We are not certain our readers will deduce, for themselves, the moral from these two items in the news—two items that do happen to resemble each other.

But it used to be that if anybody was going to read anybody else's news, it was going to be a newspaper. It was going to be a newspaper, it was going to be a newspaper.

Too Much Stress On Medals?
Those cold war philosophers who, from time to time, have exhorted us to watch how much the American and Russian ways of life might be approaching one another never, one can be sure, had in mind some of the similarities which have been coming into view.

Big Butter-And-Egg Year Too
Earlier in the season, we concluded that this was particularly the summer of vernal, the somewhat mystical blue-purple cloud which dominated so thoroughly summer pastures. And it proved that vernal was a plant of many faceted properties, of interest to many people.

Just One More Day Gone By and One More Win for Us'—Mele Twins Closing In on First A Pennant

BRISTOL (AP)—The Minnesota Twins are in on their first American League pennant, but they're not ready to start counting their World Series ticket.

"The club is relaxed and playing good ball, but we can't let up," said manager Sam Mele. "We've got to keep on winning until we've won the pennant."

Mele said he doesn't believe in counting the pennant, but he does believe in winning. "We've got to keep on winning until we've won the pennant," he said.

PETE ROSE'S IMPROVEMENT AS A HITTER IS BEING NOTICED BY THE TOP OF THE LEAGUE.

Koufax No Match for Drysdale In Homer Hitting Department

NEW YORK (AP)—If there's one pitcher Sandy Koufax can't match, it's teammate Don Drysdale.

Drysdale followed Koufax' record-breaking fourth no-hitter with a second-year feat of his own Friday night, hitting his seventh homer, a double, and the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 victory over Houston.

Drysdale gave the Dodgers a 2-0 lead in the third inning when he tagged a Robin Roberts pitch over the left field pavilion in Dodger Stadium, tying the National League record for most homers by a pitcher in one season.

Drysdale, who hit seven homers in 1964 and shares the record with Tom Seaver, also closed in on a 20-homer season by gaining his 19th triumph.

Meanwhile, San Francisco's Willie Mays became the first player in N.L. history to score 100 runs for 12 consecutive seasons when he came home in the sixth inning of the league-leading Giants' 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Mays scored run No. 100 on a pinch-hit grand slam homer by Willie McCovey that snuffed a 3-1 tie and protected the Giants' lead in the eighth inning.

Cincinnati dropped in third place, 1 1/2 back after a 7-0 loss to Pittsburgh and fourth-place Milwaukee remained 2 1/2 behind.

New Record

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League set a season attendance record as 100,000 fans packed the stadium for the fourth consecutive season Friday night, soaring past the 12 million mark set by the Braves in 1964.

A turnout of 114,475 for five games brought the total attendance for the season to 153,716. The 1964 record was 100,000.

The 12 million mark, however, was not reached until the eighth game of the season. There are three weeks remaining in this one.

Three-Team, Four-Game Losing Streak

Clinton in Own Class

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe the Indians would like to give Lou Clinton back.

Clinton, playing with his third American League team in five days, led the Cleveland Indians to a 2-0 win over the Detroit Tigers Friday night and helped the Indians drop a 2-0 defeat in the final three innings of a 10th victory in 16 decisions.

"I've been out of the bullpen for the Red Sox and the Yankees," Clinton said. "I'm glad to be back in the majors. I'm going to try to win as many games as I can."

New Twins Started to Run And May Run Right to Flag

NEW YORK (NEA)—It is his third season around third and second base with the winning Yankees.

Mele estimates that the Yankees will have scored from second base four times this season, more than any other team.

"I think it is important to the club," said Mele. "I know some players are saying they always respect the home run, but I know damn well I mean business. And the fine difference between a home run and a double is that the home run is a home run and the double is a double."

Stafford Racing Set for Sunday

Non Narducci of East Haddam, who saw his chances of victory slip away when his car was struck from the rear last week, heads the field of entries in tonight's highly anticipated race which is getting underway at the Stafford Springs race track.

First event at the half-mile dirt oval will be at 7:15 o'clock.

