Regal Lilies, Memories Brighten Writer's Walk

By MARY TAYLOR. Hearing about the name of beautiful regal lilies (lilium regale) in the name of Superintendent and Mrs. Gregory, on the west side of the street, the house has had its old clapboards covered with one of the new composition material for the purpose.

Now they are privately owned and in some cases additions have been added, but there was little room for new houses.

There are a number of stores on North Street but the bakery operated on the last street is no more. On Gateway Street there are no sidewalks either, but we were attracted to the fine new steps and railings at the entrance to St. John's Church and the new concrete walk and steps on both sides of the building.

The old lady who lived in the house for 29 years, and as we approached the garden she remembered that previously, Mrs. Frank Spencer lived for many years on N. Main Street and had a beautiful little garden laid out with winding concrete walks.

Reds to Supply Horses for China

Tokyo (AP)—The horse is making considerable headway in Red China. A recent Peiping broadcast said Communist cooperatives in seven provinces will supply the peninsula with more than 150,000 draft animals this year.

The growing demand for more draft animals, Peiping explained, "is a result of the wide use of new horse-drawn farm implements and the large-scale farming methods adopted by the agricultural cooperatives."

The broadcast reported that 10,000 horses will be imported from Mongolia to improve local breeds.

What do 11,000 new customers a day mean to your business?

It's astonishing but true—11,000 new babies arrive in the U. S. every day of the week!

Our population is growing so fast that every month we add enough people to populate a Richmond, Va., or a Tulsa, Okla. At this rate, we'll have about 180 million people by 1960.

This is a very healthy thing for America—and for you. It means an ever-increasing demand for every kind of consumer goods. Not just for cribs and baby bonnets—but for everything that people eat, wear and enjoy.

Our soaring population is just one of the many big changes taking place in America today—changes that open up new opportunities for us all. Here are a few of these changes:

- MORE JOBS—Even though employment in some areas has fallen off, we still have 20 million more jobs than we had in 1939. And nine times more Americans are in the $5000-plus income bracket than in 1941!
- MORE MONEY—In spite of inflation and higher prices, the American people have over twice as much spending power now as they had in 1940.
- MORE SAVINGS—Individual savings in America rose from $68.5 billion in 1940 to about $250 billion in 1953.
- MORE FARM OUTPUT—52% more per man-hour than we had in 1940—and this in spite of a net shift of almost six million away from farms since that year!
- MORE LEISURE TIME—Forty million Americans get paid vacations—a great boon to the hotel and transportation business, to the sports, hobby and entertainment fields.
- MORE ATOMIC POWER—Sooner or later, atomic energy will run our trains, heat our homes and light our cities. This—plus advances in electronics—can usher in a fabulous new era for America.

- MORE DEMAND—Right now there is a $500 billion backlog of demands for goods and services to build roads, schools, hospitals, highways and factories. (For example, we have to nearly double our school system in the next few years.) Filling these demands will create more jobs, more spending power, more industrial opportunities.
- You are bound to profit from all these changes—whether you're a businessman, a housewife, an industrial worker, a farmer, or a salaried employee.
- Barring a major war, America's future never held greater promise.

The better you know America, the better the future looks!

FREE! Send for this booklet, "THE FUTURE OF AMERICA." Never before has America had such tremendous potential. Read the story of the huge developments now taking place almost invisibly. Every American should know these facts. FREE, 24-page illustrated booklet, drop a postcard to: The Advertising Council, Future of America, 25 W. 45th St., New York, N. Y.

Former Teacher Describes Revolution in Guatemala

Eye-Witness Account Told by Mrs. Mildred Jaggi; Taught at MHS

The recent 12-day Guatemala revolution that swept the Communist-dominated Aztec regime out of power was witnessed by a former Manchester resident and high school teacher, Mrs. Mildred Jaggi, who is now living in Guatemala City, Mrs. Jaggi, whose father, the Rev. W. P. Anderson, was pastor of the Emanuel Lutheran Church from 1885 to 1911, left Manchester about 25 years ago for Illinois, where she served as dean of women at Thornton Junior College in Harvey, until her marriage four years ago to a Guatemalan coffee grower and exporter. She has written The Herald an eye-witness account of the revolution, describing the terror that gripped the city during the fighting and expressing her hope that the "Atta's" were victorious. Her story of the revolution follows.

