Mother, Daughter Slain; Son and Friend Sought
CHESHIRE (AP)—An all-out search was under way today for 15-year-old Roger Beaudry Jr., and a 14-year-old friend, wanted for the slaying of Roger's mother and sister. The youngsters were believed to be armed with two shotguns and two rifles. A 13-state alarm was out and roadblocks were set up throughout Connecticut. The boys disappeared Wednesday night along with $800 cash and a 1966 gray and white Oldsmobile owned by the Beaudry family. The slayings were discovered by Roger Beaudry Sr., who came home from his job at a trucking company to find his wife Rita, 42, and his 11-year-old daughter Roberta dead on the living room floor. Beaudry called police at 11:30 p.m. and said, "I just found my wife and daughter dead!"

CORE to Sue Policemen In Elm City
NEW HAVEN (AP)—The Congress of Racial Equality, whose complaints against New Haven police were rejected by the police commissioners, says it is planning court action against certain policemen. "We are tired to do something about this issue since the board has failed to take satisfactory action on our charges," said Mrs. Virginia Louis, local CORE president, Wednesday night. The board of police commissioners issued a report Wednesday saying it found no evidence that police used unreasonable force in removing the demonstrators from the office of Mayor or Richard C. Lee.

Law Hearing Set
HARTFORD (AP)—Three federal judges have set a hearing for Oct. 19 on a charge by four civil rights workers that Connecticut law after spending, in getting people to injury of persons or property is unconstitutional. The four, including Charles Turner, 26-year-old director of the North End Community Action Project, have been accused of breaking the law they are challenging. LeVine Won't Appeal
NEW HAVEN (AP)—Robert T. LeVine, New Haven's controversial high school principal, disclosed today that he would not make a court appeal of his dismissal as Hillhouse High School principal. Integrationist Beaten During Bus 'Incident'

Police Balk New Attempt To Get Rides
CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Several white men attacked a white integrationist today, pulling him from his car and beating him with their fists minutes after Negroes tried again to board school buses with white children. Rescued by an agent of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, was Bill Trainer, 22, New York. His sweater was torn and he said he was hit six or seven times, but there were no cuts or bruises visible. "There were three or four white men who pulled me from the car," Trainer said. "There was a man who was about 60 years old who had a hammer. But I don't know if I was hit with a hammer." The youth did not appear to have been hurt seriously. The attack took place after the first Negro pupils made another running attempt to board buses with white school children. State police chased the demonstrators, grabbed them and held them in custody until the buses drove away. (AP Photofax)

RR. Posts Plan to End Passengers
NEW HAVEN (AP)—The New Haven Railroad began at noon today posting in its trains and stations its long-expected notice of plans to discontinue all interstate passenger service. The postings are a prerequisite to the formal filing of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Trustees of the carrier said the filing is scheduled next Monday. The notice carries an effective date of March 1, 1967. Trustees of the bankrupt railroad gave assurances, however, that all service now operating under special temporary agreements between the line and the state it serves would continue through the end of the fiscal year. Sukarno Backs Reds Despite Part in Coup
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno and the leaders of Indonesia's army appeared today to be locked in dispute over the future of Indonesia's big Communist party. Sukarno told Cabinet members he disapproved of the army's campaign against the Communist party—PKI—over its alleged involvement in the abortive coup last Thursday which resulted in the slaying of six army generals. Sukarno's position was reported by First Deputy Premier Bobo after the 3½-hour Cabinet meeting at the president's summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of Jakarta. Subandrio, who is also foreign minister, said he himself believed a PKI statement Wednesday that it was not involved in the rebel movement. Leaders of the PKI appeared in public for the first time since last weekend and claimed that the party had nothing to do with the attempted coup, which it called "an internal affair of the army." Two Communist ministers attended the Bogor meeting, but D. N. Aidit, leader of Indonesia's 3 million Communist party, was noticeably absent. The army command began cracking down on the Communists after it crushed the Jakarta coup attempt and issued a state-of-war proclamation last Saturday. The army charged that Communist youths, disguised in military uniforms, tortured and then killed the six generals, including army chief of staff Achmad Yani. Their mutilated bodies were found in a common grave near the Halim air base outside Jakarta. The army has reported arresting more than 200 Communist leaders and seizing a large number of weapons. (In Kuala Lumpur, Radio Malaysia reported that the army-controlled Jakarta radio was keeping up a steady fire of anti-Communist broadcasts, including a report that six big Moslem organizations had demanded the arrest and execution of Communist rebels and the banning of the PKI and its affiliates, including the big Bobo trade union.) Diplomatic observers in Jakarta concluded that Sukarno apparently is determined to maintain the PKI in the face of the army's anti-Communist campaign. Sukarno allowed the PKI to gain strength until it became the best organized political party in the country. He considered (See Page Twenty-Three)

