series of recorded "Sing Along" albums. Despite their portly builds and balding pates, Mitch decided to use the same singers on-camera. Audience identification with the singers was immediate and the "average" appearance of the group contributed to the program's mass appeal. In addition, attractive female vocalists, such as Diana Trank and Leslie Uggams, were signed as guest stars on the series, and eight exceptionally attractive girl dancers were chosen to provide added visual appeal.

Each program closes with a "Sing Along" segment in which song lyrics are superimposed on the picture, so that the viewing audience can easily sing along.

Conductor and host Mitch Miller introduces each segment of the program, and in the "Sing Along" segment conducts not only the show's gang but directs his conducting to home viewers as well.

Each program is built around a general theme—such as the building of the nation's railroads and its effect on American life, nostalgia for forgotten scenes of America, songs of the sea. In an apropos setting a group of songs central around the general theme is presented, with choral selections alternating with solos by the guest stars.

"About three years ago," Miller recalls, "Some one had an idea to record an album of World War II songs and call it 'Barracks Ballads.' While it sounded like the germ of a good idea to me, I couldn't see the sense of limiting an entire album of songs to just those from the War, thereby cutting down your potential audience. I suggested broadening it to include any songs that might reach someone's memory enough to have them sing along with the album."

"At that time," continues Mitch,

"I'd been working with a male chorus—the same one I use today—for some years. I'd used them to back up Guy Mitchell on his hit records, and we had a hit of our own back in 1953—"The Yellow Rose of Texas," which was followed up with some other good sellers just using the male chorus. So the idea for the album was born, but we were all stuck for a title.

"One day, I was having a meeting with Robert Allen, a young successful song writer of such hits as 'Chances Are' and 'Moments to Remember,' and mentioned this problem. Half in jest, Allen said, 'Why don't you just call it 'Sing Along With Mitch?' And that's how titles are born!"

"I think one of the reasons behind the success of both the album and the TV series," Mitch says, "is that the songs are as musically valid and excellent as we can make them. Most uses of songs of an early vintage today find the artists deliberately "hoking" them up in an ancient manner. They either use orchestrations of the times or their idea of what the song might have sounded like and deliver the music in a kidding manner. We take this music seriously. . . . But, basically, what I'm trying to say is that we just present good music in the truest sense of the word.

Some people are inclined to say that the public doesn't know what constitutes good music, but they're wrong. Technically, the public may not be able to give a definition but subconsciously, they know when they hear it."

Harking back to his first "Sing Along" telecast, Miller comments, "A remarkable amount of the mail we received was from parents commenting on how this was one of the few shows that the whole family could watch together and all enjoy at the same time. Good songs are eternal in duration and appeal to people of all ages. It's the popular belief that kids only go for what I call 'sub-teen' music or, if you'd prefer, rock and roll. That's not true. What is true is that a lot of radio station owners and disc jockeys presume that this is true, and they program their stations that way. But the true test is in the record sales. And here, rock and roll really does not do that well on a hard cash basis.

Many kids don't like good music today simply because they're not given the opportunity to hear or become acquainted with it. Once they do, you'd be amazed at their positive reaction. As soon as the disc jockeys and radio station programming executives believe this, you'll hear much better music on radio."

Julie Harris To Star in 'Victoria'

"Hallmark Hall of Fame" will open its 11th season on the NBC-TV Network next fall with a 90-minute color production of Laurence Housman's "Victoria Regina," starring Julie Harris in the title role.

Producer-director George Schaefer announced today that the play will be recorded on color tape early in August after three weeks of rehearsal. The broadcast date, other leads and additional casting will be announced soon, he said.

"Victoria Regina" was first produced on Broadway by Gilbert Miller in 1935, with Helen Hayes giving one of the most memorable performances of her career. The play was a smash hit and, after a lengthy run, toured for two years, returning to New York in 1938. The play introduced Vincent Price to American audiences in the co-starring role of Prince Albert, the royal consort. A native of St. Louis, Mo., Price had performed previously only in England.

Schaefer noted that Housman's original play contained 42 scenes, 10 of which made up the Broadway version. The "Hallmark" production will include a number of episodes not seen in that version.

"Victoria Regina" is a character study of Queen Victoria, "presented humanly and intimately, with satire, humor, tears and great romantic implications," Schaefer said. He considers Miss Harris "the ideal choice to portray the little lady of Windsor." This is one of the most sustained and arduous roles in the history of modern drama. It calls for the actress to span the reign of Britain's monarch from 1837 to her diamond jubilee in 1897.

