Marx Began Communism Century Ago

NEW YORK (AP) Monday — A century ago today Karl Marx launched what Moscow now claims was the beginning of the world Communist movement. The anniversary finds the Kremlin pushing what appears to be a drive for a new Communist center, as before.

Propaganda keyed to the centenary indicates the Soviet Communist party is hoping to reassert its dictatorial role over parties around the world. Commenting on the history of the movement, Pravda concludes that "it does not have a guiding center, as before."

The world Communist movement, it says, "is unthinkable as a single entity without definite organizational principles strengthening the political solidarity of the different national detachments of the working class included in it."

"Working class" in this context translates into "Communist parties." Thus, the comment has the ring of a plea for a new international to re-establish Soviet Communist pre-eminence.

World Communism's "guiding center" for a world conspiracy was the Third International or Comintern, dissolved a year after the Russian Revolution. Marx founded the International Working Men's Association in 1848 as an instrument for revolution in Europe. Most of the delegates at the First International also were exiles from continental Europe.

Marx ran the show and did all the thinking for the delegates. Then he inspired European branches which kicked up labor strikes. By the time of the Franco-Prussian War, socialism had spread over much of Europe. But there were many brands, from moderate to anarchist.

Britain's working class, orderly and respectful of the Crown, defied excesses and left the international, which then began to wither away.

The Second International convened in Paris in 1889, largely a debating society. It produced clashes between men like Lenin and the socialist pacifists of Western Europe.

Lenin held that the next war should be turned everywhere into proletarian revolution. He was all for revolution by professional revolutionaries. His war came in 1914 the socialists in most countries supported their respective governments, and Lenin set up a clamor for a Third International.

Rec Review Meeting Set

A review of the Town Recreation Department asked by State Rep. Commissioner John J. Sullivan will be conducted Wednesday in General Manager Richard Martin's office. Commissioner Sullivan asked for the review when he learned recreation head James Herdic plans to resign on Oct. 15.

The review, according to town department division chief Emil Butalik, has been asked to determine how well a series of recommended changes in recreation accounting and administration have been put into effect. The recommendations were the result of a special audit of the recreation department ordered by the town directors last year, in order to obtain final approval for the regular 1963-64 town audit.

Furniture from a Space Engineer

BY BROWNE JOSEPH Why does a space-power plant engineer at Pratt and Whitney Aircraft take up a hobby like furniture making? Edmund Striebel of Palmer Dr. has a ready answer. He says he developed his hobby for relaxation, diversion from work and the self-satisfaction from the finished product.

Striebel began this pastime when he was only eight years old. His father, a cabinetmaker since the age of 18, had his own woodworking shop. This gave Striebel the opportunity to create on a small scale at an early age.

That distinction was drawn early in the evening by Democrat Atty. David Barry, who characterized the present Democratic administration as "the first board to take the present responsibilities allotted to it by the Town Charter."

Officials Completing Voting Arrangements

With Monday's town elections less than four days off, Town Clerk Edward Tomkeli and the registrars of voters, Democrat Edward Meriarty and Republican Frederick Peck, are putting the finishing touches on voting arrangements.

There will be 28 voting machines set up in the five voting districts; moderators, assistant registrars, checkers, monitors and tally clerks have been appointed; sample paper ballots have been printed; absentee ballots have been mailed; and all that remains is for the electors to turn out and vote.

Even the latter is not being left to chance. Both political parties have set up elaborate systems at the polling places, and the registrars will have to keep tabs on the vote; to check off those who have voted and to contact those who haven't, trying to get them to do so. Both parties have fleets of cars on call, ready to transport voters to the polls.

For the first time in 10 years, however, both political committees will have to rely on manpower, rather than telephones, to contact members of the board of education for their voting places and their headquarters.

Two Parties Differ on Roles Of Directors, Administration

What are the differences between the Republican and Democratic philosophies of local government? One answer to that question was sketched out by the candidates for the town board of directors at the League of Women Voters election year quiz at Bowers School last night.

