

Mortgages Highlight Heritage Year

Local Mortgages Double

Assets approach $100 million

Mortgages issued in the local area more than doubled the amount issued in the previous year to Heritage Savings. President William H. Hale reported at the association's annual meeting that the local mortgages issued in 1978 totaled $20,535,000, — 104% more than in 1977. In 1977 Heritage savers deposited more money than local borrowers needed, so the money was invested in loans outside the local area. In 1978, demand was so great that Heritage doubled its investment in the local area. Heritage prefers to lend locally, according to Hale, "because we are a local, mutually owned bank, founded precisely to finance the homes of the people of our community."

Total mortgages issued were $24,937,017. Assets approach $100 million. Total resources of the association at year-end were $97,882,938, a 21% increase over the previous year, and two and a half times the assets of 5 years ago. The year-end figures represent a continuation of the record of growth that has put Heritage near the top of the list of the state's savings and loans in terms of asset growth. President William Hale told the annual meeting, growth represents "the great momentum in popularity that has been built here in the last five years with new services, new branching ideas like our money markets and our new main office, which opened last year."

NOW accounts
NOW accounts continued their growth in popularity with a 45% increase in deposits among more than 6,000 accounts, one of the largest NOW account departments among the state's savings and loan associations.

Savings
Savings increased $10 million which is considered an excellent performance in the light of rising interest rates. 1978 was the second best year for savings growth in the history of Heritage Savings, the best year being 1977 when the association opened a new main office and a new branch office.

Seminars Aid Introduction

1979 was the Year of the Mortgage at Heritage Savings. The year saw the introduction of graduated payment loans, extended terms to 40 years, and low interest CHFA loans. "We decided to make a frontal assault on the problem of escalating home costs," said William H. Hale, President. Hale's strategy was to find ways to lower the borrowers' monthly payments thereby letting them afford the increased cost of housing.

Graduated payment loans start out with a low monthly payment which rises with the borrower's income for the first five years and then remains constant for the duration of the loan. Another approach, extending the term of a loan to 40 years from the usual 25 or 30 years, has the same effect of lowering the monthly payment. For example the monthly payment on a $40,000 mortgage would be $25 less on a 40 year loan than on one for 25 years. Heritage is believed to be the first bank in the area to go to 40 years.

Ironically, the longer term does not mean that the borrower will necessarily pay more interest over the life of the loan according to Hale. "Most loans never go to maturity so it's academic whether the loan is for 25 years or 40."

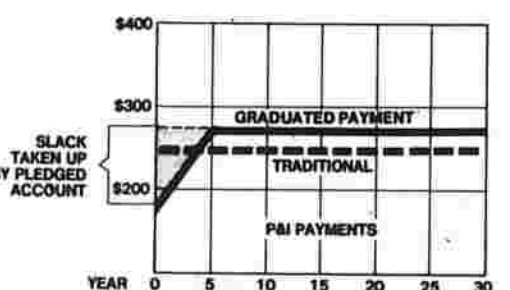

Connecticut Housing Finance Authority (CHFA) loans offered a saving for borrowers by offering a special interest rate below the market. CHFA, a state agency, borrows in the bond market and makes the proceeds available for mortgage loans through banks like Heritage Savings. Borrowers and properties meeting the requirements get the advantage of loans at 1% to 2% below regular mortgage rates. Last year Heritage issued $1.5 million in CHFA loans.

Inflation
The cause of all this consternation about home buying today is inflation, according to Hale. For the young home buyer, inflation is escalating the price of his house faster than his ability to save the down payment. "It's sad. We see people come in with $5,000 to put down, but they need $7,000. By the time they come back with $7,000, the price of the house is up and they need $9,000. It's a vicious cycle."

Seminars

To educate realtors and others connected with real estate, Heritage Savings produced two seminars during the year, one on the graduated payment loans and one on the CHFA loans. "Both seminars met with widespread approval as evidenced by the immediate and enthusiastic response to these new loans in the last quarter of the year," Hale said. "We'll be doing more seminars in the future."

Graduated Payment Loans Introduced

How a Graduated Payment Loan Works.

25% of Heritage's mortgage loans were of the graduated payment type in the last 2 months of 1978 — a total of $1.5 million. That's interesting since most customers never heard of a graduated payment loan before September when Heritage was the first in the area to introduce the new concept. The new concept on almost immediately after Heritage introduced it at a seminar for 200 realtors. "The appeal of the loan is that a buyer can afford a house sooner. It's that simple," said Vice President Betty Petrica. The buyer puts some of his downpayment in a savings account pledged to Heritage. The new mortgage pays some of the mortgage payment with money from the savings account, thus reducing the borrower's payment. Graduated savings account is depleted and the borrower assumes the full load of the monthly payment. "Most wage earners today can count on some kind of increase in income every year, if only to keep pace with the increasing cost of living. Our new mortgage is based on that expectancy," Julson said. Using a computer terminal linked directly to a master computer in the midwest, Heritage figures borrower terms instantly. For example an $18,000 wage earner with $5,000 for a down payment and a 5% expected annual income increase, applies for a loan. After digesting the basic data, the computer says that the borrower can afford a $47,000 house, but that with conventional financing the mortgage payment would be $390.92 (too much for the borrower). With a graduated payment loan, his monthly payment would be $287.31 (20% less) in the first year and rise gradually for 5 years until it leveled off at $390.92 for the balance of the loan. The plan involves no balloon payment. The reduction in monthly payment is accomplished by opening a $3,499.44 savings account with funds from the down payment, thus withdrawing $102.61 a month from the savings account to be applied to the mortgage payment in the first year leaving $287.31 to be paid by the borrower. By the 6th year the savings account is depleted and the borrower pays the full $390.92 for the remaining term of the loan. "With more families priced out of the home market every year, we need new ideas for financing," Julson said. "The graduated payment loan is a solid idea, and it will increase the buying opportunities for many."

Computer Hit of Product Show

At the 1st annual Manchester Products Show, the Heritage computer told people how much house they could afford with a new graduated payment loan as compared to a standard loan. The terminal was linked by phone to a master computer in the midwest. Mortgage counselor Donna Slodden is shown here at the terminal.

Rehab Program

Downtown property is being rehabilitated through interest subsidized improvement loans made through Heritage Savings. Vice President Betty Petrica explained that the Manchester Housing Rehabilitation Loan Program, provides community development funds to subsidize the interest in the purchase of home improvement loans made on owner-occupied homes in the central Manchester area, provided the owners meet certain income criteria. The subsidies amount to as much as 5% of the loan. Petrica commented, "What is being done with these funds, gives me great hope for the future of our central urban areas. Homeowners who otherwise couldn't afford to repair their homes, are finding it possible. They retain their home ownership, and the town is spared the spread of urban blight. It's a great program."

WHAT'S NEWS

Two Executed

MOSCOW (UPI) — The official Soviet news agency Tass reported today Stepan Zaitkyan, an Armenian dissident, and two other people were executed for exploding a bomb in the Moscow subway in January 1977. The first official confirmation of the report had been given by Western reporters by Nobel laureate and dissident leader Andrei Sakharov on Monday.

Tass described Zaitkyan as a "very dangerous repeat criminal" and said he and two accomplices were tried in open court by the criminal branch of the Supreme Court. Tass did not name the two accomplices nor the charges they faced, nor did it say when the bombing trial took place or when the sentence was carried out.

Jersey Quake

An earthquake with its epicenter in Chesapeake, N.J., registered 3.8 on the Nuttle Scale, which is what Easterners call the Richter Scale, hit central New Jersey Tuesday and was felt from Perth Amboy to Freehold. It left residents rattled, but caused no serious damage.

Police stations were deluged with calls from residents who wanted to know why their walls were shaking and their windows and dishes rattling and what were the police going to do about it. Dr. Roger Bilham of Columbia University's Lamont-Doherty Geological Observatory in Palisades, N.Y., said the quake occurred on one of several faults that lace the earth near the town. "We thought them inactive until now," he said.

Disease Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 26-member National Commission on Digestive Diseases says the variety of ailments that disrupt the esophagus, stomach, intestines, gallbladder, liver and pancreas affect nearly 18 million Americans. And, they encompass the primary reason for major surgery, the leading cause of hospitalization and are second only to respiratory diseases as the most prevalent cause of disability among the employed, the commission said in a report to Congress.

Hostages Shot

PINEVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) — An armed former mental patient and his wife shot the four hostages they were holding in a motel today, killing one man and wounding three others. Police stormed the motel and freed the wounded hostages. The dentist's fees for these services will be taken from the fee schedule of the State Welfare Department, and paid by the patient.

Rhodesia Votes Black Rule

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — A sweeping mandate from Rhodesia's white voters today gave Prime Minister Ian Smith the popular support he needs to steer his country — reluctantly — toward black majority rule. With the bulk of Rhodesia's 50 voting districts counted, more than 85 percent of the ballots cast Tuesday were in favor of a draft constitution that envisions the nation's first one-man, one-vote election within 90 days. Only 3 percent of Rhodesia's 6.7 million people are white. Election officials said 42,694 votes were cast for the constitution, 6,903 against and 575 ballots were voided. They predicted the overall turnout among the 90,000 voters would reach 70 percent.

Smith, who once predicted blacks would not rule in Rhodesia for 1,000 years, hailed the outcome as a victory for common sense that reflected the realities of this war-weary country, led by whites for the past 90 years. He said the decision of the white voters to relinquish power to the majority blacks was sign of their good faith and that, "I hope the U.S. and Britain will match us."

The two main groups that campaigned against the new constitution — the right-wing Rhodesian Action Front and the liberal-conservative Save Our Nation Alliance — announced they planned to disband their organizations as a result of the voting. "The Rhodesian people have sold their souls to the devil and deserve to reap the fruits of the whirlwind," said R.A.P. President Ina Barsey. Alliance leader Owen Parvess attributed the high yes vote to the political popularity of Smith, who has never lost an election in his 17-year political career. "The approval opened the way for the constitution to be passed into law by Parliament when it meets early next week. A general election to hand over power to the majority blacks is scheduled to follow on April 20."

Town Dentists Volunteer Low Income Family Fees

By JUNE TOMPKINS Herald Reporter
MANCHESTER — Low income families in Manchester will soon be able to receive dental care from members of the Manchester Dental Society who have volunteered their services to those who do not qualify for family assistance, yet cannot afford tertiary dental care at the usual fees. Tuesday, Dr. Michael Goodman, president of the society, told the Advisory Board of Health that about 24 of its 59 members will be involved in the new plan which was unanimously approved by the board.