U.S. Viet Buildup Alarms Red China
WASHINGTON (AP)—For several weeks the United States has been receiving reports from Eastern European Communist sources that the leaders of Red China are becoming alarmed at the American military buildup in Southeast Asia. Well-informed Washington officials believe the reports are substantially correct. They are convinced that the Chinese high command is beginning to understand the extent of the U.S. commitment to South Vietnam and specifically the Johnson administration's determination to prevent Communist take-over there. The Chinese alarm is assumed here to be based on fears about how extensive the expansion of U.S. military power will be, how low the forces will remain so close to Communist Chinese territory and whether the United States might on some pretext attack China. There has been no indication, high officials say, that the concern in Peking has caused any veering of Chinese policy toward a negotiated settlement in Vietnam. On the contrary, U.S. authorities judge that Peking's evident fears are creating a more hostile attitude toward the rest of the world and particularly the United States. It is assumed that Peking is anxious to lead the forces of North Vietnam to paralyze the determination to harden the war in South Vietnam. Town Seeking to Appraise Church Land for Firehouse

The town with the cost to be paid by Fire District funds, is seeking an appraiser to determine the value of a 100 by 200 parcel of land owned by the Community Baptist Church.

The parcel, with 50 feet frontage on Woodbridge St., contains 20,000 sq. ft. of land to the south of Woodbridge St. and E. Middle Tpke. and facing on E. Center St.

The town ordinance concerning the appraisal of the land was adopted by the previous council in September.

The council noted that a request for a determination of public "necessity and convenience" is the first step toward actual construction.

Cars Collide With Trucks

Three accidents involving two large trucks and two totally wrecked cars tonight at 22 Main St. and Center St. were reported by police.

George A. Osaver, 36, of 67 Seaman Circle suffered a fractured knee and cuts on his hands when his car was struck by a truck on Center St. at 11:30 last night.

Two teen-age girls were arrested at the Grand-Way in the Parkside last night at 11:30 p.m. and charged with larceny under $15.

A rescue squad of two policemen has advised Dr. Malone to call an exterminator but, in the meantime, the bird, which apparently entered through a vent, keeps scratching and peeping.

Police report they found Murphy in the back seat of the car and that he denies driving it. Murphy was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital where 20 sutures were needed to close cuts on his face and scalp.

The truck, carrying a load of asphalt, was eastbound on N. Main St. up a grade near N. Main St. when the truck stalled, police say.

The freight office at the New York Haven Railroad office in Depot Sq. was also ransacked. Entry is again believed to have been made by a window. Nothing is reported found missing.

Police Arrests

Caroline Wells of New Britain is accused by a Sears employee of shoplifting a man's suit of clothes worth $55 from the Sears Roebuck store in the Parkside yesterday afternoon.

The one last week was easy to solve, the bird was caught and released. It was a male, and today's call is more complicated.

Martin Fears High Costs Will Rule Out Sewer Plant

General manager Richard Martin said today that he doubts the Parker Village Sewerage Treatment Plant would be built because of the high cost.