"Victoria Regina" will be Miss Harris' sixth performance on "Hallmark Hall of Fame." She has appeared in "The Good Fairy," "The Lark," "Little Moon of Alban," "Johnny Belinda" and "A Doll's House." Her Broadway credits include "Member of the Wedding," "I Am a Camera," "The Lark" and "The Warm Peninsula."

Retired General To Meet Press

Gen. Thomas D. White, who retired as Air Force chief of staff yesterday after 41 years of military service, will be the guest on "Meet the Press" Sunday, July 2.

He will be interviewed by Charles Corddry, UPI; Jack Raymond, New York Times; Peter Hacks, NBC News; and Lawrence E. Spivak, producer and permanent panelist of "Meet the Press."

Ned Brooks will moderate the program, a presentation of NBC News, which will be a live color broadcast from Washington.

Tom Poston of "To Tell The Truth" thinks someone should invent an ash tray that resembles a living room rug.

Eddie Machen, heavyweight, vs. Harold Johnson, NBA light heavyweight champion, 10 round heavyweight contest. Although a top rated contender for five years (currently No. 2), Oregon's Eddie Machen has been unsuccessful in getting a title shot. Combination boxer-puncher, the 197 pound Machen looked impressive in trouncing big Mike DeJohn in April. He also gave No. one contender, Sonny Liston, the toughest fight of his career, losing a close 12-round decision. In Philadelphia's adonis-like Harold Johnson, who holds the NBA version of the light heavyweight title, Machen meets a brilliant and experienced boxer with a lethal blow in either fist. It will be a close fight between two cautious boxers with Johnson's greater speed and superior boxing skill gaining him the decision. (Compiled by Stanley Weston, Boxing Illustrated).

Deaf Mute Gets Olympic Chance

Caroline Skedemo, a beautiful young college student who is a deaf mute, literally "wrote her heart out" recently as she penciled her queen's wish and handed it to Jack Bailey on ABC-TV's "Queen for a Day."

"More than anything else in the world, I would like financial aid so that I can help represent the United States in the ninth international Olympic Games for the deaf at Helsinki, Finland, on Aug. 6th. It would cost $1,350 and I have only $50," her words read.

A student at Gaudet College for the Deaf at Washington, Caroline, presently visiting her parents' home at Compton, Calif., competes in the 80-meter hurdles and shot-put events. She already has met with Vice President Lyndon Johnson in connection with the international games.

"Selected 'Queen for a Day,'" Caroline received a standing ovation from the audience as Bailey made the presentation of her $1,300 heart's desire.

Javits, Goldwater To Debate Aug. 6
Republican Senators Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Jacob Javits of New York have agreed to continue their debate about the future of the GOP on ABC's "Tuesdays and Answers" Sunday, Aug. 6th. Their strong words and disagreements about vital issues, such as what to do about the threat of world Communism, civil rights, the economy, the problems of medical care, schools, and the chances for a GOP win in 1964, brought a stream of letters to "Tuesdays and Answers" asking for their return to the program. Both senators agreed to reappear, noting that mail response had been very high after their first appearance together on a nationwide television broadcast a short while ago.

Barry Sullivan of "Tall Man" says that these days you can feel the spring everywhere... especially in the back seat of those ancient taxicabs.

Peggy Castle of "Lawman" finds that when Russia meets with the Western powers her representatives are usually on speaking terms.

Miller Doubles As Chef's Helper

It's not an unusual sight to see bearded Mitch Miller, wearing a chef's apron and cap, waiting on tables in a small restaurant in Brooklyn, N. Y., two days a week.

When the "Sing Along With Mitch" cast breaks for a one hour lunch, more than 30 people pour into the eatery across the street from the NBC color studios.

After dishing out and serving about eight orders of spaghetti, Mitch discovered that the kitchen didn't have the proper grated cheese to go with it.

A large jar labeled "Mitch's Cheese" now sits in the kitchen and the chef keeps it filled.

MCs Musicians

Musi-C begins and ends with M and C and a number of the emcees of ABC-TV's daytime game shows display much musical talent.

Among the amateur instrumentalists behind the scenes are Johnny Carson ("Who Do You Trust?") on drums, Bud Collyer ("Number Please") on banjo, Don Morrow ("Camouflage") on harmonica and Jack Bailey ("Queen for a Day") at the piano or on bass, cornet or trombone.

For this "dream" orchestra, Jack Nartz would likely write the arrangements in "Seven Keys."

Scott Brady of "Shotgun Slade" asserts that a man who can drive safely while kissing a pretty girl is not giving the kiss the attention it deserves.

