SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECE BEALE

Chapter One
Many years ago there lived a man who had an extraordinary love for children.

He was always giving them little gifts—especially at Christmas. He was so good and kind he was made the patron saint of children. He is called Santa Claus or Santa Claus for short and he is the spirit of all our Christmases.

Santa Claus lives at the North Pole and has flying reindeer and is able to bring toys to children all over the world. No one knows how this came about but many stories are told, and here is one of the most interesting.

Clara, as he was then called, lived in a mountainous village in a far-away land. He and his wife had no little ones of their own but their house was always filled with boys and girls.

Clara liked it that way. He told stories. He made up songs. He kept the cookie jar filled and carved tiny wooden toys and gave them into the children. He scarcely had time to do his real work which was to make shoes and chairs and beds to sell to the villagers, but he never seemed to worry about making a living.

Then one day some boys playing in Clara's attic found a fat black purse. The purse clinked when the boys shook it. They went home and told their parents that Clara had a treasure of gold.

Now gold had never been seen that far-away place and the villagers were amazed. All the villagers, men, women and children, went to Clara's house and asked if they could see the treasure and merely felt the gold with their fingers. "I have no gold!" exclaimed Clara. "But the purse?" urged a villager.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus loved children.

liger. "Can't we even see the purse?"

"For me it was," said Clara stubbornly.

The village elder spoke up slyly. "But Clara, we didn't make any such promise. Surely I can open the purse just for the coming year."

West could not gain by discharging Crawford, would ruff in the case of trumps, and then lead good clubs until West took his last trump.

Indeed, West stepped in with the king of trumps, shuffling dummy's ruff out. West returned another heart, forcing South to ruff with the jack. Now the time had come, and Crawford led the ace of trumps. This was the last trump to get up in play, and Crawford could stay in his hand to run the rest of his established clubs.

Try taking the ace of trump early and see what happens. South may prefer to get up in clubs, but he cannot get back to his hand to win tricks with them.

Justice Department Debates 'Stop and Frisk' Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—Balancing the rights of citizens against the need for public safety, the Justice Department has stepped into a Supreme Court debate on "stop and frisk" laws with a plea that current street questioning procedures be stamped constitutional.

Limited detention of suspicious-looking persons on the street without an arrest warrant and frisking them for weapons for the policeman's self-protection is consistent with the Fourth Amendment's ban on unreasonable searches and seizures, Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold told the court Wednesday.

The Justice Department is not a party to the three stop-and-frisk cases the court is scheduled to hear Dec. 11. It volunteered its views, Griswold said, because federal agents often face the same problem as local policemen—the need "to stop and detain persons for a limited period of time in order to obtain information."

Comment Session

The Board of Directors will conduct another of its public comment sessions on Tuesday, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

The sessions are held on the first Tuesday and the third Thursday of each month, to permit town residents to comment or complain on any subject in the board's jurisdiction.

Griswold coupled his legal argument with the suggestion that current police procedures should be continued in the name of good citizenship.

"The citizen called upon to respond to this limited inquiry does not suffer the obnoxious need to hear Dec. 11. It volunteered its views, Griswold said, because federal agents often face the same problem as local policemen—the need "to stop and detain persons for a limited period of time in order to obtain information."

The Donates Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower have donated their home and its surrounding grounds to the people of the United States for eventual development as a national historic site.

The gift was announced by the White House which said the Eisenhower family will continue to live in their modified Georgian two-story brick and stone home and use the farm's facilities during Gen. Eisenhower's lifetime. But arrangements will be made to obtain congressional authorization of future developments there for tourists.

The 250-acre farm adjoins the Gettysburg National Military Park which includes the site of the famous Civil War battlefield.

The Eisenhowers acquired the farm in 1900, using it as a weekend retreat during their later White House years and then moved in as permanent residents.

Loan to Britain OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an effort to restore world confidence in the stability of the pound, the International Monetary Fund has approved a $1 billion loan to Britain.

Set up so that Britain may draw from it over the next two years, the loan is part of a $3 billion cushion the British seek to strengthen the pound and the domestic economy of the United Kingdom.

The fund's action had been expected since Britain devalued the pound Nov. 18 from $2.80 to $2.40.

In its statement, the IMF said it has approved the loan on the condition that the British government will take steps to strengthen the pound and the domestic economy of the United Kingdom.

The fund's action had been expected since Britain devalued the pound Nov. 18 from $2.80 to $2.40.

Protest Relaxes Pledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro pupil's protest has prompted Washington educators to relax their requirement for recital of the pledge of allegiance at the start of each school day.

Civil liberties supporters sought the change on behalf of a 15-year-old girl who refused to salute the flag. The girl's parents are denied the "liberty and justice for all" attributed to the United States in the pledge.