In order to meet the average annual cost of the plant, the town would have to pay a sewer bill two-thirds higher than now, according to cost estimates.

Colonial Board Co., the major contractor for the Lyttal Brook, would probably be the major user of the treatment plant if it decides to go in with the town.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

BY DOMS BELDING

A recipe for Chess Pie has been in the family since Mrs. Joseph A. Adams, 507 Nevins Rd., Wapping, for years and, she says, has always been one of her favorites. She also included a recipe for Corn Light Bread.

- Chess Pie
- 1 stick butter (1/2 pound)
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
- Have butter at room temperature and cream until frothy and continue beating while adding spoonfuls of the creamed butter and sugar mixture. Add vanilla and mix. Put into unbaked pie shell and bake in 350-degree oven for about one hour.

- Corn Light Bread
- 2 cups stone-ground cornmeal
 - 1 cup flour
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 heaping tablespoon baking powder
 - 1 heaping tablespoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1 quart minus 1/2 cup buttermilk
- Sift dry ingredients and mix with buttermilk. Line loaf pan with waxed paper, fill with waxed dough and cover top with waxed paper. Bake in 350-degree oven. After 15 minutes remove waxed paper from top of loaf and decrease oven temperature and broil loaf until top is brown.

MRS. JOSEPH ADAMS AND CHILDREN

Famous Signature to Aid Ivy Baker Priest in Race

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For eight years or more, everyone with a dollar bill in his pocket had Ivy Baker Priest's autograph.

In that neat hand learned in a mining town school at Brigham Canyon, Utah, she signed the nation's currency as Treasurer of the United States during the entire Eisenhower administration.

Now she lives in California, and has the optimistic expectation that her well-known autograph will help elect her to another office — treasurer of the nation's most populous state.

"Many people said, 'I have experience as treasurer to work and I said why not,'" explains the mother of three grown children.

Widowed while the nation's treasurer, she married Los Angeles real estate man Sidney Stevens in 1961.

But when she met the voters of California, she's just Ivy Baker Priest — the lady who used to sign the money.

Today, Mrs. Stevens is the only announced candidate for the Republican nomination for treasurer. Party leaders expect her to win the nomination in next June's primary and think she has a chance to take the job away from the soft-spoken Democratic incumbent, Bert Bates, now in his second term.

BOY SCOUT Notes and News

Troop 47

About 50 boy scouts and 12 adult leaders of Troop 47, sponsored by South Methodist Church, participated in an overnight camping trip last weekend at Lookout Mountain, Highland Park.

Camping and cooking were done by the patrol under the leadership of patrol leader Merrill badge work included pioneering under the direction of Robert VonDeck and cooking by VonDeck and Henry LaChapelle.

Bud Wicks and Frank Colombe led a 10-mile-hike for the camping badge while Robert Beatty was in charge of work at Bolton Lake which was done toward a canoeing badge. Steve Dunlap led a five-mile-hike for second class and Richard Larson conducted the first-class compass review.

Church services were conducted by Glen Dunlap; Larson and Richard Brandt conducted the patrol inspection and ratings. The troop left the mountain about 2 p.m. on Sunday.

Red Buttons Overcomes Oscar Jinx

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Volens have been written about the so-called Oscar jinx. Actors and actresses have won them and then disappeared like Judge Crater.

Laine Carter won two in a row and then was out of the business for years. The explanation was as simple as the jinx. Some of it is due to swelled-head and temperament. Often, an Oscar winner will immediately double his price and price himself right out of the business.

Now comes Red Buttons with still another explanation. In 1967 Red, a comic who made it from burlesque to television, found himself out of work. So he asked his agent to get him in pictures—even as a serious actor.

The rest is history. In his first movie, "Daybreak," in competition with Marlon Brando, Red's work won the Academy Award for the best supporting actor.

"And then I was out of work for a whole year," Red recalls. "I believed then in the Oscar jinx but my case was different. Red didn't overprice himself. He showed no temperament or swelled head. In fact, he was humble.