Guatemala, as you know, is a beautiful small country with a wonderful climate—it is called the Garden of Central America. It is a magnificent scenery and unusual because of its colorful Indian life. It has been under the control of a very small minority since 1844 but has been gradually getting more and more under the control of these Reds. Few though they were, they had been up the Russian training school for Communists in Prague and had learned their lessons well, for Guatemala had become the nucleus for Communism in this hemisphere.

San Bombs Dropped

We were sitting at lunch one day, when we heard an unusual noise of airplanes and ran out to see what was happening. The planes that we could not identify were circling over the city and suddenly they swooped low and dropped bombs. As Guatemala has no anti-air planes, the guns and cannons that thundered out could not hit the planes, which soon flew away. Immediately Radio Candelaria came on the air warning us of what would take place. Castillo Armas, a most fervent anti-Communist who had been in prison here but had managed to escape, was in Honduras organizing an army of invasion to free Guatemala of the Communist government. This radio program came on at different hours, warning people where the next bombs would be dropped, so they would not be hit that area. No one knew from where the radio station operated but it is known it was from Honduras. The planes are said to have been down by American pilots who did a magnificent job on military bases without sparing civilian lives and homes.

Life Guarantees

Soon came the lifting of the "Garantias," which meant there was no freedom left. The newspapers were all censored, meetings of all kinds were not permitted and houses could be searched without a warrant. This was what we feared the most—the law of "Catear," a house which means search for arms, seems to involve one of "Catear," looking—also this has happened in many cases and anything that pleased the police would disappear. We live in a nice section of the city and there were many rumors that every house in Santa Clara was to be searched as we are all considered anti-Communist. My husband and his son George had their guns ready and were to get a pass for each if the Communist came. You can imagine how I felt. At night would come an "Apagón," a blackout—the lights would flicker and then go out. The entire city was in darkness and absolute silence. We waited for the planes and although they really were our friends, there was always the danger a bomb might fall on the wrong place. The shooting and noise was terrific after a plane was heard and added to the panic of the people. There was but one place in our house where it was safe to have a candle lit, in my den, so I would put it in a corner on the floor and creep down trying to read, to get my mind off what was happening outside. I think I would do well as a blind person. I got so accustomed to finding my way around in the dark, if the police saw any sign of a light in a house, they would shoot through the window rather than give a warning first. This happened in several cases. All cars on the street, during a blackout had to stop, put out their lights and wait until the blackout was over.

The police, being what they were, were to be feared much more than trusted. Needless to say, people ventured out after dark. All schools were closed, as well as the movies, the post office was closed, the newspapers reduced to practically nothing. They really had to crawl under the one of the door to enter. Prices of food went sky high. For several months, the fact that something was going to happen, I have kept a large supply of staples on hand, but there was nothing to worry about in that respect. The minister of education, a Red, instructed the teachers be at their post and that the buses make their routes. The city to collect the children, but not a child appeared. The teachers, finally revolted and preferred leaving their positions rather than leave their families alone. Most of them are mothers of young children. This was natural as the strikes came at any time.

Talked with Nixon who were taken under the control of the government and hourly denunciations of the Yankee Imperialists were blasted forth. The United Fruit Co. was held directly responsible for the invasion as they had secretly dared blame the United States. For many months the city has been full of placards telling the Imperialists to go home. So many Guatemalans had asked me

Asking Court Settle Claim

File Suit to Recover Damages in Winter Five Vehicle Crash

Two men, who were refused a $1,500 settlement by the Board of Directors Tuesday night, will file suit in an attempt to recover damages as a result of an accident last winter, their attorney, P. Philip J. Beyer, said today.