The District of Columbia Board of Education changed its regulations to continue the daily pledge of allegiance, but to exempt students declining to take the pledge from any form of punishment or reprimand.

Capital Footnotes

The National Academy of Sciences has received a $200,000 grant from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Lynne Bird Johnson, who will wed Dec. 9, plans a farewell reception for White House staff members Friday.

Capital Quote

"If I had my way—and it may be a blessing I haven't—I would like to see the flag, the stars and stripes, and I would give it a haircut on the face and then the head, then get a hair-cut, give them a good wash. If I could I would put these combinations of odds and evens on the front lines with the enemy in front and a bayonet in back."—Eddie V. Rickenbacker, World War I ace and airline executive.

Viet War End Sought at U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speedy Senate passage seems assured for a resolution formally requesting President Johnson to seek United Nations action aimed at ending the Vietnam war.

Sponsored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, the resolution comes up for floor debate today with the announced backing of more than half the body's members.

The resolution notes that more than 100 U.N. member nations have expressed concern over the war. Mansfield has accused the world organization of shirking its duty in not directly dealing with the Vietnam conflict.

In earlier committee hearings on the measure, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, indicated no opposition to the resolution but expressed doubt it would lead to fruitful developments.

But Mansfield has contended that pressing for U.N. action would demonstrate that the United States was anxious to end the war and would show which nations opposed the resolution, which would lead to a settlement.

Tense in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Clashes between Malays and Chinese in northwest Malaysia virtually halted today after six days of rioting that resulted in 22 deaths. But the government said the situation remained tense.

Limited martial law was still in effect in many areas, but some daytime curfews were lifted. On the island city of Penang, where violence started last Friday with a demonstration against currency devaluation, 115 appeared to have returned to normal.

The casualty toll from the riots was 22 dead and 200 injured. Police arrested 947 persons on 22 charges. The dead and injured included 126 Chinese and 87 Malays.

Rabbi Raps De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — The grand rabbi of France, Jacob Kaplan, charged Wednesday night that President Charles de Gaulle risked touching off a wave of anti-Jewish discrimination when he accused Israel of being the aggressor in the June war and of having "secular predispositions of domination."

Replying to De Gaulle's charges, made at his news conference Monday, Rabbi Kaplan said: "In the light of Israel's fight for its existence and Jewish French Jewry's devotion to the Jewish people, it is not surprising that we have not been able to see the French-British peace campaign in 1956 Israel adopted a 'belligerent and expansionist policy to a c o m m o d a t e its growing population."

Disarmament Recross

GENEVA (AP) — The 11-nation disarmament conference agreed today to recess about two weeks, probably on Dec. 14.

After reporting to the U.N. general assembly in New York, the conference is expected to resume in Geneva toward the end of January.

Scotch Price Hike

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — The export price of Scotch whisky will be increased 11.8 per cent, the Scotch Whisky Association announced today.

It recommended that members increase prices 11.8 per cent, less than the 14.3 per cent which the pound was devalued, will cover increased costs of imported raw materials and overseas promotion, the Association said.

Coventry Dog Pound Study Sees Cost As 'Probably Excessive'

A special subcommittee of the House of Representatives, investigating the new dog pound in Coventry, has released its report. James Ryan and Nelson Beards, the two board members assigned, concluded that no overall plan or estimate of the cost is "probably excessive," handling of funds should be under more strict control and an effort should be made to include the dog account in the town general fund.

The report notes that the whole structure rests on a concrete slab covering approximately 660 square feet. The square feet and there is an estimated 122 square feet of fencing used in the construction of the pound. Total cost of the project to date is $772,184.

"A close check of the entire account revealed no information concerning either competitive bidding or the awarding of a contract for any part of the construction of the dog pound," the report states. "There was no blueprint available, nor was there any itemized estimate of costs filed for the complete project."

"Paid bills in the file reveal that authorization for payment was made only by the Japan Ship's Less Cotton OAKA — Japan's exports of cotton yarn and cloth in the first half of 1967 totaled $127.8 million, 8 per cent less than the corresponding 1966 period.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By DOBIE BELDING

The "Season to be Jolly" will soon be upon us and with it a rash of holiday buffets replete with a multitude of mouth-watering hors d'oeuvres.

Mrs. Joseph (Ann) Howard Jr., of 20 Grand Dr., Vernon, has several favorite recipes for cocktail fare. For more formal teas, she often serves Ribbon Sandwiches.

Recently, she says she had a Saturday morning brunch buffet and served several of her best d'oeuvres, including Cocktail Frenks in Blankets, Baked Stuffed Mushrooms and Quiche Turke, which she made in slightly larger tart shells for the morning party. All these, she said, may be made in advance. With them she served a green grape and sour cream compote. "It seemed a good combination," Mrs. Howard added, "and this cocktail fare made the happy transition to breakfast, showing how versatile recipes can be."