"But the town couldn't believe that a comic from the streets had come up from the same environment as I—the lower East Side of New York."

"I reminded them of days they would sooner forget. Many of them figured my performance was a fluke. They just wouldn't take a comic seriously."

Finally, Red got a part in "The Big Circus." Since then, he has done 11 major movies and will undoubtedly get an Oscar nomination this year for his portrayal of the agent in "Harlow."

And just about the time they hand out the Oscars, Red is handing out cigars for the first time in his life. His wife, Alicia, is expecting.

"This has been my greatest year," says Red. "Three pictures — 'Harlow,' 'Up From the Beach' and 'Stagecoach' — as an actor.

"And a baby as a producer. How can I lose?"

"But there's an ironic twist. He says: 'I have now so established myself as a serious actor, that producers can't see me in comedy anymore.'

"And to the comic who played in the last burlesque show west shows in New York City, that is serious."

Vernon Market Street May Move For Proposed Courthouse

The Vernon Redevelopment Agency has informally agreed it is willing to make changes in the downtown Rockville renewal plan to accommodate a new state courthouse.

Although they took no formal vote, the members attending a meeting last night decided to see what First Hartford comes up with.

The responsibility for the relocation of the courthouse would be taken from a residential tract, parcel 44, and added to the commercial site to increase available parking space. Baun agreed that the relocation of the courthouse would be a considerable grade separation of the two areas.

The proposed courthouse will be built and owned by a private developer, then leased to the state, under a new plan that the state is trying out. The courthouse will then produce local property taxes.

The suggested relocation of Market St. to the west of its present location would make a building lot of about 70,000 square feet available for about 150 cars and some parking around the property.

Baum suggested the agency consider moving the street, enlarging redevelopment parcel 3 from about 50,000 to about 70,000 square feet, to make it "as feasible as possible" for a developer to come up with a tentative proposal for the courthouse.

Baum said he thought the agency should accept its consultant's decision that the courthouse would "definitely be the best thing for the project and the best thing for the renewal area."

The agency took no formal vote, however, anticipating that some members of the board: Dan Schuster, a consultant from the firm of Raymond and May, said that enlarging parcel 3 might somewhat restrict the uses of parcel 1, from which would contain about five acres but would not affect its value appreciably. Parcel 1 is a residential tract of 27 acres, but the 20,000 square feet is subtracted, and is destined for commercial use.

The advantages of having the courthouse in the renewal area would outweigh the disadvantages of the reduced size of the commercial parcel, Schuster said.

Member James Brennan suggested that some land be taken from a residential tract, parcel 44, and added to the commercial site to increase available parking space. Baun agreed that the relocation of the courthouse would be a considerable grade separation of the two areas.

The proposed courthouse will be built and owned by a private developer, then leased to the state, under a new plan that the state is trying out. The courthouse will then produce local property taxes.

The members said they felt it had taken an unnecessarily long time to obtain the estimates, which are being prepared by a market consultant.

The agency's actions last night followed an earlier talk between Baun and Thomas Wolf, a member of the town board of representatives. Wolf was named Monday to head a courthouse committee, which will work to retain the courthouse in the Rockville area.

Baum said the advantage of having the court in Rockville is that it would draw people to the area who might also be interested in doing some other business in the area.

First Hartford undertakes the project, the firm might also be interested in doing some other business in the area.

The agency took no formal vote, however, anticipating that

Job Shift Planned For Bomber Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force will shift about 1,200 bomber pilots and navigators to new jobs flying transport, fighter planes and reconnaissance jets, it was disclosed today.

The pilots and navigators have been operating B-47 jet bombers which will disappear from the U.S. air fleet by next June.

The action reflects increasing emphasis on airlift and tactical air support and the decreasing importance of the nuclear bomber in U.S. war plans.