The difference boiled down to this—the Democrats wish to expand the importance of the board of directors; the Republicans are pleased with the present balance between the directors and the town's administrative team.

For the Democrats
The Editor: How do you remedy the following problem after you have closed the curtain on October 31st?

1. Numerous violations of the contract for garbage collection. There are few among us who have not experienced difficulties with the garbage collection, and have made complaints and received little or no satisfaction. This past year a new contract was made with the contractor of better and more efficient service. This has not been the case. The Town Manager's office has failed to make the contractor comply with the contract, even though it contains a method of reimbursing the contractor for the extra work performed. Yet, the efforts made to use this method have been minor in comparison to the complaints made. The Manager may continue his lackadaisical attitude because the problem here is not one of contractor's violations, but that of the relationship that is present between the Board of Directors and the Town Manager. The sequence which must be followed in order to correct the specific problem is first assuring that the Board of Directors wishes to take precedence over those of the Town Manager.

2. Admitted "short comings" in the Recreation Department. Unfortunately this has become a political issue. Those who have made it such have interpreted the audit as an attack on a personality. This is completely false! The audit shows conclusively that there was mismanagement of funds. Our charter clearly states "... it is the duty of the Board of Directors to investigate the internal operations of the departments." Can we expect anything less from a Board of Directors regardless of the individual involved, or that individual's political affiliation?

The basic problem here is mismanagement in the Recreation Department, and the conducting of these procedures over a period of years. Who is responsible for not bringing this situation to the Board's attention before they conducted a private audit? Who is responsible for not conducting an investigation on a departmental level? The answer is the Town Manager. Yes, from all the preceding items we see here the relationship between the Board of Directors and himself, and without any reservations about being formally sanctioned by the Board of Directors, allows such a situation to exist.

Here again we see the relationship that exists between the Town Manager's disregard of direction with no right to demand compliance by the Board of Directors.

3. Inadequate performance in the Highway Department. The Wrecker Report formally and accurately pointed out the inefficiencies in the Highway Department, a fact that has been supported by the public for many years, but which has not been made by citizens regarding this department's services were delivered to them.

The present Board of Directors authorized an audit of this department, as they did for the Recreation Department. Why then has the individual heading this department not been the owner of the individual controversy? The fact is that the Town Manager is the Director of Public Works under the present charter. Yet Mr. Martin seems to have little or no recollection of what has been made a political "scapegoat".

Through the inefficiencies of the Highway Department we see again that the Town Manager is aware of the relationship between the Board of Directors and himself. A relationship that can be described as one of the Town Manager's disregard of direction with no right to demand compliance by the Board of Directors.

4. Poor executive control over town departments. From examining the foregoing it can readily be seen what is meant by lack of command on the part of Town Manager. Mr. Martin seems to conduct Manchester's municipal functions in the same haphazard method which would be appropriate in a small town in his native Vermont.

This is evidenced by the lack of communication between departments, no staff method and the hands off method which allows departments to run themselves into financial and operational difficulties before corrective action is taken. Mr. Martin fails to realize we are a city of more than 40,000 residents and our size and complexity demands nothing less than executive excellence.

Executive excellence, are we receiving it? Do we receive 218,000 worth of executive excellence? How do we know? By a self called review of the manager's No.

But again due to the relationship that exists between the Board of Directors and the Town Manager, poor executive control over town departments.

Executive excellence, are we receiving it? Do we receive 218,000 worth of executive excellence? How do we know? By a self called review of the manager's No.

But again due to the relationship that exists between the Board of Directors and the Town Manager, poor executive control over town departments.

7. The Wrecker Report formally and accurately pointed out the inefficiencies in the Highway Department, a fact that has been supported by the public for many years, but which has not been made by citizens regarding this department's services were delivered to them.