John G. Haddam, who had a feature earlier in the season, was in contention when his car was hit and while he got it back under control, he lost the opportunity to take over the lead.

AFL Opens Sixth Year On Weekend

NEW YORK (AP)—San Diego and Boston will unveil pro football's biggest combination, more out of necessity than by design, as the American Football League opens its sixth season with two-game programs tonight and Sunday afternoon.

While the rival National League runs through its last week of exhibitions, the AFL gets a one-week jump at regular season action when Buffalo opens at Boston, and Denver at San Diego tonight. Sunday's program shows Kansas City at Oakland and New York at Houston.

The AFL's first exhibition schedule has just one game, untested Minnesota vs. the New York Giants at New York, scheduled this afternoon. The rest are tonight and Sunday afternoon.

Baltimore plays Philadelphia at Harney, Pa., St. Louis is at Green Bay, Cleveland takes on Pittsburgh at Akron, and Oakland plays Dallas at Tulsa, Okla., tonight.

Youngsters Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—The town of Windsor, Conn., is the first in the state to have a youth council. The council, which is made up of young people, is headed by a young man named Jim Allison, a 12th grade student at Windsor High School.

The council's first job is to help the town's youth center, which is being built by the town. The council will also be responsible for the town's youth center, which is being built by the town.

Off the Cuff

Manchester's Tom Kelly is in a hot spot. He is charged with the murder of a young woman named Linda. Kelly is a 23-year-old man who lives in Manchester. He is charged with the murder of Linda, who was 19 years old when she was killed. Kelly is accused of shooting Linda in the back of the head with a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver. JOINS PIONEER
John W. Stone has joined Pioneer Aerodynamic Systems, Inc. as engineering manager, a new post, and will be responsible for the coordination and administration of the company's engineering and related activities. It is announced today by Michael G. Kagan, President of Pioneer. The appointment has been made according to Kagan, to facilitate the expansion of Pioneer's many corporate endeavors, particularly in its engineering department.

Stone was most recently employed by Technology, Inc., doing performance studies of large ribbon cluster parachutes. For the past 20 years he has been in the parachute and recovery systems field, applying his aerodynamic and dynamic knowledge and training to design and research for several companies and government agencies in the U.S. and England—among them:

Northrup-Ventura, Coleman Engineering, the Aerodynamic Section of Space Recovery Systems, Irving Air Chute Company and the Royal Aircraft Establishment.

With the British Royal Air Force in the technical (engineering) branch from 1943 to 1951 he served as a Flight Lieutenant (captain) in several capacities primarily concerned with parachute technology and development. He has a bachelor of arts in mechanical sciences (honors), specializing in aeronautics, fluid mechanics, and civil structures, and a master of arts, both from Cambridge University, England.

JOINS STUDIO
Mrs. Karen W. Pearl of 12 Pearl St., niece of Fred Werner has joined her uncle on the staff of Werner's Little Music Shoppe and Studio, 875 Main St., as a piano and voice instructor.

Mrs. Pearl is presently serving as organist-choir director of

The Fuller Brush Co. has a display in the lobby of the Savings Bank of Manchester. Articles sold by salesmen are shown. Future displays will feature Ka-Klar and Pioneer Parachute. William May and Bruce Noble, bank officials, are in charge of the bank's display program. The program is set up to feature area industries.

Charles E. Kelly of 66 Walnut St., newly elected president of the Hartford chapter of the American Production and Inventory Control Society, will preside at the organization's first fall meeting next Tuesday. It will be held jointly with the Naugatuck Valley Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers. The combined membership of the two chapters is almost 200.

DIAL REPAIR SERVICE
Dial Indicator Repair is the trade name taken earlier this summer by Lorin Perry for the new business he has set up. Perry repairs, rebuilds, resets, and re-calibrates all types of dial indicators and precision measuring instruments. The instruments are used in the aircraft industry and other industries which need to measure parts up to millions of an inch. The instruments measure thickness, distance and tolerances of machine parts.

Perry claims the main advantage of his service over factory repair is time. He has repaired indicators in two to three days. He says it takes at least three weeks for a factory.