The Air Force said that over the next eight months 800 pilots and 201 navigators will be transferred from the Strategic Air Command to the Military Air Transport Service, the Tactical Air Command and the Air Training Command.

Of these, MATS will receive conventional ground force and the advent of the war in Viet Nam there has been a rise in the importance of tactical air — fighter planes, reconnaissance craft and the like.

While the B-47 has been retiring, the Air Force also has been replacing propeller-driven KC-107 tanker planes with jet powered KC-10 tankers of longer range and greater speed.

Reds Must Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Tax Court has ruled that the U.S. Communist party must pay federal income taxes, something it has never done.

The ruling Wednesday by Tax Court Judge Graydon G. Whitley upheld an Internal Revenue Service finding that the party owes $236,913 in income tax and penalties for 1961.

The party claimed tax-exempt status under a tax code provision that exempts some charitable, religious, education and fraternal groups. The ruling can be appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Ski Notes

By BOB BROWN

Here we go again, as inches of snow in the Rockies last week, 10 degrees above zero on Mt. Washington last Monday and many other signs pointing to a long cold winter. Over the past few months the Manchester Ski Club Board of Directors has been hard at work preparing for the coming ski season. Night trips to surrounding areas, organized weekend trips to Northern New England were taken and an organized program of instruction for the beginner member and many other things which will help make the 1965-66 ski season successful are planned.

Talk of Four Straight Diminishes, Dodgers Place Hopes on Koufax

BIG BLOW—Zolo Versalles is greeted in dugout after three-run homer.

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—Nobody is talking about four straight anymore. Not even the Minnesota Twins who battered Don Drysdale and beat the one-handed Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2 to draw first World Series blood.

The Dodgers had really believed they could knock out the American League champion in four straight. Today, somewhat subdued after having their 25-game-winning streak broken, they looked out in less than three innings, the Dodgers placed all their hopes on Sandy Koufax after having the first one, Sam still contained his optimism.

"You always like to win the first one and get the momentum," he said. "It's like when you go into any series during the season. You want the first one very badly."

"It's the same old story. We'll go out at a time and pitch a good club. You can't relax against those guys. We'll keep playing the way we have all year."

Mete confirmed his nomination of Jim Koufax, the 29-year-old pitcher, as the second starter. After that it will be right-hander Clemente Pascual for the third game in Los Angeles Saturday, Friday has been set aside for travel.

The Dodgers will face the best pitcher in baseball, Koufax, who pitched the pennant clincher against the Yankees, hitting his season's record 26 victories and eight defeats.

The season's record included eight shutouts and a record 332 strikeouts. He also turned in a 44 earned run average, equaling Lefty Grove's record of having led his league four straight times in earned run averages.

"I think we will beat Koufax," said Jim Grant, the Twins' ace right-hander who turned the season on 10 his Wednesday.

"They said we couldn't beat Drysdale, but we did. We've been underrated all year. They picked us sixth and seventh but we came in first. They said we would fold in the clutch but we didn't. We're going to fool 'em again today."

Shortstop Zolo Versalles, who paced the Twins' 10-hit attack with a three-run homer and a

Versalles' Homer Damaging Blow Dodgers Out for Split Before Going 'Home'

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers went into the second game of the World Series today hoping for—and happy to get—a split in the opening stay against the Minnesota Twins.

"I'll settle for a split, and I'll also settle for 10 hits," said the Dodgers manager Walter Alston.

The Dodgers got 10 hits, seven or eight more than they often get in the regular National League season, in Wednesday's game, but lost 8-2.

"We got 10 hits, they got 10 hits, but their came in a bunch and scored runs," said Alston. "Our were spaced out and didn't score enough runs."

Alston said after Sandy Koufax started today, Claude Oster will pitch the third game Saturday in Los Angeles. And Don Drysdale is the losing pitcher Wednesday, returns to action Sunday.

Alston readily conceded that Zolo Versalles' three-run home run off Drysdale was a damaging blow but added that he really "I thought the hit that really

'Didn't Have Curve'—Grant

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—Jim (Mudcat) Grant said he pitched a terrible game, and Zolo Versalles claimed he was lucky.