Head Hunter In Hollywood Loves People

The transformation from contented housewife to avid "head hunter" was easy for Lila Michaels, who does her hunting in a comparatively civilized area known as Hollywood.

That title — officially she's "contestant researcher" for "Seven Keys" on ABC-TV — was coined by her boss, Carl Jampel, executive producer, creator of the daytime game show.

Former New Yorker, blonde, blue-eyed Lila reveals in being able to roam from Disneyland to Chinatown in her search for new faces for the show.

"Imagine being able to visit Southern California's fascinating tourist attractions during the office hours," she explains, adding that such widespread roving is her pleasure only when Jampel needs contestants filling unusual specifications to match unusual prizes.

"The time 'Seven Keys' needed parents with 12 or more children, I did my head hunting through pediatricians. When the weekly screening of contestants was held, we had a dozen families on tap, all having more than the desired progeny head counted."

And Lila's qualifications for the career she adores?

"Not much training," she laughed. "I had the first of my three children when I was 17 and have always been proud of being a wife and mother. At Koffee Klatsche, friends used to say 'Gee, you'd be great at something,' but this head hunting was never thought of as that something."

"When my husband's (Jay Michaels, TV packaging executive) business necessitated our move to California, I got a new outlook on life and started job hunting at agencies. My chief attribute was love of people."

The proudest moment of Lila's professional life came recently when the conclusion of the interview, remarked: "You have done more for me in an hour than any psychiatrist has in a year."

Brady Nurtured That 'V' Torso

Scott Brady's well-proportioned "V" torso, his strong legs and athletic appearance are no accident of birth. The rugged star of "Shotgun Slade", the adventure TV series, has spent most of his life busily engaged in improving his body through activity in sports.

Having spent most of his life in Hollywood, Brady has made extensive use of his swimming pools, as well as of the nearby Pacific Ocean, for almost daily aquatic sports. Exposed to boxing while in the Navy, he keeps up his interest in the ring by going a few rounds with friends at a local gym.

The actor's favorite athletic activity, however, is handball. He presses most of his friends into service as opponents for extended sessions on the handball courts of the Hollywood YMCA. When he has time, Brady also enjoys a round of golf, riding through mountain trails, and a game of tennis.

Badminton, anyone?

ERNEST HEMINGWAY

'Papa' Hemingway Killed by Shotgun

Sun Valley, Idaho, July 3 (AP)—Mrs. Ernest Hemingway, a literary giant who ranked with the greatest of his age, died of a shotgun blast in the head yesterday at the age of 61.

His beloved wife Mary, awakened by a shot from the double-barreled gun, found the body clad in pajamas just off the living room of their secluded retreat house.

She called a doctor although death apparently was instantaneous.

Mr. Hemingway accidentally killed himself while cleaning a gun this morning at 7:30 a.m. (MST), she said in a brief statement read to reporters by a family friend. She was then taken to a hospital and given a sedative.

Coroner Ray McGonick said it was "a self-inflicted wound" that could have been accidental or otherwise. He said no inquest is planned unless something new develops.

Sheriff Frank Hewitt said authorities today planned to talk with Mrs. Hemingway if a doctor permits. "It's still an open question until we complete our investigation which is still in progress," he added.

The woman who was widowed by his death, the former Miss Mary Welsh, also a writer, married Hemingway in 1946. They traveled the world together. He called her Miss Mary and she called him Papa.

Hemingway's violent death amid the mountains and hunting grounds he loved shocked the literary world and there were expressions of profound regret from President Kennedy to the obscure neighbors he hobnobbed with in Idaho.

"To Hemingway, this was home—a quiet retreat far from the turbulent world of 'Farewell to Arms,' 'Across the River and into the Trees,' 'For Whom the Bell Tolls.' It was here that he came to hunt, relax and work. To local citizens he was as well known as the artful bearded hunter as the Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner, the author of the brilliant 'Old Man and the Sea.'"

It was here that he worked on a new major novel and a book of reminiscences of his youth. A close friend said Hemingway was serious when he boasted he had "a big novel, all about the land, the sea and the air" stashed away in a Cuban bank as "insurance."

It will be here that they say Ernest Hemingway to rest in private funeral services tentatively set for Friday.

But some of the people he knew around here thought "Papa" as friends called him—seemed a bit distressed and traced it to the recent cancer death of actor Gary Cooper, his close friend and local hunting companion who portrayed Hemingway heroes in the films.

"They're both in the barn now,"

Hoffa Sparks Re-election Bid

Miami Beach, Fla., July 3 (AP)—Amid gaudy trappings and jazz tunes, James R. Hoffa today opened a special Teamsters convention summoned to elect him to a new 5-year term as president of the nation's biggest labor union.