Jack Eyer and Fred Lewis were refused a claim they filed with the town after Town Council Charles N. Crockett recommended that the Board vote to pay the damages.

The claim was made following an accident on Hillard Street near Adams last Feb. 1 when a milk truck owned by Beyer and driven by Lewis skidded on an icy pavement into four other vehicles, causing them to lose control and an interlocking fire alarm. The firecrackers eventually were set off.

Today Armas came with his top down. Several "Avenas" driving Peace terms were finally settled the second of July when the Trustees here and Castillo Armas. The city went wild with joy. The church bells were rung and an interlocking fire alarm was fired crackers constantly. We felt at last peace had come.

Attracts Crowds

The crowds of early morning shoppers found bargains galore from hats to hardware, offered by the retail merchants of Manchester at the start of the annual three day sales event—Manchester Days, which opened today.

The red and white banners displayed across the store fronts of the participating stores identified the members of the Retail Merchants Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce who are participating this year.

Along with fresh summer stock, stores have combed the markets for special values to be offered. A survey shows mark down up to 50 per cent. Shoppers are reminded of the convenience of the parking lots in the immediate area, and that most of the stores will redeem their parking tickets. Stores are also offering the service of charge accounts, as well as the Charge Plan Service to the public. Most stores are offering free delivery service.

Manchester merchants are again demonstrating their progressive, new values offered, the service of charge accounts, and the convenience of shopping in your home town.

William Hanna Retires From Cheney Tech Staff

Completes 35 Years as Instructor of Machine Shop; Noted Musician Honored by Associates

"I'm going to travel and see this country. Now that I have the time," smiled Bill Hanna as he explained what he intends to do now that he has retired from Cheney Technical School after thirty-five years as a machine shop instructor.

William Hanna

Hanna said he has always wanted to travel and see places and "I think there is much to see in this country as any other place."

The former teacher holds many fond memories of his three and one-half decades spent instructing youngsters in the finer points of machine tool work.

"My chief pleasure," Hanna said, "comes from talking to former students who come back to tell me how they have made out in their work."

Hanna said there have been many changes in the technical school since "I first began teaching at the old Franklin Building in 1919."

He reminisced on how the enrollment first started to grow rapidly in the 20's, during the depression, and then, with the advent of World War II, the school had the equivalent of three shifts.

"I worked during the day time teaching the regular classes, in the evening I worked on the night shift, and during the nights I helped those seeking to learn their 'knack' in the machine shop."

Hanna's main avocation has always been music. For more than 20 years he was bandmaster for the local Salvation Army Band, and for several years he led the school orchestra.

"What instrument he played," he modestly admitted the bass was his favorite. However, he has played several other instruments at one time or another, but shyly refrained from mentioning them by name.

Last Thursday he and Cheney Technical School faculty members and their wives held a luncheon for Bill Hanna and presented him with a wrist watch. Earlier the student body clapped in to buy him a set of cuff links and a tie clip as a memento of his past service to the school.

Hanna, who was born in Manchester, Conn., is now residing in New Haven, Conn.

Bay State Driver Held Responsible

New Haven, July 8 (AP)—

Coroner James J. Corrigan today held a Lawrence, Mass., truck driver criminally responsible for the death of Stratford's building inspector in a holiday week-end accident in Milford on May 29.

Corrigan said he found Rene Lacroix, 26, of 107 Newton St., Lawrence, to have been simply, rather than grossly, negligent in operating his truck and held him criminally responsible for the death of James H. Spear, Jr., 55, of Stratford.

Spear was driving his son, Navy Airman Donald Spear, 22, from Quonset Point, R. I., where he survived the explosion and fire about the Alstrom, Charver, Bennington, to their Stratford home when the accident occurred.

The coroner freed Dominick Barbato, 44, of East Haven, of any blame. Barbato's car also struck Spear's auto in the rear, but the collision, said Corrigan, was of a very minor nature, and in no opinion, contributed nothing to the severity of the first one (Lacroix).