MRS. HOWARD AND TED

- 1 can deviled ham
- 1 can tuna fish
- cranberry jelly (strained type)
- 24 slices day-old bread, spread sparingly with butter or mayonnaise

Moisten deviled ham with mayonnaise. Make tuna into a spread with mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt, pepper and onion salt, or any favorite variation.

Spread a slice of bread with deviled ham mixture; top with another slice of bread spread with cranberry jelly; top with third slice spread with tuna mixture, and top with fourth slice of bread. After making four-decker sandwiches wrap each stack in clear plastic and refrigerate for several hours or overnight. Before serving, remove from refrigerator and trim crusts from sandwiches, then slice each stack in quarters. When serving, place cut side up on platter.

During the holidays, especially when there is left-over turkey, Mrs. Howard makes a highly seasoned pate of turkey meat and substitutes this for the tuna fish.

Mrs. Howard said her mother served Ribbon Sandwiches when entertaining her ladies group, and put any leftover "ribbons" in her daughter's lunchbox the next day.

- Cocktail Frenks in Blankets
- 1 package refrigerated crescent rolls
- 1 package tiny cocktail frankies
- mustard and relish
- beaten egg yolk

Unwind the rolls and separate into eight pieces. Divide each crescent into three parts. Dot with mustard and relish. Place a frank on each section. Wrap dough around frank. Place folded side down on cookie sheet, and brush with beaten egg yolk. Place in 375-degree oven until brown.

- Baked Stuffed Mushrooms
- 1/2 cup melted butter
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs
- 1 egg, lightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons cream
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1/2 cup sherry wine

Remove stems from mushrooms; chop and mix in butter. Add fine crumbs and all other ingredients, except sherry wine, and cook several minutes. Stir in sherry. Remove from heat. If mixture is too stiff add a little more cream. Brush mushroom caps with melted butter and place in baking dish, cup side up. Fill cups scantily with stuffing and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake in 375-degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes.

Quiche Turke
1/2 egg
1/2 cup light cream
salt to taste
chopped parsley
pinch of nutmeg
parmesan cheese
onion salt

Place tiny tart shells with rich french fried onions, canned Swiss cheese, shredded pastry and refrigerate. Beat eggs lightly with light cream and add salt, a little chopped parsley, nutmeg, parmesan cheese and onion salt. Crumble the onions and mix with the Swiss cheese, and place a little in the bottom of each tart shell. Place a full tablespoon of egg mixture on top and bake in 375-degree oven until puffy.

This makes about two-dozen of the tiny tarts, or one nine-inch quiche.

Electric Boat Says Official Abused Post

NEW LONDON (AP)—A $100,000 suit by General Dynamics Corp. against the former manager of engineering services at the Electric Boat Division alleges misuse of position for personal profit.

The suit against Frank James Merwin was lodged in October, but the corporation declined to discuss the case at the time. A complaint specifying the charges was filed Monday with the Superior Court clerk.

Merwin joined Electric Boat at Groton in 1942 as a welder and rose through various positions to that of manager of engineering services, from which he resigned last April for what was called "medical reasons."

Since then EB has attached 18 parcels of property owned by Merwin in Waterford, New London and Groton valued at $250,000.

The bill of particulars in the suit alleges that Merwin misused his position with the company for personal gain starting in 1963 and perhaps earlier.

The complaint says Merwin used EB employes, material and services to repair, reconstruct, improve and maintain his personal property, including cars, real estate and boats. It says he purchased supplies from company vendors to do his own work and charged the company for time and materials.

One Worth Watching

The mission of W. Averell Harriman to Rumania is quiet enough to be taken as a mere routine. But it is not merely one more of President Johnson's simulations of an interest in the possibilities of negotiation in Vietnam.

Harriman had a longer and more consistent record of hard-boiled cynicism about the Communist world than any other member of the present Washington administration hierarchy.

There is a suspicion, too, that diplomacy on the other side of the world has almost as much respect for the fearless realism, the cool professionalism of the Harriman diplomacy as American students of it have.

Invasion The New Issue?

There is now, suddenly, a new issue about Vietnam—one which ties together the departure of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and the television appearance of General Dwight Eisenhower and Omar Bradley.

Safe For Bees, Too

To believe in the progress of modern science, one has to assume that, as each imperfection or peril reveals itself in the highly heralded new servant to man, the laboratories will almost immediately, but in any case eventually, produce the alternative servant which is free of risk.

So when, a few years ago, it came clear that our most heavily used pesticide should no longer be used because it left residual effects in our soil and therefore in our streams and water, there soon came into general use the new pesticide which was safe because it left no residual effects, and no effect at all, for that matter, on the human being.