The dentists' fees for these services will be taken from the fee schedule of the State Welfare Department, and paid by the patient. The idea of a dental clinic for low income families has been foremost with the health department for more than a year, and nearly materialized this year until estimated costs for its proposed location in the renovated Bentley School exceeded original estimates. Further progress of the clinic was canceled when the board of health learned last fall that more dentists were accepting welfare and low income patients.

Teng Comment Hurts Accord

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Publicly, President Carter says Teng Hsiao-ling is forthright and decisive — and he likes that in a man. Privately, Carter may be wincing. The Chinese vice premier, his guest in America, Tuesday night accused the Soviet Union of aggravating the dangers of world war and backed Vietnam's "massive armed aggression" against Cambodia.

Carter is in the delicate final stages of a new nuclear arms agreement with Moscow, and the Soviet Union is expected to agree to Vietnam's "massive armed aggression" against Cambodia. Carter is in the delicate final stages of a new nuclear arms agreement with Moscow, and the Soviet Union is expected to agree to Vietnam's "massive armed aggression" against Cambodia.

Teng winds up the Washington leg of his nine-day tour of the United States today with a full schedule. He flies to Atlanta Thursday morning and also will tour Houston and Seattle before returning home to Peking Monday. After Carter's final two-hour bargaining session with Teng Tuesday at the White House press secretary Jody Powell was asked how the president views his guest. The two have "very good rapport and understanding," and can speak frankly and bluntly without ruffling each other's feathers, Powell said. Carter's patience with Teng's bluntness and scrupulousity may be a tad strained today. Tuesday night — Carter was home at the White House at the time — Teng denounced the Russians by name in unusually strong language and said all nations that cherish independence must combat Moscow. After a private meeting with Teng, Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd said in remarks at an earlier reception at the Washington Hilton, Teng said chances for peaceful resolution of the Taiwan problem have increased with establishment of diplomatic ties with the United States. "I can tell you explicitly that you have no cause for worry," he told an audience of Americans and Chinese-Americans. "Taiwan will return to the embrace of the motherland sooner or later." He told skeptical members of Congress the same thing. Board Eyes Cuts In Water Plans

By GREG PEARSON Herald Reporter
MANCHESTER — The Town Board of Directors, faced with possible decisions next month, asked Tuesday night about some areas where the final cost of the water bond issue might be reduced. The board will conduct a public hearing Tuesday on the proposed $20 million bond issue for water system improvements. Town Manager Robert Weiss has proposed a March 29 date for the referendum vote on that bond issue.

The board raised few questions about the recommendations of the Water Study Committee to locating the water treatment plant north of Spring Street and dividing the distribution system into three pressure zones. Thus, Tuesday night's questions from board members centered on areas where some of the $20 million might be cut from the referendum vote on that bond issue.

Charles S. House

House Elected Chairman
Early in the year the Honorable Charles S. House retired from his position as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Connecticut. His retirement gave him more time to devote to the affairs of Heritage Savings, and in April he was elected chairman of the board of directors. His election continues a long tradition in the House family. His grandfather, also named Charles House, was one of the founders of the association which had its early meetings and conducted its business from the House family business, House and Hale Store on Main Street.

Savers Earn More

Higher savings interest has kept money flowing into Heritage Savings at a pace that, if continued, will assure adequate supplies of funds for mortgage lending in 1979. The money market certificates introduced last summer offer interest rates on 6 month certificates one quarter percent higher than the rate on 6 month U.S. Treasury bills. In previous periods of rising interest rates, savings deposits have flowed out of thrift institutions like Heritage. That has caused a credit "crunch" in the home lending area. This year the newly authorized money market certificates in effect let Heritage Savings and other banks "compete" with the Treasury and hold those funds which otherwise might be invested elsewhere. Heritage's certificates, which are called Housing Certificates because of the mortgage-savings connection, were popular and worked to keep savings flows at satisfactory levels. However, the high interest paid to savers does mean that the interest charged borrowers rose during the year and is likely to remain at present high levels as long as Heritage and other banks generally rely on money market certificates to provide adequate funds for lending. Savers Sophisticated "Savers today are more sophisticated than ever before," according to Vice President, Henry Agnew. "They want a better deal by spreading their savings funds over varying terms and yields. We are responding by offering a wide range of savings accounts than ever. And our savings counselors are spending a great deal of time discussing the specific needs of individuals and recommending the right combination of accounts for each one. Personal banking attention is more important than ever."

Heritage Exec. Active on Downtown Committee

Heritage Vice President, Betty Petrica, was active during the year as the representative of the Chamber of Commerce on the Downtown Coordinating Committee which works to coordinate the recommendations of various town organizations for the revitalization of Main Street. The Coordinating Committee, appointed by the town's Board of Directors, recommended that the downtown area be planned for downtown. The idea was approved and the planner is being hired. "Many towns have seen the decline of their Main Streets. We're fortunate that ours is the strong, healthy and vibrant force it is. We want to keep it that way," Petrica said. Projects being considered for Main Street include changing the facades of the stores, installation of planters, reconstruction of the center intersection, new sidewalks and sewers.

Vote on Ethics Delayed After Committee Scrap

HARTFORD (UPI) — Lawmakers are letting tempers cool before voting on a non-binding agreement to stay clear of the gambling industry, a suggestion that has caused the tax-writing committee's "worst fight in two years."

It all started Tuesday when Rep. James Swinney, R-Bloomfield, and Rep. Jerry Simionelli, D-Stamford, told their colleagues on the Finance, Revenue and Bonding Committee that their gambling subcommittee had adopted a code of ethics.

They said it would be nice if other members of the committee agreed to sign the agreement.

The proposed code would prevent committee members from accepting campaign contributions or anything else worth more than $25 from gaming interests. It also would prevent former committee members from taking jobs with the gaming industry until at least two years after they left the Legislature.

The Public Safety Committee has already adopted a similar code of ethics.

"We thought it would be a simple Boy Scout pledge," Simionelli said of his proposal.

It wasn't.

Rep. Chester Morgan, D-Vernon, described what transpired at the committee meeting "as the worst fight in two years."

Sen. Louis Cuttito, D-Waterbury, was upset that Simionelli and Swinney were suggesting lawmakers needed to be told how to act.

"Integrity seems to be a hangup with some legislators," he said. "Maybe they feel they need guidance. I don't."

Cuttito said he thought Swinney and Simionelli were grandstanding because it would make "beautiful print" in the newspapers.

"I say God bless them if that's what they feel they have to do to have a clear conscience," Cuttito said.

Swinney said the code of ethics was proposed for the public's benefit, not to clear legislative consciences.

"I think there is a concern the gaming industry has had too much input in the Legislature," Swinney said.

"The gaming industry has been under a cloud. We should be like Caesar's wife, above suspicion," the Bloomfield Republican added.

Superintendent Criticized By Association Members

By DONNA HOLLAND
Herald Correspondent

BOLTON — The Bolton Education Association (BEA) has publicly criticized Superintendent Raymond Allen for what it calls an "educationally unsound decision" recommended by him.

Allen, in a three-page private communication to each teacher who signed the BEA correspondence, chastised the teachers for their comments and for making them public. He emphasized in the letter that it was "private, personal and confidential" and asked the teachers to treat it as such.

The teachers, however, felt the public had a right to know and gave copies of their letter and, later Allen's response to the Herald.

The disagreement began with the resignation of Robert Hamm that left the Grade 7-12 reading consultant position vacant.

Allen recommended to the board, at an open meeting earlier this month, that the position be left vacant until June because "I want a candidate to choose from, not just one."

After discussion, and objections by at least two board members, the board voted to leave the position vacant and instead, employ a reading teacher to provide reading instruction.

The teachers' association, both before and after reading Allen's letter that explained his recommendation, criticized the move. A spokesman for the association said, "The reading position should be filled with a certified applicant immediately. It should not be left vacant."

The BEA said, "Because of the complexity of the position and the requirements of professional staff, it is highly dubious that an uncertified, long-term substitute can successfully deal with students, staff and parents in a way that would insure educational growth for students and continuation of a viable reading program."

Responding to the BEA communication, Allen said, "The fact that a copy of your letter was not forwarded to me, I consider, at best, an oversight and at its worst, a serious discourtesy and poor communication."

Allen said he doesn't normally respond to a communication from the staff to the school board, but because in this instance "your statements raise a question of my professional judgment and raise a question of what is in the best interest of the Bolton school system I feel a response is quite necessary."

Allen said, "Since I believe all of the facts of the matter are not known to you and there is a good possibility that some information given you was not totally accurate I want you to have the facts as reviewed by me."

Joseph Haloburdo, school board chairman, said, "We share the concerns of the BEA, but after reviewing the matter we felt the administration's recommendation was satisfactory."

Board members, Gil Boissoneau and James Marshall questioned Allen's recommendation at the board meeting. They both agree with the teacher's concerns.

Boissoneau said, "It seems logical to me that if we have a teacher in the system who is qualified to be a reading consultant that person should be hired as such." He said, "The reading consultant position should be filled as soon as possible."

Marshall said, "My own feeling is that Bolton will be hurt if it doesn't have some good. I hope the superintendent is looking very hard to fill the vacancy."

Marshall said, "It's difficult to say whether or not the teacher at the high school should be transferred to the reading consultant position because you don't want to disrupt either program."

New York Sells Notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York City re-entered the public money market Tuesday — the first time since the fiscally troubled days of March 1975.

But not far behind the good news was a disclosure that Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal is pessimistic about the city's receiving all the $200 million in federal aid it is seeking to close its budget gap.

Comptroller Harrison Goldin formally closed the $125 million offering of city notes, the first successful sale of city securities in the public credit markets in nearly four years.

His trembling hands holding a check for $124,268,750, Goldin cracked jokes as he signed closing papers on the five-month general obligation notes.

"This note sale is significant not only for the money," said Goldin, "but also it is a critical first time in the city regaining access to the public money market."

The notes will pay investors 8 percent on June 29.

"The investors are very much pleased," said Robert Gerard, senior vice president of Dillon, Read and Co. Inc. "We hope the city will conclude there ought to be another sale."

Goldin said that could materialize next month "if it is practical."

Deputy Comptroller Paul O'Brien noted a city with a good credit rating could currently sell its short-term notes at around 6.5 percent interest, but remember we're doing well just to be back in the market at all."

Water Brochure Planned For Referendum Question

MANCHESTER — A brochure mailed to water customers and talks by members of the Water Study Committee will be among the steps taken to inform residents about the upcoming referendum on system improvements.

Manchester needs to improve its water supply system to meet federal regulations that have set stricter standards for water quality.

A referendum question this spring will seek a bond issue — possibly for as much as $20 million — to pay for those improvements.

Tuesday night, the Town Board of Directors and two-year-old Water Study Committee met to talk about a number of water-related issues, including steps to take to educate the public about the proposed improvements.