The present Board of Directors authorized an audit of this department, as they did for the Recreation Department. Why then has the individual heading this department not been the owner of the individual controversy? The fact is that the Town Manager is the Director of Public Works under the present charter. Yet Mr. Martin seems to have little or no recollection of what has been made a political "scapegoat".

Through the inefficiencies of the Highway Department we see again that the Town Manager is aware of the relationship between the Board of Directors and himself. A relationship that can be described as one of the Town Manager's disregard of direction with no right to demand compliance by the Board of Directors.

8. Poor executive control over town departments. From examining the foregoing it can readily be seen what is meant by lack of command on the part of Town Manager. Mr. Martin seems to conduct Manchester's municipal functions in the same haphazard method which would be appropriate in a small town in his native Vermont.

Advertising and my own knowledge of the special Recreation Department audit make it imperative that the voters of Manchester be told the facts in this matter.

In November, 1963, a discussion was held with the General Manager regarding the Recreation Department, and then a request was made for a meeting of the entire Board of Directors in closed session with the sole purpose of handling this matter in an discreet manner as possible.

Shortly after this request was made, the auditors filed a qualified report on the Recreation Department of the nature of this report, and because of the responsibility thereby imposed on the State Tax Commissioner and the Town of Manchester, the Board of Directors authorized the auditors to make an additional survey so that the Board and State Tax Commissioner would be advised of the nature of this report.

As a result of this procedure, the General Manager has instituted a number of reforms in the Recreation Department which should improve its efficiency as a matter of fact.

At all times an effort was made by the Democratic majority on the Board of Directors to conduct the investigation of the Recreation Department with discretion and propriety, and in a non-political manner. Now the Republican candidates for the Board of Directors in the tradition of unear and base campaign tactics which they have so ably copied from the Goldwater Miller group have reached a new low in Manchester by their attempt to find behind the Iron Curtain, in a manner which is not only unethical but also illegal, the names of the members of the Recreation Department who have been in contact with the Goldwater Miller group.

Radio advertisements commonly used by the Recreation Department audit procedure with that which might expect to find behind the Iron Curtain, in a manner which is not only unethical but also illegal, the names of the members of the Recreation Department who have been in contact with the Goldwater Miller group.

Just as the people of the United States will not be misled by the Goldwater-Miller approach to political campaigns, the people of Manchester will not be misled by the Goldwater-Miller approach to political campaigns. The Rev. Dennis R. Hussey of St. Bridget's Church performed the double ring ceremony Mrs. Raymond Murphy was organist and soloist. Bountiful of white flowers were on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white brocade, designed with scooped neckline trimmed with pearls, long sleeves with pointed over the hands, and bell-shaped skirt terminating in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a crystal coronet, and she carried a cascade bouquet of bridal roses, miniature carnations and lily.

Mrs. Francis Smith of East Hartford was matron of honor. Mrs. Roger Anderson of Hartford and Mrs. David Custer of Manchester were bridesmaids. Miss Kimberlee Delaney of Manchester, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor and junior bridesmaid wore floor-length sheaths of candy pink brocade, designed with scooped necklines and three-quarters-length sleeves. Their carriage robes headpieces will face veil matched their gowns. The honor attendant carried a cascade bouquet of pink and rose color carnations. The junior bridesmaid carried a colonial nosegay of pink and rose carnations.

The adult bridesmaids' gowns and headpieces of American beauty brocade were styled to match the other attendants, and they carried cascade bouquets of rose and pink carnations. Alfred Cavallo of Manchester served as best man. Robert Varrick and David Custer, both of Manchester, brother of the bridegroom, were ringbearers.

Miss Patricia Ingh of Manchester was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Delaney wore a gold brocade sheath with cocoa accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo with black accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

A reception for 125 was held at Rosemont Restaurant, Bolton. For a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mrs. One were a teal blue shantung dress with matching coat and black accessories. The couple will live in Bolton.