Perry and his wife, formerly Mary Glode of Manchester, live at 25G Congress St. The service is presently located at 324 Church St. but larger quarters are planned for the future.

Ground breaking for the Burr Corners shopping center in Buckland will be early in October according to Charles Schrier, one of the developers. Work was to begin this September but Calder wanted 96,000 square feet of floor space for its store instead of 75,000 feet. Plans had to be changed by the architect and this took the added time, Schrier said.

Donald F. Freeman was rewarded with a wrist watch by the East Hartford Aircraft Federal Credit Union recently for service for the past 25 years. He served with distinction in WWII and the Korean War, but has served the Union while a civilian. He is now assistant treasurer. He lives at 76 Main St., Tauberville with his wife and two children.

Connecticut Mutual Savings Banks will hold their annual fall sales conference on savings life insurance this coming week-end, Sept. 10-11, at Wake Robin Inn, Lakeville, Conn. ZBA to Hear 13 Requests

The Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA), when it meets Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room, will consider 13 requests, 10 for variances, and three for extensions for variances previously granted.

Heading the variance requests is one from Case Bros., for permission to add 2,100 square feet to a 9,500 square foot building for which a variance was granted on Aug. 25.

The 11,600 addition, to be constructed on the west side of Glen Rd., in Industrial Zone, would be closer to the street line than regulations permit. The proposed addition would fill what company spokesmen call, "a crying need for expansion."

Other variance requests are from:

1. The Town of Manchester, to erect a 3 by 4 foot, free-standing ground sign in front of the Community "Y" at 79 N. Main St., in Residence Zone A. The "Y" is used as a town recreation center and the proposed sign would read "Recreation Center and YMCA, Manchester, Conn."

2. Emanuel Solimene, to erect an 18-foot-high, free-standing, illuminated ground sign at 367 Oakland St., in Residence Zone A. The proposed sign, extending out 6 feet, would be closer to the street line than regulations permit.

3. Savings Bank of Manchester, to erect a free-standing, illuminated ground sign on the north side of New Bolton Rd., 675 feet west of the Bolton Town line, and in Residence Zone AA.

4. John B. DeQuattro, to erect a free-standing, illuminated ground sign at the northwest corner of the property at 415 Main St., in Business Zone III. The proposed sign would be closer to the street line than regulations permit.

5. Tidewater Oil Co., to erect an additional bay and install an additional 4,000-gallon storage tank at 115-119 Center St., in Business Zone II. The proposed additions would be less than the 200 feet requirement from a public park (Center Park).

6. John and Evelyn Gregan, to add three feet to a non-conforming seven-foot shed on lot 17 on Goodwin St. in Residence Zone A. They propose to change the shed, located on a lot separate from the principal building, into a garage.

7. Edward R. Wait, to build an addition to his house at 36 McCabe St., in Residence Zone B, which will be closer to the street line than regulations permit. Wait proposes to build within 18 feet of the streetline, two feet less than required.

8. Henry Krajewski, to diminish to six feet the west side of his property at 78 and 80 Birch St., in Business Zone II. Regulations require a 10 foot side line. Krajewski proposes to sell four feet of his existing 10 foot sideline to the owner of a house to the rear of his property. This person, in turn, proposes to construct a driveway from the street to the interior dwelling.

9. James Szarek, to erect an attached garage at 6 Ever-Elm Terr., in Industrial Zone, which will be closer to the sideline than regulations permit. He proposes to build five feet from the sideline, against a requirement of 10 feet.

Requesting extensions are:

1. Charles E. Ricks of 49 Elm Terr., in Industrial Zone. On May 17, Ricks received permission from the ZBA to convert his one-family dwelling to a two-family dwelling.

He is requesting an extension to Aug. 1, 1966 of a 120-day limitation for starting construction at the Elm Terr. location.

2. Alexander Jarvis for permission to continue a free-standing ground sign at Charter Oak St. and Kane Dr., in Residence Zone B.