Four persons including Mrs. Spear, Lacroix, and a passenger in Barbato's auto, were injured in the accident.

every youth, lectured each of them and their parents on their responsibilities. Since then, not one of the boys has been back in court. The juvenile's over-all care of juvenile delinquency is slightly under California's state average, well below the big metropolitan areas. But it's climbing steadily, particularly on car thefts and burglaries.

Warm Parents
Police Chief Clyde Klammann had to warn parents they could serve their own children drinks in their own homes. "But not other people's children or we'll have you charged with contributing." Earlier "Red Week" in this resort town was long a problem, with an influx of youngsters from other cities to this resort area. They were destructive, insulting, defiant.

Child-Parent Problem
Youth authorities and police lay the blame at the feet of parents. Here's the program of Monterey Police Chief Charles F. Simpson for building sound parent-child relationships:
1. Start working with your child when he's very young. From the time he's able to walk.
2. Be a real friend to your child. Talk in his language. Be wise to modern slang. Thirty years ago you said, "Red Star." Today your son says, "Real George."
3. Build trust. Don't deceive your child. Don't lie to him.
4. Build faith. Don't let your youngster catch you boasting of some unlawful act you got away with or some crooked deal you put over successfully.
5. Get out and play with your child. Play catch. Football. Take hikes.
6. Make your youngster conscious of spiritual things, of the great unknown.

Stress Responsibility
Perhaps Pop has to roll out of bed to come and get junior. Perhaps the police call broke up a party. Whatever the case, the parents have been inconvenienced. This responsibility is brought home with emphasis.
"We don't want to send youngsters to court unless they're absolutely hopeless or if they're three-time offenders," says Klammann. "Usually, maintaining a close link between the youngster and the parents, we work out the problem right here. This works to everyone's benefit. The youngster is not placed in official custody and no jail record is written up against him."
No one, with the exception of the parent, is in a better position to curb juvenile delinquency than the school teacher. In many cases the teacher actually is closer to a child's problems than the parent.
"The big problem with the so-called pre-delinquency should be solved in grade school or in junior high school," says Mr. McDonald, principal of Monterey High school. "By the time they are ready to enter high school they generally have either straightened out or quit school."

Prevent Racial Fiascos
County Juvenile Probation Officer J. C. Kelly says that schools in Monterey County are proving effective in preventing racial fiascos. He says, for instance, that gang rivalries might exist between youngsters from Seaside and Monterey if pupils from the two areas did not blend in Fremont Junior High School.
In junior high, children from the two communities get to know each other when they are about 12. The school serves as a mel-

Mickey Mantle Bats at .411 Clip To Get in Snider-Mays Debate

THE GREAT DEBATE BEGINS IN GOTHAM AS MANTLE BATS AT .411 CLIP

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants, rolling along at a phenomenal .811 pace since June 3, today are proud possessors of the biggest lead any Giant team has enjoyed past the mid-season mark in 18 years.

Not since September 29, 1926 when the Giants led the Chicago Cubs by seven games has a Giant club led by more than the current 18 1/2 games.

Not since the Chicago Cubs won the National League pennant in 1907 and in 1908, when they overcame a nine-game deficit to win the pennant, has a team overhauled them to win the pennant by two games.

The 1933 Giants went on to win the pennant by five games. Two years before that, however, the 1931 Giants overcame a nine-game deficit to win the pennant by one game.

The 1932 Giants went on to win the pennant by five games. Two years before that, however, the 1931 Giants overcame a nine-game deficit to win the pennant by one game.

Giants Increase First Place Margin To 5 1/2 Games After Defeating Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER

The New York Giants today increased their lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers to 5 1/2 games after defeating them 4-1 in a game played at Ebbets Field.

The Giants, who were leading the National League by 4 1/2 games before the game, now have a 5 1/2 game lead.

The game was played at Ebbets Field and the Giants won by a score of 4-1.

The Giants' pitcher, Alvin Dark, pitched a strong game, allowing only one run.

The Dodgers' pitcher, Bill Skowron, pitched a game that was not up to the level of the Giants' pitcher.