Mrs. One is a 1961 graduate of Manchester High School, and is employed at the United Aircraft Corp. Library, East Hartford. Mr. One is a 1958 graduate of Windham High School, and is employed at the Heublein Corp., Hartford.

Patrolman Samuel Maltesso said that the motor was taken from a business office cabinet safe which had been pried open. Several other cabinets were also pried open with the use of heavy saws, and contents were strewn about the floor, police said.

Cone-Delaney Perfect Safety For President

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, senior member of a four-man committee studying ways to improve protection of presidents, says he does not think that the president "ever can be perfectly protected" from assassination.

Dillon and the other committee members met for an hour Wednesday with President Johnson, who established the group Sunday and told it to follow up recommendations of the Warren Commission. Dillon said the group would come up with its own recommendations in time for them to be included in the next budget.

He said the matter had also been submitted to the next Congress, which opens in January. Besides Dillon, the committee is composed of acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Warren Commission, such as assuring adequate protection of presidents on trips abroad.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees aren't in yet but Manager Yogi Berra has chosen his opening game pitcher for the World Series.

Berra was setting up his pitching rotation after Wednesday's 11-8 sweep over Detroit which reduced the Yankees' magic number to their fifth straight pennant to move two.

"It will be Mel Stottlemyer and Roland Whitford against the Tigers Thursday," Berra said. "Whitford's record is 10-10 and he's got to go Friday no matter what."

WHIFF KINGS

BALTIMORE (AP) — The 1964 Washington Senators are the strike out kings of all-time in major league baseball history.

In a twilight doubleheader, against the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night, 18 Senators went down on strikes.

That raised the team total for the season to 1,104, or 10 more than the previous high of 1,094 set by the Cleveland Indians in 1954.

Washington still has 16 more games in which to add to the record.

STORRS (AP) — The appointment of Tom (Tooby) Kimball, a senior from Storrs, Conn., as captain of the 1964-65 University of Connecticut basketball team was announced today by Coach Fred Shabel.

Bullpen Life Saver for Yankees

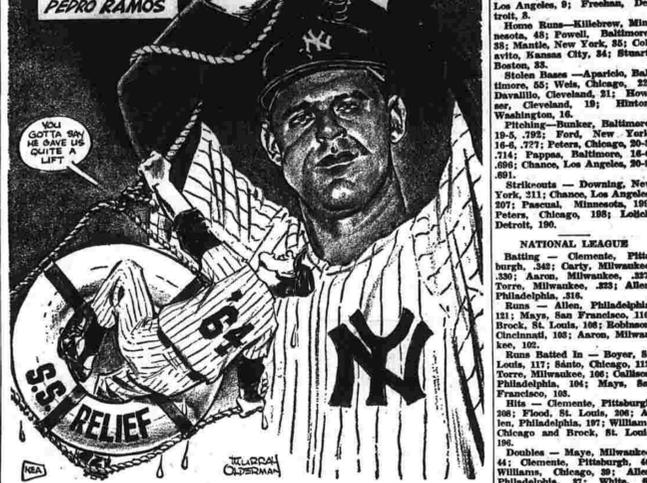

PEPPO RAMOS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Yankees bullpen was a life saver for the Yankees today as they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 10-1 in the first game of the World Series.

Ramos, who has been in the bullpen since he was called up from the minors, pitched 4 1/2 innings, allowing only one run on three hits and striking out five batters.

"I'm glad I'm not in John Quinn's shoes," Frank Sarkentz, the Lowell Sun said, joking over conversation. "I'm glad I'm not," Ramos said. "I've got enough problems."

"The only way things have been going in the past week for the Red Sox is that they have been falling their way. The same can't be said for the Phillies."

Corkscrews Are Out and Champagne's on Ice

Yankee Doodle Next Tune from Phil Linz

NEW YORK (AP) — The corkscrews are out and champagne's on ice today for the Yankees as they prepare to play the first game of the World Series.

The manager has set up his pitching rotation to have left-hander Whitley Foy pitch Friday, the first game of the World Series, and right-hander Jim Bouton pitch Saturday, the second game.