Obviously, farmers who had been which hit us. Even more explicitly, both generals gave their blessing to the idea of an "end run" around either end of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

The strategy to which the retired generals thus gave their blessings has previously been reported as a recommendation of the Joint Chiefs of Staff at Washington.

What is frightening about all this is the comparative ease with which this nation may now be slipping forward into one more potentially fateful escalation—the one escalation we have hitherto refused even to consider publicly because we know it is the escalation which has to be next to the last escalation.

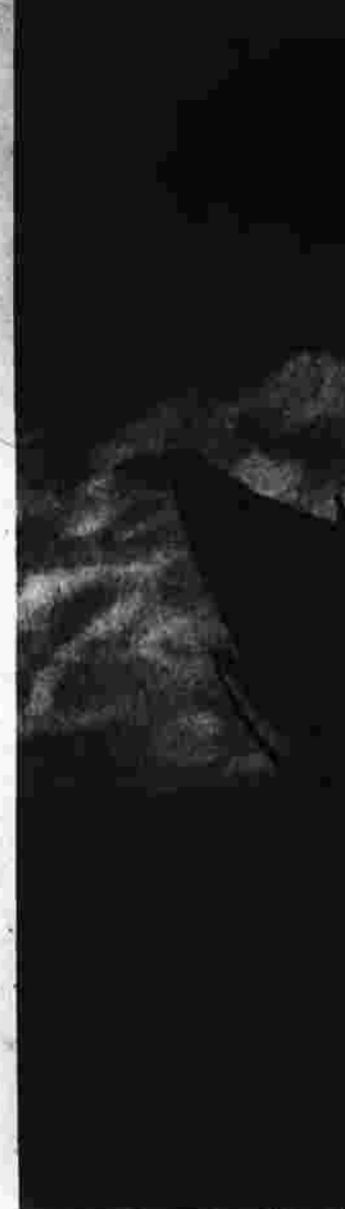

If, never originally intending to because we know the potential consequences, we have now come to the point where we are ready to set armed foot in North Vietnam, then there is only one further piece of escalation left to us—to press forward far enough to eliminate that whole of North Vietnam as a "born in our side" Mr. Eisenhower assumes that he thinks we can conduct and run forays into North Vietnam into the war.

But General Eisenhower and Bradley and the Johnson administration, would be sadly mistaken if they think Americans who disagree with their policy are concerned and act over the possibility of what somebody else may eventually do to us.

Would you do about a Republic or two—since one-third of the voters in this country are Republicans? What would you do to even—about people like Joseph Bincham who have been the first public push for a regional community college in this area, or like Dr. James Washington who has asked the Connecticut General Assembly when the New Haven Board of Education was itself almost mum on the matter?

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — Governor Richard Hughes of New Jersey, who supports President Johnson down the line on all issues, is a favorite of the White House but not of members and staff of the President's office.

At issue is a newspaper interview given by Hughes at the height of the state legislative campaign (which ended with a Republican landslide). Hughes flatly predicted there would be no repetition of violence on the scale of the 1967 Newark riot.

What should be coming out of the laboratories next, then? Obviously a pesticide which is not only safe to humans, but also safe to bees, and, of course, just as safe to the insect world as is concerned.

You believe that the laboratories will indeed come up with the formula which is safe for bees, and then, after a year or two of its happy universal use, with the discussion of this possibility inside the administration may have been one more reason for the McNamara departure from the policy scene.

Questions On Public Appointees

What would you do if you had to appoint a committee of representative citizens to speak for your community on the Advisory Council for Regional Community College? Would you consider a failed civil rights activist?

Would you do about a Republic or two—since one-third of the voters in this country are Republicans? What would you do to even—about people like Joseph Bincham who have been the first public push for a regional community college in this area, or like Dr. James Washington who has asked the Connecticut General Assembly when the New Haven Board of Education was itself almost mum on the matter?

Heroin Hospitalized While Pot Punished

(News Analysis) By DON MEHLER Associated Press Writer HARTFORD (AP) — While Connecticut has provided a way for heroin addicts to avoid a jail sentence — even for such crimes as theft and burglary — pot-which couldn't happen until 1965, unless the General Assembly goes into special session — Cotaas is hopeful that the courts will not deal too harshly with marijuana smokers.

Until something can be done about lessening the penalties for possession of marijuana, Cotaas says, the courts will not deal too harshly with marijuana smokers.

Cotaas, Shepherd and Chief Prosecutor Arnold Maricle of the Circuit Court all agree that the penalties for possession of marijuana should be reviewed with an eye toward lessening them. Federal penalties are even stiffer than the state penalties, but federal enforcement officials seldom go after participants in "pot parties." They concentrate on those who sell narcotics rather than those who use them.

A change in Connecticut's laws dealing with marijuana would, of course, have no effect on federal law.

