Olympic Frog? U.S. Marine Killed During Hoai Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A blistering battle near the mountain town of Hoai, 285 miles northeast of Saigon, claimed the lives of a U.S. Marine officer, 18 Vietnamese soldiers and more than 68 Viet Cong, American military spokesmen reported today.

Another U.S. Marine officer received a gunshot injury in the battle Tuesday and was evacuated to a field hospital at Nha Trang. The dead Marine officer was the second American to die in combat in Viet Nam since December 19.

U.S. Air Force jets were reported to have been shot down during the battle Tuesday. The jets were reported to have been shot down by a Viet Cong force of about 100 men.

Federal Bills To Help R.R. All Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Administration, through Undersecretary of Commerce Clarence D. Martin Jr., rejected today four legislative proposals aimed at saving commuter services of the New Haven Railroad.

Two bills under consideration of a Senate Commerce Committee hearing would provide limited operating subsidies. Two others would provide for federal support of interstate compact organizations, and one of federal subsidies for operations.

Martin said solution of the New Haven's problems requires coordinated action by state, local and federal governments, each within its own sphere, but that the bills rely too much upon federal activity.

He said the federal government has contributed many millions of dollars to the New Haven in credit and disaster relief but this had not resulted in improved service nor saved the line from receivership.

Martin said that over the four years the New Haven had been in most serious difficulty, the states and localities involved had not come forth with any agreed program.

"Federal state and local authorities," Martin said, "have plain obligations to act, each within its own sphere in this matter."

Negroes in Selma Massing, To Defy New Police Order

Montgomery Group Plans March There

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—City police banned further civil rights demonstrations today but met quick defiance from Negroes massed at a church for a new right-to-vote march on the courthouse.

Defiance mounted. And in Montgomery, 20 miles to the east, hundreds of Negroes met to plan a march on the Capitol there.

Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, ordered a halt to street demonstrations after a massive but short march Tuesday and the beating of three white ministers Tuesday night on a street.

Backing him up was Mayor Joseph T. Smithman who said the turmoil had to be stopped. "We are not going to pay any attention to that," responded the Rev. Andrew Young, his spokesman.

He said about 40 Negroes and three white persons jammed into the Browns Chapel A.M.E. church, rallying point for the seven-week-old Negro voter drive.

The crowd cheered. Down the wide street and beyond an intersection at the edge of a Negro housing project, about 200 blue-helmeted state troopers waited. They were under orders to help enforce the city's ban on demonstrations.

It was cloudy. The troopers stood grim-faced. The Negroes, milling about outside the red brick church, appeared glum. They were quiet for the most part.

From this racial target city, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the long campaign to end segregation, called for a march through the United States in support of his drive here.

Repeating his intention of leading a massive pilgrimage on foot to the Alabama capital, King said: "I encourage lovers of democracy all over this land to plan demonstrations in their respective communities and synagogues and churches on Sunday."

It was such an attempted march from this city Sunday that ended when state troopers and other figures involved, including Negroes and whites, turned back.

A second attempt, led by King, ended Tuesday without violence when King and his long line of marchers turned back voluntarily. King did not take part in the Sunday march.

But Tuesday night, a gang of white men attacked three out-of-state white clergymen who took part in the march. One minister was in critical condition at a Birmingham hospital.

Baker issued his ultimatum on demonstrations after conferring with the mayor today. "We are going to stop any demonstrations. It is too risky under the present circumstances at this time," Baker said. "We intend to stop them."

Earth Adds Weight from Moon Bits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force said today that a continuous barrage of meteoroids from space apparently is adding weight to the moon.

Scientists see no cause for alarm on either count, however. The Air Force Office of Aerospace Research said in a news release.

Even at the present rate of "rainage"—up to 800 tons a day—it would take some 40,000 billion years for the moon to lose just one-tenth of its present mass.

By comparison, the earth is adding only about 10,000 pounds of meteoroid weight a day. Even so, the Air Force research agency said it is concerned about high-velocity meteoroids and wants to determine exactly how they affect the earth and the moon.

A study of the meteoroid impact rate on the moon was headed by Capt. Vera G. Smalley of the Cambridge Research Laboratories, Bedford, Mass.

The agency said the study shows that for every ton of meteoroid swept up by the moon it orbits the earth, up to four tons of lunar material is blasted back into space by the high-speed impacts.

Using these figures and some reasonable assumptions, Air Force researchers say they estimate the volume of meteoroid slamming into the earth, "the research agency said.

The study group has concluded that the earth absorbs about four times as many impacts as the moon, at an average velocity of 12 miles per hour.

While results of the impacts differ on the two bodies because of atmosphere and gravity variations, it is likely that more debris escapes from the moon's atmosphere than from the earth," they said.

Was It Prearranged? Indications Show March, Blockade Were 'Staged'

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—King led the marchers across the bridge where they were stopped by a line of state troopers. Unlike the Sunday confrontation, there was no confusion.

Racial Demonstrations Staged In Cities Across the Country

NEW YORK (AP)—A march up New York's Fifth Avenue in Washington, there were numerous speeches on the House floor condemning Alabama officials, and demanding federal guarantees of the right to vote and the right to assemble peacefully.

In Washington, about 30 government police using only their bare hands waded into a crowd of an estimated 170 singing, chanting demonstrators and hauled them bodily away from the corridor outside Katzenbach's office.

About 800 individuals converged on New York City's Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters in New York City, where they held a meeting for the day.

More than 1,000 persons marched outside the White House, where President Johnson kept in touch with events in Selma.

New Judges to Be Checked

HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. John N. Dempsey's future judiciary nominees will be given a careful screening by the legislature's Judiciary Committee.

This new policy was announced today by the co-chairmen of the committee—Sen. Paul J. Falsay, D-New Haven, and Rep. John W. Boyd, R-Westport.

The future best interest of the people of the state would be served if a thorough examination of the qualifications of each prospective judicial appointee were made at the legislative level," they said.

The co-chairmen also said "it is contemplated that each appointee would be required to meet with the committee in each appointive session."

Dempsey, since he took office in 1961, has rigidly followed a policy of having the State Bar Association clear his prospective judgeship nominees before sending them to the General Assembly. All judgeship nominations must be approved by the judiciary committee and be passed by both the House and Senate.

The committee's new policy comes at a time when Dempsey has at least six judgeship appointments to make to fill vacancies.

He must fill vacancies resulting from the resignation of Supreme Court Justice William J. Shea and the resignation of Superior Court Judge Albert L. Chase of Bridgeport, the disability retirement of Common Pleas Court Judge Harry H. Long of Rockville, the forthcoming retirement of Superior Court Justice James M. Conley of Stamford and James E. Murphy of Bridgeport and

Princess Margriet Becomes Engaged

ROTTERDAM PALACE, The Netherlands (AP)—Princess Margriet, second in line for the Dutch throne, became engaged today to her university sweetheart, the 23-year-old son of a Rotterdam businessman.

The princess, 22, is the third of the four daughters of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard. Her fiance, Pieter Van Vollenhoven, is 23. Both are students at the University of Leiden, married in international public and enthusiastic about the marriage.

Princess Christina, 14, is the youngest of the four daughters. Her fiance, a commoner, was a student at the University of Leiden. The couple were married in international public and enthusiastic about the marriage.

Dog Appointed Honorary Mayor

FRANCONIA, N. H. (AP)—This White Mountain hamlet has a new honorary mayor today who may be wondering what to do with a litter of cards and key to the village.