3. Edward Wilson, for permission to continue a free-standing ground sign at 185 Main St., in Residence Zone C.

Pediatrician

Dr. David J. LeTourneau has opened an office at 29 Haynes St. for the practice of pediatrics. He served his residency in pediatrics at Children's Hospital, San Francisco, Calif., from July 1963 to June 1965.

A 1960 graduate of Meriden High School, Dr. LeTourneau graduated from Wesleyan University in 1964 and Tufts University School of Medicine in 1969.

He served his internship at University of Louisville (Ky.) Hospital in 1969-60, and was at the U.S. Naval School of Aviation Medicine, Pensacola, Fla., from July to December 1960 when he was designated a flight surgeon and served with Carrier Air Group 15 and VF-151 on the USS Coral Sea from January 1961 through June 1963.

He and his wife, the former Margery Ann Foye of Boston, Mass., have two sons, Philippe David, 2, and Peter Rober, 10 months.

IRON FIREMAN

CUSTOM Mark II OIL FURNACE OR BOILER

Exclusive YohMetric Combustion gives an instant, clean flame which burns at top efficiency—no smoke or soot... no waste of fuel. Heat is "locked" in the furnace between firing periods and not wasted up the chimney. Thousands of owners report exceptional oil savings. No soot means that the cause of about 90% of service calls is also eliminated. Phone us, or come in—we'll demonstrate.

Old Friends In New Roles This Season

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When television's new season starts next week, a lot of old friends will be back in new roles.

June Lockhart, after all those years of feeding "Lassie" and playing an understanding farm housewife, will return, again playing a housewife but this time one who is spaceship-wrecked on an unknown planet in "Lost in Space."

A lot of private and public eyes will have changed jobs. Efrem Zimbalist Jr., late of "77 Sunset Strip," becomes a senior agent of "The FBI." His erstwhile partner in solving crimes, Roger Smith, joins the Navy in "Mr. Roberts." Robert Conrad, once a "Hawaiian Eye" shamus, becomes a post-Civil War secret agent in "The Wild, Wild West."

Ben Gazzara, the detective of "Arrest and Trial," turns lawyer — and a man dying of an unidentified disease — in "Run for Your Life."

Barbara Stanwyck, who had an Emmy-winning anthology series several seasons back, returns as head of a family in a Western called "The Big Valley."

Debbie Watson, who last season played a teen-ager in a comedy called "Karen," will play a teen-ager this season in a comedy called "Tammy." John Forsythe, who had only one teen-ager to cope with in "Bachelor Father," will supervise a whole school of them this season in "The John Forsythe Show."

Don Porter, who played Ann Sothern's boss through two series, will be the father of one teen-ager in something called "Gidget" while Miss Sothern will be heard but not seen as the voice of a 1928 automobile in a comedy-fantasy called "My Mother the Car."