Between them, they led a Minnesota charge that cut down the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2 in Wednesday's World Series opener.

Neither showed any bubbling elation.

"It was a terrible game," Grant said. "I certainly don't think it was one of my better games."

The right-hander, who won 21 games for Minnesota during the regular season, scattered 10 hits in going the distance.

"They hit the ball good, but they hit them at somebody," Grant said.

"I was relaxed," Grant added, "but I didn't have my curve ball all day. Usually when I have trouble with my curve ball, I don't have one all day. That was the case this time. I didn't throw over 12 curves, and I didn't throw a good one until the ninth inning."

"I had a good fastball, but even my fastball has been better this year. Most of the game I had control of trouble. I was 2-2 and 3-2 on most of the hitters. Usually, I'm ahead of the hitters. Grant kept repeating the word "lucky" in describing his role. The pitched Cuban short stop rapped a three-run homer in Minnesota's six-run third inning and drove in another run with a single in the sixth.

"I was pretty lucky to hit

Three Assists Tie Record

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—Figuring the Series: The Minnesota Twins tied a Series record Wednesday by collecting only three assists. The record was set by the St. Louis Cardinals on Oct. 6, 1954, and New York Yankees Oct. 16, 1962.

Minnesota's eight runs must have surprised most members of other National League teams. The 162 regular season games, NL opposition scored eight or more runs off Dodger pitching only seven times.

Jim Koufax of the Twins has better batting average than the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax. The two are today's scheduled pitchers. During the regular campaign, Koufax hit .247 with 23 hits in 85 times at bat while Koufax batted .177 with 20 assists in 113 tries.

Don Drysdale, the big Dodger right-hander, had allowed only three earned runs in 34 innings in three previous Series appearances. He yielded three earned runs in 2-3 innings Wednesday, hitting his ERA from 1.80 to 2.87.

Baseball's Pensioners Big Series Winners

NEW YORK (AP)—World Series money put 86 pensioners in the money. Depending on length of service, the insurance ranges from $10,000 to $50,000 for active players and $10,000 to $30,000 for inactive players.

The player, his wife and children also have hospitalization insurance of $10,000. There are maternity benefits of $50 for each child born to a member's wife. And lifetime payments are made to widows of deceased members. Players also have disability benefits, including immediate pension payments if permanently disabled.

It all adds up to making big league players about the most financially secure of athletes. The big salaries are a help, of course. But athletes have been known to end up somehow more in the red than in the black. The 15-year-old pension plan is a welcome safety net.

So, the baseball fan following the World Series on television or radio can take comfort in the thought that if his particular favorite loses, he has done his part in the nation's total of $1.5 billion in pension fund assets. He also can rest easy knowing that his pension fund was fat.

Allie Reynolds Remembers Yanks Had Special Feeling Playing in World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Reynolds, who pitched in 15 World Series games, is on the affirmative side in any debate about baseball being a team sport.

"How do you think I got into so many World Series?" Reynolds asked.

"Anytime a ball player says 'I did it or I did it' in baseball, he's facing him in a ball game," Reynolds said. "Sure, it begins with the pitcher, but the pitcher doesn't win there unless he's got the fielders behind him and the hitters at bat."

"On the Yankees, there was a special feeling about the series. Personal records and accomplishments were forgotten entirely."

"This was the thing about the Yankees. They liked to pride. No one liked to look bad. The manager didn't jack you up in the other players did."

Every Team Had Leader

"Every team has its leaders and at a time like this they show it even more. Curt, of course, was Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller and among the pitchers, Spud Chandler."

"A pitching staff, the best of all ball players makes you feel pretty basketball out there and that's just how it became every year."

"But the World Series, no matter how many times you play in it, is special. It's the climax of a year's hard work and, although you try to tell yourself it's just another game, you can't."