Some medical authorities question whether there is such a thing as dependency on marijuana, says Shepherd. And if there is no such thing, it follows that a marijuana smoker can't qualify for medical treatment in lieu of jail.

However, marijuana is in the same category with heroin under federal law, and Connecticut accepts the federal category.

"It is ridiculous that marijuana, a mild drug, should be classified with heroin and morphine," says Peter J. Cotaas, the Hartford lawyer who did much of the work drafting the new state law.

But while Cotaas agrees that marijuana may not be physically habit-forming, as heroin is, people may develop a psychological dependence on it, he says. And the state's definition of drug dependency includes psychological dependence.

At any rate, "it's time to do something" about modifying the penalties for possessing and using marijuana, Cotaas says. The matter will probably come up for discussion at today's meeting of the Drug Advisory Council at the State Capitol. Cotaas is vice chairman of the council.

WAR PROTESTERS IN ROME (AP) — Anti-Vietnam war demonstrations that were held in Rome Wednesday.

A caravan of demonstrators that left Milan Nov. 4 and another that started from Naples on Nov. 19 converged in the city.

Some 1,000 demonstrators sat on the ground for five hours in the noisy, traffic-choked piazza in front of the Chamber of Deputies palace. The group's leaders presented deputes with a petition saying the Vietnam conflict could turn into a thermonuclear war and calling on the Italian government to condemn America's "ill-conceived policy" in Southeast Asia.

Highway Double-Decker?

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer predicts that existing expressways will be double-decked to offset increasing crises against land consumption.

Greer, who will retire Dec. 31 after 27 years in his post, told a Texas A&M University seminar that highway programs must give greater emphasis to traffic relief in urban areas and modernization of the aged-old primary highway system.

Expert Says Mass Poisoning Could Happen in U.S.

By HAL GULLIVER Associated Press Writer ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A U.S. pesticide expert says it is not unlikely that mass poisonings by an insecticide, similar to the poisoning of scores of persons in Colombia last week, has not occurred in this country.

"It could happen," says Dr. Samuel W. Simmons, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's Pesticides Program at the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

At least 78 men, women, and children in Chiquiquira, Colombia died last weekend after eating bread poisoned with a deadly insecticide whose effects are similar to nerve gas, he said.

Another 88 Colombians are reported in critical condition despite antidotes rushed to Colombia from the United States.

More than 50 state and local health officials are meeting with Simmons in a conference on the investigation of chemical poisonings such as those in Colombia.

Commenting on the possibility of similar deaths in a United States, Simmons said in an interview there is little real regulation of the purchase or the transportation of pesticides.

"Take the loading of pesticides aboard ship, for instance. Ships are supposed never to load food with pesticides or pesticides on food."

Labor Heads Supporting U.S. Rebuilding of Cities

By NEIL GILBRIDE AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Labor leaders, who recently criticized as "dreamers" the architects of federal plans to start rebuilding the nation's cities, pledged today full cooperation with the program.

With past differences forgotten, the AFL-CIO building and construction trades department planned a rally to welcome Secretary Robert C. Weaver and Urban Development.

The appearance of Weaver, the only Negro in President Johnson's Cabinet, followed a proposal by the construction unions to help train Negro youths for slum rebuilding work.

"We should work with and help train these youths when they apply and show serious intent," said C.J. Haggerty, president of the union group.

The question of bringing unskilled Negro slum youths into union apprenticeship programs has long been a source of friction between labor leaders and some government officials.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said Wednesday Haggerty's proposal was "entirely sound" and that the government would help with it, and might help keep the government from having to act as a "politician" over equal job opportunities.

Haggerty pledged to Weaver, "our full cooperation, our know-how, our resources and our manpower in the vast program of rebuilding our cities."

The government recently announced grants to 61 cities for slum rebuilding projects under the new multimillion-dollar model cities program.

While union officials conceded that the labor cooperation was still in the talking stage, they described it as possibly the beginning of a new era between the unions and government officials working on slum rebuilding plans.

Haggerty also noted that federal law requires hiring slum residents on projects under the model cities program and urged union leaders to be "practical men" in accepting qualified workers from the slums and helping train unskilled youths for jobs.

Haggerty said federal plans for rebuilding the cities provide a potential for many new jobs for all construction workers, who now total some 4 million.

"This will be a vast program of slum rebuilding," he said.

Weaver, before speaking to the labor cooperation, planned to meet privately with union leaders to discuss details of the model cities program. Weaver's speech is scheduled for 2 p.m.

FAPER CLAIMS CHAMPIONSHIP

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — If he was considered, says the student newspaper, when the University of Oregon athletic department delayed a special homecoming program.

The edition was to be passed out at the Oregon-Oregon State game Nov. 18, but it was cancelled and held about an hour.

The paper's banner headline read: "The University of Oregon is a disgrace."