The Yankees are expected to win the first game of the World Series.

DAVE MOREHEAD, HORTON TO PLAY WINTER BASEBALL

BOSTON (AP) — Regular pitcher Dave Morehead and rookie first baseman Tony Horton head a list of 21 players assigned to the Red Sox team for the Florida Winter Instructional League.

The Red Sox hope Morehead can improve his control with extra work under the guidance of coach Earl Wynn, hitting instructor and scout.

Horton, who lost his 15th game yesterday, has been one of the biggest disappointments of the Red Sox season. Horton has a 5.0 earned run average.

NATIONAL LOOP DRAW TODAY TO SET DATES FOR PLAYOFFS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Drawings for possible two- or three-team playoffs for the National League will be held today at 2 p.m. EST today at the home of the Cincinnati Reds.

Because Cincinnati, St. Louis and Philadelphia are so tightly packed in the race, the league president, Warren Giles, said it will be necessary to conduct two drawings to cover two-team tie and one for a possible three-team doubleheader.

Giles said there will be no off days in any playoffs and all games will be played on a single day.

Baltimore Offers Two Year Deal

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer, who has kept the Baltimore Orioles in contention for the American League pennant down to the final week of the season, was rewarded today with a two-year contract.

"I think Hank has done an outstanding job this year, and he has been given a substantial increase," said Orioles President Leo MacPhail in announcing the re-signing of an old friend.

MacPhail didn't reveal Bauer's salary, but the one-time New York Yankee outfielder is believed to have signed for about $100,000. In his debut season, Bauer was paid a bit under the $100,000 mark.

Game of Inches

"Baseball has always been a game of inches," the manager reading by his crew and a ball hit just a little to the right or left for a hit, or a ball that is just a fraction of an inch from the fence between winning and losing.

"I say the way things have been going in the past week for the Red Sox is that they have been falling their way. The same can't be said for the Phillies."

Only Goose Eggs

All Boston collected on the left field scoreboard all afternoon, in two fast-played games, in goose-egg.

After last night's applied the whitewash bluff in the first game, winning 5-0, lanky Sam McDowell matched the feat, blanking the Red Sox on seven innings.

Patsies for Yanks

Unless Cleveland does a complete about-face, the Yankees would have to sweep their last three games to win the American League in the coming World Series.

Following today's season finale with Boston, the Tribe would have to sweep the Yankees at Yankee Stadium to tie with the Yankees.

Staubach Asks Ordinary Role, As Midshipman at Annapolis

(First of Two Articles)

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (NEA) — Typical of Roger Staubach's ordinary role as a midshipman at Annapolis, he was in New York a week after the Army game last year to accept the Heisman Trophy and pick up an All-American award.

Cameraman wanted pictures of the Naval Academy's Frank Staubach, 21, who took him to the Park Avenue side of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

White Sox Satisfied And Rehire Al Lopez

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, still holding a ghost of an American League pennant chance, will be back for two more seasons of sniping at the New York Yankee dynasty.

General Manager Ed Short said at signing ceremony Lopez got a "well-deserved" pay raise and a new contract for two years.

"I didn't even read the financial terms," said Lopez.

He reportedly got $40,000 more for 1963 and the current year, in which only one miracle can enable the Sox to wrest the pennant from the Yankees.

111 Health Bucs' Pilot Announces

CINCINNATI (AP) — When the Pittsburgh Pirates announced at the start of the season that they would have a 111-day health care program, it was a day night that Danny Murtaugh would have an announcement afterwards, no one was very excited.

"The Croley Field community health care program has been signed for his eighth season as manager of the Pirates. Instead of a grueling four-hour game, in which the sixth-inning stretch is a 1 1/2 hour with a 100-minute squeeze but and knocked them out of the National League lead. Murtaugh told a few newsmen in the rubbing room of the visitors' clubhouse that he was resigning because of his health.