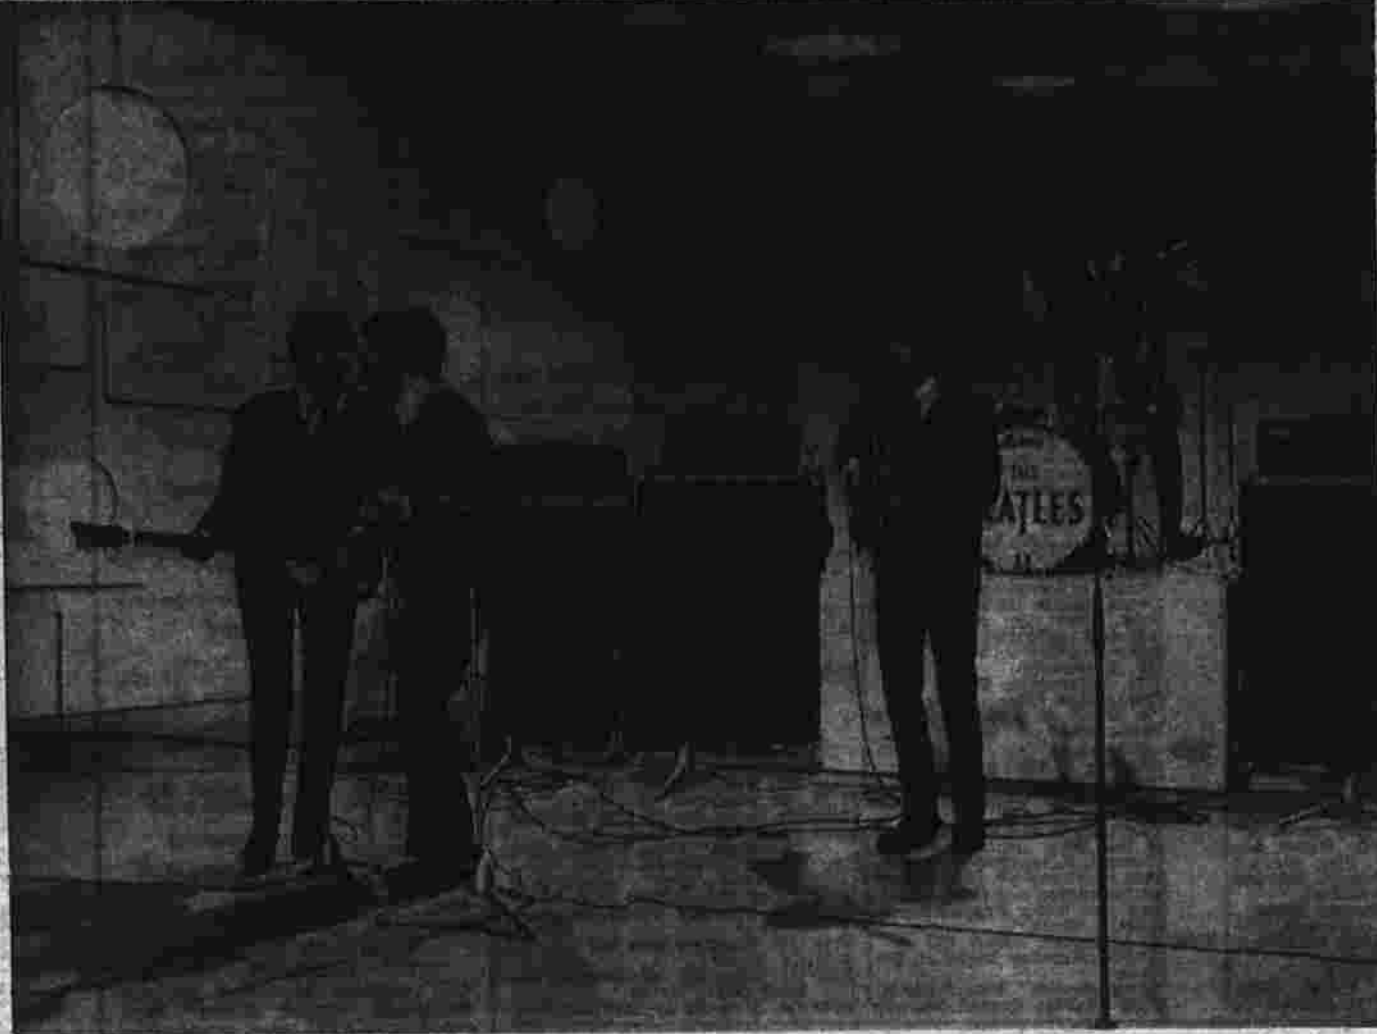

Robert Horton, who rode off our screens as a scout in "Wagon Train," will ride back on as "The Man Called Shenandoah." Neville Brand, who used to be wicked Frank Nitti in "The Untouchables," will be a good Texas Ranger in "Laredo."

Edmond O'Brien, whose last television effort was "Sam Benedict," in which he played a bustling San Francisco lawyer, Lloyd Bridges, who had a short-lived anthology series but is more closely associated with "Sea Hunt" and deep ocean diving, will be seen on a horse in "The Loner," another of the new Westerns.

Don Adams, who played a bumbling hotel detective in last season's "Bill Dana Show," will reappear as a bumbling secret agent in this season's "Get Smart." His boss of last season, Jonathan Harris, who was the hotel manager, will be a scientist in the employ of a foreign power, in the science-fiction "Lost in Space."