His Honor Dana von Cedarburg, elected unanimously at Tuesday night's town meeting, is a 3-year-old German shepherd named "Daxxy" as he is known to the villagers. He is known to the villagers as a "much loved and respected member of the community who has never bitten anyone, barked incessantly, roamed the streets, trampled the Hiberny potatoes, run after cars nor very often barked cats."

He was also cited for saving his master's life in a snowstorm four winters ago. (See Page Six)

Bulletins

Called from AP Wire

MINISTER WORSER BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A University Hospital spokesman said the condition of a white Boston suburban boy, who was shot in Selma, Ala., has worsened. In a statement released at 11:35 a.m., the hospital said that the boy, James J. Reeb's condition is considered extremely critical and the prognosis is poor. The statement said that Reeb had undergone a brain operation early this morning.

TURNPIKE CRASH GREENWICH (AP)—A car and a truck collided on the Connecticut Turnpike today and state police said that one man was killed. The victim, police said, was the driver of the car, which burst into flames. The accident occurred on the Turnpike's eastbound lanes. Details were not available.

HOUSE PASSES BILL WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed today a bill aimed at halting traffic in just one city and police said. The bill is designed to tighten federal control over distribution of liquor and to increase record-keeping and inspection of liquor stores. The measure, which was passed by a 300-100 vote, is expected to be passed by the Senate.

Quick Action On R.R. Bill Is Expected

HARTFORD (AP) — A general Assembly vote is expected next week on a bill that would provide Connecticut with the funds it needs to join a $20 million program to aid the New Haven Railroad's commuter service.

The measure won recommendation Tuesday in the Assembly's Finance Committee and was quickly sent to the Senate for reading.

Indications are that the bill will be acted upon in either the Senate or House of both next week.

The bill would provide the $20 million Connecticut needs if it is to put up its $5 million share in the program. The State already has a $5 million bond authorization available.

Under the plan both Connecticut and New York State would contribute $5 million each to the $20 million program to be financed by the federal government.

The $20 million would help purchase 50 new commuter cars for the bankrupt line and re-equip 20 of the multiple-unit cars it already has.

Under a second program, the federal government would provide $5 million and Connecticut and New York $10,000 each in a demonstration program that would test a commuter car with the New Haven's commuter cars and schedules.

Hunger Proves Goldie's Ruin, He's Captured

LONDON (AP) — Goldie the eagle succumbed to the lure of a succulent rabbit today and was recaptured by the British after 12 days of freedom.

As the Finnish golden eagle swooped down on the rabbit, a posse of keepers swooped down on him. After a hairy struggle he was hustled back to the London Zoo and into the cage where his mate, Regina, was waiting.

Hunger was his undoing. Reginald usually eat every three days. Since quitting his cage, he had taken only a peck at a dog, which survived, and a duck, which didn't.

A powerful "Freedom Goldie" lobby had given voice in newspaper letter columns and editorials.

A powerful force of dog lovers, enraged by his attack on a yapping terrier last week, decided today a Communist demand in Parliament for the release of 20 pro-testing Communists elected to the Kerala Legislature last week.

Nanda said the Communists had been detained in December for reasons affecting the defense and security of India and therefore their election to the legislature was made no difference.

Although the Communists elected the largest bloc to the legislature in Kerala, they cannot muster a majority and form a government unless those in jail are released. The Indian government is expected to continue to govern Kerala from New Delhi.

State Department Puts Off Thant Plea for Viet Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has brushed aside a new offer by U.N. Secretary-General Thant to promote negotiations aimed at settling the Vietnam imbroglio.

It reaffirmed Tuesday that any U.S. decision to open talks on a Viet Nam peace agreement must be delayed until the Communists indicate they are prepared to stop their aggression against South Viet Nam.

"We have told the secretary general that we appreciate his suggestions and we hope that all channels will be held open, department press officer Marshall Wright said.

"Thank proposed talks among the major powers involved in the Vietnamese struggle."

"Still hoping for a peaceful solution, we also still await some indication that the aggressors are prepared to stop the aggression," Wright added.

This brought questioning over whether the United States has changed its position and is prepared to talk if it gets some indication the aggression might be stopped.

Within the hour Wright summed up the school. The statement of the school. The statement of the school. The statement of the school.

It said every effort will be made to "continue our policy of guidance, surveillance and the use of discipline when necessary" and to "safeguard the mental and physical health of students."

Board Asks Details On Reclassification

Professing to be confused about the workings of a proposed employee reclassification schedule, town directors last night set a special meeting Tuesday to hear a detailed explanation of the plan from General Manager Richard Martin.

The directors have said privately they harbor reservations about the reclassification plan, based upon complaints voiced to them by some town employees.

Although none of the directors expressed their doubts publicly last night, their position was acknowledged by Atty. Eugene Kelly, spokesman for the Municipal Employees Group, who acknowledged that "a number of questions seemed to have cropped up" in the plan.

Atty. Kelly said he recognized that many employees are not familiar with the reclassification plan and would like to see it explained.

The provision is that it is expected to include all town employees.

Martin noted in reply that, by its very nature, reclassification will create some separation of duties.

The purpose of any reclassification plan, he said, is to adjust the wage levels of some persons to reflect new judgments of their responsibilities.

Some of the complaints voiced privately by town employees are that the plan would appear to be arbitrary, that they seem to benefit specific individuals rather than certain classifications of employees, and that they have not been adequately consulted.

The approval voted by the board last night was to schedule a meeting to review the proposed changes in the town's personnel rules and improvements in employee fringe benefits.

The personnel rules, slightly altered from those in effect this year, will be up for the board's approval at its April 6 meeting.

The fringe benefits will be proposed by Martin in his next budget, which will be presented to the directors this month.

The board requested the special meeting after a number of questions failed to bring out any comprehensive picture of the effects and reclassification plan.

Martin explained the plan to the directors and the reclassification plan.

The purpose of reclassification is to reorganize the duties associated with various positions, and to assign the positions to the appropriate employee.

Each wage group provides a certain salary range, with yearly increments within the range.

If any adjustments to the present salary schedule were required, the classification will necessarily affect different employees in different ways.

The proposed reclassification would be retroactive to July 1, 1964, with annual payments made to any employee assigned to higher wage groups.

In addition, there will be a regular pay increase for each employee during the coming fiscal year.

"All the decisions involved in this reclassification plan," Martin said, "made in accordance with my best judgment."

If someone else were to make the adjustments, they would have to substitute their judgment for mine.

Martin said that there are differences between the pay grades of employees in the library board and the school board, even though their employees may do similar work.

He proposed a joint committee of the directors and board of education to work out a consistent salary schedule.

Such a committee in another town had started by adjusting the salaries of the superintendent of schools, he said, so that each was being paid the same as the other.

Martin now receives $15,000 a year, while Superintendent of Schools William Curtis receives $12,500.

Martin has proposed an increase of $20,000 for the manager's post, which he said would be $37,500.

Martin said he would like to see a match present board of education salaries—at some time in the future.

Obituary Prof. Cleverdon Dies at UConn

COVENTRY—Dr. Robert C. Cleverdon, 47, of Manchester, died of a fatal heart attack Tuesday morning in the bacteriology department office at the University of Connecticut.

Born in Stillwater, Ohio, in 1918, he received his B.S. in 1940 from the University of Connecticut, his M.S. and Ph.D. and was a teaching assistant at the university.