The board of directors still will have to act next month on exactly what will be included in the referendum question, which could be voted as early as March 20. But, Tuesday, they began planning the education process to proceed.

Joy Giles, director of public works, said work now is being done on a brochure that will be mailed to water customers. A special mailing probably would have to be made since most customers are billed four times a year and some might not receive the next bill before the referendum, he said.

Betty Inagliata, a member of the Board of Directors, asked that the Water Study Committee not dissolve now that its review of proposed improvements is completed.

"We know you could be very valuable in helping educate the public," she said.

Harry Reinhorn, committee chairman, said he and other members would be available to speak about the proposed water system improvements.

Reinhorn also suggested an effective public relations program for the referendum would be to have town

GOP Plans Crackdown On Uninsured Motorists

HARTFORD (UPI) — House Republicans have come up with a plan to crack down on the hundreds of thousands of uninsured drivers on Connecticut highways.

But a Motor Vehicle Department spokesman said the policing program could run into the millions of dollars.

Edward Carroll, the legal representative for the MVD, said the proposal to set up a computer system whereby the insurance companies would provide the state with insured lists on a quarterly basis "would be quite expensive."

"You can enact all the legislation you want, but you have to give us the money to enforce it," Carroll said.

Insurance Commissioner Joseph Mike agreed and said many small insurers only have to say he insurance computer sophistication would be hard pressed to comply with a mandatory reporting statute.

Mike appeared at a separate meeting on the auto insurance problem held by the Democratic co-chairmen of the Transportation Committee, Sen. Howard Owens, D-Stamford, and Rep. Thom Serrani, D-Stamford.

Rep. James Palmieri, House chairman of the Insurance and Real Estate Committee, said he felt the present laws were adequate "but are not being enforced."

But Owens said cases against uninsured motorists are difficult to prosecute with current statute because the burden of proof is on the state and changes in the law have been thrown out by the courts.

"The worst of all you can beat the system," said Owens.

Mike told Owens it wasn't his supervisor's responsibility to draw up legislation and he should be involved in the efforts to crack down on uninsured drivers.

Bolton Legislator Blasts Conference on Violence

HARTFORD (UPI) — A weekend conference on how to deal with violence in public schools was a "waste of time and an insult" to all but the most inexperienced teachers, a state legislator says.

The special conference held Saturday in Hartford by the Connecticut Education Association.

"The basic theme of the conference was that if you improve the teacher, you solve the major part of discipline problems," Rep. Aloysius Ahearn, D-Bolton, who also is a teacher, said Tuesday.

"It was a waste of time and an insult to anyone with more than six months in the classroom," he said.

Instead of discussing means of combating violence, Ahearn said, the workshops were "inane" and teachers "were put through puerile games. The implication was that solving discipline problems was simply a matter of a teacher's being amusing and entertaining kids."

"To suggest that the solution to discipline and violence in our schools is primarily the development of healthy teachers is to insult the ability of the problems of assault and verbal abuse," said Ahearn, a member of the Legislature's Education Committee.

Ahearn, a former Golden Gloves boxer who has been teaching for 14 years, criticized the appearance at the conference of Fred Broder, a Georgia educator who has conducted many workshops on classroom discipline strategies.

He said Broder "practically put the blame for classroom violence on the teachers" and "it's Broder's advice to ignore students who present potential confrontations" was "unrealistic."

Ahearn said the conference failed to grasp "the real problem that is occurring in public schools and we're not going to change the situation by changing the teacher's personality."

He said troublemakers should be removed from school and placed in "alternative" schools staffed by teachers specially trained to deal with such students.

Legislators Reconsider Proposed Tax Measure

HARTFORD (UPI) — A legislative committee is taking a second look at a tax cut bill it originally planned to kill. It happens to be the only reduced tax Gov. Ella Grasso has proposed for the coming year.

Tax relief measures for the elderly, bills to cut Connecticut's sales tax and scores of other proposals were not as fortunate at the hands of the Finance, Revenue and Bonding Committee. They died.

But the committee saved two bills on its list Tuesday which deal with reducing or eliminating the state's 7 percent tax on replaceable machinery parts.

The committee had originally decided to kill both measures.

The execution was apparently planned before Mrs. Grasso announced last Friday that she wants to cut the tax on replaceable parts in half to 3.5 percent. It's her only proposed tax cut for the year.

Committee co-chairman, Rep. Irving Stolberg, D-New Haven, and Sen. Audrey Beck, D-Mansfield, realized that if the committee's two bills were killed, there probably would be no vehicle to carry out the governor's wishes this session.

"I'm sure we've all read the newspapers," Mrs. Beck said with a laugh, referring to the governor's announcement.

"These bills deserve a little more treatment than being boxed (legislative jargon for killing)," added Rep. Russell Reynolds, R-West Haven.

The committee unanimously voted to keep the bills alive by postponing action on them until next week.

The panel killed one bill that would reduce Connecticut's hefty 7 percent sales tax to 6 percent and rejected another measure that would reduce the tax to 5 percent.

Several bills that would grant sales tax exemptions to senior citizens of various ages were also killed.

"The Tax Department tells us they (the exemptions) would be virtually enforceable," said Rep. Ronald Smoko, D-Hamden. He also said there would be no way of telling how much money the state would lose under the proposals.

The committee continued its policy of reducing its workload by weeding out repetitive bills.

The panel killed a number of measures to repeal the dividends, clothing and capital gains taxes, choosing to draft only one or two bills on each subject.

Money Shortage

HARTFORD (UPI) — A review of the Danbury coffee shop run by retarded adults has revealed a shortage of $1,254.70, say auditors who looked at the shop's books.

The auditors conducted a review of the 406 Coffee Shop at the Danbury Regional Center after staff at the facility reported that one employee had "misappropriated" $295 from the coffee shop's account carrier this month.

Reaction Mixed To Playboys Ads

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A Playboy Magazine advertisement in Yale University's student newspaper seeking Yale women to audition for a "Girls of the Ivy League" photo layout has drawn mixed reviews.

The controversial ad started running in Tuesday's edition of the Yale Daily News and was expected to continue until Friday.

A Yale feminist group objected to the ad, but said it planned no formal protest. Some students also said they were upset about it, but another called the hubbub "hilarious."

Some members of the student-run daily paper, which editorialized against the photo layout Monday before the ad appeared, criticized publisher's Thomas L. Kelly's decision to accept it.

Jeff Morley, managing editor of the paper, said the pictorial will "contribute to a very deceptive image of Yale."

The ad appeared earlier in Ivy League student newspapers at Columbia University, Brown University and Dartmouth College. The Harvard Crimson refused to run it, but has run Playboy ads soliciting magazine subscriptions.

"I think they're making a mountain out of a molehill," said one Yale woman student, who asked to remain anonymous.

But Linda Hoaglund, 21, director of the Yale Undergraduate Women's Caucus, a feminist advocacy group at the Ivy League school, said, "It's just another instance of being reminded that we are women before we are students."

Board Delays Action On Water Question

MANCHESTER — There was more discussion, but no further decisions, about supplying water to Gastonbury customers at a water meeting Tuesday night.

Manchester's Board of Directors and Water Study Committee met Tuesday to review water improvement recommendations made by the committee. The directors are expected to make final decisions next month about which of the improvements will be included in the proposed bond issue.

A referendum vote on the matter is set tentatively for March 20.

A key question is continued water service to about 270 Gastonbury residents who live near the Manchester town line.

The present estimated $20 million bond issue includes $1.5 million for improvement to service these customers.

The Water Study Committee, however, has said the $1.5 million should not be included unless the question of service to Gastonbury is resolved. It does not appear likely that the final decision of including Gastonbury-improvement funds in the proposed bond issue will be made by the Board of Directors.

The Gastonbury service was discussed briefly during Tuesday's three-hour meeting. The 270 residents now are served by Manchester.

It was mentioned that providing water service with the pressure levels needed for adequate fire protection generally costs twice as much as just providing the water for drinking.

Director Joseph Sweeney questioned whether the Town of Gastonbury could be responsible for paying the fire service cost.

"I think it's a means of economizing both for ourselves and the Gastonbury residents who would have to reimburse us for our expense," Sweeney said.

He said, however, that Manchester does have the responsibility now to service those Gastonbury customers.

"Anyone having a water franchise cannot drop it like a hot brick," he said.

Director Stephen Cassano asked if the Town of Gastonbury might be able to take a step to insure that its residents pay for water improvements in their area.

Manchester officials have feared that they will spend the $1.5 million to upgrade the line to service Gastonbury. Then, the affected Gastonbury residents — who might be billed as much as $6,000 each to pay for the improvements — might decide not to hook into the line and not pay the cost of the Manchester improvements.

Cassano asked if Gastonbury might be able to take a step that would prevent the affected residents from drilling wells.

The Metropolitan District Commission had been considered as a possible option for servicing the 270 homes. The MDC, however, has indicated the present program primarily is one that has to be worked out by both towns. If the final decision is to have the MDC come in, that option then would be considered.

Andover Caucus Taps Incumbents

ANDOVER — First Selectman J. Russell Thompson and Selectman Peter Managetta were unanimously endorsed by the Republican caucus Tuesday night to seek another term for their respective offices.

Newcomer Charlotte Neal was endorsed for the seat of tax collector. Cynthia Clark, current tax collector, said she would not seek the seat again. She was thanked for her many years of work in the town.

Incumbents Ruth Munson and Morgan Steele were endorsed for the seats of tax collector and treasurer respectively.

The caucus endorsed incumbent James Hohman for a six-year term on the Board of Finance and newcomer James Hurst for a two-year term.

Remaining nominations by the Republican caucus at the Town Office Building were:

Board of Tax Review: Edward Sharp and Edward Whitcomb; Board of Education: Nancy Hegener; and Planning and Zoning Commission: Jesse Graham.

An alternate position for the nomination was not filled at the caucus but will be filled by the Republican Town Committee at a later date.

Also: Zoning Board of Appeals: Morgan Steele and alternate Ylo Anson; Fire Commissioner: J. Russell Thompson; Library Director: Geraldine Adams; Norton Fund Commissioner: Jean Person; and Insurance Commission: Francis Wimple.

Voter Meeting Set On School Addition

ANDOVER — A Town Meeting at which residents will have the option of approving or rejecting an additional $40,000 for the gymnasium addition to Andover Elementary School will be held Feb. 9 at 8 p.m. at the school.

Last year the town approved spending $602,000 for the addition. It also approved $4,500 for architect's fees. However, all bids received for the project were over the approved amount.

So the School Building Committee negotiated with the lowest bidder, Paul Phulick of Lebanon. After negotiating the committee said the project could become a reality if an additional $40,000 were approved.