Hoffa, who marched through the packed Desauville Hotel convention hall arm-in-arm with 72-year-old John English, Teamsters secretary-treasurer, to the platform where Murray (Dusty) Miller, southern Teamsters chief, led delegates in cheers.

Hoffa's colorful, although unneeded, re-election campaign was conducted against only phantom opposition. Milton L. Hoffa, president of Teamsters Local 478, Newark, N.J., had announced as a candidate against Hoffa.

But there was no Liza campaign.

Court Orders New Trial for Liquor Dealer

Middletown, July 3 (AP)—The Appellate Division of the Circuit Court today ordered a new trial for a liquor dealer convicted of selling beer to a minor.

The appellate division, in an opinion written by Judge Bernard A. Kosicki, dismissed all of the defendant's arguments except those on the admissibility of the boy's testimony on his age.

The question of the boy's age was absolutely essential to the case, the judges said. Since a record of birth was available, they added, the state should have produced it in court.

"In recent years the time-honored rule of allowing testimony of a witness as to his own age has been rendered practically obsolete in this state through a thoroughgoing revision of our laws pertaining to vital statistics," the opinion said.

The tribunal cited a 1943 Connecticut law which provided for the first time that a birth certificate or other document properly certified by a local registrar or the State Health Department could be regarded as prima facie evidence of age.

United Church of Christ Church Delegates Meet To Seal Historic Merger

By GEORGE W. CORNELL (AP Religion Writer)

Philadelphia, July 3 (AP)—They finally made it. The United Church of Christ, the result of a merger of two branches of American Protestantism met today to seal their historic merger.

"We've reached the climax of our years of planning," said the Rev. George C. Kirk, a Congregational Christian pastor of Minneapolis.

After 21 years of negotiations, referendums, lawsuits, delays and other preliminaries, representatives of two branches of American Protestantism met today to seal their historic merger.

"The new church, which constitutes a new structure and organization, is to be declared in force here Tuesday, is the United Church of Christ.

It combines Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the first church merger in the United States to unite denominations of different structure and origin.

"The spirit of unity here is beyond anything that has preceded it," Dr. Kirk said. "All the debates and difficulties have faded."

Approximately 750 delegates and visitors gathered for opening of the new church's general synod, presided over by the Rev. Dr. Abraham Akaka, Honolulu, leading a special service of prayer for its future.

NHRR Fails On Interest For Bonds

Hartford, July 3 (AP)—Chairman Eugene S. Loughlin of the State Public Utilities Commission said today that he "could not imagine" the bond holders not seeking to put the railroad into bankruptcy if their interest is not paid.

On the other hand, he reaffirmed his stand that bankruptcy is not the solution for the railroad's problems.

New York, July 3 (AP)—The financially-straitened New Haven Railroad failed today to meet $1.7 million in interest payments due on its bonds as reports circulated that the line may founder soon.

The New York Stock Exchange, taking official notice of the delinquency, notified traders the two bond issues involved hereafter will sell "flat."

This meant buyers and sellers were on notice to disregard accrued interest in arriving at a price.

The NYSE said it acted after being informed by the paying agent that no funds were on hand to meet interest that fell due at the start of business today—the first business day following the interest delinquency date of last Saturday.

In Washington, an Interstate Commerce Commission source said a bankruptcy proceeding for the 3,600-mile New England line "probably" might be only "days away."

The rail carrier had hoped hopes of meeting the interest obligation on a plan to borrow $35 million on government-guaranteed commercial bank loans to stay afloat in recent years. It still owes $35,523,440 on these loans.

A special meeting of New Haven directors was set for Wednesday.

MacArthur Returns to Philippines

Manila, July 3 (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur came back to the Philippines today after 15 years and got a tumultuous welcome from the young Asian nation that reveres him as its liberator and defender.

It was another triumphant return for the 81-year-old soldier who led the liberating American forces against the Japanese during the last war to avenge the bitter Philippine-American defeat he suffered at Corregidor and Bataan.

MacArthur arrived at Manila International Airport on a special U.S. military jet provided by the Philippine government. They were sentimental journey to the Philippines, which he has "known so long and loved so well."

The Philippine government brushed protocol aside to give MacArthur the sort of welcome usually reserved for chiefs of state. Sharing it with him were his wife, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, a longtime aide, and the Philippine ambassador to the United States, Carlos P. Romulo, and his wife.

President and Mrs. Carlos P. Garcia were at the airport to welcome the illustrious old soldier personally. The country's top officials and members of the foreign diplomatic corps also were on hand. Full military honors were given MacArthur, who once commanded the Philippine Army.