Prof. Cleverdon was a bacteriologist. His principal contributions to the University of Connecticut were in the field of granule production and molecular biology.

In 1962, he organized the first conference on the epidemiology of influenza. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society and the American Microscopical Society.

He was also active in the community. He participated in a special play in the summer of 1962 commemorating the 250th anniversary of Coventry.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret LeConey Cleverdon, his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Cleverdon, and a daughter, Suzanne Cleverdon, all of Coventry.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. at the funeral home of J. J. O'Connell, 214 Main St., Coventry.

Rockville-Vernon Increased Dues Proposed to Save C of C

The board of directors of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce yesterday unanimously approved a proposed dues system increase which would bring an estimated $30,000 per year for the operation of the chamber.

The chamber, according to several of its officials, has been suffering from a lack of funds for several years.

The dues revision is considered "do or die" action by the directors.

Viet Commander Refutes Poor Equipment Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—General William C. Westmoreland, commander in chief of U.S. forces in Vietnam, today refuted charges that his troops were poorly equipped.

Westmoreland issued a report in which he said an Associated Press story on complaints of poorly equipped troops being sent to Vietnam was "a distortion of the facts."

"I can assure you that our troops here are getting adequate equipment," he said.

He then listed pieces of equipment that he said were being sent to Vietnam.

Westmoreland said that the equipment being sent to Vietnam was of the same quality as that sent to other areas.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The Associated Press is a news-gathering organization of independent member organizations throughout the world. It is not a newspaper. It is a news-gathering organization. It is not a newspaper. It is a news-gathering organization.

The New York State Legislature for the first time in many years—they proceeded to divide themselves into two factions, each of whom wanted all the positions and all the plums at Albany. The division between the Democrats looked strangely like a division between two party factions led by Mayor Wagner of New York and another faction led by Senator Robert Kennedy.

The deadlock at Albany was resolved by a deal between Mayor Wagner, the Democrats and Governor Nelson Rockefeller's Republicans, a deal which left Senator Kennedy's friends and supporters in a cold sweat.

It was reckoned a natural part of the arrangement that, in addition to agreeing upon which Democrats should get the leadership posts in the Legislature, Mayor and Governor had also agreed upon a certain degree of harmony between themselves on financial matters involving the city-state relationship.

In recent days, however, the possible extent of the understandings between Democratic Mayor and Republican Governor has been enlarged. Congressmen John Lindsay, and Businessman David Rockefeller had all been nobly proposed and all had graciously declined. This seemed to be the process in which the top Republican leadership was going through a lot of motion but winding up leaving the prospect that only some were nobody would eventually be found to run against Wagner.

To put what is being suggested as plainly as possible: the political posters figure it out that the most likely law when they see the need for realism, never constitutes an audit on the results.

For the results, one has to take the instance of a relationship between the makes its choice, and then follow through toward the consequences.

At the present moment, it is an interesting sidelight on the crisis over Vietnam that time and circumstance and present day analysis and comment seem to be magnifying a particular problem which was made way back in 1955.

That was the year in which the Geneva Accords, negotiated in 1954, were their first outright violation.

This violation occurred when the government of South Vietnam, with the backing and probably on the advice of the United States government, decided it would not comply with the provision in the Geneva Accords which stipulated that free national elections should be held in both North and South Vietnam the year following the agreement at Geneva.

One can speculate, today, just as South Vietnamese and American officials speculated in 1955, that free elections would have been dangerous and probably have developed into a link in a chain of further extensions of Chinese Communist power.

Perhaps, in view of such possibilities, the 1955 decision was realistically right.

What cannot be escaped, however, is the fact that, right or wrong, that 1955 decision is now beginning to yield heavy and persistent results. There is much more frequent mention, in discussion and analysis today, of that 1955 decision than there was in 1955 itself. That almost nobody paid any attention to the fact that the United States was advising its little Asian friend to renounce the Geneva Accords and to develop into a typical British underdevelopment, perhaps coupled with a well known British deficiency in taste buds, invades the discussion and frightens us far, far away, back to our own undated milk, which has that habit of getting just slightly angrier in flavor after it has had two or three days on the shelf.

The long-lasting milk, said the Brit-liners sponsoring it, could be described as "virtually indistinguishable" from the normal product.

What a beautiful adverb—that virtually, so full of spelling suggesting truth and purity, and yet such a carry-over of evasion and deceit!

By taking a trip up a six-acre wooded tract across from his firehouse and town library, neighboring Woodbridge has taken a commendable first step toward conserving and preserving the community "open space" he has.

Other communities, we think, should note the Woodbridge action and follow along similar lines where possible and practical.

The open space, once taken away, never will return. This, we fear, is particularly true in this fast moving age, with its population movement to suburban and rural areas and the rapid climb in the numbers of home developments. The Woodbridge purchase is being made upon recommendation of its Conservation Commission. This commission, in our opinion, has justified its existence and demonstrated its value as a community service body.

Last Phone Call

NEW YORK, March 10—Something was bothering the old man, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons is 81 now, and he is retired from training race horses and he sits in a little living room in Miami Springs and watches television, but the other night he didn't want to see any more of it because he had this thing on his mind about Frank Graham.

"John," he called over to his son, "I've got to talk to you on the phone. I want to talk to him."

The call was put through to Graham's home in New Rochelle. Lillian Graham, his wife, answered.

"I'll get Frank," she said.

"And I'll get Pop to the phone," John Fitzsimmons said. In Miami Springs, John Fitzsimmons, John Fitzsimmons, John Fitzsimmons, walking cage over to his father, and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, using a crutch to get up, got into the cage and made his way to the phone.

And in New Rochelle, Frank Graham, 76, burst inside and Mary had to help him out of his chair and over to the phone.

These were two men, with the hearts that men should come with, and as they came to the phone they were having what the years had done to their bodies.

"Hello, Frankie, how are you son?" Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said.

"Fine, Mr. Fitz," Graham said.

"Well, I heard you were very sick and I wanted to call you," Mr. Fitz said.

"No, I'm fine," Frank Graham said. He weighed what his bones weighed and he had his hand standing up to cancer as if it were fire. But tell you that was sick? Well, children tell you they're sick, not men.

Then the two of them talked about a racing book and about the old horse Mr. Fitz had trained and Frank Graham had written of, horses like Gallant Fox and Johnstown and Nashua and Bold Ruler and Graham was talking about all the winners running on the track.

Then they said goodbye and hung up and they laid their way back to their chairs and to their television, Mr. Fitz was better. They had been together for 50 years. At least, he had spoken to Frankie Graham before the little guy went.

He went yesterday in a hospital in the Bronx, which is where he spent most of his life. Graham was a sports columnist for the New York Sun and then the Journal-American, which printed him until his death. He was a lot of things around this town. He wrote a sports column in a way that made you hear the people in it talking, and so few have been able to do that. And while he wrote to columns he was an ad for everything that the people in his business should be in his business? Hell, people everywhere.

"How do you get home?" Frank asked the waitress when he finished dinner at his place on 40th St. one night.

"I get the train at 9:30," she said.

"Well, until 11:10," he said.

"I looked at the clock," she said. "Let's go," he said. "May I have the check?"

A Thought for Today

A Plan for the Fulfillment of Time

There seems to be a "time" for things to happen, don't you think? Without any thought of fate or predestination in mind, could we not agree that there is a "time" which is undeniable? Time is vital to the growth of a child. Over the years we see wonderful things take place in development of these qualities and skills which will lead the child to adulthood with its attendant responsibilities.