The project is 50 percent reimbursable by the state. The town will pay the other 50 percent. The additional funds must also be approved by the state.

Thompson said, "I am being very cautious about the project because I have to represent both sides."

Beatrice Kowalski, Board of Education chairman, said, "I don't know what will happen. I hope a good crowd of people show up at the Town Meeting to vote the way they want to."

Mrs. Kowalski said, "The project should be decided by the town and not by a small number of people serving on town boards."

Famous Brand Children's Clothing for Less.

Once upon a time, Moms used to dress their little girls and boys up in beautiful playthings and dress clothes. But times passed, costs went up, and Mom had to start buying less clothing, and couldn't afford real good quality anymore. We think little boys and girls deserve to wear nice clothing, so we're helping Moms buy them more easily.

You see, at Children's Wear-House, Moms find the children's and pre-teens' brands they love to buy and prices they can easily afford. We thought children's clothing, cost too much...so we brought the prices down. So now, little girls and boys can play together happily over after in good, old fashioned quality clothing at old fashioned prices.

Library Awards Pact On Cleaning Service

MANCHESTER — The town library board has approved a contract for custodial services with Colonial Empire Inc. The $79,000 contract is effective from Feb. 1 through June 30, 1982.

While trying to maintain a budget within the 6 percent increase limit strongly recommended by Town Manager Robert Weiss, the library board is figuring out how to work in a new service. Board chairman Leo Diana said the library would try to continue maintaining its high degree of service to the public.

Called NEXNET, the system has been mostly experimental since its installation. John Jackson, head librarian, said it is basically a cataloging system used for classifying and processing new book titles. Its approximate $15,000 annual operating cost has been covered to date mostly by state funds, which will be unavailable next year.

In an effort to adhere to Weiss's budget recommendation, Jackson said he can't technically add any new services. Board chairman Leo Diana said the library would try to continue maintaining its high degree of service to the public.

Andover Town Official Given Mixed Reviews

ANDOVER - First Selectman J. Russell Thompson complemented the work of Percy Cook as building official criticized his work as zoning agent.

Thompson said there are many violations to the zoning regulations that aren't being taken care of as building being constructed without permits.

Thompson, even while critical of Cook, said, "Cook has a wealth of knowledge that the town shouldn't lose." He said, "We're not going to find anyone to fill those positions at Cook's present salary."

Thompson asked the Board of Finance to consider a salary increase for both positions. Cook currently gets $300 as zoning agent and $2,200 as building official.

A study will be done on the pay of both positions.

Road Washed Out

Thompson said about 200 feet of Bunker Hill Road was washed out by snow.

Vernon Teacher Contest Winner

VERNON - Peter Sepe, a teacher at the Rockville High School Regional Vocational Agriculture Center, has been chosen as the regional winner of the "Ideas Unlimited" contest.

The contest is sponsored by the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association. Sepe was chosen as regional winner for the 18 northeastern states.

The contest is designed to give classroom teachers in vocational agriculture an opportunity to share outstanding and exciting teaching ideas.

Sepe, and some of his students, have experimented and developed a small hog and lamb finishing unit at the center in Rockville.

Randall Brown

Brown Heads Shrine Club

MANCHESTER - Noble Randall N. Brown of 28 Spruce St. was installed recently as the 26th president of the Omar Shrine Club of Manchester.

Other nobles installed for 1979 are: Robert F. Ledoux, first vice president; Fred Schlicher, second vice president; Herbert R. Kingsbury, secretary; Stanley N. Baldwin, treasurer.

The Rev. Russell E. Camp, past imperial chaplain of Sphinx Temple will be chaplain of Omar Shrine Club for 1979.

Fred Davis, potentate of the Shrine, will be the installing officer for the ceremony which was held at Willie's Steak House.

Snow Budget Surviving

MANCHESTER - This winter, with its cloudy skies and frequent rains, has not been a good one for those weather purists who enjoy snow-covered trees and sunsets over wintry field scenes.

But, the weather has helped keep the town's snow removal budget in check, at least so far.

The town has spent about $20,000 of the $40,000 budget set aside for paying private contractors. This figure, however, is deceiving, Wajes said. Most of the contractors have not sent in their bills for work this month.

The town's expenditure for paying snow removal contractors is well below the budgeted total, Wajes said. The town has spent $20,000 on salaries so far, and that budget totals $85,000.

Expenditures for chemicals are done at the beginning of the year. The town spent about $40,000, some of which is funded by the state, and the supply should last the winter, Wajes said.

Catholics Boost Schools

MANCHESTER - The town's three Catholic parishes will celebrate National Catholic Schools Week Feb. 5 through 11. The Assumption, St. Bridget and St. James Parishes will observe the theme this year which is "Next to The Family, The Catholic School."

On Friday at 12:45 p.m., there will be a school assembly in the St. James School gym at which time there will be a prayer service, and prizes will be given to the winner of the essay and poster contests.

The week's events will conclude with a liturgical celebration of Catholic Schools Week Feb. 11 at 10:30 a.m. at St. James Church.

This year's theme is based on the belief that, "Outside the home, the Catholic school provides the student the best opportunity to experience a living Christian community by experiencing the presence of Jesus Christ in fellow students, teachers and parents."

Registration for the 1979-1980 school year will be held at St. James School anytime during the week of Feb. 5 to 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the school office for kindergarten through Grade 8. Manchester children being registered for kindergarten must also register for preschool screening at their neighborhood public school.

Registration for St. Bridget School for Grades 7 and 8 will be held Feb. 8 and 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Regardless of race, color or creed, all children are welcome to be registered at any of the parochial schools.

MANCHESTER - The Bible Discovery Group of Concordia Lutheran Church will meet Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the church room.

Educator Urges Respect

By BARBARA RICHMOND

Dr. Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent, told the committee, "This isn't a simple problem, we're talking about attitudes of students, teachers, and parents."

Dr. Robert Linstone, assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, said while he didn't feel that the problem is prevalent in the Vernon School system. "If a teacher does this (embarrasses) a student just once, it's wrong."

Dr. Kerkin said he feels the three R's are important but said the approach to them is also important. Both assistants agreed that the system has been concerned about the "humanistic" approach to education for a long time.

Schwartz said he had heard complaints about teachers who read off the marks of all of the students in a class, that embarrassing those with the lowest marks. He feels this is degrading and shouldn't be done.

Dr. Linstone, last year, wrote an article for the Connecticut Association of Boards of Education Inc. in which he stressed the need for the schools to concern themselves "with the need to add respect for our charges and for each other."

The matter of the fourth "R" will be discussed more in depth by the committee and the full board.

Jack Anderson Nixon Blamed for Downfall

WASHINGTON - Norodom Sihanouk, a rotund little man with a Squeaky voice, has come out of Cambodia to haunt Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger.

They were the two men, Sihanouk charges, who set in motion the terrible events in Cambodia. He holds them responsible for the human holocaust that wiped out hundreds of thousands of his countrymen and enslaved the survivors.

There is evidence, unhappily, that he may be right.

Seldom in the course of human events has there been a story of equal magnitude as the Sihanouk saga. It is an epic story not only of one man's destructibility but of the agony of a nation.

At the happy age of 18, Sihanouk became Cambodia's "young king." He was a playboy prince with a taste for champagne, mistresses and pop music. He ruled a genteel people in a land of quiet pagodas and tinkling temple bells. Probably nowhere on earth was there a country more peaceful and innocent.

Perhaps the best idea which has been considered is a national paper drive.

The effort would collect and recycle all the useless federal forms business has to fill out. The project would not only raise money, but would also serve an ecological purpose and perhaps aid the economy.

"Dick, you old devil. You haven't changed a bit."

Don Graff Travel Boom Affects China

It's the same old story. Greece, Portugal, Atlantic City. No sooner does word get around about a travel bargain than the crowds show up and prices shoot up.

Judging from current reports out of China, the budget traveler who hasn't yet visited that country has already missed the good days.

The minimum price of restaurant meals for foreigners has doubled to more than $6. A gallon of gas has tripled to some $3. The cost of personal services such as hairdressing has doubled and more.

Does an itinerary call for hops between cities by domestic Chinese airlines? Be prepared for fares comparable to the standards of the international carriers.

And if services of an interpreter are required, the cost has gone up almost seven times since the new year - to $50 a month, more than the salary of Peking's top leaders and almost 10 times the monthly income of an average Chinese worker.

It certainly sounds like inflation - and feels like it to foreign visitors, particularly Americans, who have plenty of experience with same at home. What makes this Chinese-style inflation different, however, is that it doesn't apply to Chinese.

Prices charged foreigners have been raised arbitrarily as a matter of political and economic policy. The purpose is to help meet the massive bills China is racking up in its crash modernization program by raking in as much hard currency as possible - and with the traffic jam now developing on the road to Peking, which suggests that Peking's No. 1 Communist, Teng Hsiao-ping, may have something to say on his visit to Washington that his capitalist hosts could find particularly useful - tips on handling trade deficits with the West.

Quote/Unquote

"I humbly ask for this pardon not only for the good name of Gen. Francisco 'Paco' Villa, but to further cement the good relations between our two countries."

- Mrs. Pancho Villa, 84, widow of the Mexican rebel who led the last military raid into the United States (in 1916). She met with Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Tex., to urge the United States to clear Villa's reputation.

"American beware if Joe Califano ever gives up drinking or other pleasure pursuits - even the most intimate."

- William F. Dwyer, vice president of the Tobacco Institute (a Washington-based lobby), complaining about the anticigarette campaign by the HEW secretary - a reformed smoker.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) - It tells us something about our times that the $4 billion pornography industry in the United States now has its own trade newsletter.

The question is: what does it tell us?

I mean, is the advent of a pornography newsletter a commentary on the decline of morals in America? Or is it a commentary on the proliferation of newsletters?

Back to that in a moment. First, it should be noted that the pornography newsletter, called TAB (The Adult Business) Report, is itself non-X-rated. I personally would rate it PG.

I haven't read every line of the, ah, maiden issue, but those I did read contained no four-letter words except words with four letters.

Items in the 16-page monthly publication generally fall into two categories:

1. Accounts of brushes with the law by operators of porn movie houses, adult bookstores, peep shows, go-go bars, swingers clubs, escort services, burlesque palaces, massage parlors and bordellos.
2. New products, services and ideas. (An adult bookstore has as its motto: "Purveyors of Fine Smut Since 1976.")

In short, TAB Report is more or less typical of the newsletter genre we have come to know so well. So what's the point of this? Well, it's surprising to no one that Dennis Sobin, the publisher, also publishes the "Federal Contracts Opportunities Report."