Many thousands more lined the motorcycle route leading to Malacanang Palace, Garcia's residence where MacArthur will stay.

The spokesman with American and Filipino flags. A huge banner proclaimed "Welcome, Mabuhay (Long Live) General MacArthur." Among the well-wishers was a delegation of aged veterans of the Philippine Revolution against the United States after it took over the islands from Spain at the turn of the century. They were dressed in their high collar, striped uniforms with straw hats.

The revolutionaries were defeated by troops under the command of General MacArthur's father, General Arthur MacArthur.

MacArthur, who returned in 1945 to witness the birth of the republic, on Tuesday will be the principal speaker at the 15th anniversary celebration.

During his stay the general will also visit some of the scenes of historic battles he directed, including the Bataan Peninsula.

Some Ships Go Free as Unions Sign

New York, July 3 (AP)—The federal government today went into court seeking a Taft-Hartley injunction to end the 18-day maritime strike.

President Kennedy, opposed in principle to use of the Taft-Hartley law, nevertheless called upon its provisions in the face of a split between seamen's union groups that has hopelessly snarled maritime negotiations.

On direct orders from Kennedy, who is vacationing at Hyannis Port, Mass., U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau filed a complaint under the Taft-Hartley law in federal district court here.

If granted, the injunction would halt the strike of some 80,000 seamen for a period of 80 days.

A quick hearing on the complaint was scheduled.

Earlier, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg recommended to President Kennedy at Hyannis Port that the Taft-Hartley law injunction be sought. The two conferred during the morning at the president's summer home there.

The President, in announcing the decision to seek an injunction, said it should not interfere with efforts at settlement of the dispute.

The President said reports given him "clearly manifest the continuation of this strike imperils the national health and safety."

"I have therefore directed the attorney general to seek an injunction against this strike."

"While an injunction will restore the maritime industry to full operation and return the striking members to work for a period of 80 days, it should not interfere in

Chance of War over Berlin Gen. White Suggests Partial Mobilization

Berlin, July 3 (AP)—Gen. Bruce C. Clark, U.S. Army commander in Europe, came to threatened Berlin today and called on his men for "courage, determination and willing sacrifice."

"As we of the American Army in other parts of Europe as well, go forth to a new year of duty," he said, "let us do so with the realization that the eyes of our country and of the free world are upon us—and that we can not be too well prepared for the mistakes that may lie ahead of us."

Washington, July 3 (AP)—Gen. Thomas D. White, retired Air Force chief of staff, says "There is a fair chance" of war breaking out over Berlin.

And as one way of emphasizing danger to Americans he suggested a partial mobilization.

"I think that if the Soviet Union should join in, it is almost inevitable that it would degenerate into a full-scale war," he said.

Didn't Quite Mean the Same 'Equal, Liberty' Provide Challenge for America

By JAMES MARLOW (A. P. News Analyst)

Washington, July 3 (AP)—Just 185 years ago tomorrow, Congress let loose a revolutionary idea. It didn't fully believe itself, a fact which makes it a little easier to understand the revolutions of today.

This was the idea: "That all men are created equal... with inalienable rights... among them life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Neither Congress, which approved those words in the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, nor Thomas Jefferson, who wrote them, really believed "all men are created equal."

They believed, in George Orwell's phrase, that some people are more equal than others.

The Declaration calmly ignored slavery, with which the colonies were loaded at the time. And even Jefferson, troubled though he was about human bondage, had slaves of his own and considered Negroes inferior.

And the Founding Fathers, following the Declaration with the Constitution ratified in 1790, still didn't consider "all" men equal. Their Constitution not only didn't allow slavery, it permitted slaves to be imported until 1808.

All this was done neatly, without once mentioning slaves or slavery.

A failure to use either word is significant," Burton J. Hendrick wrote in 1937 in his book on the Constitution, "Bulwark of the Republic," but "it betrays the sense of apology, of shame, with which the makers approached a dangerous and even disagreeable subject."

It took a civil war to wipe out slavery. But even that couldn't establish as a fact in all American minds the high-sounding words in the Declaration about men being equal.

ONE-MAN JUNTA SEEN

Washington, July 3 (AP)—U.S. officials today viewed the resignation of Lt. Gen. Chang do-Young from the leadership of South Korea's ruling military junta as the start of a consolidation of power into the hands of one man. The officials said Maj. Gen. Park Chung-hee, who succeeded Chang as chairman of the Supreme Council for National Reorganization, still has a strong group of young colonels to contend with inside the ruling junta before his authority will be supreme.