Time is not only the "season" of life, but it is its measure, each day brings us closer to physical death. But time brings us joys also, as we see love blossoming out of that which may be dormant, even as springtime marks the close of winter's darkness and sleep.

God goes according to time also. For a thousand years in their sight are but yesterday.

JAKARTA, Indonesia. U. S. libraries pilfered. U. S. military training declared off-limits. U. S. tourists run out of town—such is the picture of the Communist takeover of the country. America's hope and promise in President Sukarno's Indonesia. And yet the cause of revolutionary nationalism, in whose name the country's economic development and the welfare of its people has been sacrificed.

Thus a leading Jakarta daily, close enough to the Communist line to have escaped the wholesale banning of newspapers, reported last week: "We see how the PKI has used its own total control over the world's fifth largest nation."

And the PKI, now headed by the triumvirate composed of Aidit, Njoto, and Lukman, has systematically played up to Sukarno's ego and exploited its growing influence to draw him into a vicious rivalry of 40 years between the two Communist parties: one "independent" the other formerly linked to Moscow now more and more drawing strength from Peking.

The picture of the Communist takeover of the country is a heading rush away from the early promise of the revolution is that Sukarno himself has embraced the Communist doctrine. But the easy explanation is almost certainly the wrong one.

Sukarno is a brilliant, mercurial, irresistibly attractive orator who has systematically used the organizing genius of the PKI to eliminate all sources of opposition to his own total control over the world's fifth largest nation.

And the PKI, now headed by the triumvirate composed of Aidit, Njoto, and Lukman, has systematically played up to Sukarno's ego and exploited its growing influence to draw him into a vicious rivalry of 40 years between the two Communist parties: one "independent" the other formerly linked to Moscow now more and more drawing strength from Peking.

South Windsor School Budget of $2,196,000 Approved

The board of education approved a final budget of $2,196,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1965. The budget represents an increase of about $100,000 from last year's budget of $2,096,000.

The board will submit the new budget to the town council next week. The council will then forward it to the state board of education.

Superintendent Charles Warner said the budget provides for a 10 percent increase in salaries for teachers and other personnel. It also provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of materials and supplies.

Warner noted that the budget provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of transportation. This is due to the fact that the state has increased the cost of gasoline and other fuels.

The budget also provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of maintenance and repairs. This is due to the fact that the state has increased the cost of materials and supplies.

Warner said the budget provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of capital equipment. This is due to the fact that the state has increased the cost of materials and supplies.

The budget also provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of interest on bonds. This is due to the fact that the state has increased the cost of materials and supplies.

Warner said the budget provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of depreciation. This is due to the fact that the state has increased the cost of materials and supplies.

The budget also provides for a 10 percent increase in the cost of other miscellaneous items. This is due to the fact that the state has increased the cost of materials and supplies.

Deficiency Bill Not for Raises, Conkling Says

HARTFORD (AP)—Finance Commissioner George Conkling has denied a Republican charge that the Democratic administration might be using deficiency appropriations to give pay raises to some 1,100 state employees.

The charge was made Tuesday by Rep. J. Tyler Patterson, speaker of the Republican-controlled House of Representatives.

Conkling said the bill would provide for the payment of salaries to state employees who are on leave without pay. He said the bill would not provide for any raises.

Conkling said the bill would provide for the payment of salaries to state employees who are on leave without pay. He said the bill would not provide for any raises.

Idle Claims Up By 29 in Week

Unemployment compensation claims filed in Manchester last week rose slightly, by 29 claims, over those filed during the previous week.

The total number of claims filed last week was 1,135. This is a decrease from the 1,164 claims filed the week before.

The increase in claims is due to the fact that the state has increased the number of claims that are eligible for unemployment compensation.

The state has also increased the number of claims that are eligible for unemployment compensation.

In State Posts

HARTFORD (AP)—James G. Harris Jr. of Hartford and Henry J. Nolan of Stamford were named Tuesday as coordinators of the Connecticut Office of Economic Opportunity.

The office was created by the state legislature in 1964. Its purpose is to provide economic assistance to low-income families.

Harris and Nolan will be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the office.

Hebron Distribution Of Supplies Set Friday

While it seems disconcerting to learn from estimates that as many as 25 to 30 local families are eligible for receiving state or local public assistance, it is good to know that they are being looked after.

For such families, allowances are as follows: One in a family, $140; family of two, $180; three, $220; four, $260; five, $300; six, $340; seven, $380; eight, $420; nine, $460; and ten, $500.

Supplies have arrived here and will be distributed to eligible families on Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the old town hall, 100 Main St., Hebron, Conn., and monthly thereafter.

Chicago Control Of Pollution Ideal Program

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago, eliminating its busiest cleanup program, has agreed to a federally inspired program aimed at keeping its waters clear of deadly pollution.

The agreement, reached Tuesday between representatives of the city, industry and Illinois, was the result of a program initiated by officials of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The program calls for four major steel firms in the city to install air pollution control devices within five years.

PTA Hears Talk On Civil Rights

Don O. Noel Jr., coordinator of the Greater Hartford Peace Center, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Nathan Hale School PTA last night at the school. His topic was "Civil Rights: Jobs and Peace."

Noel is the author of a documentary entitled "The Negro in America." He has also written several articles on the Negro and social problems. Noel spoke in Hartford on Revolutionary times to the present day. He pointed out that an understanding of Negro history leads to a better comprehension of the civil rights issue. Noel also mentioned the problem of job opportunities for the Negro.

New Crisis at Berkley, President Kerr Resigns

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The Berkeley campus of the University of California was plunged into a new crisis today following the sudden and unexpected resignation of President Clark Kerr and Acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson.

The two men handed out printed announcements Tuesday to 15,000 students and faculty members. Neither gave his reasons for resigning nor his plans for the future. They refused further comment.

There was no mention of the Free Speech Movement that erupted on the campus late last year. But FEM leader Mario Savio said Tuesday night in San Francisco that he would be back in Berkeley to help hold again on campus if the university meant suppression of student political activity. Savio dropped out of the nine-campus statewide university in 1962. The 42-year-old Meyerson was appointed acting chancellor Jan. 2, after a month after a student strike at the administrative center ended with nearly 800 arrests.

The resignations, effective March 25 at the next meeting of the University Board of Regents in Berkeley, took some of the requests by surprise.

But Board Chairman Edward W. Carter of Los Angeles stated to add to a prepared statement or to say whether he was surprised.

"Kerr and Meyerson took the

Town Voters Spare House On Cape Cod

ORLEANS, Mass. (AP) — As the sun rose over the horizon of the Atlantic, 84-year-old Emma Augusta Rogers hoisted the American flag on a small pole and proclaimed: "I'm thankful I still own the house."

Miss Rogers' fort is the 130-year-old Cape Cod house in which she was born in 1881 and in which she has always lived.

It was threatened Monday night by the town's three-man Board of Selectmen who sought town meeting approval to raise the house and turn the two-acre property into a parking lot for the adjoining town beach.

One of the selectmen rose at the meeting to argue in favor of taking the property for $18,000. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff said he would support it and not one vote was raised in approval.

Miss Rogers' house is a two-story Cape Cod house with surrounding gardens and salt water marsh.