Murphy, Kiro Pace East

By EARL YOST
Sports Editor
Combining for 30 of their team's 38 first half points, East Catholic's one-two punch of Mark Murphy and Pete Kiro sparked an impressive but lopsided 81-55 home hoop decision over Prince Tech last night.

Murphy, coming off his poorest offensive showing in his previous outing, canned 29 points. In the first half, in a brilliant display of show-making as the Eagles used their season long 10-9 in the non-conference meeting. Prince dropped to 9-4.

Kiro dropped in 16 points in the first half, 8 in each period before cooling off and helping Bob Venora with the second half rebounding.

Coach Jim Penders' crew, not looking ahead to Friday night's game with South Catholic Friday night at the University of Hartford, was happier than a pistol in the first half with Kiro and Murphy mashing the ammunition.

Combining for 30 of their team's 38 first half points, East Catholic's one-two punch of Mark Murphy and Pete Kiro sparked an impressive but lopsided 81-55 home hoop decision over Prince Tech last night.

Murphy, coming off his poorest offensive showing in his previous outing, canned 29 points. In the first half, in a brilliant display of show-making as the Eagles used their season long 10-9 in the non-conference meeting. Prince dropped to 9-4.

Kiro dropped in 16 points in the first half, 8 in each period before cooling off and helping Bob Venora with the second half rebounding.

Coach Jim Penders' crew, not looking ahead to Friday night's game with South Catholic Friday night at the University of Hartford, was happier than a pistol in the first half with Kiro and Murphy mashing the ammunition.

White Looks Forward To Full Appreciation

BOSTON (UPI) — After nine years in a Celtics uniform, Jo White says it will be hard to leave Boston, but he's looking forward to playing "in a place where I am appreciated."

White, 31, a seven-time NBA All-Star who helped Boston win two league titles, was dealt to the Golden State Warriors for a first-round draft choice Tuesday in a trade that even caught him by surprise.

Celtics President Red Auerbach, trying to rebuild the Celtics into a contender, praised White's contribution to the team but said Boston needs fresh talent.

"He has been a great player for the Celtics for the past nine years," Auerbach told a news conference. "But we are in a rebuilding program and in order to get quality you must give up quality."

Boston, which has won 13 NBA championships, is currently mired in last place in the Atlantic Division with a 17-31 record.

White, a 6-foot-3 point guard who has been a mainstay of the Celtics offense since being drafted out of the University of Kansas in 1969, had threatened to quit the club earlier this year because he felt he wasn't playing enough. But he said Tuesday's trade "caught me off guard."

"Even though there were rumors, I talked with Red and I thought things were all right," he said in a telephone interview.

White said he had "mixed feelings" about leaving Boston, but said he was looking forward to playing for the Warriors, even though Golden State is in last place in the Pacific Division.

"All I'm looking for is a place that I'm appreciated for what I do. All I want to do is play ball."

"I know how to win as far as basketball is concerned," he said, "and I'm excited about the team that I'm going to be playing for."

The Warriors earlier this month had offered Boston a second-round draft choice for White, but Auerbach turned it down. He changed his mind when Golden State upped the ante.

Adding the Golden State draft choice brings the Celtics' drafting strength to three top choices in the 1979 NBA draft. In addition to their own selection, the Celtics received a first-round pick from Seattle for Dennis Awrey.

A first-round-draft choice should bring us the type of player who will make a contribution toward putting the Celtics back on top and keeping us there for years to come," Auerbach said.

"It is no secret that Jo has been unhappy here for the past two years and we all hope that this move will prove beneficial to him," he said.

A Celtics spokesman said the team intends to reactivate Don Chaney, who has been on the active reserve list, to fill the vacancy created by the trade.

White, who underwent surgery at the end of last season for painful bone spurs in both heels, played in all but one game this season and averaged 12.1 points per game. But he spent more time on the bench.

He had demanded to be traded earlier this year and almost quit the team out of frustration, but was talked out of it by player-coach Dave Cowens.

White's best year was 1971-72, when he scored 23.1 points per game. He was named New Jersey, 125-98, and the 1976 NBA championship series against Phoenix, the last Boston title.

Prior to the surgery at the end of last season, he had played in 488 straight games, a team record.

Faces In The News

Andre Lacroix, short-handed goal scorer, helped the Whalers to 5-3 win over Winnipeg in WHA last night.

Tom Heinsohn says basketball is deteriorating and suggested three new rules, including 3-point play.

Brad Selwood, one of the original New England Whalers, announced his retirement, effective yesterday due to knee ailments.

Rod Laver will launch a comeback on tour with the veteran, including John Newcombe, Roy Emerson and Mary Riessen.

Lacroix Goal Game-Winner

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — New England Whalers' Coach Bill Dineen was only half joking when he said his team may be more luck scoring when they are short-handed than during a power-play situation.

Andre Lacroix netted a short-handed goal in the second period Tuesday night, the game winner, as the Whalers beat the Winnipeg Jets 5-2.

New England, scoreless on their last 16 power-play opportunities, have scored three short-handed goals in their last two games for a season total of 3.

"The way we had been playing on our power play maybe we'd be better off playing with just four men on the ice," Dineen quipped after the Whalers' second straight win over Winnipeg in three nights.

The victory also broke New England's second place tie with the Jets in the World Hockey Association as they moved within two points of the league-leading Quebec Nordiques.

After Lacroix's goal, Whaler Captain Rick Ley netted his fourth goal of the year to give the New England 4-0 lead, but the Jets closed the gap in the third period on goals by Peter Sullivan and Morris Lukowich.

Blaire Stoughton banged home the fifth Whaler goal with 13 seconds left in the game.

New England was without the services of veteran superstar Gordie Howe, sidelined with a clipped fracture in his left ankle.

Indiana State Coach Ignores Cage Ratings

By MILT RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — For a college basketball coach, Bill Hodges of Indiana State has the perfect approach to the national rankings. He ignores them.

His Sycamores are the No. 2 team in the country today with a perfect 18-0 record and some feel that certainly entitles them to be rated over top-ranked Notre Dame, 12-2. Notre Dame supporters look at Indiana State's schedule and shrug them off by contemptuously asking whom do they play?

"We'd love to play Notre Dame," puts in Bill Hodges, who is trying to get to the last two years now.

Hodges could fan the flames much more by leading his voice to that anguished chorus claiming his team should be No. 1, but he isn't doing that at all. As a matter of fact, Indiana State's schedule and shrug them off by contemptuously asking whom do they play?

"I can't at all important how we're ranked nationally," says Hodges, who looks over the team from Head Coach Bob King last October when King had to quit for health reasons and still is technically listed as head coach.

I believe him. I feel he means it because of what else he has to say about them and because of Indiana State's sad experience with the rankings last season.

Before the season started, Hodges got together with his players and had Loyola of Chicago 79-79 after making another rough trip through the snow.

"The team had played well even in losing those five straight but all of a sudden our record was 13-5 and that was the end of us as far as the national rankings were concerned," says Ed McKee, the Sycamores' Sports Information Director.

Now you get some idea as to why Bill Hodges feels about the national rankings the way he does.

When critics begin picking apart Indiana State's schedule, Sycamore supporters counter by bringing up the team's 10-point victory over 20th-ranked Purdue, which was the winner of the Rainbow Classic in 1978. The Russians had beaten three of Indiana State's best teams, Notre Dame, Purdue and Indiana and now it was up to Indiana State to salvage some small measure of respect as it would be a whitewash for the state.

The Sycamores beat the Russians, 83-79, and what made the victory all the sweeter was that Larry Bird, their scoring and passing sensation, fouled out with nine minutes to go, but his teammates still managed to win without him.

Bill Hodges could be right. What's so important about being ranked No. 1 in the newspapers?

BENNET

Bennet varsity improved its record to 8-1 with a 67-54 duke yesterday over J.F. Kennedy of Entfeld.

Joe Maher pumped in 21 points, Derek Reed 17 and Tim Ellis 12 in the Bears. Myles McCurry and Chris Carmel were defensively standouts.

ILLING

Illing varsity rebounded from last Friday's setback to cross-town Bennet with a 55-52 decision over Webb Junior High of Wethersfield yesterday.

George Hanlon tossed in 14 points, Frank Marandino 11, Mark Butler 10 and Manny Johnson 8 for the Rams, now 7-2 for the season.

ILLING GIRLS

Illing girls trimmed Webb of Wethersfield yesterday by a 40-22 count.

Chris Brown had 10 points, Denise White 8 and Leslie Gouette, Tony Brown and Mary Gallagher 4 apiece for the Rams, now 7-3.

ILLING JV GIRLS

Illing JV varsity topped St. James yesterday, 38-23.

Patty Wilson had 8 points as did Cheryl Wojnarowski who had 6 steals in the closing minutes to ice the Illing win.

BUSINESSMEN

Ron Rieber pumped in 47 points to lead BOPNER's to a 96-77 win over Fuss & O'Neil last night at Illing.

Chip Corran added 15 points, Mike Reardon 11 and Jim Grimes 10 for BOPNER's. Rick Maricchi had 19 points, Kevin Dunn 16 and Rick Raimondo 10 for the losers.

MIDGET

Manchester Cyclops topped Modern Janitorial 1, 33-31, and the Elks romped past American Legion, 51-29, at the Y.

Rick Howard had 11 points and Joe Johnson 8 for Cyclops, which took the decision in overtime. Glen Boggini had a game-high 11 markers and Chris Sillanpaa 7 for Janitorial.

Greg Turner had 21 points and Paul Tetreault 18 for the Elks while Tim Chevalier had 13 tallies for Legion.

Basketball Deteriorating In Mind of Heinsohn

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Former Boston Celtics coach Tom Heinsohn says basketball is deteriorating and suggests that new rules and a three-point shot could make the game exciting.

"The NBA has gone stagnant," Heinsohn said Tuesday. "The league has legislated against aggressiveness and stifled creativity."

Heinsohn cited the proliferation of zone defenses as the chief reason for what he feels is the game's deterioration.

"The zone defense has stifled creative basketball and creative players like the Ernie DiGregorio and the Bob Cousys," said Heinsohn, who was in upstate New York to promote a local basketball tournament.

He said "rules with teeth" were needed to help combat zone defenses, and urged that the three-point shot, used in the defunct ABA, be adopted in the pro game.

"The NBA needs a good shot in the arm," he said. "The three-point shot would certainly create a lot of excitement."

Heinsohn placed much of the blame on the NBA leadership and

Islanders Lose Second at Home

NEW YORK (UPI) — This is the team that's supposed to wrest the Stanley Cup away from the Montreal Canadiens?

If last night's 5-4 loss to Minnesota is any indication of the depth on the New York Islanders team, it won't happen. Two straight losses at home have resulted. And the Islanders are not known for being gracious hosts.