The athletic department described it as possibly the beginning of a new era between the unions and government officials working on slum rebuilding plans.

Haggerty also noted that federal law requires hiring slum residents on projects under the model cities program and urged union leaders to be "practical men" in accepting qualified workers from the slums and helping train unskilled youths for jobs.

Pension Boost for Judge Remains in Postal Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A section that would entitle a federal judge and longtime friend of President Johnson to a 46 per cent higher pension remains in a pending Senate pay bill after the narrow defeat of a move to eliminate it.

A critic called it "quite a Christmas present for any judge by other federal employees."

The controversial provision is part of a bill to raise the salaries of 2 million civilian employees of the federal government by $2.7 billion in three stages and raise postal rates by $914 million.

The legislation is up for final action today.

Most of the postal increase would take effect Jan. 7. First-class mail stamps now selling for 6 cents would go to 6 cents and air mail from 10 to 10 cents.

A sudden storm erupted Monday after a section of the bill that would enable Judge Paul J. Kilday of the U.S. Military Court of Appeals to retire on an annual pension of $28,400 a year, instead of the $18,000 he would get under present law.

Kilday, 68, was a Texas congressman for 21 years. Present regulations key his pension to his congressional salary rather than the higher pay he has made on the court since 1971.

His term runs to 1976 but he could retire before then.

A motion by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to eliminate the pension change was defeated, 59 to 38.

Democrats provided all but 3 of the votes to defeat the motion.

Sen. A. R. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., floor manager for the bill, argued the pension provision was designed to give any former member of Congress the same pension rights now held by other federal employees.

But Williams noted that backers of the bill conceded Kilday was the only apparent beneficiary at present.

Williams estimated that Kilday if he enjoyed sufficient longevity, could receive his pension for 12 years.

The pension section, he said, would "put a $100,000 Christmas present on the tree" for one man.

An $8,400 yearly pension boost, he said, "is quite a Christmas present for anybody, and it's quite a Christmas present even in the great state of Texas."

Monroney told the Senate he hoped the federal pay raise—an immediate 6 per cent for postal workers and 4.5 per cent for others—could show up in pay checks before Christmas.

The first stage would be retroactive to Oct. 1. The workers will receive additional raises next July and a year later.

Rham District

School Space Seen Critical Need

(This is the first of two articles on the school building referendum Monday. Today's article deals with the plans, tomorrow's article will deal with the vote.)

By MARGARITE PORTER
In September 1967 the first junior-senior classes entered the partially completed Rham High School. The school was originally built to hold 800 students. Its planners recognized the problem of growth in the three towns of Hebron, Andover and Marlborough and so designed the core facility to permit expansion to a 1,200-student level in the future.

The original plans called for an industrial arts building which was never constructed. Instead, the industrial arts department was placed in classrooms and presently occupies these four classrooms. This was not ideal but workable. The business education classes, typing, shorthand and book-keeping were placed in two regular classrooms. The educable mentally retarded class is presently occupying a regular classroom.

Superintendent Aram Damarjian reported to the Rham Board in September that all regular classrooms and special rooms of the school are in use 90 per cent of the day. There are no rooms which are unoccupied all day.

For the past two years, it has been necessary to schedule classes and study halls in the auditorium, dining halls and health room. This is a definite disadvantage to the students and creates abnormal instructional problems, Damarjian said.

In the past 10 years, the state and federal legislation have had an impact, stated Damarjian, on the space needs. The legislation provides special educational and vocational education for students. In that time, the physical fitness program has expanded and is strongly recommended.

The present space at the school is adequate to handle these special programs. The present enrollment at the high school is 823. This is 23 students more than is desirable, but still not considered serious. Damarjian presented enrollment estimates for the next six years to the Rham board in September. They were based on elementary school enrollment in the three towns. If all three towns were to experience no further growth, within six years there would be a total of 1,106 children enrolling in the September 1967 classes.

The Regional Board of Education, alerted to the problem of inadequate space and soaring future student enrollment, formed a planning committee two years ago to review the facts and make recommendations.

A middle of separate junior high school was considered, but after study it was felt that it would be more economical to expand the present 800-capacity to its full potential of 1,200 and to simultaneously make provision for adequate facilities to improve the total educational program. According to Damarjian, the 1,200-student school is the maximum for the present site. Any future building would have to be on another site and could conceivably be a middle or junior high school.

On Monday, a referendum proposal recommended by the administration and the Rham Board of Education will come before the voters of the three-town district. The first two questions will be concerned with the issue of bonds to provide money to increase the school size.

All facilities to be added are the same in both questions with the exception of the gymnasium. Both Plans Have Gym It was erroneously reported

McNamara Shift

Is Stirring Up Political Storm

sift from the appointment of a "free" person.

In neither the President's nor McNamara's explanation was there any time-table given for these various exchanges.