"I raise the flag only on holidays and very special occasions," she said. "I will sell the house if I have to, but I will not sell it for less than $18,000."

She added: "This house is one of the few three-quarter houses left on all Cape Cod. There is a window on one side of the front door and two windows on the other side of the door. That makes it a rare three-quarter house."

Miss Rogers, whose every body in town calls Emma Gable, said, "I'm thankful I still own the house and I will sell it for $18,000."

The house was built in 1881. Her father, a commercial fisherman and Civil War veteran, bought it in 1875 and lived in it until his death at the age of 91 in 1934.

Miss Rogers' mother died 40 years ago at the age of 69.

Miss Rogers has lived in the house alone since her father's death.

She still bakes bread and pies once a week in an old black iron kitchen stove and every day she stokes the coal-burning heat stove in the dining room.

"The water supply is by hand pump over the kitchen sink. Only the bathroom has running water."

The highlight of the event was the presentation of a Girl Scout statuette to Mrs. Elsie Robb, principal of the Wadsworth School. This was given in token of her deep interest and devotion to girl scouting. Mrs. Margaret Margolis, chairman of the program, made the presentation.

Mrs. Paul Adams, council representative for the Juliette Low Fund accepted donations from all the troops. This fund is used to further national and international girl scouting through better understanding.

Special guests were Mrs. Edna Munson Jr., district advisor; Mrs. Ariene Swanson, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Robert Cox, organizer and consultant; Mrs. Ralph Gordini, Executive consultant; and Mrs. Raymond Young, organizer for South Windsor.

A junior planning board assisted Mrs. Margarido with the arrangements.

Board members include two representatives from each troop who plan all inter-troop activities for the neighborhood.

Time Means Little To Saudia Arabians

RYDAD, Saudi Arabia (AP) — A woman kept a different time. Since the sun sets at different times from day to day and season to season, a man may realize that catapaults you into a maddening quicksand of about six different times.

The system under which Saudi Arabians set their watches is to have a dozen times often leads to confusion and missed appointments.

"Take Arabic time, for instance. Every day at sunset, the muzzin calls the faithful to prayer, everyone adjusts his watch to 12 o'clock. No one knows whether it is supposed to be midnight or noon, but it really makes no difference. No matter what the clock says, few people believe it is a new day until they see the morning sun.

It is about 850 miles between the kingdom's west and east coasts, with mountain ranges in between that makes for early bus. Practically every Be-essentially use Greenwich Mean Time plus 3 1/2 hours, give or take 15 minutes or so. The local airline is half an hour different all over the country, meaning a lot of passengers miss their planes.

You tell the hotel desk you want to catch the 7 o'clock plane next day and the man beams brightly back: "Ah, yes, the 7 o'clock plane that leaves two hours after sunrise."

Or you have made a late reservation of 11 and you give firm instructions not to be awakened before 9:30. So you are roused out at 4 in the morning.

This sort of thing got to be too much for a man named Higgins, who ran the local power station here a few years ago. One day the story goes, he assembled his staff early in the morning and laid down the law. "I've had enough of this," he said. "It is now 12 o'clock Higgins time, and from now on this station is going to run on Higgins time." And it has ever since.

Experienced residents have learned to cope with things by wearing a watch with two dials. One is for Arabic time and the other for any other time you care to use. They are sold in bazaars and are very popular.

Jazz Artist Angered by Selma Event

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Angered by police actions against marching Negroes in Alabama, jazz trumpeter Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong said today "they would beat Jesus if he was black and marched."

The Negro musician, 64, normally soft-spoken on racial issues, was highly upset upon arrival here on a stopover en route to a concert tour in Communist East Europe.

He said he was physically sick after watching television coverage of Sunday's police action to halt Negroes attempting to march from Selma to Montgomery, Ala., led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Armstrong, arriving by air from New York, appeared to have doubts that his country is the racial struggle up to now could be maintained.

"Maybe I'm not in the front line, but I support them with my donations," he told reporters.

"But maybe that is not enough now."

"My life is music. They would beat me on the mouth if I marched and without my mouth I would not be able to blow my horn."

Turning to Danish reporters with a tired, worried expression on his usually smiling face, Armstrong asked:

"Tell me, how is it possible that human beings treat each other in this way today. Hitler is dead and long time ago he has been shot. The anger of the veteran jazz musician seemed to surprise even his wife, Lucille.

Commenting on the Communist committee he will visit, Armstrong said that "iron curtains are something created by newspapers and politicians. Me, I play for the whole world."

Armstrong will play in Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Yugoslavia. The Soviet Union would not admit him.

February Snow At 8.5 Inches

The town experienced a snow accumulation of only 8.5 inches of snow during February, according to a report issued today by Highway Supt. Ernest Trebeck.

The snow amount, added to 9 inches during December and 29.8 inches that fell in January, brings the total accumulation to date, to 47 inches.

During the period Dec. 1, 1962 to March 31, 1964, the town experienced 61 inches of snow.

The February snow fell on only three days, four inches on the 2nd, one inch on the 15th, and 2.5 inches on the 22nd, none of which were weekend.

The December snow, according to a report issued today by Highway Supt. Ernest Trebeck, amounted to 9 inches on a Saturday and Sunday.

The highway department to date has removed 42,158 cubic yards of snow—1,100 from Main St. and 2,000 from other locations around town.

Flag Presented to Franklin Park

Two GOP Groups Receive Charters

Manchester's two young Republican clubs received their charters from the Connecticut Federation of Young Republicans last night.

Police Capt. John Potts said that neither the policeman nor the suspect was wounded.

Potts said police and the FBI were searching today for William Brown Jr., 20, Brown, he said, he wanted as a fugitive from justice. Police said he was an escapee from a North Carolina prison.

The two groups, known as the Manchester Youth Club and Manchester Republican Club, had been contending for a single charter for a local young Republican organization. The state department agreed last week to recognize two groups when it appeared the state could be brought together.

The two organizations will split the town's delegates to the Young GOP convention in Westport next week.

State Completes Traffic Surveys

As a prelude to the eventual possible installation of traffic lights, Police Chief James Resden has requested the State Traffic Commission (STC) to take traffic surveys of four intersections.

The highway division of the STC reports today that it has completed the studies and is in the process of analyzing its data. Upon completion, the studies will be discussed jointly by representatives of the highway division and Chief Resden, preparatory to a final recommendation to the STC as to whether or not to install traffic lights.

The four intersections are Cooper and W. Center, McKee and W. Center, Charter Oak and Main, and the five-way intersection at Broad and W. Center.

Of these intersections, only Arch and Pine one now has a traffic light. This intersection is being studied for a possible production of a pedestrian walk light or a delayed action light.

In January, a group of "Trustees" urged that something be done to alleviate the danger they say exists when their children cross Broad St. on their way to add from the Lincoln School.

With the present traffic light arrangement, there is a traffic going in or out of Broad St.

Town Leaders Meet Tonight On Industry

Representatives of a dozen town agencies will meet tonight with Francis J. Mahoney, chairman of the board of directors, to kick off a concerted town development drive.

The various representatives will constitute an ad hoc committee to encourage industrial and commercial growth and to coordinate the activities of the various town organizations concerned with development.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the Municipal Building hearing room.

Hospital Sues

WILLMANTIC (AP) — Windham Hospital is taking the town of Windham to court in an attempt to collect an unpaid $5,000 bill for care of a patient.