Last Saturday's 7-2 loss to the New York Rangers was dismissed as a fluke. After all, the Islanders pointed out, a loss at home was inevitable.

"It's a gut," said goaltender Glenn Resch. "It's only two games. We really can't let it bother us. We're still in there, you know."

Mike Fisher's second goal of the game, a 48-foot drive with just over four minutes remaining — sparked the North Stars. Fidler took a pass from Steve Sargent and beat Resch at 16:08. Nothing is final. But Bossy scored 42 seconds apart and in the third period to tie the score, 4-4.

"Things are just beginning to happen for us," said Glen Somner, captain of the North Stars. "We're just starting everything out now. I can look back and say it took this long to adjust."

Manery followed Fidler's first-period score — which came at 4:22 — with a goal of his own just eight seconds later. Clark Gillies scored the first of his two goals at 15:19, leaving the Islanders down 2-1 after the first period.

Gillies scored his goal at 7:39 of the second period, but Bobby Smith connected nine minutes later, then added another goal at 12:58 of the final period to give the Stars a 4-2 lead.

Names In The News

Brad Selwood — Springfield, Mass. (UPI) — Defenseman Brad Selwood, in his seventh season with the Whalers, has retired, Jack Kelley, director of hockey operations for the World Hockey Association team, announced Tuesday.

"Brad found the combination of hockey and his outside business interests too demanding," Kelley said. Selwood expressed his gratitude to the fans and to the Whalers "for giving me the opportunity to play here. I will always have a special place in my heart for the players."

Don Kessinger — New Chicago White Sox player-manager Don Kessinger and hard-hitting Texas Ranger Al Oliver won their second-round matches today in the $2,000 All-Pro Racequetball Championship involving 24 major league baseball players.

The two finalists of the three-day event will receive $4,000 each and advance to the All-Pro Finals to be played later in the year. The winner of the finals will receive $58,000.

Terry Harper — Detroit Red Wings Tuesday recalled veteran defenseman Terry Harper and centerman P. LeBlanc from their Kansas City affiliate in the Central Hockey League.

"It is hoped that Harper can add some stability to our young defense," said Red Wings General Manager Ted Lindsay. The Red Wings said John Hillworth, who has been seeing just spot duty with the team, has been assigned to Kansas City.

Al Bumby — Baltimore Orioles Tuesday signed free-agent outfielder Al Bumby, the first Oriole player to go through the re-entry draft and then return to his original club. Terms of the three-year contract were not divulged.

Bumby, 31, hit .317 in 1977, but broke his left leg in Texas last May and was on the bench until September. He recently spent two months playing himself back into shape in a league in Venezuela.

Johnny Vaught — Johnny Vaught, an All-American guard at Texas Christian University in 1932 who went on to be one of the most successful coaches in the country, was named Tuesday to the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame.

Vaught, who coached the University of Mississippi to six Southeast Conference championships and took Ole Miss to 18 bowls in 25 seasons, had 190 victories in 263 games. Among the great players he helped to develop were Barney Poole, Charley Conerly, Snuffy Strinweiss, Jim "Sweet" Lulane and Jimmy Lear.

Pro Hockey

"We're certainly having our problems," said Ian Alexander, coach of the Vancouver Canucks. "The problems are made to be solved and we'll solve them."

In other NHL games, Detroit defeated Washington 7-4. St. Louis Frank Morse 18 to lead Fogarty 5 to a 9-7 triumph over Sportsman Cafe at Hill. Bill Eller 34 and Jeff Gott 11 paced Sportsman.

Historic Setting

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Churchill Downs, historic home of the Kentucky Derby for over a century, has been entered on the National Register of Historic Places. Mrs. Eldred Melton, executive director of the Kentucky Heritage Commission, announced Monday.

The track, with its twin-spurred grandstand, was founded in 1874 by Col. Meriwether Lewis Clark in an attempt to revitalize the thoroughbred horse industry.

Ticket Sale

HOUSTON (UPI) — Scattered single tickets, about $200 temporary bleacher seats in the last two-thirds of the season and 5,000 SRO tickets, are all that are unused for 1979 Houston Oilers home games in the Astrodome.

The Astrodome capacity is 47,853 during the major league baseball season. Oilers' ticket manager Rick Nichols said most of those seats have been sold in season-ticket packages.

Lease Has Athletics Locked in at Oakland

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Oakland A's, the baseball team owner Charles O. Finley says he wants to sell, will remain in California for the 1979 season, the head of the Louisiana Superdome says.

Denzil Skinner, the president of the Hyatt Management Corp. that runs the Superdome for the state, said Oakland Coliseum stadium officials have not yet spoken with Finley about the purchase lease. Finley locked the A's in Oakland despite poor attendance figures.

"To my knowledge the Oakland Coliseum stadium authority hasn't agreed to sit down and negotiate a settlement," Skinner said. "Here we are at the first of February, and I can see the negotiations taking some time."

"I'm not optimistic about working out in this situation, but I am optimistic about our future chances. I would think things are probably on the back burner. (The stadium officials) have never indicated they are willing to negotiate anything. They have never indicated what their starting point would be in any negotiations."

Two weeks ago, Ohio sports millionaire Edward DeBartolo Sr. offered Finley $12 million cash for the A's, but little has progressed beyond that point. Unnamed sources close to the deal said Finley would receive $9 million and the stadium authority $4 million, with the extra $1 million coming from the remaining American League teams and the National League San Francisco Giants.

Last year, however, Coliseum officials rejected a similar cash offer to break the lease when Denver oilman Marvin Davis purchased the club. That deal later was called off by Finley when he could not break the lease.

"I'm turned down $3 million last year," Skinner said. "That's one of the reasons I'm a little pessimistic."

Both Skinner and Vince Bartimo, delegated by DeBartolo to lead the purchase negotiations, said the multimillion-dollar DeBartolo Corp. still is interested in bringing a team to the dome for the 1980 season.

"Our position has always been that we never want to get involved where there are reluctant sellers," Bartimo said in a telephone interview from Louisiana Downs in Bossier City, La. "I think we are in a hold pattern. We are hoping the offer will be accepted. I have been given authority by Mr. DeBartolo to stay with this thing. We will be talking to a number of people for 1980. These situations have a tendency of having high and lows and then something turns around."

Bartimo said the A's still would do well to move out of Oakland, if only to save themselves financially. He

New Shows Don't Rate

By JOAN HANAUER
NEWYORK (UPI) — The first night of television series recently staged by Fred Silverman...

Louise "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" Lasser has makeup applied by David Cobell Tuesday before appearing as Lillian Hellman in "Are You Now or Have You Ever Been" at the Century Theater in New York City.

Youth Not Important To be Great: Reagan

Ronald Reagan says you don't have to be young to be great and though he still isn't committing himself to a run for the White House in 1980 when he'll be pushing 70, he was quick to defend his years Tuesday in San Diego.

Answering questions on the subject of 70, he said, "Wasn't that the age in which Winston Churchill achieved his greatness? The age of Dwight Eisenhower during his second term? (Konrad) Adenauer of Germany — the Pope? Good Lord, are you going to stop listening to Bob Hope?"

Andover Music Group Schedules G&S Event

ANDOVER — The Andover Rural Music Committee will sponsor "An Evening With Gilbert and Sullivan," Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. at the First Congregational Church on Route 6.

Violinist Will Perform For Composer Birthday

MANCHESTER — Cyrus Stevens, violinist and performer in one of two programs, will perform in a concert at the University of Hartford centers in celebration of the 70th birthday of Elliott Carter, a contemporary composer.

"Hello Larry," and CBS' "Dallas" in its first night in a new time slot... The low scores of the new NBC shows were among the factors that kept the network to the ratings cellar last week, with ABC in command and CBS again in No. 2 spot.

The importance of program position was underlined last week, when CBS' "WKRP in Cincinnati" — a show that had been taken off the air after a poor start — returned in the spot following "M-A-S-H." It finished in the top 20. The show it replaced, "One Day At A Time," a consistent high scorer after "M-A-S-H," dropped to 20th place in its Wednesday night slot.

CBS this week offers a two-part Western, "Mr. Horn," which airs Feb. 1 and Feb. 3, 8:30 p.m., Eastern time, both nights.

Concert Strange On Hijacked Jet

WILTON (UPI) — Actor-singer Theodore Bikel says his weekend concert featuring guitar and singing aboard a hijacked jet was one of his "strangest" concerts.

MANCHESTER — Photographs by Peter Chow, an architect who lives in Hartford, will be on display at Manchester Community College through Feb. 22.

Organ technician Joseph Dzedza of New Haven displays one of the 12,573 pipes in the Newberry Memorial Organ at Yale University. Ranged behind him is the organ's tuba stop, one of 166 stops in the famous instrument, built in 1928 and featured in a new two-record set published by the non-profit Organ Historical Society.

Record Features Big Organ

NEW HAVEN — Connecticut's largest pipe organ has been featured in a record produced by the Organ Historical Society. The society recorded the Yale organ during its Twentieth National Convention in 1974, when 200 organ enthusiasts came to Connecticut to visit two dozen old organs in three days.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We work with an attractive woman who is in her early 50s. She was born in England and has lived in the U.S. for 30 years.
Three years ago she started working in this office, and because of her English accent we were all charmed by her. But lately she has begun to irritate us because she never loses an opportunity to put down this country. According to her, everything is better in England!

DEAR JUST: Yes, freedom of speech gives her the right to criticize. But as a resident alien who has lived on the American economy for 30 years, she shows poor taste in exercising that right. Basically, she is a guest of Uncle Sam, and a good guest does not criticize her host.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is the woman my husband used to see before he married me. She keeps sending Arthur "his" val's cards, birthday telegrams, Christmas cards, etc. to remind him that she's still around. These reminders are sent to our home and signed, "with love."

DEAR JEALOUS: If you're wise, you'll stop begging your husband to ring up his old flame for any reason. By ignoring her he is discouraging her to the best possible way. She probably never enters his mind until you bring her up.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I can remember, my husband has given me $100 in cash and told me to buy myself Christmas presents. It's been all right with me because Alex hates to shop. Besides, his taste is so lousy that something he'd buy me something I'd have to exchange it for something else.

DEAR GIFTLESS: Yes, as soon as you get the cash, either spend it or bank it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO C. IN HOLLYWOOD, FLA.: A man who tells his wife in getting mad at a whole family because his wife had an argument with one of its members, shows his stupidity - not his loyalty.

The teen years are the questioning years. Abby has the answers to all your questions in her booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know." Enclose $1 and a long, stamped 10 cent, self-addressed envelope.