The game was a typical mid-season game, with the Giants showing their dominance.

BANKS IN COMEBACK

One of the most familiar names in Twilight League baseball has scores this season is that of Jake Banks. The one-time minor league player who once was up for a cup of coffee in the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League during the hey-day of the House Gang.

For several years a resident in the Green Manor section, Banks above the boys who it should be said, including a double, last Tuesday night for the North End against the B.A.'s.

Late in the game, Banks pitched a base umpire in a Twilight League game from all reports.

From both the winning and losing sides, Jeff did a good job. He is a regular season player in the Little League baseball program.

Success seems to follow Ronnie Deitz. A good catcher with a nice fat check and a victory that kept him in line for a title fight.

The 25-year-old Giardello turned out last night for an expected 160-pitch game in October by lambasting would-be upstart, Billy Gilmore of Miami.

Giardello won a unanimous 10-round verdict with the use of a sharp left hook and a potent overhand right.

All-Star Game Far Different Today from First in 1933 When Spirit, Fun Prevailed

By GALE TALBOT

It might have remained a big happy outing but for the fact that the American League—Manager Joe McCarthy and the National League—Manager Casey Stengel's All-Star Game in 1933 in a spirit of high holiday fun and was won by the American League 4-2.

As it was originally conceived, the mid-season classic merely was a game to give the players a little rest and to give the fans a little excitement.

At the outset, there was no sense of urgency about winning. The game was to be a fun thing, a game to give the players a little rest and to give the fans a little excitement.

There was great curiosity among the players as to how the game would turn out. The game was to be a fun thing, a game to give the players a little rest and to give the fans a little excitement.

Bobo Olson Scores Four Round KO over Gonzales

Oldland, Calif., July 6 (AP)—Take it from me, you boys who have fought both of them, Bobo Olson will beat Rocky Castellani when they meet for the title in the National Boxing Association.

Pedro Gonzales, 21-year-old Negro boxer from Los Angeles, today expressed the opinion last night after he had been knocked out by Olson in the National Boxing Association.

The fight was not scheduled to last more than 10 rounds.

Gonzales previously had a close split decision to Castellani in a fight for the title.

A jolting, right uppercut put Gonzales down in the first round. He was up but he was not up for long.

Gonzales said the punch hit him in the Adam's apple, but prided himself on his ability to take a punch. He said he was not hurt.

Olson said he was not a fighter. He said he was a boxer. He said he was a boxer.

Answer: Because the shortstop takes an extra base on the play and the shortstop retrieves the ball and throws him out at second.

State GOP Renominates Lodge, Selects Jewett as Running Mate

Hartford, July 9 (AP)—By acclamation, the Republican state convention renominated Gov. John Lodge today to lead the party in its fight to retain control of the state administration.

The 51-year-old Lodge, now completing his first four-year term, was chosen in the same hall where Democrats, only two weeks ago, nominated former U. S. Rep. A. A. Ribicoff as their gubernatorial nominee.

Lodge's name was presented to the cheering delegates by former State Sen. T. George Pearson, who two years ago lined up against Lodge in the Eisenhower-Taft battle.

Jewett, like the governor, handsome and athletic, served as majority floor leader in the 1953 Senate. He won the nomination over Mayor Raymond E. Snyder of Waterbury.

Pearson led the Taft forces in that fight, while Lodge led the Eisenhower adherents. The selection of Pearson to lead the nominating speech, a mainstay of the party, was widely interpreted as a move to emphasize party unity.

Contests Loom On Other Spots

Hartford, July 9 (AP)—Gov. Lodge accepted nomination for another 4-year term today with a speech to the Republican State Convention in which he extolled the virtues of "the middle way."

The people, he said in a talk prepared prior to his unanimous nomination, are "not aware of our difficulties" or "not aware of our responsibilities."

Lodge told the convention that what the people want is to build into the structure of their government better devices for economy and efficiency, new annexes of service, and above all a sounder foundation of morality.