The hospital's suit was filed Tuesday in the Court of Common Pleas. It is designed to test the town's statute on the eligibility of meeting bills of persons not able to pay.

Hospital officials say they have been trying to meet with town officials for the past three years on the matter. Some talks have been held, they said, but nothing was accomplished.

First Selectman Ralph Crosswhite said the town has not had enough time to determine whether or all 18 patients are in the welfare category.

TRAFFIC DEATHS

HARTFORD (AP) — The State Motor Vehicle Department reported today the following comparison of traffic fatalities from Jan. 1 through midnight: 1964, 1965

Major Sewer Repair Called Urgent Need

Some of the sanitary trunk lines that carry sewage to the town's treatment plant off Olcott St. are "so grossly inadequate" that the town should plan to replace them as soon as possible.

If the new construction is undertaken in all five areas where "real need" exists, the combined cost could run as high as $663,500.

If only the three absolutely necessary projects are undertaken, it will cost about $419,000.

Those recommendations and cost estimates were presented by Richard Lombardi, an engineer and consultant.

Nichols Associates, consulting engineers.

In response, the directors will consider at their April meeting authorizing it to prepare detailed plans and specifications for some of the recommended sections of trunk sewer.

The project will take about four months to engineer and another month to advertise for bids.

If this timetable holds, the project before the voters at a referendum in late summer.

The cost of the work is not large as to require a bond issue to finance the construction.

The sewer department revenue. The project of bond would require no increase in the sewer department unit charge.

According to General Manager Richard Martin last night.

The three sections of trunk line to which highest priority is assigned by Lombardi are:

1. A section of 12-inch pipe in Center St. from about New St. to extension west to about Cooper St. and then turns south across private property to Hartford Rd. near Fairfield St.
2. A section of 10-inch pipe in Valley St. and through Green Springs Park, and shorter lengths of varying size pipe from Main St. to a point east of Summit St.
3. An inverted siphon—a device for carrying sewage under a brook or other obstacle—in this area has become clogged because of the characteristic of the sewage flow. There is fortunately a second

These three sections were assigned highest priority by Lombardi, and seemed to include the sewer along the south branch of Bigelow Brook from Dixie Rd. to Mt. Middle Pike, at View St., at about 177-180, and the sewer from View St. to Brookfield St., at about 166-168.

In addition, Lombardi said, the town would eventually have to enlarge a shorter section of trunk line that extends from Hartford Rd. across open land to Olcott St. and the treatment plant. It is judged inadequate to carry future peak flows, particularly when the proposed Kenney St. sewer is built. The sewer is built, particularly when the proposed Kenney St. sewer is built. The sewer is built, particularly when the proposed Kenney St. sewer is built.

The Anderson-Nichols report and the town's present sewer problem will be the subject of a series of articles in "The Herald."

Potential Judges To Be Screened

Connecticut True 'Disneyland' For Famous Mystery Writer

By JAMES E. PETERSEN

BRISTOL (AP) — A ghost popped up one day last fall in a car on the College Highway. Before it vanished, it furnished the beginnings of a book.

The skeleton of this nameless novel is now taking shape on the typewriter of Doris Miles Disney of Plainville. The book will be her 34th.

The talented Mrs. Disney, a widow in her thirties, has been turning out first rate mystery novels for two decades. Her books are regularly featured by Doubleday's "Crime Club," appear frequently on book club lists and have been serialized in leading newspapers. Adaptations have been televised—"Trick or Treat" and "Heavy Heavy Hangar"—appeared on the screen—"Straw Man"—and the books have been translated into half a dozen foreign languages.

But to get back to the ghost... It projected itself into a conversation between Mrs. Disney and her daughter, Liz, as the two drove to Southern Connecticut State College, where Liz was to register for her senior year. Liz made a remark about liking ghosts, the Plainville writer recalls, "and that was the start of it."

Once registration was out of the way, the Disney's swung around and headed north toward Mooshead Lake in Maine and a vacation.

The ghost dominated the conversation well up into Maine. By the time Snowshoe was reached, it was late, mother and daughter were tired and the plot for a book had come to a close.

"And," adds Mrs. Disney, "we had thoroughly scared ourselves."

The new book, a romantic novel, will be a departure from the tried and true Disney mystery novel which has been so successful over the years.

From the first—"A Compound For Death"—to the most recent—"The Departure Of Mr. Gaudette"—the author has been more concerned with "why" than "who."

"Whydunnit," one fan calls them.

Her books reveal Mrs. Disney's interest in psychology and her penchant for tidying up loose ends.

Disneyland is generally Connecticut. "This is hardly surprising since Mrs. Disney has spent most of her life in central Connecticut, calling Glastonbury, Farmington, Bristol and Plainville home at one time or another.

The people in Disneyland are generally upper middle class, the kind who prefer Scotch to beer.

When they resort to murder, they do it with a minimum of gore.

Yet to show up in Disneyland is either a politician or historical figure despite the fact that Mrs. Disney has an intense interest in both areas.

A Democrat of long standing, she is a member of the Plainville Democratic Town Committee and is currently chairman of the Charter Revision Committee in her home town.

Civil War fans in the Hartford area know her as a member of the Civil War Round Table and an astute student of the period.

Mrs. Disney's writing career began somewhat by accident. Amused by a bad mystery book, she set out to write a better one.

Seven years later, after revision and a long stay on the shelf, "Compound For Murder" was published.

The Plainville author is a stickler for detail, but once a book is shipped off to the publisher, she and it go separate ways.

"I rarely read them," she says, "because if I did, it would be with pen in hand wanting change that which is irrevocable."

Now in the publisher's hands is "Shadow Of A Man," a study of a psychopath, and in some respects a departure from the usual Disney mystery.

Even farther afield will be the new romantic novel, Mrs. Disney is looking forward to working on it because it will offer more room for characterization.

And the ghost that began it all? It has become a victim of plot revision, fading away as silently as it came.

Four Manchester residents are on the academic honors list at Central Connecticut State College, New Britain, for the fall semester.

Honor students are Miss Nola J. Fornan of 68 Benton St., a senior elementary education major; Miss Bernadette M. Parsick of 77 North St., a junior mathematics major; and Miss Carol A. Sibirin of 46 Fairfield St., a senior elementary education major.

Lonely Isle, Leggy Gals Only 'Bugged' Dick Kern

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — "He said, 'My school marks have always been mediocre, to put it mildly.'"

But watching those spiders all during January, something happened. At first I got terribly restless just sitting, waiting for some black spot in a web to do something interesting. Then I got absorbed, and finally, fascinated."

Kern, who estimated he spent about six hours a day watching and taking pictures, said the 60-page paper he submitted to his faculty adviser represented his first success in handling a long, scholarly paper. The experience on which the paper was based, he said, also gave him his first understanding of what intellectual excitement could mean.

Kern, 20, a junior at Colgate University, spent the month of January on Key Biscayne off the Florida coast, studying the habits of spiders, "the only insects that really frighten" him.

A biology major, he was among students who took part in a special studies program. Designed to provide the opportunity to work independently in an area of the student's own choice, free from classroom routine and conflicting demands of a number of courses.

Kern did not limit his study to the female of the species, but it was from the females that he learned most.