Paul Burke, once a brave, dedicated detective in "Naked City," comes back as a brave, dedicated Air Force colonel in "12 O'clock High."

It may be a bit confusing for a while, but after a month or so most of us will have forgotten the former identities of the stars.

Ed Sullivan launches his 18th television season with the Beatles tomorrow night. They taped the sequence during their U.S. tour that left in its wake screaming and swooning girls.

Farewell to That Summer Stuff

Most disappointing show of the summer was CBS' highly touted "It's What's Happening, Baby," the musical variety program that was supposed to inspire school dropouts to drop in again.

The principal disaster of the period was the appearance of Frank Sinatra, along with Sammy Davis Jr. on NBC's "Tonight Show" while Joey Bishop was taking over the host chores. The inside jokes which few in the audience understood, Davis' wild foot-stomping at Sinatra's mildest stab at humor, plus rudeness shown nervous guest Sally Ann Howes made for embarrassed and boring viewing.

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's new season looms ahead, but before the summer season disappears Saturday night, a look backward seems in order. With few exceptions, the network hot weather fare offered little stimulating entertainment. CBS' "Secret Agent," a British import in the tongue-in-cheek James Bond manner, proved a rollicking adventure series.

Art Linkletter's Hollywood edition of "Talent Scouts" — also on CBS — presented some new young talent and ran at a relaxed pace, while Carl Reiner's "Celebrity Game" proved an oasis in a desert of reruns.

Miss America Pageant Tonight

The finals of the "Miss America Pageant" will be telecast tonight on CBS from 10 p.m. to midnight. Bert Parks will be the master of ceremonies. Bea Myerson will be commentator.

Ann Francis stars in the new ABC series, "Honey West," starting Friday 9-9:30.

The Vampire's Car

NEW YORK (AP) — Yvonne De Carlo, the lady vampire with the Theda Bara make-up who is such a loving wife to Herman of CBS' "The Munsters," recently took delivery on a new Jaguar sedan — gleaming black, low slung, discreetly expensive-looking.

Before she put key in the ignition, however, it was sent to a custom bodymaker, who promptly added silver rails in a coffin-handle motif around the roof, installed a bat insignia on the front, substituted hub caps that look like spider webs, and painted a realistic blood-red line around the body.

Miss De Carlo, who was a beautiful motion picture star long before she donned her Lily Munster wig of long black hair and went in for make-up that looks mortician's mauve in one light and arsenic green in another, plans to use the vehicle as her personal means of transportation.

"I think it will be fun," she said. "In the old days, motion picture stars acted like stars. They dressed in attention-getting costumes. When people saw them, they knew they were looking at a movie star. I think that what this television business needs is a little more of that — the ladies with the ocellus on the gold chain."

Miss De Carlo may be right.

Nowadays it's hard to tell a television star from his business manager when they are having a luncheon conference — and the stars often seem much more interested in their investments than their art. Discussions with women stars often revolve about the difficulty of getting a housekeeper who is good with children.

Even Miss De Carlo, in making her one-woman strike for a return to off-stage dramatics, is being practical.

"There's not a thing going on that car that can't be removed the minute I get bored with it," she confided.

The table is not set, starting Sunday, network television will start serving its new season bill of fare. First, however, will come a few hors d'oeuvres.

Tonight CBS will present an hour special, "Americans on Everest," (7:30-8:30 EDT) showing pictures shot during the climb of the world's highest mountain peak.

"The Miss America Pageant" will be televised live by CBS on Saturday night (10-midnight), with Bert Parks singing that song, and the big emotional climax as usual.

On Sunday, "Meet the Press" will pop up on NBC at 1 p.m., ABC will present an adventure film special, "Hercules" (7-8) CBS' "Perry Mason" will move into its new Sunday time period (9-10) and Ed Sullivan (8-9) will start his new season by presenting The Beatles — and Soupy Sales.

Then, too, on Sunday there is NBC's annual live telecast of television's Emmy Awards show (10-11:30).

The television famine is over: it's feast time.