There seemed little doubt the President's political instincts concurred in the defense secretary's belief the "fresh person" might relieve the President of some political liabilities in next year's campaign.

McNamara was a prime target in the Republican's successful drive in the 1966 congressional elections and seemed likely to be again next year. A new secretary would not bring into the campaign the record of McNamara's optimistic forecasts of progress and victory in Vietnam for which he has been under intense political fire.

The ungracefulness of the President's turning of a once-favored adviser into a banking monk who could no longer offer any opinions on Vietnam politics left Johnson open to political accusations that he was unwilling to entertain even mild dissent to what his opponents had characterized as a headlong course.

Johnson's observation of the protocol that the 30 World Bank directors must approve the McNamara nomination before he could announce it did nothing to dispel the political opinion that he is so secretive in his operations as to suggest he might rather embarrass a faithful American get a glimpse of what is really going on in the White House.

If the President does not slump again in the popularity polls as a result of this flap, little will be greatly surprised.

Evergreen trees in regions of much snow build the underside of their branches thick and alternate them to prevent an overload of snow that could break them.

Fictional Obit

John Galsworthy's most important work was his series of novels about the Forsyte family.

The main character, Soames Forsyte, became so well-known that when he died (in a book) the London Times announced his death in its headlines.

A three-room addition for arts and crafts would give better classroom area and release two rooms which would be made available for the special retarded class now used for academic classes.

Also included in the construction plans would be two laboratory-classrooms for biology and an art room and guidance and conference rooms.

Question 3 on the referendum requests approval of bonds to provide funds for constructing facilities for the central administrative office. This would and the superintendent of schools the superintendent of construction and the secretarial staff. In the future it would also house special education offices for future.

Damarjian noted that this was not an immediate need but is designed to meet the anticipated need of the district within five years by building the unit along with the high school addition, the district would be reimbursed 10 per cent of construction costs by the state.

The superintendent and supervisor provided by the Bureau of Field Services are presently housed in rented facilities paid for by the State Department of Education. Damarjian reports these facilities are adequate for the present but the location is not the best. This office could be moved to the proposed site and a rental fee paid to the district to further reduce the net annual cost to each town.

Robert A. Price, chairman of the Rham board, said in a report to the district this week, "Our elementary schools are expanding at a rate not dreamed of by most of us ten years ago. If our elementary students are to find a good secondary school ready for them, when their turn comes, we must take action to expand and improve Rham now. If the results of the referendum are to truly reflect the will of the people, two

Officials Contend Agitators Manipulate Anti-War Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. William F. Tully of Los Angeles and Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, contend agitators manipulated antiwar demonstrations in places where they were held.

Tully told the House Committee on Un-American Activities Tuesday the demonstration in his city last June against Johnson was manipulated and planned in advance by groups seeking a confrontation with police.

Johnson was in Los Angeles then for a Democratic party affair.

Tully said the demonstration outside Johnson's hotel was an outgrowth of a parade held to protest the President's Vietnam war policy.

Tully said one parade sponsor was the Peace Action Council, headed by a man identified by committee staff members as a Communist Party activist.

In a Senate speech, Lausche said a plot led to the demonstration at Indiana University which was interrupted by a recent speech by Sen. Lausche.

Lausche said he is sure manipulators sought to destroy the U.S. image as behind antiwar demonstrations on several occasions.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said of 5,000 students in the antiwar demonstration where Tully spoke, only 100 disrupted the speech.

More than 14,000 Indiana University students signed a letter of apology recently presented to Tully.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., an critic of the war, deplored the "volgarity" of some demonstrators.

McNamara Switch About Set

President's press secretary, George Christian, was asked about the report. He replied, "I don't know."

It was almost the same as saying, "It's true." It would have been indeed strange if such a story about McNamara's switch to a high position was untrue.

Johnson and McNamara kept um Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night.

But American reporters had other sources of information besides the White House—McNamara himself would say on them and not McNamara.

As a result the Tuesday morning papers were able to say that Johnson had named McNamara for the bank president.

On Monday the London Financial Times reported McNamara's departure on the basis of information supplied by a World Bank director.

That afternoon at a news briefing in the White House the President's press secretary, George Christian, was asked about the report.

Two from Town in Class Training as Teacher Aides

Mrs. Beverly Lawrence and Mrs. Marjorie Chapin, both of Manchester, are among a class of 17 enrolled in a new program at Eastern Connecticut State Teachers College, designed to train teachers' aides. The 10-week course, which began this week, is federally funded and will provide both educational theory and on-the-job classroom training. The latter will be given under supervision of teachers at the Noble School, Williamstown.

The program is designed to train assistants who can relieve classroom teachers of routine duties such as clerical work, attendance taking, collection of money and other non-teaching chores.