"I'd always had trouble organizing my time, or settling down to any one assignment,"

Bolton Ball Meeting First Heard Idea for Recreation Panel

First Selectman Richard Morris explained yesterday that his idea of appointing three park and recreation commissioners originated at a meeting called last week to set up the town's baseball program. Morris explained that he made the suggestion at the baseball meeting because of the park and recreation department in recent years, delegating responsibility for individual athletic programs to volunteers. These include swimming, skiing and horse shoe pitching, as well as the other two selectmen and that a commission would not be formed without having someone ask for it.

Critic Says U.S. Schools Spread Thin

By G. E. HODENFIELD
CHICAGO (AP)—American colleges and universities are spreading thin, a noted educator said today.

Dr. Logan Wilson, president of the 20th National Conference on Higher Education, said today that he is eliminating poverty, reducing unemployment, improving morals, or getting a man on the moon, institutions are being drawn into a multitude of public concerns.

Wilson, in a prepared address to the 20th National Conference on Higher Education, added: "Whether it be eliminating poverty, reducing unemployment, improving morals, or getting a man on the moon, institutions are being drawn into a multitude of public concerns."

Wilson said higher education should not "engage in the full-time endeavor of trying to be all things to all men."

There are some things, he said, that colleges and universities just can't do. They can't transform native ability into any kind of genius, he said.

They can't substitute for families, neighborhoods and churches in reconstructing society, he said.

They can't substitute for the knowledge factories geared solely to increasing human productivity and improving standards of material living, he said.

Yale Grad Top Leftist In Britain

LONDON (AP)—Of all the turbulent pacifists ranged on Friday's London Daily Worker, the one who has received the most attention is a Yale graduate, a noted leftist, who is more vocal than most.

Wilson, in a prepared address to the 20th National Conference on Higher Education, added: "Whether it be eliminating poverty, reducing unemployment, improving morals, or getting a man on the moon, institutions are being drawn into a multitude of public concerns."

Dental Problems Spur Move To Restore Fluoridation

ANTIGO, Wis. (AP)—The city fathers of Antigo, who voters four years ago ended fluoridation of the water supply, decided Tuesday night to announce they will restore fluoridation.

Wilson, in a prepared address to the 20th National Conference on Higher Education, added: "Whether it be eliminating poverty, reducing unemployment, improving morals, or getting a man on the moon, institutions are being drawn into a multitude of public concerns."

Dressen Stricken at Camp

Swift Leads Tigers, Holdout List Cut

NEW YORK (AP)—The news of Charlie Dressen's heart ailment rocked baseball's spring camps today, overshadowing a string of lesser mishaps at major league bases in Florida and Arizona.

Dressen, 46-year-old manager of the Detroit Tigers and a veteran of 45 seasons as player-coach and pitcher, is hospitalized at Santa Monica, Calif. He flew there Monday after suffering a minor heart attack at the Tiger's Lakeland, Fla., camp.

A hospital spokesman said Dressen should be able to rejoin the club in four to six weeks with complete recovery anticipated in about three months. Coach Bob Swift will run the team during the manager's absence.

Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell said Dressen suffered pains in his chest and arms Sunday night.

Dressen is the second American League manager to suffer a heart attack during spring training in two years. Cleveland pitcher Birdie Tobeatis was felled by a coronary last April 1. Advised by doctors to forget about managing again, Tobeatis, 35, made a quick recovery and returned to the mound in July. A month he received the 1964 Heart of the Year award.

Injuries and illness also hit the Chicago White Sox, Cincinnati Reds and Washington Senators Tuesday.

Right-hander Joe Gibson, making his White Sox debut in an intra-squad game, was struck by a line drive, which forced him to leave the game with a broken wrist that will sideline him for six weeks.

He sat out the 1964 season after being injured in an auto accident while with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Cincinnati may lose Bill McCool, the 29-year-old left-hander who bolstered the Reds relief

Lemy Green Making Bid With Bosox

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The training season takes a serious step forward for the Boston Red Sox today when they play their first intrasquad game.

On the firing line for the initial game will be Ray Richey, relief ace Dick Radatz, and rookie pitchers Mike Jackson and Al Lyle.

One man in the thick of the scramble this season is 27-year-old Lemy Green, who is out of the bullpen after being in the pen for two years.

Green has played with Baltimore, Washington, Minnesota and Los Angeles. Last year, playing with three different teams, he batted only .211.

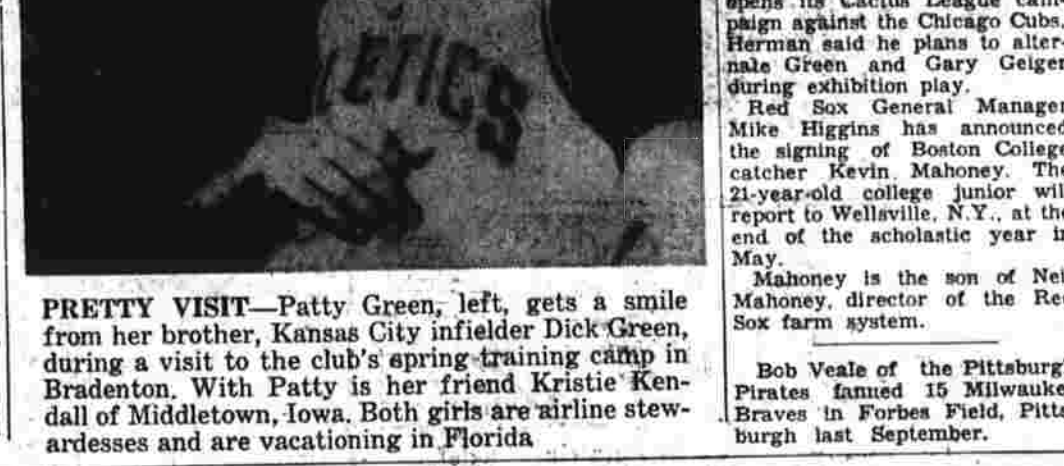

Manager Billy Herman said he will start Green in center field Saturday when Boston opens its Cactus League campaign against the Chicago Cubs. Herman said he plans to alternate Green and Gary Geiger during exhibition play.

Red Sox General Manager Mike Higgins has announced the signing of Boston College catcher Kevin Mahoney. The 23-year-old college junior will report to Wrentham, N.Y., at the end of the school year in May.

Mahoney is the son of Neil Mahoney, director of the Red Sox farm system.

Bob Veale of the Pittsburgh Pirates formed 15 Milwaukee Braves in Forbes Field, Pittsburgh last September.

U.S. Royal introduces the rain tire

On a wet curve, you'll hold the road 50% better than you could when your car was brand new.

You'll have even better control in passing or in cornering than you had when your car was brand new.

Other side benefits: Less wear when you drive down a straight road at 70 or 80. Practically no "trolley tracking" when you ride in and out of an expansion strip on the highway. About 10% longer wear than our 1964 first-line tire.

The ride: So quiet and smooth, it's original equipment on many '65's.

The price of the rain tire is as reassuring as the tire itself: about the same price as any other leading maker's first-line tire.

The official name of the rain tire is the "U.S. Royal Laredo." None genuine without.

So don't give us a hard time if the tire we bring out says Laredo. Give us a hard time if it doesn't.

On a wet curve, you'll hold the road 50% better than you could when your car was brand new.

On a wet, slippery road: 30% shorter stops.

With a set of rain tires on your car, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-slicked road than you could when your car was brand new.

(That's how much difference there is, on a wet road, between the rain tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '63 or '62 car. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement will be even more dramatic.)

On a wet road, you'll have 20% better traction than you had when your car was brand new.