Astrograph
Your Birthday
February 1, 1979
A more-than-usual social schedule is likely this coming year. You may find yourself involved in several fun dips. With a circle of friends, but don't ignore old pals.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Unfortunately, to make your points today you may come on more harshly than necessary. Soft words will work better than severe ones. Find out more of what else ahead for you in 1979 by sending for your copy of the new Astro-Graph Year for 1979. $1 for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) When material stakes are at issue today, others may not be as idealistic as you. Be on guard so that you are not deceived.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Several people you may have been depending upon won't be able to come through for you today. Having a good attitude about it will help you immensely.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You don't mind doing things for others today so long as it's your idea, but you might balk at someone's insignificant request.

Berry's World - Jim Berry
I have determined the earth moves around the sun in a big circle. Sure.

Peanuts - Charles M. Schulz
IT'S THE RED BARON! HE'S ON MY TAIL!
HERE'S WHERE ALL MY MONTHS OF TRAINING WILL COME TO USE...
THE FIRST THING THEY TAUGHT US WAS TO SEEK COVER IN THE CLOUDS
IN TRAINING WE HAD BIGGER CLOUDS

Priacilla's Pop - Ed Sullivan
A THOUSAND YEARS AGO - NO, A THOUSAND MILLION YEARS AGO...
SOMEWHERE BETWEEN THE DINOSAURS AND NOAH'S ARK...
THESE CREATURES IN FUNNY CLOTHES ROAMED THE EARTH!
I LOVE TO LOOK AT FAMILY PHOTO ALBUMS WITH YOU, GRANDPA!

Captain Easy - Crooks & Lawrence
SPEACE WE KNOW HOW YOU FEEL. YOUR FATHER BUT YOU'VE GOTTA GET HOLD OF YOURSELF!
LET GO OF ME, YOU SWAB! THROUGH ME BOB, GET ME A SPEAR-GUN!

At Seminar

Raymond J. Negro, manager of Ponderosa Steak House, Spencer Street, has been selected to attend a management seminar. The 10-day course will be held in Dayton, Ohio, according to Robert Arata, area supervisor.

Americans will soon spend one out of every two dollars on food in restaurants. This being the trend, it is very important that the latest methods and techniques be applied so as to insure Ponderosa's share of the industry," Negro said.

"Skillful management is an absolute requirement to maintain high standards of quality and still provide excellent service," he said.

Negro lives on Hebron Rd. in Bolton.

Energy Tax Credits

Persons who have installed insulation to combat high energy bills may be eligible for a tax credit according to Barbara Gagnon, district manager for H & R Block.

The Energy Tax Act of 1978 allows homeowners or renters who have purchased energy saving devices to claim tax credit based on the cost, including installation, of the devices.

Ms. Gagnon explains these devices include insulation, storm and thermal windows, clock thermostats, caulking or weatherstripping exterior doors or windows and electrical or mechanical furnace ignition systems which replace gas pilot lights. The tax credit for these devices is 15 percent of the cost, up to a maximum of $300 for each residence.

Ms. Gagnon added that a tax credit is also available to persons whose property transmits or uses solar wind, or geothermal energy, or other forms of renewable energy used to heat or cool a principal residence, or to provide hot water for use in the residence. The maximum tax credit for this property, including installation cost, is $2,000 for each residence.

These tax credits are retroactive to any expenditures made after April 19, 1977, and may be claimed on the 1978 return.

The H & R Block office is at 356 Rear W. Middle Turnpike (Parkade), 646-5400 or 236-1981.

Promoted

Hartford National Bank and Trust Corp. has announced the promotion of Richard W. Dennison to assistant vice president. He is responsible for the Commercial Loan Central Control Department.

Dennison joined the Bank in 1972 as an operations trainee in the Connecticut Division. Subsequent positions in loan work led to his present appointment as assistant vice president.

A graduate of Union College in Schenectady, Dennison lives in Manchester.

CHERRY DESSERTS TO DELIGHT

When spring is still way-around the corner, and winter menus need sparking, along comes February. Our shortest month is filled with occasions to make festive, each one sure to cure the winter woes.

A Valentine dessert party glows with candlelight, a charming Cherry Topped Custard and a regal Cherry Chocolate Roll-Up. So luscious, each will say "I love you." The Cherry-Orange Cobbler and Cherry Loaf Cake are perfect family desserts to acknowledge the importance of Washington and Lincoln in the history of our country. They rely on convenient baking mixes and canned cherry pie filling, so preparation fits easily into a busy schedule.

As a matter of fact, all of these delicious desserts are made with canned cherry pie fillings, since the careful consumer counts on this flavorful filling for economy of ingredients and motion.

CHERRY TOPPED CUSTARD

- 6 eggs
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Dash salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 1/4 cups milk, scalded
- 1/2 cup cooked rice
- 1 can (2 1/2 oz.) cherry pie filling
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

Separate 2 eggs; reserve egg whites. In large bowl slightly beat egg yolks and remaining 4 eggs with 1/2 cup sugar, salt, cinnamon and vanilla. Slowly stir in slightly cooled milk. Place rice in 2-quart baking dish; pour egg mixture over rice. Set dish in shallow pan. Pour boiling water into pan 1 inch deep. Bake at 325° for 1 hour and 20 to 30 minutes until knife inserted off center comes out clean.

Set aside 1/4 cup cherry pie filling syrup for garnish. Spoon remaining pie filling over pudding. Beat egg whites until frothy. Gradually add 1/4 cup sugar and cream of tartar. Using a large pastry bag with large notched tip press meringue into puddings on top of cherry filling or simply spoon on top. Return to 350° oven in same pan of hot water for 8 to 10 minutes or until peaks are lightly browned. Cool. Drizzle reserved syrup over meringue. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

CHERRY CHOCOLATE ROLL-UP

- 4 eggs
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/4 cup cocoa
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1 can (2 1/2 oz.) cherry pie filling
- 1 envelope whipped topping mix

Butter a 15x10x1-inch baking pan; line with foil or waxed paper; butter foil. Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar and vanilla. Sift together flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Sift dry ingredients over egg mixture; fold in. Spread batter evenly in prepared pan. Bake at 375° about 12 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Loosen edges and immediately turn upside down on towel sprinkled with sifted confectioners' sugar. Carefully remove foil. Trim away any stiff edges. While cake is still warm roll cake and towel from narrow end. Cool on wire rack.

Beat cream cheese until smooth. Gradually stir in cherry pie filling. Prepare whipped topping according to package directions. Fold about half the topping into cherry mixture. Refrigerate remaining topping. Unroll cake, spread with cherry mixture. Roll again. Chill. Garnish with remaining whipped topping and if you like, dust topping lightly with sifted cocoa.

Neighbor's Kitchen

By Betty Ryder

If you haven't yet tasted Italian sauces seasoned with wine vinegar you're in for a surprise. Far from being sour tasting, this vinegar imparts a mellow, rounded flavor to many meat and poultry dishes.

In some recipes you'll find that wine and wine vinegar can be used interchangeably (usually using less of the vinegar). Economically it's a good idea, too, when you realize that several months, whereas red wine lasts only a few days.

The home economists at Progresso Kitchens have developed two recipes using wine vinegar. First, Beef Braciolo. Thin slices of beef are rolled around a seasoned stuffing, then browned and simmered in a wine/vinegarred tomato sauce. Round steak is used here but you could also use chuck.

In Costolette Di Maniale Piccante (Piquant Pork Chops), the browned chops are cooked slowly to moist succulence in a sauce replete of garlic, anchovies, green olives and, of course, wine vinegar. In both cases the vinegar added before simmering imparts a mellowed, gentle flavor. If you like a more piquant taste, add a teaspoon or two at the end of the cooking time.

Braciolo (Beef Roll-Ups)
6 thin slices (3 to 4 oz. each) beef round
1/2 cup packaged Italian style bread crumbs
1/2 cup coarsely chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 garlic clove, crushed
1 teaspoon salt, divided
5 tablespoons olive oil, divided
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed beef broth
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1/2 cup red wine vinegar

2 teaspoons flour
Pound meat, slice between 2 sheets of waxed paper with a wooden mallet until 1/16-inch thick; set aside. In a small bowl combine bread crumbs, onion, celery, parsley, garlic, 1/2 teaspoon of the salt and 3 tablespoons of the olive oil. Spread 1 rounded tablespoon over each meat side; roll-up from the narrow side; fasten with toothpicks.

In a large skillet heat remaining 2 tablespoons olive oil until hot. Add beef rolls; brown on all sides, 3 to 5 minutes. Stir in beef broth, tomato sauce, wine vinegar and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until meat is tender, about 30 minutes. Mix flour with 1/4 cup water. Add to sauce; cook and stir until thickened. Remove toothpicks. Serve over fettuccine or other pasta. Yield: 4 to 6 portions. Approximate preparation and cooking time: 45 minutes.