"The games are different from the regular season because the baseball isn't quite as good mechanically. That's due to the tension, though."

Reynolds' 15 appearances were spread over six series (this record was 7-1) and stood as a major league mark until Whitey Ford broke it. Ford now has 22.

The biggest of those games for Reynolds came on the opening day of the 1949 World Series when he opposed Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers at Yankee Stadium.

"It meant more than the rest," Reynolds said "because all season I had been having physical problems. And it seemed that every time I started there was Joe Page coming in to relieve me."

"Well, I was never one who liked to start something I could not finish, and all I had been hearing during the season was 'Reynolds can't go now.'"

"So on the opening day of the Series I told Brooklyn to just throw two hits and win 1-0, when Tommy Henrich hit the homer in the bottom of the ninth."

Reynolds retired from baseball with a lifetime record of 262-207, but his 23 All-Star appearances and his 15 World Series appearances still make him one of the best pitchers in baseball history.

"For the reason, you have to go back to his story about baseball as a team game."

Worked in Relief

"I did a lot of relief work along with my starting," Reynolds said. "Casey Stengel often said if he didn't have to use me in relief, I might have won 23 a year."

"But as it turned out, I won 20 only once (1952), I remember I had 19 wins three weeks before the season was over but I was so completely worn out from relieving and starting that I didn't win my 20th until the last day of the season."

"A number of times during my career I would relieve the day before or the day after a start. It was a tremendous strain."

"But I did it because the objective was the series and that's where the payoff is."

Anyone for the opposition?

Cheney Booters Suffer 1-0 Loss

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Cheney Clay says he has fired himself out of the 1968 season. Cheney, a 25-year-old pitcher, was defeated 1-0 by the Los Angeles Dodgers in the opening game of the World Series on Wednesday.

Clay also says he has considered getting rid of his back, but he decided to stay in the game.

"I'm the boss and I can fire anybody I want to—my trainer, my wife, anybody," Clay said Wednesday.

Clay, training here for his 23rd season, was defeated by Los Angeles' Floyd Patterson Nov. 12 in Las Vegas, said he and Brown fell out a couple of weeks ago.

Scoring in final minute of second period: Los Angeles (1) Cheney (0) Labarre G McNeilly Foster RB Loomis Smith FB Scavetta Gallagher RB Gillie Holbert CF Davis Burke LF Fausel Burke RW Heritage Sullivan RF Barrera Derry CP Craig Barth LF Giamalini Derry LF Gosman

Constant Quarterbacking Giants Off to Fast Start Due to Better Equipment

Why, Coach Al Sherman, was asked how the New York Giants were able this season to win as many National Football League games as they did in the entire 1968 season?

"We have a little more equipment," says Sherman. "Our defense is more mobile. We have running backs who are getting constant quarterbacking."

"But," Allie quietly adds, "we make no claim to anything but two victories."

And a glance at the Giants' three-game statistics of a year ago, compared with the latest NFL team statistics, bear out that statement. The New York figures are amazingly similar in total. The most significant improvement is in the average yards per rush which shows the Giants at 4.1, while the league average is only 3.1 a crack at this time in '64.

"That's because we have a constant locker in full-back Tucker Fredericksen," explains Sherman, "and Steve Thawron, a second-year player who has improved on schedule."

"But as for the overall situation, they do not figure to be markedly improved. We are not a consistent team yet, although we are a better one. Regardless of what our workload record is when we hit mid-season, we know that our outlook will be much better than it was a year ago."

Where do the Giants go from here?

Among the strong points, Allie cited young defensive halfback Spider LaRue (He plays a pressure spot, but he's holding up); the young line-backers, Jim Carroll, Bill Swain, Olen Underwood and Lou Slaby ("They had a busy day last week, but we're still going to make mistakes. We know our weaknesses, and we know our strengths."

When we improve in one area, but we realize fully that we are still going to make mistakes. We know our weaknesses, and we know our strengths."