Figures can't tell you, though, what it feels like to drive on rain tires.

Your car will handle in the rain. Like it never handled before. Sure of itself. More responsive. Making contact with a good, solid truck road that each rain tire has squeaked dry.

But what's it like when the sun comes out?

We know you'd ask that. Because we're glad you did. Because It's sure-footed on a wet road, imagine the control you'll have on a dry road.

The Rain Tire (U.S. Royal Laredo) starts as low as $23.95

Stretching Things—Infielder Woody Woodward of the Milwaukee Braves (top) and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees loosen up after a winter of idleness with stretching exercises. Mantle's knees, of course, are still a big question mark.

Bauer Joins Lopez in Song 'The Yanks Can Be Beaten'

MIAMI, Fla. (NEA)—Foster and getting those big hits, years Alphonso Lopez of the Cleveland and then the Chicago White Sox was a voice in the wilderness of the Yankees can be beaten." This spring all American League managers have joined the fullblow.

Why? The consensus is that the New York outfit has come back to the field.

"For one thing," said Al Lopez, who managed the Sox in 1964, "the aura of invincibility has been removed. It is no secret that for 15 years most managers conceded the pennant to the Yankees before the season started. They said so themselves."

"I'm picking Baltimore because I believe we are now the best club," said Hank Bauer, after the Orioles' workout at Miami Stadium. "Neither the White Sox nor the Orioles could have come much closer without winning last season. Both clubs should have won, as a matter of fact."

Always Big Guy "The Yankees always had the big guy, two of them in Lou Gehrig, Joe Judge, Babe Ruth in 1920, the Chicago pitcher even more effective than it was in 1964 when it was the lightest in the league. Roman's right-hand batting punch also will tend to keep the Yankees' pitchers who picked on last season away. Having Moon Brown's games he posted in another strong card in that respect."

There is considerable evidence that the other clubs no longer will be on their way to being chased out of the park by the Yankees before a shot is fired.

Ram Rifles Score 918-915 Victory Over Middletown

Warming up for the state finals Friday, the Rockville High Rifle team topped Middletown High 918-915, Tuesday afternoon at the Rockville Armory. It was the first win over Middletown since the sport was introduced to Rockville, three years ago.

Led by Bob Murphy's solid 180, Coach Walter Neff's squad brought its record to 14 wins and three losses.

Middletown (815): Ed Dandala 180, Duane Chapman 184, Richard Hunt 183, Mike Travers 181, Robert Rizzo 181.

Other Rockville scores: Dave Kelly 170, Al Moore 170, Doug Daugherty 171, Bob Bartl 170 and Charles Krut 171.

Crusaders Name Backfield Coach

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Harry J. Shay, head coach at the University of Rhode Island, was named backfield coach at Holy Cross today by head football coach Al Macauley.

Shay will assume his new duties April 1.

Although he was a physical education major, Shay, who played football for the Fighting Irish, concentrating instead on baseball and basketball.

However, he played football in the first school coaching assignment was Notre Dame High School of Niles, Ill. He was assistant coach at Southern Illinois from 1958 to 1962.

Stan Williams can't bounce back.

There are no changes of major importance, except possibly a change or two in the bullpen order. I say again that this has to be explored.

With such fine players as Tommy Tresh, Elston Howard, Bobby Richardson, Steve Garber, Joe Mauer, Clete Boyer, Phil Lina and Hector Lopez, this should be a team in the best traditions of the club.

Pedro Gonzalez is an extraordinary utility man. Archie Moore should hit. Duke Carmel had 35 homers and drove in 90 runs for Buffalo. He is at home at first base and in the outfield.

These catches are the best available. Johnny Blanchard is an able replacement for Howard. We have three first-year bonus players, only one of whom has been in the club. The subject to draft. None of them is a catcher, which complicates things.

The bonus boys are Gil Hodges, a big catcher who has had 2.31 earned run average with our Fort Lauderdale team in the Florida State League, and outfielders Bobby Murree and Tom MacCormack.

Murree batted 365 for Johnson City, Tenn., of the Appalachian League. MacCormack hit 30 home runs and batted in 49 runs for the same club. Richmond Products.

From Richmond for trials come catcher Mike Gibbs, second baseman Horace Clarke, pitcher Estacio Lopez and pitcher Jim Bremmanna and Tom McKeon. Billy Madden up from the Southern League, is another catching prospect.

Everywhere it is high on Chat Trail, a shortstop who spent last year in the Green Bay, Wis., Southern League. He is a Carolina League.

It is difficult for a recruit to make a championship club, but successful winners always look for one who might.

Successful Foul Tries Margin Against South Catholic in Class B Tilt Rockville Advances with 74-70 Loop Win

By PETE ZANARDI

Foul line conversions in the last half minute of play by Al Putz and Ken Kellner gave Rockville High margin enough for a 74-70 CIAC Class B Tournament victory over 15th ranked South Catholic High last night at East Catholic. Joe Van Oudenhoove added to the excitement by setting a new season scoring mark for the Rams, as over 1,300 fans crammed into the gym to see Rockville win its 15th game in 21 starts. South ends the season with a 12-9 record.

The Rebels fought back with a 12-23-minute disadvantage and led 69-62 with five minutes to go. Rockville made a 10-0 run to 70-70 with 27 seconds showing on Kellner's two one-pointers. Twelve seconds later Putz stepped to the strip and put Rockville ahead 74-70.

To prove it was no fluke, Kellner added two more to end the contest.

Site of Friday night's quarterfinal game between Rockville and top-seeded South Catholic of Danbury was held at East Catholic. Adult tickets were $2.00 for the game. The game was broadcast on radio by WABC.

Rockville's victory was a 74-70 loop win. The Rebels fought back with a 12-23-minute disadvantage and led 69-62 with five minutes to go. Rockville made a 10-0 run to 70-70 with 27 seconds showing on Kellner's two one-pointers. Twelve seconds later Putz stepped to the strip and put Rockville ahead 74-70.

Top-Rated Michigan Ready for First Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan's top-ranked Wolverines go against the top-ranked Florida State Seminoles in the first round of the NCAA basketball tournament on Friday night in their first test since the season-opening tournament.

The pairing was determined by a computer program that ranked Michigan 66.45 in the first round of the tournament.

Michigan, 21-3, collected 21 wins in 21 games, including a 79-60 victory over Duke in the final game of the season.

The Wolverines, although unranked in the pre-season poll, are expected to play against Duke in the first round of the tournament.

Michigan's success is attributed to its strong defense and rebounding.

Strickland to Participate In Carolina Fiddler's Test

Manchester's Number 1 Old-time Fiddler, Raymond A. Strickland of 20 Moore St., will participate in the 41st annual Musical Spectacular of the Old Time Fiddlers' Convention April 16-17 in Union Grove, N.C.

Strickland, who finished high among last June's contestants at the Weber, Idaho, Old Time Fiddlers' Contest, will compete in North Carolina in the group category with two area pillars. He is presently deciding on which men will accompany him.

The Union Grove competition was organized in 1924, and is three years older than the nationally known Grand Old Opry. Last year, 630 contestants, forming 132 bands from 22 states, participated and drew over 7,000 spectators.

Strickland, who finished high among last June's contestants at the Weber, Idaho, Old Time Fiddlers' Contest, will compete in North Carolina in the group category with two area pillars. He is presently deciding on which men will accompany him.