Mrs. Lawrence is the wife of Neil A. Lawrence, a teacher of industrial arts at Billing Junior High School. She lives at 29 Doane St.

Mrs. Chapin, the wife of Edward Chapin, lives at 30 Tuck Rd.

The southern side of Puerto Rico is semi-arid because the mountains cause the clouds to drop their moisture on the northern side.

UAW Sets Date for GM Pact

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union served notice today on General Motors that it has set Dec. 1 as a "last-gut date" for reaching agreement on a new national labor contract covering the union's 200,000 UAW-represented workers.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther told newsmen following a two-hour meeting of the union's General Motors Committee that if no agreement is reached by the target date, the union will aim set a "strike deadline."

Reuther indicated top officials of the union were not in favor of calling workers off their jobs during the Christmas and New Year holidays. A last-minute agreement this time would deprive workers of holiday pay.

The union chairman said the UAW strategy is aimed at obtaining an agreement on national issues by Dec. 14 and then concentrating on local issues at plants around the nation early next year.

If no agreement is reached on the national contract by the deadline, the 200-member GM Council would then be called back into session to set a strike deadline after the holidays.

"We hope to get national problems out of the way so that we can do a more efficient job on local issues," Reuther explained.

The pattern for an economic settlement covering wages and fringe benefits already has been set in an agreement negotiated with Ford Motor Co. and the Chrysler Corp.

Reuther said the chief problem is GM concerted working conditions and union representation.

Reuther also sent newsmen the UAW has sent a letter to George Meany, AFL-CIO president, expressing regret that because of the auto labor negotiations the UAW officers would be unable to attend the national labor organization's convention next week.

Reuther and Meany have been meeting over the AFL-CIO's labor program.

The UAW has presented a proposal calling for a change in the AFL-CIO's programs and policies.

Reuther asked Meany in the letter to postpone consideration of the UAW's proposals until a later date.

"In light of our collective bargaining circumstances," Reuther wrote, "We are firmly of the view that our first and primary obligation is to carry out our responsibility to UAW members and their families by concentrating on the problems of the bargaining table in the GM-UAW negotiations."

Mills tells newsmen 1968 Tax Hike Seen If Spending Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American taxpayer won't get a higher income tax rate this year but might in 1968 if President Johnson cuts spending enough, says Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills told reporters Thursday it's out of the question for Congress to pass the administration's complex tax bill in the remaining weeks of the current session of Congress.

The Arkansas Democrat's remarks followed completion of his committee's hearings on Johnson's plan for a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes, combined with an administration spending cut plan.

In presenting the plan, Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said it would be unwise to start work on it promptly.

But Mills let the hearings go without scheduling any working sessions.

"We will reconvene, however, whenever there is more for the committee to consider on which we can appropriately take action," he said.

Mills said he assumed the next move would be for Budget Director Charles L. Schultze to discuss the proposed spending cuts with the House Appropriations Committee.

The tax spending plan would require action by three committees—Ways and Means for the plan, Treasury for the plan, and the House Appropriations Committee for the plan.

Two Senators Ponder 'Favorite Son' Races

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic senators who oppose U.S. policies in Vietnam are considering whether to run for reelection in 1968 as a "favorite son" candidate.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Vt., and Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., are the two senators who are being mentioned.

McCarthy is the best thing that can happen for the country and for the party, to have the matter decided openly and brought out from under the rug."

McCarthy acknowledged in announcing his candidacy that Robert Kennedy could fall far behind in the primary.

Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., "It's a lot of hard work for us if we do it," he said.

McCarthy said he would not enter the race as a son's expected renomination bid in 1968 on a platform of disagreement over U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Con Thien Front Erupts, North Viet Beaten Back

SAIGON (AP)—The Con Thien war front erupted again Thursday, with U.S. Marines driving North Vietnamese troops from their bunkers after a close-quarter battle just below the demilitarized zone.

Three more Leatherneck companies joined the battle, giving the Marines about 700 men. Manoeuvring around the enemy's flank, the Americans drove the Communists out of their heavily fortified positions in a four-hour battle.

Field reports said 28 North Vietnamese and 15 Americans were killed and 84 Americans wounded in the fighting, which was at such close quarters that the Marines could not use their artillery.

The fighting broke a lull on the DMZ front during which the Communists had concentrated on new targets, chiefly allied outposts along South Vietnam's 400-mile-long land border with Cambodia.

The enemy's aim on both fronts apparently was to operate close to his supply trails and to draw American troops away from the DMZ.

At Bu Dop, three miles from the Cambodian border and 80 miles north of Saigon, an untested strength of North Vietnamese troops drove off a hard Red assault early Thursday reported today that a large Communist force was still facing it.

An American patrol bumped into the enemy lines just 70 yards from the end of the American air strip and pulled back from a Communist volley of anti-air fire and claymore mines.