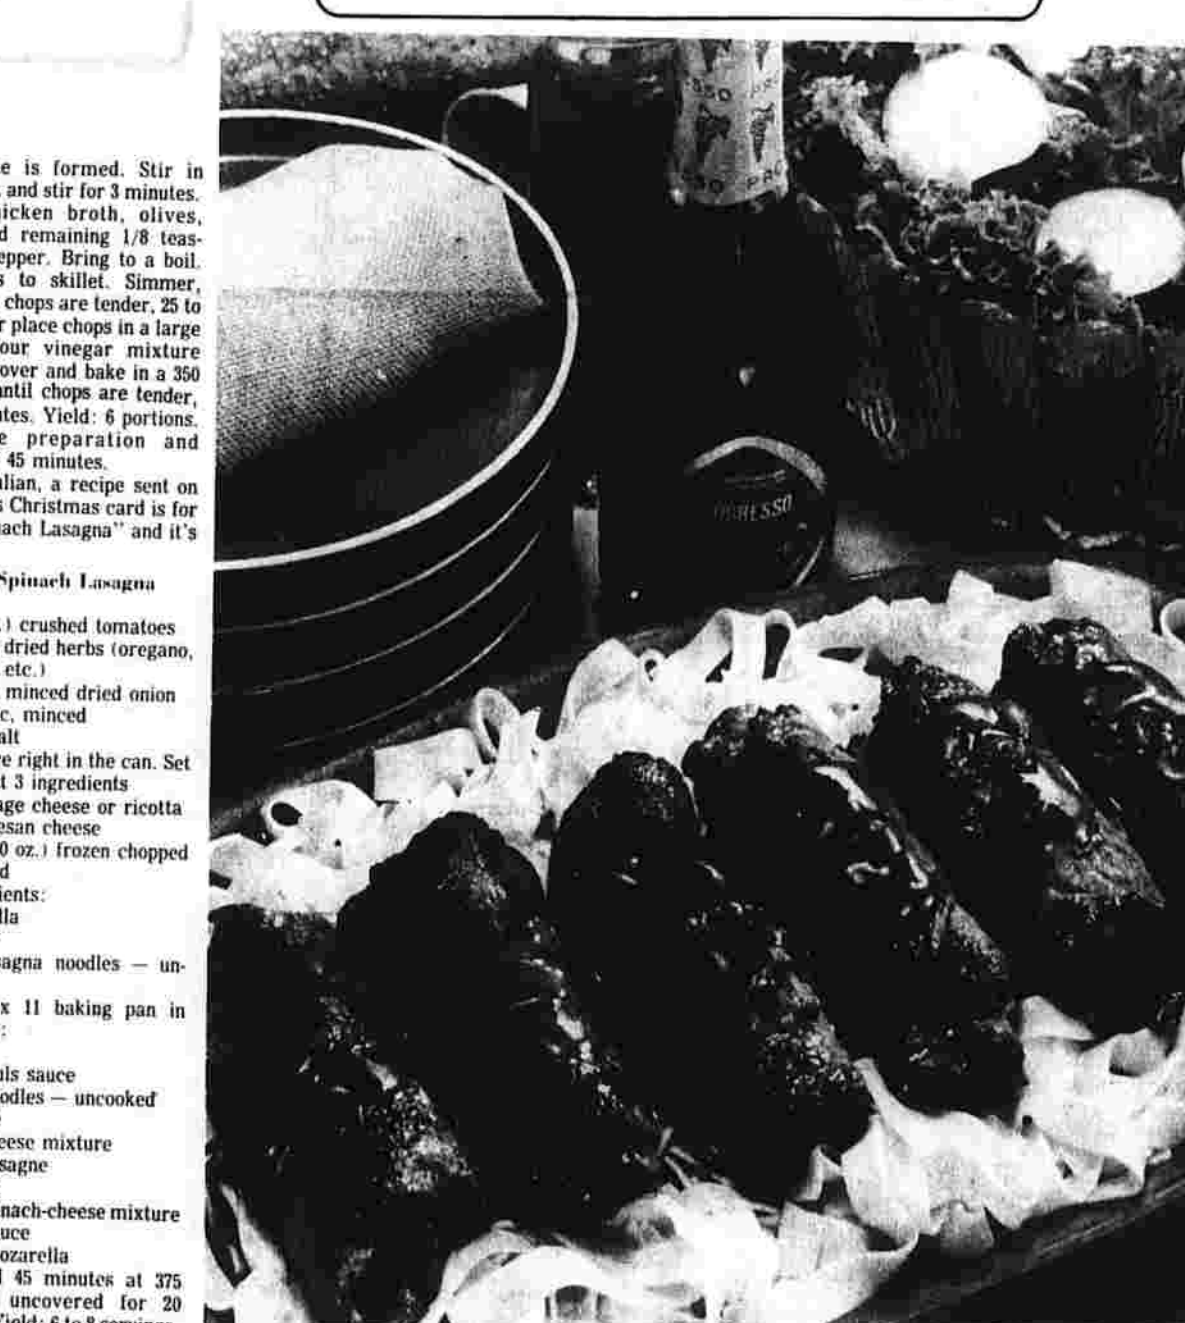

Costolette Di Maniale Piccante (Piquant Pork Chops)
2 tablespoons olive oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, divided
6 pork chops (about 1-inch thick)
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 garlic clove, crushed
6 flat anchovy fillets, drained and mashed
1/3 cup red wine vinegar
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed chicken broth
1/3 cup sliced stuffed green olives
1/2 teaspoon rosemary leaves, crushed

Combine flour, salt and 1/8 teaspoon of the black pepper. Coat chops on both sides with flour mixture; set aside. In a large skillet heat oil until hot; add chops and brown well on both sides. Remove and set aside. Discard all but 1 tablespoon of the drippings from the skillet. Add garlic and anchovies; cook and stir until a smooth paste is formed. Stir in vinegar; cook and stir for 3 minutes. Stir in chicken broth, olives, rosemary and remaining 1/8 teaspoon black pepper. Bring to a boil. Return chops to skillet. Simmer, covered, until chops are tender, 25 to 30 minutes. Or place chops in a large casserole. Pour vinegar mixture over chops. Cover and bake in a 350 degree oven until chops are tender, about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 portions. Approximate preparation and cooking time: 45 minutes.

Thinking Italian, a recipe sent in for Gloria Weiss's Christmas card is for "Gloria's Spinach Lasagna" and it's delicious.

Gloria's Spinach Lasagna
Sauce:
1 can (29 oz.) crushed tomatoes
1 tablespoon dried herbs (oregano, basil, parsley, etc.)
1 tablespoon minced dried onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon salt
Mix the above right in the can. Set aside. Mix next 3 ingredients
1 pound cottage cheese or ricotta
1/2 cup parmesan salt
1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, thawed
Other ingredients:
8 oz. mozzarella
1/2 cup water
1/2 pound lasagna noodles - uncooked
Layer in 7 x 11 baking pan in following order:
Water
3 to 4 spoonfuls sauce
1/2 lasagna noodles - uncooked
Part of sauce
1/2 spinach-cheese mixture
Remaining lasagna
Part of sauce
Remaining spinach-cheese mixture
Remaining sauce
Cover with mozzarella
Bake covered 45 minutes at 375 degrees, then uncovered for 20 minutes more. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

People/Food

In Braciolo, the Italian favorite, a seasoned simmered in tomato sauce seasoned with wine stuffing hides inside beef roll-ups, then they're vinegar.

Yogurt Maker Saves Energy

By JEANNE LESHM, UPI Family Editor
People who eat a lot of yogurt can save about half the price by making it themselves.

A special device to culture the milk product is not a necessity, but one new unit has several advantages over makeshift arrangements of jars and terrycloth towels or the many electric yogurt-makers now available.

Energy saving is a minor factor — the wattage of electric units compares with that of a small light bulb. The significant advantage the non-electric device has over its competitors is convenience for people with limited time and an aversion to clock-watching.

It can be used at room temperature, and the finished yogurt refrigerated after it has been left unattended anywhere from one day to two weeks.

Labels on Wine More Accurate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — New wine labeling regulations that require more accurate information on content will tickle the palate but pinch the pocketbook, an industry leader predicts.

Changes based on the new rules began to appear on some California wine labels in 1977, although the regulations do not take effect until Jan. 1, 1983.

In an interview, he said the rules would result in wines with better defined varietal character. He also predicted the new regulations will lead to higher prices — although it is too early to say how much higher.

The rules issued by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms will require a wine named for a particular variety of grape such as cabernet sauvignon or pinot noir — to be made with at least 75 percent of that variety. Only 51 percent is currently required.

Old Way Is Better

Rather than rely on modern day technology to increase production, John Ozawa prefers the time-honored Japanese method of hand-forming every sweet bean cake he sells in San Jose, Calif. Here, John measures beans for filling the pastries. (UPI photo)

Thinness Frightening To Overweight People

TORONTO, Canada (UPI) — Studies by a New York psychologist suggest seriously overweight people may find a life of thinness frightening — so much so that many who shed excess pounds later gain weight for a more comfortable identity.

Dr. Sandra Haber says her studies showed people who lose great amounts of weight experience anxiety about their relations with members of the opposite sex, with their spouses, with their friends and even with their own image of themselves.

She says her findings came as a surprise. "Subjects felt that when they were heavy, they knew exactly what choices they could make and the few options that were open to them were clear," Ms. Haber said in a paper presented at the American Psychological Association.

"As they became thin, many new possibilities appeared, from physical activities to new interpersonal relationships. Subjects felt torn between the different choices that were suddenly available and they often found themselves wrestling with decisions that never needed to be considered before."

Obesity is a health hazard of epidemic proportions, with perhaps 80 million overweight people in the United States alone, Ms. Haber said. She said for most overweight people obesity remains "a chronic condition resistant to treatment and subject to relapse" despite all the attention the subject has attracted from doctors, psychologists and others.

Ms. Haber's studies focused on 12 people who lost a minimum 100 pounds each in a medically supervised weight program. "These subjects showed a strong tendency to have been overweight in childhood and were usually chronically obese by adolescence, the obesity often occurring in conjunction with problems in sexual adjustment," she said.

"More surprising, however, was that subjects expressed ambivalent feelings about their weight loss. While they reported feelings of excitement and rebirth, they also expressed anxiety about the new possibilities that being thin represented."

Many subjects expressed anxiety over their new, slimmer figures, Ms. Haber said. She said one woman reported "I've been getting a lot of advances from men, which is a whole new thing, and I'm just kind of glad I don't have a sex drive."

The four married subjects indicated the weight loss had put strains on their marriages, Ms. Haber said.

This hard hat may not look like a barber. But his is preparing these freight-car wheels for a shave. He is a late operator who uses a computer to determine how much steel must be shaved off the wheels to restore proper tread contour at the Havelock wheel shop of Burlington Northern.

Books The Search for Aliens

Who Goes There? by Edward Edelson. (Doubleday, $8.95)

Are there intelligent alien beings beyond the walk-in garden of Earth? The search is on, according to Edelson, author, magazine writer and science editor of the New York Daily News.

Edelson has written a fascinating book tracing what he calls SETI - search for extraterrestrial intelligence.

Whether that search bears fruit depends first of all, Edelson writes, on whether there is intelligent life on earth - which can intelligently deal with such problems as starvation and nuclear war. SETI presumes we will survive ourselves.

The opening portion of the book deals with the past, explaining for the scientifically uninformed what has gone before - from the "big bang" through the evolution of life on earth - which can intelligently deal with such problems as starvation and nuclear war. SETI presumes we will survive ourselves.

The second volume in Manceron's exhaustive treatment of the French Revolution starts with John Paul Jones' quixotic attack on Whitehaven, April 18, 1778. It ends with Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown on Oct. 19, 1781.

The American War of Independence put the theory of the French republicans into practice, and the involvement of French troops and ships showed the anti-monarchists in France that anything was possible.

The Franco-American alliance was a curiosity of history. The French monarchy hated American republicanism, which in turn was highly suspect of French support. But the Americans needed any help they could get. The French needed an excuse for war on England, and

French Revolution, Again

Marat experimenting with optics, the club-footed Talleyrand celebrating his first mass, Napoleon Bonaparte entering military academy, the future Empress Josephine married at 16.

Manceron's method of examining the revolution by following the careers of its leading characters still makes for fascinating reading. But he gets trapped into gross overwriting about secondary characters, has a habit of explaining the obvious, and is obsessed with meaningless coincidences of dates.

The translation by Nancy Amphoux, is generally excellent, but one could wish her editor had eliminated "stoolie," "if ya gotta go, ya gotta go," "frailly cat," "little ole them" and "you said it, lady."
